

THE NEWTON GRAPHIC.

VOL. XXII.—NO. 49.

NEWTON, MASS., FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 7, 1894.

TERMS—$2.00 A YEAR.

THE First National Bank of W. Newton.

J. H. NICKERSON, President. A. R. MITCHELL, Vice-President.
EDWARD P. HATCH, Cashier.

CAPITAL $100,000. SURPLUS $10,000.

We offer every facility to our depositors for the transaction of their business, consistent with safe banking methods, welcome small depositors, and furnish check books free to all.

SAFE DEPOSIT BOXES TO RENT FOR $5 PER ANNUM.

North Packing & Provision Co.

Were Given the Only Awards to New England Packers.

MEDALS AND DIPLOMAS

WORLD'S FAIR, CHICAGO.

Highest Award for Pure Leaf Lard, Hams, Bacon, Dry Salted and Pickled Meats, Barrel Pork, Pure Lard, Sausages.

TRADE MARK. TRY THEM. TRADE MARK.

Pure Leaf Lard, Hams, Breakfast Bacon, Star Sausage.

SURE TO PLEASE YOU.

TAKE NO OTHER.

Seashore, Yachting, Camping and Vacation Requirements.

Choice of Table Wines and Unadulterated Liquors.

CHAS. L. RICHARDSON & CO.,

Staple and Fancy Groceries,
166 LINCOLN STREET, BOSTON, MASS.

CIGARS. Butter is very low just at present.

HURCHILL AND BEAN
Tailors
503 Washington Street,
BOSTON.
FINE DRESS SUITS A SPECIALTY.

CALL UP CENTRAL

AND THEY WILL CONNECT YOU WITH 273-3.

ASHLEY & DOANE.

GARDEN CITY MARKET.

Granolithic and Artificial Stone
SIDEWALKS
Cement Pavements, Curbs, Steps, Driveways.
(RANDOM PATENT).
PROOF AGAINST FROST.

Best Materials and Finest Workmanship.

ABERTHAW CONSTRUCTION CO.,
Concrete Engineers and Contractors, 12 PEARL STREET, BOSTON.

WALTHAM
Employment Bureau,
Main St., opp. Post Office.
ROOM THREE. UP STAIRS.

JOHN B. SHEERIN,
Over L. Riley & Co., Dry Goods Store,
First class domestic help furnished at short notice.

Refrigerators

—AND—

Baby Carriages

—AT—

Bent's Furniture Rooms,
64 Main St., Watertown.

L. H. GRANITCH,
House, Sign, and Ornamental
PAINTER.
Paper Hangings in great variety and work promptly done.
Walnut St., - Newtonville.
2nd door from Central Block.

CROCHETED EDGINGS

ARE MADE AT 733 WASHINGTON STREET,
NEWTONVILLE.

ALSO PINKING, STAMPING AND EMBROIDERING.

NEWTON.

—Planos, Farley, 433 Washington St., N. —
—Mr. Hugh Campbell and family have returned from Winthrop.

—Mr. D. F. Barber and family have returned from Winthrop.

—Mr. J. T. Lodge and family have returned from Winthrop.

—Mr. S. C. Smith and family have returned from Sandwich.

—Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Jackson, (nee Page) are at Long Beach.

—Mr. Frelson Page is in Louisiana at present on a sugar plantation.

—Miss Julia Solis has returned from Newfield, Me., much improved in health.

—Miss Josie Davis of the High School returned to Newton this week.

—The schools will reopen on Monday, Sept. 10th.

—Labor Day was very quietly observed in this city.

—Fred Green is enjoying a few weeks' visit at Beechwood, No. Cohasset.

—Mr. Odin Fritz has returned from the west and is spending a few days in Newton.

—Mr. Chas. F. Rogers has rented Mr. H. J. Woods' house on Channing street to Mrs. A. E. Eager.

—Mrs. J. W. Bartlett has returned from the mountains.

—Mr. E. C. Fitch of Sargent street will stay at the Woodland Park Hotel while his family is abroad.

—Mr. George Jones and family of Kendrick street returned this week from Wickford, R. I.

—Mr. Samuel Farquhar and family of Sargent street have returned from Jefferson, N. H.

—Mr. Reuben Ford and family of Waverley avenue have returned from the mountains.

—Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Whittemore and family of Washington street are guests at the Megantic House, Spider Lake, Canada.

—Mr. and Mrs. Geo. W. Miller of Hotel Hunnewell are spending a week in Philadelphia.

—Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Pope and Miss Pope of Hunnewell avenue have returned from their trip to Europe.

—Miss Etta Cleaveland of the Free Library returns today from her visit to Maine.

—Mr. Harry R. Mason of Hubbard's drug store has gone to Asheville, N. C., to attend the National Druggists Convention.

—Mr. and Mrs. Justin Whittier of Hotel Hunnewell have gone to the Wayland Inn, Wayland, for September.

—Mr. and Mrs. William White and Mr. Albert White have returned to Hotel Hunnewell for the winter.

—Miss Mattie Harty, who for the past nine weeks has been visiting in Lynn and Woburn returned home this week.

—Miss Florence A. Dunham who has been visiting at St. John, N. B., returned home this week.

—Mrs. Mary A. Pyne of Lynn is the guest of her sister, Mrs. M. Harty of Nonantum place.

—Mrs. W. H. Walker has returned from Martha's Vineyard and is staying with her daughter, Mrs. Chas. Brown, of Nonantum street.

—Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Bacon, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. W. Balcom and Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Bacon have gone to Ranzley Lakes for two weeks.

—Mr. Wiley S. Edmonds, accompanied by his son and A. Sawyer Bullens of Mt. Ida terrace, are enjoying a few days shooting and fishing at Point Chatham, Mass.

—Mr. Edward H. Cutler's new house on Linder terrace will be quite an addition to that section of the city, which has been built up so rapidly in the past two years.

—Mr. Sydney Grant, who has been playing in Dixey's company the past year, is with his family at Nantasket for a few weeks.

—Alderman H. E. Bothfeld of Copley street left this week with his little son and daughter for a trip to the White Mountains.

—Mr. Charles Buswell and Miss Carrie Buswell of Franklin street sail for home next Monday, after a stay of several months abroad.

—The many friends of Miss Maybell P. Davis, formerly a teacher in the Newton High school, will be pleased to learn of her engagement to a Providence gentleman.

—The tennis courts of the Newton Club are now completed, and are said to excel the famous ones of the Neighborhood Club at West Newton. They were used for the first time on Labor Day.

—Miss Nellie Sampson of St. James street, who has been abroad for some time, leaves shortly for home. Miss Florence Sampson will spend the winter in Germany and will pursue her studies at Heidelberg.

—Miss M. Jennie Eddy of Chicago is visiting her sisters, Mrs. Wm. L. Garrison and Miss Jessie B. Eddy, at the residence of Mr. Wm. L. Garrison, 179 Newtonville avenue, Mt. Ida.

—A new stained glass window made by the McDonald firm of Boston will be unveiled in Grace church at 4.30 p. m. next Wednesday. It is in memory of Miss Mary Endicott Ford, who died last December.

—The Wellesley Review publishes a very fine illustration of the new chapel at Wellesley, designed by Architect S. D. Hayden of Newtonville. It is to be ready for use by the 30th of November.

—The fine elms on Washington street will have to be sacrificed if the street is widened, but they will have to come down some time, and there is no better time than the present to widen the street and set out new ones.

—The numerous friends of the Rev. Leo Boone Thomas, formerly of Newton, will be glad to learn of his successful work in the First Baptist church at Colorado Springs, Col. He assumed his duties as pastor the first of September.

—Mr. Anderson Lord of Waverley avenue returned from abroad last Saturday for the wedding of his sister, Miss Bessie Lord, to Mr. Beason of New York, which occurred Wednesday at Windom, the summer home of the Lords.

—Two Watertown boys, named Matthew Murphy and John Slamon, have been arrested and are thought to be members of the gang who broke into Mr. Benyon's and Mr. Page's houses on Watertown street recently, and also set fire to several buildings in the town.

—A large number from Newton went over to Waltham Tuesday to attend the funeral of General Banks, and the street railway company ran two and three cars every quarter hour most of the day. The Clavin Guards were a part of the military that took part in the funeral procession.

—The summer vacationists have been hurrying home all the week from the shore and the mountains and baggage wagons piled high with trunks have been a daily sight. As the schools begin next week families with children have had to end their vacations, and the streets and trains are putting on their usual busy appearance.

—Counsellman Wing and family have returned from Sandwich.

—Miss Florence L. Franks is visiting relatives in New York.

—Miss Lizzie Moore of Boyd street is spending her vacation at Winthrop.

—Mr. J. Henry Bacon and family have returned from Essex.

—Mr. George W. Bush has been elected a member of the N. E. Undertakers' Association.

—Rev. M. J. Savage will preach at the First Parish church, Watertown, on Sunday.

—Engineer F. E. Jenkins of Steamer One with Mrs. Jenkins, left today for St. Johns, N. S., on their vacation.

—Miss Sumner and Miss Elizabeth T. Sumner have returned from Grafton Centre, N. H.

—Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Alexander of Boyd street, with their son Louis, are travelling in Canada.

—Miss Julia Phelps of New York is visiting her aunt, Mrs. Thomas Brooke, of Vernon street.

—Mr. H. C. Daniels and Miss Mamie Daniels left on Tuesday for Belfast, Me., but will return tomorrow.

—Mrs. F. W. Gaffield and Miss Mabel Gaffield returned Tuesday from North Scituate. Miss Edith Gaffield will return tomorrow.

—Tonsorial art has much to do with one's appearance. If parents want their children's hair cut in style they go to Burns', Cole's block.

—Mr. William Paxton, the artist, who has been sketching at Annisquam, has returned Tuesday the subjects which will probably be placed on exhibition this fall.

—The board of managers of the Y. M. C. A. have voted to offer the office of General Secretary to W. P. Parker, now assistant secretary of the Lynn Y. M. C. A.

—Mr. H. C. Camp has leased Mrs. Mandell's house on Maple circle, formerly occupied by E. P. Tuttle, to Capt. L. J. Vail.

—Mr. James E. Stevens of Malden is occupying Mr. Tucker's house on Church street. Their raw materials are reported to Mr. A. D. Stephenson.

—Edward F. Barnes has leased the house on Billings Park, formerly occupied by Mr. Wetherald, to Mr. Arthur F. Wellington, manager of the Gates Iron Works, of Boston.

—Mrs. F. G. Clair of Boyd street gave a party Tuesday evening in honor of her daughter's ninth birthday. About twenty guests were invited and all enjoyed a good time dancing and playing games. About eight o'clock a supper was served in the dining room during which musical selections were played.

—Henry W. Crowell of the Garden City Whelan won two first prizes at the bicycle races, Labor Day, at Waltham, and defeated fifty seven riders who entered for one of the races. The most experienced trainer who started him was much pleased with his riding and so were his many Newton friends who attended the races.

—Runs for the Garden City Wheelmen for September have been fixed as follows: Sept. 9th, Medford, start 10.30 a. m. 11th, Needham, start 7 p. m.; 16th, Lowell, start 9 a. m.; 18th, Riverside and Waltham, start 7 p. m.; 23rd, Maynard, 10.30 a. m.; 25th, Boston, 7.15 p. m.; 30th, So. Natick and Natick, 2 p. m.

—Music in Grace church, Sunday night: Processional, "O what the joy."

Glória Patri, Magnificat, Nunc Dimittis, Hymn, "Thy way not mine," Anthem, Chorus and Solo, "Will sing of Thy power." Hall

Processional, "Go forward Christian Soldiers." B. Tours

All seats free.

—Rev. Geo. E. Merrill and family are expected to return from Marblehead Neck to day, and he will occupy his pulpit at the Immanuel Baptist church next Sunday, taking as a subject for his discourse, "The entering into the joy of the Lord." The order of service for the morning worship, beginning at 10.30, will be as follows:

Glória Patri, Beethoven, Hymn 133, "Welcome happy morning," Sullivan, Response, Hymn 456, "O Lord of heaven and earth and sea," Gounod, Glória Tibi, Solo, Hymn 109, "Jesus, my strength, my hope," Mason

—The marriage of Miss Elizabeth Lord, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Lord, to Mr. Charles Boardman Benson of New York, took place at the old Anderson Homestead, "Maplewood," at Windham, Me., which has always been the bride's summer home, on Wednesday. The last wedding, "Maplewood" was that given by the bride's great-grandfather, the late Hon. John Anderson, for his sister, over seventy years ago, and the marriage of Miss Lord, who is in the sixth generation of the Anderson family to reside at the old homestead, was made a unique and most interesting affair. The Portland and Ogdensburg railroad, the chief engineering work of the bride's grandfather, Mr. J. H. Anderson, runs through the farm, and by the courtesy of the railroad officials the guests were taken to and from Portland in special cars, and conveyed in barges through the woods. The old house was a very pleasant sight with its wealth of old furniture and portraits, every room banked till the wainscoting was fairly hidden in greenery and flowers, by the jolly house party of young people. The ceremony was solemnized by Rev. Asa Dalton, D. D., of St. Stephen's, Portland, who used the Episcopal ritual. The wedding party stood within the arch of the huge old fire place in the dining room, which had been filled with white hydrangeas and snow berries against a background of hemlock. The groom's best man was the bride's youngest brother, Master Robert H. W. Lord, the maid of honor being Miss Mary Beason of Nashua, Miss Annie Lawrence Edmonds of Portland, Miss Louise Davis of Newton, Miss Susan Sweetser of Boston, and Miss Mary Thornton Davis of Worcester, and the ushers were Mr. John Anderson Lord, Dr. F. W. Webster, Mr. William Ellison, Mr. Lambert Whitney, Mr. Raymond Brackett, of Boston, and Mr. Carl Crocker of Portland. The wedding breakfast was served in the large old kitchen, which had been transformed into a bower of fir and golden rods. The quaint old wedding nodding with sunflowers and the halls with their nooks of tall ferns and golden rods were vastly attractive. After the ceremony the bride and groom drove into Portland, surrounded by a party of young people. They will reside in New York, where Mr. Beason is a consulting engineer of the firm of Swanwick & Beason. The wedding was made the occasion of an Anderson reunion, and there were present beside Mr. John F. Anderson and all her children and grand-children, Gen. and Mrs. Samuel J. Anderson and all their children and grand-children. The bride was dressed in her mother's wedding dress and her cousin and bridesmaid, Miss Edmonds, in the wedding dress of the bride's grandmother. Of Newton people there were present Mr. George C. Lord, Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Lord, Mr. A. Lawrence Edmonds, Mrs. Wiley S. Edmonds and Mr. Geo. S. Bullens.

—At the Elliot school the following were neither absent nor tardy during the whole year in classes V and VI: James McPhoe, Ernest Williams, William Hutton, Joseph Nevins.

—Boys with sling shots are again making trouble. This week two windows of the Newton Bazar were broken by them, and the police will look after any boys using slings on the main street.

—Rev. H. G. Spaulding leaves today for Baltimore, where he is to supply Rev. Mr. Wells' pulpit for two weeks. Mrs. Spaulding and Mr. Harry Spaulding are in Gloucester for two weeks.

—Miss Nellie M. Freeman, a former well known resident of this city, was married Wednesday afternoon to Mr. Wilbur C. Clark, of Framingham, and the ceremony being performed in the presence of a few friends by Rev. Dr. Patrick of West Newton. They will reside in South Framingham.

—Usual services in the Methodist Episcopal church next Sunday. The pastor will preach morning and evening. On Wednesday next at the Methodist church there will be a conference of the Epworth Leagues of all the Newtons, Waltham and Watertown. A varied and excellent program has been provided. Sessions at 2.30 and 7.30. Everybody welcome.

—Prof. L. C. Stanton, who has for the past few years been at the head of the musical department of Carleton College has come east to reside. He is a musician of experience, especially in piano teaching and musical theory, and in lecturing upon the composers and the form in which their compositions are cast. He will teach in Boston, but will be glad, as his card indicates, to form a class here in Newton.

A BOYCOTT DECLARED

AGAINST THE STANLEY DRY PLATE COMPANY.

A boycott has been declared against the Stanley Dry Plate Company of this city, because they have refused to enter into the combination, or trust, that has been formed to advance the price of their goods. Efforts have been made for some time to perfect the combination, but they did not succeed until last month, when the largest firm in New York dealing in such goods, consented to enter the trust, and then the Stanley Brothers were notified that their goods would be boycotted by all dealers throughout the country.

The Stanley Brothers refused to enter the trust and advance prices, because they did not think such a plan wise or consistent with their raw materials are lower than when they first began to manufacture, but they did business at a profit when the materials they use were higher, and they could see no reason therefore for advancing prices. They also argued that if prices were advanced profits increased, more factories would be opened for the making of their goods, the business would be split up, and the greater competition that would follow would soon make the business worth nothing. In trying to grasp too much the trust would lose all.

The trust embraces all the prominent dealers in the country, but the Stanley Brothers are not at all dismayed, and are establishing their own agencies at prominent points, and have made arrangements to sell direct to photographers and others, and are really enjoying the prospects of the fight against the combination. They are very fortunately placed to enter upon a fight of this kind, as their plates have been so thoroughly advertised that they are in general demand, and their patrons will not be easily satisfied with any other, and their declining to enter the trust will make it impossible for the combination to raise prices. They are confident that the standard of quality will be maintained, and the good wishes of all who would suffer from the extortions of the trust will go with them.

WILL OF NATHAN P. COBURN.

PUBLIC REQUESTS MADE TO THE EXTENT OF $77,000.

By the will of Nathan P. Coburn of Newton, the sum of $77,000 is left in public bequests.

The will was recently filed at the Middlesex probate court, East Cambridge. It is estimated that Mr. Coburn left a fortune of nearly half a million dollars. Mr. Coburn provided liberally for his wife and relatives, and the list of private bequests covers many pages of foolscap.

The larger amounts in the private bequests are $10,000 to N. C. Rockwood, son of his sister, Lydia Rockwood; to his sister, Mrs. Sarah Tufts of Boston, the sum of $20,000; to his brother, Alonzo Coburn of Hopkinton, $20,000; to his brother, Daniel J. Coburn of Hopkinton, $20,000; to Joseph E. Whitman of Newton, son of his first wife by a previous marriage, $20,000; to the widow of deceased brother, James E. Coburn, $20,000.

The public institutions remembered are as follows:

The sum of $20,000 is left to the Massachusetts Home Missionary Society, and $15,000 to the Newton Cottage Hospital for the general purposes of the hospital. To the Colorado College at Colorado Springs, to which institution he had already given a library building, is left $10,000, to be put with $5000 already given, to be known as "The Nathan P. Coburn fund for the support of the library of Colorado College."

The Eliot Religious Society of Newton is given $5000, to be known as the "Nathan P. Coburn fund" for assisting the worthy poor of the society and church. To the Rebecca Pomeroy Newton Home for Orphan Girls is left $5000, to be used for general purposes.

The sum of $20,000 is left to the American College and Education Society of Massachusetts, to be set apart under the name of "The Nathan P. Coburn fund for assisting young men in their education for the Christian ministry."

The original will gave $5000 to the Hopkinton Public Library, but a codicil makes the bequest of $2000 to that institution.

The original will was drawn in October, 1892, and the codicil March 7, 1894. Messrs. James A. Woolson, Horatio B. Hackett and Thomas Weston are named as executors, without sureties.

MANY GOLDEN GIFTS.

MR. AND MRS. F. D. ADAMS OF NEWTON CELEBRATE THE FIFTIETH ANNIVERSARY OF THEIR MARRIAGE.

Tuesday was a memorable day in the lives of Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Adams of Newton, for they rounded out together exactly a half century of life's joys and burdens, and their friends and neighbors invaded their cozy home, bringing handsome and costly presents of the yellow metal which is emblematic of a 50th wedding anniversary, and, what is more valuable still, "words of so sweet breath composed as made the gifts more rich."

The affair took place at their residence, 125 Church street.

Mr. Adams has been master car builder of the Albany railroad nearly a quarter of a century, and of course has many friends in the vicinity of Boston, but as he has lived in Newton only about three years, the previous years having been spent in Allston, most of the guests at Tuesday night's anniversary celebration came from varying distances.

Mr. and Mrs. Adams were surrounded by children and grandchildren Tuesday night, and most of the friends outside the family who were present were associated with him in the railroad business in some way.

The observance was not at all formal. It began with a season of handshaking, which was followed by the reading of two special poetic contributions by Rev. Mr. Merrill, pastor of the Immanuel Baptist church, and wound up at a seasonable hour with a dainty collation.

The array of golden wedding gifts, which occupied a room by themselves, where they were the theme of constant admiration, comprised about every article of table use or ornament in silver or gold, or both combined, which the ingenuity of man can devise.

There were also several handsome lamps, richly embroidered table covers, and parlor chairs entirely covered with gold leaf.

The gift which Mr. Adams prized highest of all was a volume, the leaves of which were parchment, and the covers russet seal. The text was entirely printed by hand, in embossed gold letters, richly ornamented, and it read as follows:

"The members of the executive committee of the Master Car Builders Association, individually and collectively send greeting and congratulation on the 50th anniversary of your happy wedding day. John S. Leutz, S. A. Crone, E. D. Brouner, T. C. Barber, G. W. Demarest, R. C. Blackall, J. M. Wallis, Samuel Irwin, J. T. Chamberlain, G. W. Rhodes, Putaski Leeds, John W. Cloud."

The descendants of the happy couple, who were present, were: Mr. and Mrs. Guy A. Adams of Ayer, Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Adams, Miss Leola Adams, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Adams of Aurora, N. Y., Mr. and Mrs. John D. Leib, E. Roy Leib and Master Harry Fitch, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Leib, Mrs. L. Graves, Mr. George Smith, all of Buffalo, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Adams of East Aurora, N. Y.

Among other present were J. T. Chamberlain and E. W. Grit, master car builders, respectively, of the B. & M. C. B. & O. T. B. Purvis, master machinist, B. & A.; Howard Carleton, general manager, B. & O. car works; H. B. Chesley, division superintendent, and W. H. Taft, superintendent motive power, B. & M.; Mr. and Mrs. Samuel W. White of New York, Mr. Winthrop Bridgewater, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Doran of Albany, Mr. and Mrs. George A. Barber, Mr. and Mrs. George W. Peck, Mr. and Mrs. T. F. de Garmo.

Gifts were received from the following:

J. Weyner, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Chamberlain, Mr. and Mrs. George L. Adams, Mr. Stephen Moore, Mrs. Lorinda Graves, Mrs. C. F. Ford, Roland Boutwell, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Mar-

den, H. Taft, Mr. and Mrs. John D. Leib, E. Roy Leib, Mr. and Mrs. Guy A. Adams, Mr. and Mrs. H. Carleton, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Adams, Mrs. J. B. Renshaw, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Snow, George R. Menacey, Mr. and Mrs. Turner, Mr. and Mrs. T. F. David, F. A. Barber, Mr. and Mrs. Guise, Mrs. G. P. Atkins, Mr. and Mrs. T. Tirrell, Mr. and Mrs. E. Cliff, Mr. and Mrs. W. Sargent, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. White, Samuel Chester, Mr. and Mrs. DeGolyer, Miss Chester, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Gordon, Mr. and Mrs. G. O. Travis, Mr. and Mrs. F. Cummings, Mr. and Mrs. W. Peck, E. S. Greely, Mr. and Mrs. Townsend, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Doran, A. B. Perry, Dr. and Mrs. Wiley, Mrs. J. B. Payne, Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Glenn, Miss Susan T. Adams, Ferdinand G. Ely, Thomas P. Adams, Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Adams, Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Tuttle, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. John M. Brady, Mr. and Mrs. F. Curtis (Goodwood), Henry Bradley, E. L. Jones.

Newton Prohibitionists.

The Prohibitionists held a caucus at West Newton Tuesday evening to appoint delegates to the various conventions. Chairman H. A. Inman presided and William H. Partridge was secretary.

The present ward and city committee was re-elected and the presiding officers authorized to select delegates to the congressional, senatorial, councillor and county conventions.

Delegates to the state convention, to be held at Worcester, Sept. 13, were elected as follows: Rev. William D. Cobb, Prof. C. C. Bragdon, Rev. S. D. B. Spence, G. S. Houghton, E. F. Kimball, F. F. Davidson, W. H. Partridge, E. D. Conant, Dr. Levi Parker, N. C. Pike, G. S. Howes, Rev. William Lisle, James Cutter, Mrs. E. N. L. Walton, Mrs. John Mead, Mrs. Richard Rowe, G. Lyman Snow, E. O. Burdon, R. A. Barbour, Mrs. E. E. Burdon, Mrs. S. N. Waters, Mr. and Mrs. Luther Paul, R. W. Waters, F. W. Emerson, C. W. Davidson, Dr. S. F. Chase, H. A. Inman, A. D. Blodgett, G. W. Blodgett, C. M. Kimball, Rev. Mr. Cate, H. E. Locke, F. C. Kelly, A. M. Upham, H. A. Sherman, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Lawrence, Mrs. H. F. Goodnow, J. B. Chapin.

A Grand Feature

Of Hood's Sarsaparilla is that while it purifies the blood and sends it coursing through the veins full of richness and health, it also imparts new life and vigor to every function of the body. Hence the expression so often heard: "Hood's Sarsaparilla made a new person of me." It overcomes that tired feeling so common now.

JUSTIN ANDREWS DEAD.

ONE OF THE EARLY PROPRIETORS OF THE HERALD PASSES AWAY IN NEWTON.

Mr. Justin Andrews, for many years a principal editorial writer on the Boston Herald, and for four years one of its proprietors, died last Friday at his residence on Nonantum street, Newton, after a prolonged illness, at the age of about seventy-five. About three months ago he was attacked by pneumonia, and before he had fully recovered typhoid fever set in, of which he died.

Mr. Andrews was born in Worcester county and when quite young was brought to Boston by his parents. His long newspaper career began as a compositor on the Boston Daily Times. With a number of other journeymen printers employed on that paper in December, 1844, he started a penny daily paper called the "American Eagle," published at No. 5 Devonshire street. It was devoted to the interests of the Native American party and among its editorial contributors were Dr. Palmer, George W. Tyler, Alfred B. Ely, W. S. Darnell and Moses Kimball. The paper was at first successful, but it declined with the cause with which it was identified and it was decided by its proprietors to start a new paper, make it neutral in politics, and allow the Eagle to die. The first number was issued on Aug. 31, 1846, and Mr. Andrews was in this indirect way one of the first proprietors of the Herald, and the only one who followed its fortunes from the day of its feeble beginnings till it became a prosperous enterprise. He returned to the Times as a reporter, and was subsequently made assistant editor, in which position he continued until March, 1856, when he accepted a similar position on the Herald, Edwin C. Bailey being the proprietor. On April 1, 1860, Mr. Andrews, his brother, Charles H. R. M. Pulsifer, E. B. Haskell and George C. Bailey purchased from Edwin C. Bailey the entire outfit of the Herald, which they published under the firm name of R. M. Pulsifer & Co. On Jan. 1, 1873, after having been on the editorial staff of the Herald for seventeen years and one of its proprietors four years, Mr. Justin Andrews sold his interest in the paper to his partners, and retired from newspaper life altogether. The sum he received was sufficient to afford him an ample competence, and he has lived a life of ease and leisure at his home in Newton ever since. His brother Charles and E. B. Haskell are now the only living members of the old firm of R. M. Pulsifer & Co., and they still retain their interest in the Herald.

FUNERAL SERVICES.

With every evidence of love and esteem, the remains of the late Justin Andrews were laid to rest Sunday afternoon.

The funeral services were held at the residence of the deceased, 73 Nonantum street, where many of those who had known him well during his useful life gathered to pay the fitting tribute of respect. In the company of mourners were many of Newton's prominent citizens, others well known in the business and social circles of Boston and vicinity, and a delegation of the older newspaper men, whose reputations were made in the days of journalism when Mr. Andrews and his associates were laying the foundations of one of the great daily newspapers of today.

The services were of a simple character, consisting of scripture selections, prayer and the rendition of appropriate hymns by the Newton quartet. Rev. F. E. Hornbrook, pastor of the Christian Unitarian church, officiated. The selections rendered by the quartet were "Can't Always Trace the Way," "Still, Still with Thee," and "Gathering Homeward, One by One."

The black broadcloth casket, resting upon a heavily draped catafalque, was nearly surrounded by beautiful floral pieces. The tribute of the proprietors of the Boston Herald was a large pillow formed of callas and roses, on a base of ferns and calyx leaves. Several old friends of the deceased united in sending an elaborate design, representing a closed book on a light stand. Across the cover, executed in white carnations, the word "Finitis" was traced in immortelles. Mr. C. H. Andrews, brother of the deceased, sent a beautiful design; Miss Emerson a pillow, bearing the inscription "Rest." There were several wreaths and a large variety of cut flowers, the contributions of the family and intimate friends.

Following the services, an opportunity was afforded for a last look at the deceased and the casket was then borne away.

The interment was in the Newton cemetery. The pallbearers were Messrs. J. S. F. Fuddleston, James W. Boston, E. B. Haskell, George G. Bates, Col. Horace T. Rockwell and Maj. L. B. Pratt. Among those present at the funeral services, beside the above, were Messrs. C. H. Andrews, C. S. Andrews, Edward J. Andrews, M. D. O'Keefe, George Francis, G. Henry Crafts, Samuel P. Bates, William Pryor, Thomas Bradley, John M. Oton, William J. Quinn, John T. Langford, C. E. Dearborn, Nathaniel Pratt, Charles J. Brown and Capt. E. J. Dyer.

Wawbaeaw War Canoe Association.
The sixth annual fall championship regatta of the New England Amateur Rowing Association was held on the Charles River, Boston, Labor Day, in the presence of over 10,000 people, and the "Wawbaeaw" were again successful in carrying off the War Canoe Trophies. The city of Boston had appropriated $500 for the regatta and nine large loving cups, together with an elegant silk banner suitably embroidered, were offered for first prize in the War Canoe event.

The Senior Crew of the Wawbaeaw War Canoe Association succeeded in winning the race quite handily, and their Junior Crew gave the Waltham boys a very close rub for second place.

Capt. Drake's boat was manned as follows: F. J. Burrage, "stroke"; Wellington Wells, No. 2; Roger D. Smith, 3; M. X. Colon, 4; E. A. Ballou, 5; C. R. Robertson, 6; F. C. Perry, 7; W. L. Perry, 8; Capt. L. S. Drake, 9.

There have been three war canoe races in New England this season and the above crew has been the winner in each regatta.

For this reason the members of the association feel very proud of their new organization, which now consists of about forty active canoeists living in the vicinity of Boston.

Newton is very well represented with about fifteen members, all of whom are strong paddlers. The officers of the Wawbaeaw War Canoe Association are as follows: Louis S. Drake, captain; Walter L. Perry, secretary; Francis J. Burrage, purser.

NEWTON SCHOOL BOARD.

THE FIRST OF THIS SEASON'S MEETINGS, WITH RESULTS.

The school committee men convened for the first time since the summer vacation on Wednesday evening.

Chairman J. Edward Hollis presided in the absence of the mayor and the roll call disclosed as absent, Messrs. Knapp, Brackett, Bond, Beck, Hale and Mrs. Davis.

The records were omitted and a communication from the city council submitted, informing the board that $2,600.06 received from dog taxes had been added to the appropriation for the current year.

Mr. Ober presented an order which passed, transferring Julia Youngs from the Hamilton to the Franklin kindergarten school.

Mrs. Martin's order, appointing Mary C. Bowers teacher of kindergarten at the Adams school at a salary of $500, was passed.

Mr. Mason presented an order, appointing Stella M. Steele assistant at the High school with an $800 salary.

Mr. Ward requested that the board be given some information as to why a new assistant was needed in the High school at this additional expense to the city?

Superintendent Aldrich said Miss Steele would come as a French teacher. She had been employed during the few closing weeks of the last term and had proved so efficient that it had been decided to permanently employ her at a fixed salary.

The order passed.

SUPERINTENDENT'S REPORT.

Superintendent Aldrich submitted his report in which he called attention to the present methods of the city council in apportioning the annual school appropriation. No allowance was made by them for possible loss from fire in the school buildings during the year, and the recent losses from that source emphasized the importance of having an annual appropriation for such contingencies. The method now in vogue divided the appropriation into four items. The general appropriation absorbed 90 per cent of the whole amount appropriated, then there were appropriations for evening schools, transfer of pupils and incidentals. The latter fund was $12,000 this year which was inadequate considering the many demands upon it, and it had never been sufficient for incidental needs, at least, for the past eight or ten years. Then the general appropriation was not as large as it should be and was $4,500 less this year than was asked for by the board.

The report was referred on motion of Mr. Smith to the committee on finance and accounts.

Mr. Boyden submitted an order which passed, authorizing the purchase of Fiske's "History of the United States" for use in the schools.

Mr. Drew submitted the report of the finance committee in the absence of Mr. Bond and an order was passed appropriating $8,773.44 for July and August expenses.

ONE YEAR'S ABSENCE.

Mr. Boyden presented an order to allow Elizabeth F. Paddock, first assistant at the Franklin school, absence from duty for the school year of 1894-5, paying her balance of salary during that period.

The order passed without remark.

Mrs. Martin then presented an order to allow Annie C. Merritt, first assistant at the Claffin school, leave of absence for one year, explaining that she was going to perfect her studies in Germany.

Mr. Ward interposed before the order was put to vote, saying it was doubtless a very desirable thing to aid teachers in this manner, but suggesting that it was asking the city to give a good deal.

He thought there might be some question as to the wisdom of the city's conducting schools in that manner. These teachers received, he understood, the balance of their salary left over after paying those who took their places.

They were allowed leave of absence and teachers of less value filled their places. Mrs. Martin explained that Miss Merritt was not to receive balance of salary.

Mr. Ward said he perfectly understood the desirability of such a course where by a valued teacher was retained for future service in the Newton schools.

Mr. Ober thought it was a bad precedent to establish. Heretofore six months had been the utmost limit and now a full year was asked. He moved a reconsideration of the vote, allowing Miss Paddock leave of absence without salary. This was done.

Mr. Boyden thought it unjust to discuss the matter in the absence of the members from Ward Three and moved a reference of the order to them. Referred.

WHEN, BEFORE?

Mr. Ward enquired, for information, if an order had ever before passed the board granting leave of absence to a teacher to go away and study and who was not ill. Was the board not establishing a precedent? Was it customary for all sorts of excuses to be accepted in these cases? He asked for information.

Mr. Boyden arose and said he thought the gentleman from Ward Six had said more than he really meant to say. All these requests for absence, he continued, came before the members of the district committee and superintendent for mature consideration, and he thought, as a matter of course, that the fact of such weighty consideration and wise judgment should be a sufficient answer as to whether "all sorts of excuses" were taken.

Mr. Ward supposed his question was answered, he asked questions to secure information about these matters with which he was totally unacquainted. He wanted to be understood as offering no unjust criticism, but simply to gain information on these matters to which he was entitled. He was therefore to understand from the last speaker that there was no established rule in such cases, and that any excuse was considered, whether in case of ill health or in order, simply to retain the services of teachers in the future.

AN ACADEMY INSTANCE.

After further discussion, Mr. Boyden, to show that such courses were customary elsewhere, spoke of a leading teacher of an academy in western Massachusetts who was granted a year's absence with balance of salary, and his place was filled during his absence by a man who received only half of the salary paid him.

Mr. Ober suggested that there might be some trouble as a rule in securing such substitutes.

Mr. Drew presented an order which passed, authorizing the committee on evening schools to open an evening school at Nonantum and an evening and drawing school in the old Claffin school building, Newtonville.

The board then went into executive session.

THE LIVING PICTURES.

THE THEATRICAL FAD OF THE DAY, AND WHERE IT ORIGINATED.

That the living pictures have become a popular species of amusement, and that they afford gratification and delight to thousands upon thousands of spectators, is beyond all doubt, says a writer in the Boston Sunday Herald. Yet they are nothing new; they have been known for all time—not certainly in their present shape, but assuredly so long as art has been recognized in the world. All stage exhibitions may be regarded in the light of living pictures, for are not all productions of the stage living pictures and careful reproductions of actual scenes of the past or present?

It may be that the living pictures, as we understand them, had their beginning in what was known as the "Grecian statues," which were living reproductions of the famous statues of antiquity, and it will perhaps be remembered that the last exhibition we had of that nature, here in Boston, was given by a certain Mr. William Muldoon, an ex-policeman, ex-prize-fighter, ex-wrestler, and so on, of New York.

The first person who represented the Grecian statues here in Boston, and, indeed, in the country, was John Fletcher, who appeared first at the Tremont Theatre, on the night of Monday, Nov. 28, 1831. Fletcher was born in the bloody Tower—one of those numerous buildings which go to make up the pile known as the Tower of London—on the 28th of May, 1809. In 1831, the year he came to this country, he gained celebrity as the statues at the Adelphi Theatre, in London. After appearing at all the principal theatres in the country with great success for several seasons, he retired from the stage and settled down to a business life, but by many of our older citizens he will be remembered as the original manager of the China tea store, which was situated on Washington street, close to Summer, and which was subsequently kept by Mr. Shawe. In after life Mr. Fletcher kept a large theatrical boardinghouse on Court street, adjoining the residence of Deacon Grant. He died some 20 years since.—(From "Living Pictures of the Past," The Boston Sunday Herald, Sept. 9, 1894.)

Antiquity of Smoking.

In the mortar of the tower of Kirkstall abbey, which fell in the year 1779, Whittaker mentions that several little "smoking pipes" were found, showing that the smoking of some herb or other was in use in England 400 years before tobacco was introduced. Dr. Petrie mentions that pipes of bronze for smoking are often found in ancient Irish tombs. In the monument of Donough O'Brien, king of Thomond, who was killed A. D. 1637 and interred in the abbey of Corcumrae, County Clare, he is represented with a short pipe, or du-deen, in his mouth.

It may be observed that in some very ancient coal workings, which were found under Lambton castle some 30 years ago, some of these very old smoking pipes were found, and a generation or two ago not far from Lambton very poor old folks might often be seen smoking the common white flowered yarrow, a herb frequently found in country churchyards.—Newcastle Chronicle.

Hard to Please.

Mrs. Henpecker is one of those wives there is no pleasing. On the return of her husband from the city last week she greeted him thusly:

"Oh, Adolphus," she exclaimed, "how short you have had your hair out at!"

"But, my dear Angelina," replied Mr. H. meekly, "I haven't had my hair out at all."

"Then it is high time you had," returned Mrs. H. severely.—Leeds (England) Mercury.

A Bureau of Information.

When the cook, disturbed by the fierce barking of the dog, opened the kitchen door, she observed a tramp hanging for dear life on the top of a clothes line post, with the dog jumping for him. She called off the dog, but he still hung on.

"Why don't you come down off that post?" she asked angrily.

"Don't ask me, lady," answered the tramp; "don't ask me. Ask the dog."

—Detroit Free Press.

The Curse of Humanity.

Frau Schlemmiller (standing with her second husband at the grave of her first)—Yes, here he lies, the brave warrior. You would certainly not be my husband today if my dear John had not died the death of a hero on the battlefield.

Herr Schlemmiller (pensively)—Yes, war is the curse of humanity.—Zeitspiegel.

Ragman's Rag.

It was first met with in "Piers Plowman" and meant "one of the demons of hell." In "Piers Plowman" they also met with "ragman"—made from "rage man"—meaning "the devil." "Ragman's roll," of Scotch origin, came into use as a slang term for a lying document or "rigmorale."—Academy.

Weber was very temperate in his habits, but insisted on drinking three glasses of wine and no more every day with his dinner.

Irving W. Larimore, physical director of Y. M. C. A., Des Moines, Iowa, says he can conscientiously recommend Chamberlain's Pain Balm to athletes, gymnasts, bicyclists, foot ball players and the profession in general for bruises, sprains and dislocations; also for soreness and stiffness of the muscles. When applied before the parts become swollen it will effect a cure in one half the time usually required. For sale at A. H. H. Newton; E. W. Keyes, Auburndale; B. B. Buck, Newton Centre; E. F. Partridge, Newtonville; B. Billings, Newton Upper Falls.

Used and endorsed by Adams Express Co.

TUTTLE'S ELIXIR, The Great Cure for Man and Beast.

11000 Edward (if not cured) for every case of Colic, Contractions and Knots, Coughs, Splint Shoe Boils (when first started), and Calfs of all kinds. Never fails to relieve Splains, Hingboms, or Coughs.

Read following from a letter dated Boston, Aug. 5, 1892:— "TUTTLE'S ELIXIR, diluted with water and applied externally, in connection with TUTTLE'S CONDITION POWDER, cured my horse Dandy of a sore of 6 months' standing. It also proved a success as applied to bleeding warts on my cow's teats; and a severe case of Rheumatism from which my man was suffering, was relieved at once. Yours truly, A. R. WHITTIER."

Tuttle's Family Elixir Cures Rheumatism, Coughs, Colds, Lambs Back, Sprains, Sore Throat, La Grippe and Pneumonia. Sample bottle FREE, or sent to any address on receipt of 3-cent stamps to S. A. TUTTLE, 27 Beverly St., Boston. J. N. DANFORTH, Brighton, Agent.

EXPERIENCE AND PROMPTNESS.

NICE WORK GUARANTEED BY

WHITE'S NEWTON CARPET CLEANING COM'Y.

Only 1 cent per yard running for taking up; 3 cents per running yard for cleaning Wool, Brussels or Tapestry; 4 cents for Wiltons, Velvets or Axminsters; 8 cents per square yard for Turkish Rugs or Carpets; 4 cents per running yard for layings; Stairs, 10 cents and upwards per flight. Carpet Sewing, $2.50 per day. Remove ing and repairing of carpets a specialty. Carpet work in all its branches done properly and at reasonable prices. All kinds of Carpet Linings for sale. Church Cushions and Mattings cleaned at bottom prices. Carpets called for and delivered free of charge. Send postal. New Carpets made to order of every shape and size.

SIMON A. WHITE,

P. O. Box 71, Newtonville. Telephone 7.

Factory and Residence, Clinton Street

Bicycle Repairing of Every Description.

Brazing, Enameling, Nickel-Plating, Etc.

Wheels Changed from Solid to Cushion or Pneumatic.

Connected by Telephone.

Best Cycle Oil 25 cents per pint. Lawn Mowers cleaned and sharpened for $1.00 Called for and delivered for 25 cents extra.

Haddow & Batchelor, 49 Galen Street, Watertown, Mass.

P. A. MURRAY, Carriage Builder.

FOR PERFECT PLEASURE IN RIDING Use Rubber Tires. ALL WORK GUARANTEED.

Special attention given to REPAIRING AND PAINTING FINE CARRIAGES AND SLEIGHS WASHINGTON, COR. PARK ST., NEWTON.

Genuine Bargains

Always to be obtained by examination of the

IMPERFECT GOODS AND REMNANTS, STRICTLY ALL WOOL.

Made at the Assabet Mills which are exclusively sold and at the lowest prices by

THE PEOPLE'S DRY GOODS COMPANY MAYNARD, MASS.

The Salesroom is open until 6 p. m. except Saturday. Closes Saturday at 12 o'clock. Positively open as above until further notice in this paper.

Dentists. DR. S. F. CHASE, DENTIST.

Office and Residence, 303 Walnut St., Newtonville. Careful and thorough operating in all branches. NEW METHOD FOR ARTIFICIAL TEETH.

Dr. Elbridge C. Leach, DENTIST.

423 COLUMBUS AVE., NO. The correcting of irregular teeth in children a specialty. Residence, Crystal St., Newton Centre. Will make appointments at residence after 6 p. m.

E. B. Hitchcock, M. D., D. M. D., DENTIST, ELIOT BLOCK, NEWTON.

Dr. H. L. SANDERSON, Surgeon Dentist, 480 Boylston Street, Boston, Mass.

O—FLORIST—O Floral Decorations for Weddings and Parties arranged for at short notice. Funerals designs and cut flowers a specialty. CHARLES E. HOLBROW, 407 Centre St., Greenhouse 17 Washington Street.

J. H. LOOKER, French Cleansing and Dyeing Dry Cleansing and Repairing a Specialty. Particular attention paid to Blankets, Lace Curtains, Fine Linens and Hand Laundry Work of all kinds. No. 21 Carlton Street, NEWTON, MASS.

Veterinary Surgeon MADISON BUNKER, D. V. S.

BUSH'S STABLE, ELMWOOD ST., NEWTON. Telephone Connection.

Carpenters and Builders.

S. K. MacLEOD, Carpenter and Builder.

Jobbing of all kinds neatly and promptly executed. Bathrooms and Fittings for Plumber's Work a Specialty. SHOP: CENTRE PL. Opp. PUBLIC LIBRARY. Residence: Boyd Street, near Jewett.

G. W. RIGBY, Carpenter and Builder. JOBBING PROMPTLY ATTENDED TO. Washington St., opp. Waban, Newton.

OVER - 57,000 NEW ENGLAND PIANOS MADE AND SOLD

An Index of Public Opinion.

For Sale on Easy Payments To Rent by Day, Week, Month or Year

New England Piano Co. 300 Tremont St., BOSTON. 88 Fifth Ave., NEW YORK. 263, 264 Wabash Ave., CHICAGO. 26, 28, 30 O'Farrell St., SAN FRANCISCO.

BOOK AND JOB PRINTING

Of Every Description Promptly Executed at the

Newton Graphic

OFFICE

285 Washington Street, NEWTON.

Plumbers.

Having

Purchased the business of the Newtonville Heating and Plumbing Co., I beg leave to inform the public that I am prepared to do all work in the

PLUMBING AND HEATING

Line at short notice in a workmanlike and satisfactory manner at reasonable prices. Jobbing and repairs a specialty. Please give me a trial. References given.

GEO. E. THOMPSON, Formerly of Providence, R. I. 824 Washington Street, NEWTONVILLE.

HEWITT & THOMAS, Practical Plumbers, And Sanitary Engineers.

247 WASHINGTON ST., Nonantum Block, Newton.

M. C. HIGGINS, Practical Plumber

—AND— SANITARY ENGINEER.

Plumbing Work in all its branches.

Having had twenty-two years' experience in the business in this city, perfect satisfaction is guaranteed.

Sumner's Block, Newton.

ESTABLISHED IN 1896.

T. J. HARTNETT, Plumber and Sanitary Engineer.

IRON DRAINAGE & VENTILATION A SPECIALTY.

JOBBING PROMPTLY ATTENDED TO.

375 Centre Street, - Newton.

HOWARD B. COFFIN, DEALER IN

Fine Teas, Best Coffees.

AND NEWTON AGENT FOR

Deerfoot Farm Products.

363, 361 CENTRE ST. 4, 6 HALL ST., Cole's Block, Newton.

HOWARD ICE COMPANY.

SUCCESSORS TO HOWARD BROTHERS.

Orders can be left at 342 CENTRE STREET, NEWTON.

OFFICE HOURS: 7.45 to 11 A. M.; 3 to 5.45 P. M.

ABRAHAM L. HOWARD, Proprietor.

43 Galen Street, Watertown, Mass.

Telephone 15-3 Newton.

Turkish Baths.

The Best in Boston. Modern improvements with all appointments first class. Open day and night. Smith Building, under the old Sherman House, Boston.

The West Newton Savings Bank.

Incorporated 1887. West Newton, Mass. AUSTIN R. MITCHELL, President. JAMES H. NICKERSON, Treasurer. ALFRED L. BARBOUR, Clerk.

Trustees: Austin R. Mitchell, Dwight Chester, Edward L. Pickard, Prescott C. Bridgman, Charles A. Potter, Fred E. Crockett, Alfred L. Barbour, Edward W. Cato, C. F. Eddy, Frank E. Hunter, Edward C. Burrage, Benj. F. Olin. Committee of Investment: Austin R. Mitchell, Edward L. Pickard, Dwight Chester, Charles A. Potter, Fred E. Crockett. Open for business daily, 8.30 to 11 a. m., 1.30 to 3 p. m.

Deposits will commence drawing interest on the first days of January, April, July, October.

Newton and Watertown

Gas Light Company

All orders for Gas or Electric Lighting left at their office, 421 Centre St., will receive prompt attention.

LOWER FALLS CARNIVAL.

A GRAND SUCCESS IN ALL THE IMPORTANT EVENTS.

That the fame of Fr. Callanan as an organizer of sport, meriment and fun, has been established far and near, was sufficiently evidenced by the immense concourse of people who came from all directions to enjoy and to participate in the many events prepared for their amusement on Labor Day. 12,000 people is a moderate estimate of the numbers who came by train, in barges and carriages, on bicycles, in fact every mode of conveyance was brought into requisition to bring to the carnival grounds the immense multitude there assembled. Fr. Callanan's venture this year has proved successful beyond the most sanguine expectations of his numberless well-wishers.

The carnival was inaugurated on Saturday evening by the Young Men's Catholic Association of Waltham, assisted by select talent from West Newton. The many encores of both singers and pianists testified to the appreciation of the large audience present.

On Sunday night, Sept. 2nd, the audience that greeted Mr. Michael J. Dwyer tested the seating capacity of the immense pavilion to its utmost. Mr. Dwyer won the attention of all present at the very beginning of his famous lecture on Thomas Moore and his Melodies, which increased to admiration as the beauties of Thomas Moore's writings were unfolded to them. The writings of Moore were most accurately interpreted by the gifted lecturer, and feelingly portrayed by him and a quartet of select singers from the leading choirs of Boston. Mr. Dwyer and his quartet will require no advertising to fill the largest auditorium obtainable, should they ever return to Newton Lower Falls.

On Monday, Labor Day, the picnic proper and carnival of sports, so auspiciously introduced, had full sway. Every body came to enjoy themselves and succeeded admirably in doing so, for there was fun for all, for old and young, for scholar and athlete. All had been provided for, no one's tastes were overlooked in the arranging of the program. Running, jumping, tumbling, pole vaulting and pole climbing, sack racing, hurdle racing and numberless other sports were furnished in the bicycle race, Parker won the five mile race, notwithstanding the accident that befell him on the Waltham track in his morning's race there. Parker carried home the silver service as a silent witness of his ability to cover 5 miles on the wheel in shorter time than any rider present. Wilson, after a closely contested struggle, leads all contestants in the 8 miles and 1 mile races, and wins a silver watch and a silver goblet in these two races. Joseph Doherty, son of Water Registrar Cornelius F. Doherty of Boston, captured the prize for running long jump. In the first trial Joseph and his brother Frank easily led all the others, while it was a tie between them, Joseph winning by a close margin in the second trial, making a score of 22 feet. A one sided game of ball was played by the Eliot Club of Natick and the Young Men's Catholic Association of Waltham, the former winning by a score of 10 to 0. The most amusing race of the day was the pig race. The pig was a knowing one and was not to be ensnared by the wiles of man. Blandishment and courtesy alike were wasted upon it, as the pig seemed fully conscious of the fact that the crowd had evil designs upon it. It showed the boys some new points in the sprinting line, beside giving them a practical lesson in running. In this case the boys did the rooting while the pig with critical eye saw that it was done according to rule. After an exciting run in pursuit of a place of quiet and repose the pig succumbed gracefully to the hearty and demonstrative embraces of James Pendergast, and has retired from public life. While these and other games, too numerous to mention, were affording fun and amusement to thousands of visitors, the immense pavilion was being filled and refilled by thousands, also, whose attention was centered on the tug-of-war matches going on beneath its canopy. At 2 p. m. precisely, the first tug-of-war contest took place, and at short intervals was followed up by others. The two first teams to contest for the purse of $50 in gold were the Newton Lower Falls team and the Newton Upper Falls team. Those fortunate enough to get into the pavilion to witness the struggle for the money will never forget it. At the given signal both teams put forth their best efforts. Twenty giants in strength, ten on either side, pulled and strained until every muscle bulged forth with the tax put upon it; the seconds were counted off by the judges, while the rope gives forth that peculiar sound which betokens danger of slipping her moorings; the cheers of encouragement ring out to the lusty fellows on the rope, all in excitement and expectation, but in the midst of all the center ribbon on the rope hangs as immovably over the line as does the corner stone of a building; and at the expiration of the time limit, 2 minutes, the judges decide it a draw. Both teams received the well deserved praise from all present, and respectively conceded to each other the honors due worthy opponents. At 3 p. m. the drawn game above mentioned was decided by a second contest between the same teams, and after a most desperate struggle victory crowned the efforts of the men on the Upper Falls team. Congratulations were given in abundance to the victors, and like brave men, good and true, the first to extend the hand in acknowledgement of the justice given in the decision were the vanquished athletes. This feature of accepting defeat in the kindest manner conceivable was characteristic not only of the first contest in the tug-of-war but also of all subsequent ones.

There was no animosity in the makeup of the men engaged in the tug-of-war. They were the heroes of the carnival, and modestly received the well merited tributes of praise so lavishly expended upon them. At 4 p. m. the teams represented in the tug-of-war were Div. 33 A. O. H. of So. Natick and the Weston team, the former winning. At 6 p. m. the Ice Men's team of Waltham Hills was defeated by the Waltham Hills team. At 7 p. m. the Champion team of Cambridge won from the Upper Falls team, this being a special contest. At 8 p. m. a picked team from Lower Falls succumbed to a picked team from Waltham. At 9 p. m. two special teams selected from Waltham Hills and Weston, captained by Thomas B. Kinlon and Thomas Kilmain, contested for supremacy, the one captained by Thomas B. Kinlon carrying off the laurels, and thus closed the tug-of-war contests for Labor Day.

On Tuesday night the South Boston

Dramatic Club augmented by the choir of St. Peter and Paul's church, South Boston, entertained the large audience assembled in the immense pavilion. Handy Andy was presented in an artistic manner, the play being interspersed with music excellently rendered.

Hon. Joseph H. O'Neill, M. C., delivered a lecture on Wednesday night, taking for his subject "Brain and Brawn." Standing room in the large pavilion could not be found this night. Every available spot was in the early evening eagerly taken in anticipation of the intellectual feast prepared for the audience on that night. The honorable orator of the evening was introduced by Rev. Fr. Callanan in a few well chosen remarks. The orator spoke in that interesting vein well known to all who have ever heard him speak, holding his large audience close and interested listeners from beginning to end of his discourse. The honors of this evening were also shared in by Mr. Thos. E. Clifford, one of Boston's greatest baritone singers, and Mr. Ryan of the water registrar's office of Boston, who gave an oratorical feast to those present. After the close of oratory and song a tug-of-war contest took place between the team from Newton Upper Falls and the Ice Men's team of Waltham Hills, the decision being in favor of the Upper Falls team, and the carnival closed for Wednesday night.

On Thursday evening Registrar Doherty supplied a grand musical treat given by singers from Boston, East Boston, Charlestown, Brighton, Roslindale, Allston, South Boston and other places. Harry A. Bower of the Tremont Theatre, Boston, the originator and the greatest xylophone soloist in the world appeared in various numbers. This evening was under the registrar's management, and like everything undertaken by this gentleman proved most successful in every particular. A train came out from Boston filled with Boston people, who came for the express purpose of attending the concert of this evening. After the concert another tug-of-war match was also pulled off.

On tonight, Saturday and Sunday nights, the carnival will continue. The very best of talent is already secured and engaged for these nights. On tonight there will be negro minstrelsy, Mr. J. B. Scamman of the Commonwealth, Glee Singers, Mr. Edward H. Frye, the humorist, who has been before the public for fifteen years past, Mr. Edward Howlett, an artist of rare ability, in numberless roles, and a host of others.

On Saturday night the Young Men's Catholic Association of Waltham and their friends will present a varied program, concluding with that interesting after-piece, Box and Cox. On Sunday night Prof. Turner will give his celebrated illustrated lecture on Six Great Cities, Dublin, London, Paris, Athens, Rome and Constantinople. On each of these nights after the regular program are rendered a decisive contest in the tug-of-war contests will take place, Sunday evening excepted, and the purses will be awarded the victors. This certainly has been a gigantic undertaking on the part of Fr. Callanan, and his numberless friends rejoice with him in his success. Under his direction everything has been provided, nothing being found wanting in the slightest detail. That he has a taste for the beautiful beside his capacity for business and organization, is evidenced by the artistic arrangements of the varied colored lights illuminating the carnival grounds at night. Brilliant indeed is the imagination that could give birth to the actually realistic scene pictured by the carnival grounds at night. The Lower Falls people are proud in their possession of such a pastor, while the citizens recognize in him a scholar and a gentleman in every sense of these distinguished qualifications.

AUGUST WAS A VERY DRY MONTH.

SOME COMPARATIVE FIGURES TAKEN FROM THE WEATHER BUREAU'S BULLETIN.

August is rarely a wet month, but last month came near being the driest for the past 23 years, the period during which the weather bureau has kept a systematic record.

The list of the dry Augusts in that time is as follows, according to the weather bureau's summary: 1883, .30in.; 1876 and 1881, 1.83in.; 1882, 1.46in.; 1890, 2.80in.; 1880, 2.90in., and then this year comes next in point of total precipitation, with 3.03 inches. The long drought seems to be proved beyond a doubt. The average precipitation during August for the past 24 years is 4.40 in., so that the falling off for this city, while material, is hardly ominous. Compared to 1883, for instance, this year's August is rather damp. In 1872 there were 10.08 in., and in 1885, 7.64in., which show what the experts can do when they have a chance. The deficiency from the normal August for the month was 1.44in., and the total deficiency since Jan. 1 is now 8.78in. In point of temperature, the August of this year was just a fair average. The mean was 68 deg., and the mean for the month during 24 years was 69 deg. The highest temperature recorded was 90 deg. on the 8th, and the lowest 47 deg. on the 22d. The mean daily range was 4 deg. on the 13th. The deficiency for the month was 15 deg., but the accumulated excess of temperature since Jan. 1 is 5.79 deg., and, as the season for piling up this sort of thing is about over, the year may be safely called a hot one. The mean maximum temperature was 70 deg.; the mean minimum, 68 deg., and the relative humidity, 73 per cent.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address: F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.

Sold by Druggists, 75c.

The usual treatment of catarrh is very unsatisfactory, as thousands can testify. Proper local treatment is positively necessary to success, but many, if not most, of the remedies in general use afford but temporary relief. A cure certainly cannot be expected from snuffs, powders, douches and washes. Ely's Cream Balm, which is so highly commended, is a remedy which combines the important requisites of quick action, specific curative power, with perfect safety and pleasantness to the patient. The druggists all sell it.

Coughing Leads to Consumption. Kemp's Balsam stops the coughing.

LIVELY FIGHT WITH A SHARK.

Terrifying Experience With a Man Eaten by a Man Who Was Fishing.

William Muller, an attorney of Denison, Tex., had an experience with a man eating shark at Rockport in the gulf. "I hired a small sailboat," said Mr. Muller in relating his unpleasant experience, "and was out some distance from land when I baited my hook and cast it out. I used a new clothesline 100 to 150 feet long for a cord, and the hook was quite large, probably six to seven inches long.

"I felt a jerk, and in an instant the hook was under the boat's rudder. I asked the boatman to reverse the sail in order that the line could be cleared. I was oblivious to all except the big fish, and as the boom swung around it caught me on the back between the shoulders. I was tumbled overboard head foremost in the water, some 40 to 50 feet deep. As I struck the water the fish that I had caught, a man eating shark, laid hold of the calf of my right leg. The pain was fearful, and I felt myself jerked rapidly down toward the bottom of the sea.

"In my fall I did not relax my hold on the line, and as soon as I realized my position I knew that my life depended on my ability to hold on to the cord. The struggle I know was not long, but to me it seemed like an age. The cord was fastened to a beam in the boat, and inch by inch I gained on my antagonist, and as soon as I appeared on the surface the boatman came to my assistance. The shark retained its grip on my leg until my body was entirely out of the water, and even then it did not let go until the boatman knocked it off with an oar. When I was safely on the inside, however, we pulled for the shore, and as my hook was securely fastened in the mouth of the shark no trouble was experienced in landing the fish. It was between 5 and 6 feet long."—Chicago Post.

JOHN BULL'S HUMOR.

It is of the Past Witted Kind—What Americans Think of It.

Hawthorne, observing Englishmen in England, speaks of them as "heavy witted." Emerson alludes to their "savage stupidity." Howells has introduced to us some typical specimens of English respectability and rank baffled in their chase after American humor, but on the scent and arriving at the point of appreciation after considerable silent thought, sometimes lasting into the next day, and here is the testimony of Lowell from his recently published "Letters."

In a letter written in 1889 from England to Professor Norton he thus explains the warm reception given to Buffalo Bill by London society: "But I think the true key to this eagerness for lions—even of the poodle sort—is the dullness of the average English mind. I never come back here without being struck with it. Henry James said it always stupefied him at first when he came back from the continent. What it craves beyond everything is a sensation, anything that will serve as a Worcester's sauce to its sluggish palate. We, of finer and more touchy fiber, get our sensations cheaper and do not find Wordsworth's emotion over a common flower so very wonderful. People are dull enough on our side of the ocean stream also, God wot, but here unless I know my people I never dare to let my mind gambol. Most of them, if I ever do, look on like the famous deaf man at the dancers, wondering to what music I am capering. They call us superficial. Let us thank God, dear Charles, that our nerves are nearer the surface, not so deeply embedded in fat or muscle that wit must take a pitchfork to us."—Outlook.

Being at supper, my wife did say something that caused me to oppose her in. She used the word devil, which vexed me, and, among other things, I said I would not have her to use that word, upon which she took me up most scornfully, which, before Ashwell and the rest of the world, I know not nowadays how to check, as I would heretofore, for less than that would have made me strike her. So that I fear without great discretion I shall go near to lose, too, my command over her, and nothing do it more than giving her this occasion of dancing and other pleasures, whereby her mind is taken up from her business and finds other sweets besides pleasing of me, and so makes her that she begins not at all to take pleasure in me or study to please me as heretofore. —Diary of Samuel Pepys.

An Unlucky Shot.

"I am not a very good shot," said R. B. Coleman, "and this fact gave me a great deal of trouble at one time. I borrowed a valuable dog from a friend and went hunting. The animal became rattled when he found that I knew nothing about hunting. Rabbit after rabbit was started up, and I missed them as fast as they came. Finally the dog grew tired and concluded to catch them on his own hook. He soon started another, and as it jumped the dog jumped after it just as I fired. The shot went into the head of the dog, and he died without a groan. The rabbit ran a short distance and then stopped and looked back, as if to mock me. Of course I paid for the dog, but my friend has never forgiven me, and I have not gone hunting since." —Cincinnati Enquirer.

Berlioz.

Berlioz was made miserable by his wife. He married Miss Smithson, an actress many years younger than himself. She had prolonged fits of jealousy and ill temper, ruined him by her theatrical ventures and finally fell from a carriage and broke her leg, thus ending her artistic career. Berlioz bore with her in patience until she finally left him. He was a tall man, of stern aspect and very dignified. In spite of his immense musical abilities as a composer, he could play no instrument except the guitar, and that very badly. —St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Don't Get Weary

because you have a large washing to do, but keep your spirits and strength by using

Ivoryine

WASHING POWDER.

It works like a charm in removing dirt, and is cheaper, safer, quicker, and better than any other way. With it backs will not ache, and clothes will not rot. 1½ lb. package costs no more than a pound of other kinds.

From April 1st, 1893, every package contains a splendid cake of pure Olive Oil Toilet Soap.

The J. B. Williams Co., Glastonbury, Ct. For 50 years the makers of Yankee Shaving Soap.

IN ITS ORDINARY DEPARTMENT

THE

METROPOLITAN LIFE INS. CO.

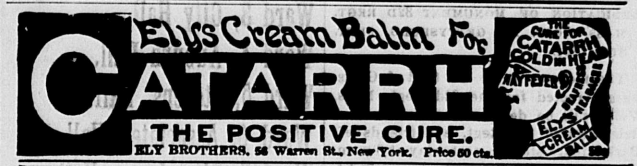

ISSUES

Policies from $1,000 to $25,000

ON PLANS adapted to all stations and circumstances of life. AT RATES considerably lower than those of other first class companies. The policies contain no restriction as to travel and residence—provide for the immediate payment of claims upon receipt of satisfactory proofs of death, and, in brief, are PLAIN BUSINESS CONTRACTS, that is, contracts which tell their whole story upon their face; leave nothing to the imagination; borrow nothing from hope; and make definite promises in dollars and cents.

Premiums may be Paid Yearly, Half-Yearly or Quarterly.

BRANCH OFFICE: ELIOT BLOCK, NEWTON. W. S. GORDON, Superintendent.

THE POSITIVE CURE. ELY BROTHERS, 54 Warren St., New York. Price 50 cts.

Newton Horse Shoeing Shop

DELANEY, LELAND & HEWITT.

Successors to J. A. T.

P. A. MURRAY, JR.

Washington Street,

NEWTON

Murray's Carriage Manufactory

Having purchased the horse shoeing branch of the business formerly conducted by Mr. P. A. Murray, we desire to state that we have worked at his stand several years and established a first-class reputation and we therefore feel assured of a continuation of your patronage. The shop in which we will continue the business is fitted up exclusively for horse shoeing and we can guarantee to give better satisfaction than ever. Special attention will be given to over reaching, interfering and tender footed horses, and also gentlemen owning trotting horses, can have them shod in any of the various styles of weighted shoes desirable for track work. 15

Water Bugs and Roaches.

CLEAR THEM OUT WITH OUR EXTERMINATOR

No dust. No trouble to use. Price, 50c. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded. If your druggist or grocer does not keep it, we will mail package on receipt of price.

BARNARD & CO.

7 TEMPLE PLACE, BOSTON

FOR SALE BY BARNARD BROS., NEWTON.

Undertakers.

GEORGE H. GREGG,

Undertaker

TELEPHONE - CONNECTIONS.

Funeral

and

Furnishing

Undertaker.

COFFINS, CASKETS, ROBES, and every modern requisite for the proper performance of the business constantly on hand. Orders by telephone promptly attended to.

GEO. W. BUSH,

Elmwood Street, - Newton.

S. L. PRATT,

FUNERAL AND FURNISHING UNDERTAKER

Newton Centre, Mass. First-class Appointments and Competent Assistants. To accommodate the people of Upper Falls and vicinity orders may be left at the office of Spaulding Printing Co., which will immediately be forwarded to me by telephone. Also shall continue the Hack, Livery and Boarding Stable. Business at my old stand corner of Beacon and Station Streets. 13

S. F. CATE

Telephone:—West Newton Office, 19-5; House, 19-4. Also Billing's Drug Store, Upper Falls. FURNISHING-Undertaker.

WASHINGTON ST., WEST NEWTON.

Lumber.

C. A. HARRINGTON

LUMBER,

Lime, Cement, Plaster, &c

Crafts St., Newtonville, Mass.

Telephone 5249-1 Newton

Don't Drink

impure water longer than for 60c, you can buy a good filter. They will fit a faucet and it has a thread or a Barber Bros not. Call and see at Barber Bros

Real Estate and Insurance.

ABAN, TROWBRIDGE & CO.,

725 Exchange Building, 53 State St., Boston

Have For Sale in all parts of Newton,

Elegant Estates in Choice Locations.

Houses at All Prices.

Building Lots and Large Tracts of Land for Development, Investment.

Call and see Plans and Prices. Money to Loan on Mortgage. We insure houses, furniture, stables, stocks of goods, etc.

T. W. TROWBRIDGE, Notary Public, Justice of the Peace.

Alvord Bros. & Co.

(Members Boston Real Estate Exchange.)

Newton Circuit Property.

A full list of houses to sell and let for the summer and longer at all prices. Land for sale from 10 cents to 50 cents per foot. Especially desirable lots in the vicinity of boulevard improvements, safe to advance in value at present prices.

OFFICES:

113 Devonshire St., Boston, And Newton Centre.

FRANCIS MURDOCK.

INSURANCE AGENT,

Gas Office, Brackett's Block, Newton, Mass.

INSURANCE TO ANY AMOUNT placed in first-class Stock and Mutual companies. Sole Agent for Newton of the Middlesex Mutual of Concord Mass.

REAL ESTATE

To Sell or Rent.

INSURANCE, MONEY TO LOAN.

Carriages ready to take customers to see property.

Newton Centre Office: Union Street, opposite Railroad Station.

Boston Office: 113 Devonshire St., Room 24

SIDNEY P. CLARK, Newton Centre

Established 1857.

F. G. BARNES & SON

Real Estate, Mortgage and Insurance

BROKERS.

Auctioneers for Real and Personal Property.

FOR SALE AND FOR RENT

A large line of desirable property throughout Newton and vicinity.

Offices: 27 State St., Boston; Brackett's Bldg., NEWTON.

A. S. N. ESTES,

Civil Engineer and Land Surveyor.

All kinds of engineering work done at short notice. Batters set for buildings. Blue prints made at low figures. Bound stones furnished and set at $2 per tone. 5-ly 7 Central Ave., Over Post Office, Newtonville.

Real Estate

BUYERS

SELLERS

IN—

NEWTON

ACTUAL FACTS by consulting:

HENRY W. SAVAGE,

37 Court Street, Boston, Mass.

MORTGAGE MONEY—Will be furnished at Low Rates in sums to suit.

WILEY S. & FRANK EDMANDS,

178 Devonshire St., Boston.

Insurance Agents and Brokers.

Mortgages Wanted.

Newton Real Estate a Specialty.

Houses For Sale, $3000 and upwards. To Let, $25 to $100. Furnished, $35 to $250. Choice Building Lots, 10 cents to 50 cents.

Real Estate

IN ALL THE—

NEWTONS

To Sell, Rent or Exchange.

MORTGAGES NEGOTIATED.

Your Business Solicited.

Arthur L. Wyman

& Co.,

178 Devonshire Street, Boston.

Agent for Newton,

ALBERT C. BRACKETT

At Boston; Office at 381 Newtonville Avenue, Newtonville.

A. H. ROFFE,

—DEALER IN—

Hay and Grain.

LIME, CEMENT AND DRAIN PIPE.

CYPRESS ST., near Centre, N. CENTRE.

Telephone 6222-3121.

THE NEWTON GRAPHIC

PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY

255 WASHINGTON ST., NEWTON,
MASS.

Entered as second class matter.

Subscription for year, $2.00
Single Copies, 5 cents
By mail free of Postage.All money sent at sender's risk. All checks, drafts and money orders should be made payable toEDWARD D. BALDWIN,
Editor and Publisher.

TELEPHONE NO. 338-3.

THE GRAPHIC is printed and mailed Friday
afternoons, and is for sale at all News
Stands in the Newtons, and at the Boston &
Albany News Room, Boston Depot.ALL communications must be accompanied with the name of the writer, and unpublished communications cannot be returned by mail unless stamps are enclosed.

"HASTY ACTION."

The question of widening Washington street is causing considerable excitement, now that the date of the hearing is approaching. Some of those interested are said to be denouncing the highway committee for its "hasty action," in rushing forward the scheme and appointing a hearing with such short notice. As the date of the hearing was set over two months ago, and the agitation for the widening of the street was begun back somewhere in the dark ages, it is difficult to discover what action would be slow enough to satisfy these people.

For four years, at least, the subject has been actively discussed and plans made and reports given, by various city officials, and at one time under Mayor Hibbard it looked as though action would be taken at once. These people who are calling any action upon the question now "hasty" must really have been asleep all those years, not to have heard anything about it, and not to know that the plans for widening the street have been in active preparation the past three months. Perhaps they think any action at all would be hasty, and they want to have the city defer action until more accidents have happened in that narrow street and more lives have been sacrificed because some people believe that any progress at all is "hasty action."

There seem to be certain influences at work to defeat any plans for widening this street as well as for doing away with the grade crossings, and possibly the opposition proceeds from the same source. For years we have been talking about abolishing the grade crossings, as well as widening Washington street, both questions being so intimately connected that both ought to be acted upon at once. But every movement to take any decided step always meets with opposition, and so far the opposition has been successful.

Of course it is not for the interest of the railroad to have the grade crossings abolished, the work would cost an immense sum of money, and as long as action can be postponed by one means or another, the railroad need not spend this money. They could afford to pay a handsome sum every year to have action deferred, but so far we do not believe this has been necessary. There is too much division among Newton people, and there are too many citizens who think some of their private interests must suffer, to allow of any concerted action, and all the railroad has to do is to look on and enjoy the discord which starts up every time any practical plan is broached. It is just the same with Washington street, and there is always certain to be opposition, from some source, and there would be, no matter how long the plans are talked over. The work will cost about twice as much as it would have four years ago, and four years from now, it will cost at least twice as much as it will today. The street is a disgrace to the city at present, it is so crowded that it is unsafe for driving, and the only thing to do is to go ahead and take some definite action, and start the work now, before the work is made more expensive.

A WIDE THOROUGHFARE WANTED.

What is wanted on Washington street is a roadway wide enough to accommodate two lines of street car tracks, and leave space wide enough on either side to accommodate the great number of teams that pass through this thoroughfare. The Newton Street Railway Company, it is said, will petition for double tracks as soon as the street is widened, as the company is now hampered a good deal by having only a single track to accommodate its large amount of traffic. This should be thought of when making out the width of the street, and if it is only made seventy feet, as some propose, would the conditions of things be any better than they are today? And would there not in a few years be another demand for widening the street, and such widenings grow more expensive every year.

It would be a great pity to imitate the shortsighted policy of those who originally laid out Newton's main thoroughfares, and after all the great expense, have a street only wide enough for present needs, without making any allowance for further growth. One hundred feet would not be at all too wide for the main thoroughfare of Newton, and with that width there would be ample provision for the future.

The widening also should not stop at the Bank grounds, but should continue on over the railroad tracks, down Park and Tremont streets to the Boston line. Make a thorough job of it at one time, and the work can be done much cheaper this year than next year.

Newton needs a through electric car line to Boston, and if the plan is carried out the West End would extend their tracks from Oak Square to Nonantum square.

It is better to spend a little more now and make the work a thorough one, and have a street that will answer for all future needs, and such a plan would also save hundreds of thousands of dollars in the future.

The death of Gen. Banks was not unexpected, as he has been failing in mind and body for some time. He had been a very prominent figure in the history of the state and nation, especially during the stirring events in the years that preceded and followed the war, and the affection and esteem felt for him were universal. He belonged to different days than these, when money did not count for so much in public life, and it is to his credit that he left public office as poor as when he entered it. He was a natural orator and much of his success in life was due to his skill as a public speaker, and his ability to sway large audiences to his own view of things. Few men in his own state have had such a brilliant public career, and in his own native city of Waltham he was honored as few men have been in any city.

MEMORIAL HYMN.

DEDICATION OF MONUMENT 32d REGT.
MASS. VOLS. AT GETTYSBURG, SEPT.
8TH, 1894.

The monument on the field of Gettysburg, erected for the 32d Regt. Mass. Vols. will be dedicated tomorrow. A delegation of the Regt. and friends left Park Square station, yesterday at 6 p. m. Gen. Luther Stephenson, formerly Lt. Col. of the regiment will deliver the address. Gen. Stephenson was badly wounded on this field and was present at the bedside of Serg. Maj. Charles Ward, who died at the field hospital.

An original hymn prepared for the occasion by Rev. Dr. S. F. Smith of Newton Centre, will be sung as appended and Rev. Dr. Furber of Newton Centre will act as chaplain.

The hymn:

MEMORIAL HYMN.

[Tune: Italian Hymn.]

The God of battles praise,
Fountain of honor and glory,
With heart and song:
God is our shield and tower,
Our strength in danger's hour,
To Him all might, and power,
And praise belong.

Here, O memorial, stand,
Here, where the patriot band
Battled so well;
Here, where the nation's pride
The rushing storm defied;
Here, where the true and tried,
Unconquered, fell.

Tears for the loved and lost,
Tears for the land which cost
Such sacrifice;
Fond memory, grateful, weeps
Where each dead martyr sleeps,
And love her vigil keeps,
Love never dies.

Sound, glorious trump of fame,
Salute each honored name,
Praise for the brave:
Till what high deeds were done,
West triumphs freedom won,
God was their help alone,
Mighty to save.

S. F. SMITH.

NONANTUM.

—The Aetna mills closed Labor Day while the Nonantum mills worked as usual.

—A testimonial of some kind is to be tendered to ex-Superintendent J. L. Ballantine.

—Prof. Hudson and Albert Fryne of Bridge street have returned from their walking tour through New Hampshire.

—The Sons of Temperance will resume business next week after the summer vacation.

—The Boy's club which starts up in the winter will continue the carpentry classes started by the summer schools.

—Last Saturday the Newton Cricketers won a game from the East Boston club by thirty runs. Labor Day they played two games with the Lynn Wanderers, one a tie game and the other they won by 10 runs with winning two games. Thus it has kept them from being the tailenders and if they win the game at West Cambridge Saturday with the West Indies it will bring them about the fifth.

—For the seventh year the Social Science club has supported an industrial vacation school in this village. The use of the Atheneum building, Dalby street, was kindly loaned as usual by Mr. Henry W. Wellington. The school opened July 9th for a session of nine weeks, with classes in carpentry, printing, cooking, sewing, and a new class was formed for millinery instruction. The carpentry class was taken charge of as usual by a very efficient teacher, Mr. Owens of the Lincoln school, Brookline.

The club supplied three new benches and the teacher quickly secured the interest of his pupils, and gained excellent results. The classes were filled as soon as the doors were opened and many names were placed on the waiting list. The classes in printing were filled at once, and the boys showed much carefulness and diligence, doing excellent, clear work. They printed individual pieces and cards of invitations to the annual exhibition. The cooking instructions were very practical. Each scholar took an active part in the kitchen, which had all the conveniences of an ordinary home, and many wholesome dishes were cooked. The girls were much interested in the lessons and were anxious to put in practice at home what they had learned at the school. The new class in millinery and cutting of garments found their lessons were useful. Shabby old hats were trimmed and made neat and pretty. The lessons in cutting were entered into with zeal and the girls took home after every lesson a pattern from which they could cut out clothes for themselves and they also learned how to measure in order to cut for the little ones at home. The plain sewing in this department has been very satisfactory as the number of garments made will show. The scholars were younger than in former years and toward the end of the morning when they became restless the teacher read to them from an instructive book or entertained them with a little music while they sewed.

Republican
Caucuses.

Pursuant to the call of the Republican State Committee, the Republicans of Newton are requested to meet in caucus on

TUESDAY, SEPT. 18,

1894, at 7.30 P. M.

at their respective Wards as follows:—

Ward 1, Armory Hall.
Ward 2, Room 8, Claflin Bl'k.
Ward 3, City Hall.
Ward 4, Auburn Hall.
Ward 5, Stevens' Hall.
Ward 6, Associates' Hall.
Ward 7, Eliot Lower Hall.

For the purpose of choosing delegates to each of the following Republican Conventions, viz:—State, Congressional, County, and City and Town. The respective Wards are entitled to delegates to each of these Conventions as follows: Ward 1, 3; Ward 2, 4; Ward 3, 4; Ward 4, 3; Ward 5, 4; Ward 6, 4; Ward 7, 4. Also for the purpose of choosing delegates to a representative Convention for the choice of two candidates for the General Court, which convention is hereby called to meet at

CITY HALL,

TUESDAY, OCT. 2, '94,

AT 8 P. M.

By vote of the Republican State Convention of 1893, the representative Wards are entitled to delegates to the Representative Convention as follows: Ward 1, 3; Ward 2, 4; Ward 3, 4; Ward 4, 3; Ward 5, 4; Ward 6, 4; Ward 7, 4. Also for the purpose of choosing in each Ward five members of a Ward Committee to hold office for one year from the first day of January next and until their successors shall have organized. The caucuses are to be held in accordance with chapter 504 of the Acts of 1894 and with the provisions of the Election Act of eighteen hundred and ninety-three, and are to be called to order as follows: in Ward 1, by Edward P. Jones; in Ward 2, by Edward P. Jones; in Ward 3, by Edward P. Jones; in Ward 4, by Edward P. Jones; in Ward 5, by Edward P. Jones; in Ward 6, by Edward P. Jones; in Ward 7, by Edward P. Jones.

By order of the Republican City Committee of Newton.

ROBERT H. GARDINER, Chairman.

CHARLES W. KNAPP, Secretary.

MARRIED.

RYAN-KELLY—At Waltham, Aug. 29, by Rev. T. Broganah, Jeremiah Edward Ryan and Ann Kelly.

DUJARDIN-CLICUX—At Newton, Sept. 1, by I. F. Kingsbury, Alphonse Dujardin and Zoe Clitux.

DOYLE-MAHAR—At Newton, Sept. 2, by Rev. M. Dolan, Nicholas Doyle and Della Mahar.

SULLIVAN-O'DONNELL—At Newton Centre, Sept. 3, by Rev. D. J. Wholey, Christopher James Sullivan and Katie Marie O'Donnell.

KEITH-FORBE—At Auburndale, Sept. 5, by Frederick Scott Keith and Mary Bowers Forbes.

MAHONEY-DONAHUE—At Newton Centre, Aug. 30, by Rev. T. J. Pannaby, Patrick James Mahoney and Katie Ann Donahoe.

FREEMAN-OWE—At Newton, Sept. 5, by Rev. H. J. Patrick, D. D., Nellie M. Freeman, formerly of Newton, and Willard Howe of South Framingham.

WOOD-MACDONALD—At Antigonish, N. S., Sept. 3rd, by Rev. J. Gardner, Elijah A. Wood, of West Newton, Mass., and Elizabeth K. MacDonald of Middleton, Nova Scotia.

HITCHCOCK-BARROWS—In Auburndale, 4th inst., at the Congregational church, by Rev. Calvin Cutler, Charles Henry Hitchcock of Haver, N. H., Professor of Geology in Dartmouth College and son of the late President Hitchcock of Amherst College, to Charlotte Mayriva Barrows, daughter of the late Rev. Elijah P. Barrows, formerly Professor of Hebrew at Andover, Mass., and at Oberlin, Ohio.

DIED.

GOULD—At Newton Upper Falls, Sept. 2, John Allen Gould, 70 yrs. 6 mos. 6 days.

ANDREWS—At Newton, Aug. 31, Justin Andrews, aged 67 years.

DUNLAPEY—At West Newton, Sept. 2, Thomas Dunlapey, aged 82 years.

WRIGHT—At Sanford, Me., Sept. 4, Frederick Arthur Wright, aged 24 years, 1 month, 21 days.

HUESTIS—At Alpena, Michigan, Aug. 31st, Benjamin H. Huestis, eldest son of the late Benjamin and Lydia Huestis, formerly of Newton.

BEIGER—At Newton Highlands, Sept. 4, Mary E., wife of Thomas Beiger. Funeral will take place Friday, Sept. 7, at 9 a. m. from St. Mary's church.

Highest of all in Leavening Power.—Latest U. S. Gov't Report.

Royal Baking Powder
ABSOLUTELY PURE

Real Estate, Mortgages,
Insurance

Special Attention paid to Sale and Leasing of Estates in the above villages.

Representatives of All the Leading Insurance Companies.

J. C. FULLER, Newtonville. J. FRENCH & SON, 226 Washington St., Boston.

T. P. DeWolf

Fine Candies.

407 Centre Street, Newton, Mass.

Dr. CHAPIN'S

Malaria and Ague Cure

Is a sure cure and preventive of Malaria and all kindred diseases. Builds you up, makes you strong. Used many years in the malarial districts of Michigan. Regular price, $1.00; trial order, two bottles, $1.50.

THE CHAPIN MEDICINE CO.,
Auburndale, Mass.

Fish and Provisions.

Newton
City Market

Fresh and Salt

Meats.

Poultry and Game.

Butter, Cheese, Eggs,

Canned Goods,

Fruit, Vegetables.

Fish

and Oysters.

Wellington Howes, Proprietor

BUNTING'S FISH MARKET

Cole's Block, Newton.

Established 1877. Tel. Connections.

FISH, OYSTERS,

Fruit and Vegetables of All Kinds.

GAS

CAN BE USED FOR COOKING IN OUR RANGES AS CHEAP AS COAL.

W. A. FOLSON & CO.,
17 Union St., Boston.

WARD & CO.,
Carriage Painting and Repairing

IN ALL ITS BRANCHES.

Best Work at Lowest Prices.

Repairing of Fine Carriages a Specialty

Cor. Elm and Washington Sts., Near City Hall

WEST NEWTON

Why . .

go

---HUNGRY---

when you can get a

BARREL OF FLOUR

for making the Highest

Score

—ON THE—

ALLSTON

BOWLING : ALLEYS

During Sept.

Prize . . .

for Candle Pins: A Pair Bowling Shoes.

HOWARD R. MASON,
Optician.

Spectacles and Eye-Glasses Repaired.

Opticist's Prescriptions Filled.

390 CENTRE ST., NEWTON.

—WITH—

THEO. L. MASON, Jeweler.

Newton.

Newtonville.

West Newton.

Auburndale.

BUSINESS NOTICES

RATES—50 cents first insertion for not exceeding 5 lines, and 25 cents each time thereafter, in advance.

WANTED.

WANTED—A position as house keeper in a small family, by an American woman.
Address F. M. S., Graphic Office, 40 tf

TO LET—House of 10 rooms, all modern improvements, with fine garden, 50 Jefferson street, Newton, $400 a year. Apply to H. E.
Hibbard. 40 tf

BOARD, WEST NEWTON—Two rooms, separate or en suite, on first floor. Single room on second floor. Furnished or unfurnished.
Strictly first-class private boarding house, centrally located on line electric railroad. Address
P. O. Box 202, West Newton. 48 2t

LADY, educated in Paris, Germany and London (diplomas) desirous position as morning governess to teach French, German, Italian, drawing, music and English branches. Address,
"Europe," Brighton P. O. 45 tf

For Sale.

FOR SALE—At a bargain, a new Hickory bicycle of the latest pattern. Apply at the Graphic Office. 34tf

FOR SALE—In Newton Centre, 5 houses, and 4 in Newton Highlands. Walter Thorpe,
Newton Centre. 27tf

To Let.

TO LET—Small house No. 21 Bennington St.,
Newton, at low rent. Apply to Bruce R.
Ware, 200 A Devonshire St., Boston. 45 tf

TO LET—Two tenements of 4 rooms each; numbers 20 and 26 Williams street; rent of each, $10 per month. Apply at 20 Williams street. 49 1t

TO LET—In Newtonville, three sunny rooms, together or single, with board; four minutes from R. R. station, electric cars and P. O.
Pleasant grounds. Address Box 406, Newton-ville. 49 2t

TO LET—Rooms in Newtonville, several pleasant rooms, near square, south side, furnished or unfurnished, single or together;
just the thing for lady teachers who wish to reduce expenses by light house-keeping. Address
Box 281, Newtonville, or call at 4 Clafin place. 1t

TO BE LET AT NEWTONVILLE—House 10 rooms, modern improvements, five minutes from station. Rent very low, $360. Apply to James F. Hyde & Son, 31 Milk St., Boston. 1t

TO LET—Small store on Pelham St., Newton Centre, just vacated by fruit dealer; rent
low. Enquire at W. A. PARK'S SHOE STORE. 1t

TO LET ON LEASE—House No. 183 Nonantum street. Contains 7 pleasant rooms, good hallway, modern conveniences. Call on or address Mrs. B. Merritt, North Seaboard Beach. 45 tf

TO LET—Furnished or unfurnished room.
Apply at 379 Washington Street, Newton. 45 tf

TO LET—Two houses with stables, and five
L. houses without stables to rent in Newton
Centre. W. Thorpe, Newton Centre. 45

TO LET—June 1st, a tenement of seven rooms
on Washington street, Newton. Apply to
H. C. Daniels. 31 tf

Miscellaneous.

ASSOCIATED CHARITIES.—The office hours
of the Secretary of the Associated Charities are from 9 to 10 every week day, and from 7.30 to 8.30 Saturday evenings. The Provident Committee will be at the office to distribute clothing
Tuesday forenoon and Saturday evening. M.
R. Martin, Secretary; Office, Newtonville Square

YOUR WALKS

Should be laid with

Granitic Stone.

Best materials and skilled labor.

Asphalt Floors.

Best of references.

W. A. MURTFELDT,

192 DEVONSHIRE ST., BOSTON.

GARDEN
CITY
BAND.

The Garden City Brass Band is open to engagements for parades, banquets, socials, concerts, picnics, lawn parties and all occasions where an excellent band and a full complement of musicians is needed. All communications for engagements may be made to Joseph T. Hall,
Newton Upper Falls, or P. H. Callahan, Newton
Lower Falls. 38 6m

CLEARING OUT SALE!

Horse Blankets and Whips at Half Price.

Near the Boston Depot.

R. KETZ HARDWARE STORE,

99 KNEELAND STREET, BOSTON.

WALL STREET OPERATIONS

can be successfully carried on by

following our

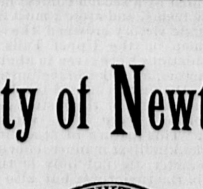

Daily Market Letter and Pamphlet on Speculation.

Mailed free on application. Highest references.

WEINMAN & CO.,

41 Broadway, N. Y. 7, 9 State St., Boston.

City of Newton.

Proposals for addition to Engine House, No. 2, Washington Street, West Newton, will be received at the office of the Superintendent of Public Buildings, City Hall, until Monday, September 10th, where plans and specifications may be seen. The committee reserve the right to reject all or any of the bids.

GEO. H. ELDER,
Supt. of Public Buildings.

MISS FRAZIER,
FIRST CLASS DRESSMAKER.

House formerly occupied by Mrs. Doane.

DAVIS STREET, WEST NEWTON.

P. O. Box 412.

J. H. LOOKER,
French Cleansing and Dyeing

Dry Cleansing and Repairing a Specialty.

Particular attention paid to

Blankets, Lace Curtains, Fine

Linens and Hand Laundry

Work of all kinds.

NEWTONVILLE.

—Miller pianos, Farley, Newton.

—Miss Mildred Thompson has returned from her vacation.

—Miss Lillian B. Keith is visiting relatives in Le Roy, N. Y.

—Mr. Thomas G. Estes and family of Watertown street returned this week.

—Miss Small has returned from her stay at Provincetown.

—The schools re-open Monday and indications point to a large attendance.

—Mr. Joseph Knight and family have returned from the Adirondacks.

—Mr. Frank Amidon has returned from Maine.

—Mrs. A. F. Brown of Clyde street has returned from the seashore.

—Mr. W. F. Kimball and family have returned from Nantucket.

—Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Downey and family have returned from East Washington, N. H.

—Mrs. G. L. Woodworth and family have returned from Maine.

—Mr. C. M. Slocum and family have returned from Falmouth Heights.

—Mr. W. T. Vose and family have returned from New Hampshire.

—Mr. and Mrs. Schofield are receiving congratulations over the advent of a son.

—Mr. and Mrs. E. S. George have returned from North Woodstock, N. H.

—Mrs. G. F. Churchill and daughter have returned from Woodstock, Vt.

—Mr. W. Hollings and family have returned from Sunapee, N. H.

—Mrs. J. K. Taylor and children have gone West on a three week's visit.

—Miss Calley will re-open her kindergarten Sept. 17.

—Principal E. J. Goodwin of the High school and family have returned from Pine Point, Me.

—Mrs. Bass and her sister, Central avenue, left here Tuesday on a four weeks sojourn at the Thousand Islands.

—An alarm was rung in from box 24 yesterday afternoon for a slight fire in a barn here.

—Mr. and Mrs. E. Sands leave here tomorrow (Sat.) for the White Mountains. They will stop at Fabyan's.

—Mr. Benjamin Greenlaw and family, recently of Highland avenue, have removed to Westboro.

—Rev. John Worcester and Miss Margaret Worcester are at North Conway for a few week's stay.

—Mrs. E. H. Pierce and her daughter, Blanche, have returned from Kennebunk, Me.

—Mr. B. N. Hyde, superintendent of water works, is confined to the house by illness.

—Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Hackett and Master Leon Hackett have returned from Centre Bar, N. H.

—Mrs. Emerson and family of Newtonville avenue have returned from New Hampshire.

—Mr. Henry F. Ross is building an extensive addition to his residence on Walnut street.

—Mr. E. A. Richardson was among excursionists who took in the attractions of Bar Harbor this week.

—The Rev. James Reed of Boston will preach in the New Jerusalem church Highland avenue next Sunday.

—The Misses Florence Johnson and Florence Sylvester enjoyed a picnic at the Waban Wednesday evening with a party of twenty ladies and gentlemen.

—There are letters at the postoffice for Mrs. George W. Albany, Miss Kate Kenney, Charles Livingstone and Miss Amelia E. Murray.

—Mr. and Mrs. A. Fred Brown and children returned this week from the seashore. Mrs. Brown receives on Tuesdays after the 15th.

—Mr. T. J. Hartshorne of Cabot street and family have returned from No. Falmouth after a month's outing. Master Charlie made the trip on his wheel.

—Mrs. Alexander Griswold and her son, Chester, "the boy orator," have returned from Wolboro, N. H. Chester is soon to appear in recitations at the Woodland Park Hotel.

—The approaching winter season of events at the Newton Club promises to surpass all previous records and the beautiful clubhouse, as usual, will be the mecca of attraction for the smart set.

—Mr. W. E. A. Wilkie and Sumner Paine were arrested for playing golf at Weston, Sunday, and fined $100 and costs each in the Waltham court, yesterday. They will appeal to the Superior Court.

—At the Senter House, Center Harbor, last week, Leon Hackett of Auburndale took the first prize in a progressive euchre party, a fine water color view of the lake. The number of points he won being far ahead of those of any lady or gentleman playing.

—The Newtonville Cycle Club announces the following runs: Sunday, Sept. 9, 10 a. m., Wellesley and South Natick; Friday, 7.30 p. m., moonlight run; Sunday, Sept. 16, 10 a. m., Weymouth; Sunday, Sept. 23, 10 a. m., Dedham, Greenidge road; Sunday, Sept. 30, West Acton.

—The Crescent Band of Waltham will give an open air concert of sacred music at Morton Park on Sunday afternoon, Sept. 9th, (weather permitting), commencing at 3.30 o'clock. Morton Park is located on the easterly shore of Bulfinch's pond within a few hundred feet of the central boulevard and in a beautiful grove of pines. This park is one of the most charming spots in the city and a concert there by the popular Crescent Band is sure to draw an immense crowd.

—The Newton Land Company proposes to soon begin the development of its property in Newtonville and West Newton, near the new boulevard. Two or three houses will probably be erected by it on Walnut street, on the slope of the hill above the pond, and as many more on Valentine park, on the West Newton hill. J. S. Brown is the architect of the former and Eugene L. Clark of the latter. All the houses will be large structures containing 12 to 14 rooms each, and with lots of 20,000 to 30,000 square feet each are expected to sell for $15,000 or $16,000 apiece.

—George Holmes of Prospect street, West Newton, dropped his cane while riding past Lowell street on an electric car at 11.40 o'clock, Sunday evening, and in attempting to recover it, fell off. He sustained an ugly wound in the back of his head and was rendered unconscious from the effects of the blow. Patrolman Soule and the car hands went to his assistance and in a few moments he recovered and appeared to be in a condition to enable him to go home unassisted. He was made as comfortable as possible on the car and was soon en-route for West Newton. At that place, the conductor assisted him in getting off and he started along apparently all right. At 1.30 o'clock in the morning he was discovered by Patrolman Soule near the corner of Walnut and Washington streets, this place. The officer questioned him and found that the man was decidedly dazed. He remembered nothing about the accident and stated that he was going home in reply to the officer's interrogations. All the circumstances of the affair were a perfect blank to him and he could not seem to realize that he had been

4 LINES OF WEAR CUT.

Outing Shirts reduced from $1.50 to .50
Ladies' Waists " " 2.75 to 1.00
Ladies' Waists " " 3.00 to 1.50
Men's Neck Wear " " .50 to .25

RAY 509 Wash. St., cor. West.
641 Bcyflet.
BOSTON.

hurt, until he placed his hand on his head and then removed it smeared with blood. Patrolman Soule summoned the police ambulance and he was taken to his home in that conveyance. His injuries were not of a very serious character and he was getting along nicely at last accounts.

WEST NEWTON

—Pianos, rented and tuned, Farley Newton

—Mr. James Trefrey and children spent a few days at Malden.

—Officer J. J. Davis and family are spending a few weeks in Bangor, Me.

—Mr. C. I. Travelli and wife are at home from a summer's rest.

—Mr. J. W. Carter and family returned this week from their summer sojourn.

—Among the returns this week were Mr. P. S. Howe and family of Berkeley street.

—Mr. R. G. Elkins and family are home from a summer's outing.

—Mrs. Curtis of New York is visiting her son, Dr. Curtis of Elm street.

—Mr. Joshua Blake is home from a trip across the waters.

—Dr. Fred L. Thayer and wife have returned from New Hampshire.

—Miss M. A. Mague is home from a visit in New York.

—Mr. Puffer and family of Forest street are among the returning vacationists.

—Mr. G. P. Staples and family have returned from Maine.

—Mrs. I. G. Gates is home from the White Mountains.

—Mrs. H. H. Hunt and family have returned from Brunswick, Me.

—Mr. S. Warren Davis and family have spent the summer at Rowe, Mass.

—Mr. Charles Hawkes of Mills spent a few days here this week.

—Mr. John Lovett is at Portland, Me., for a few weeks.

—Miss Mabel Wilbur of Waltham street has returned from her summer's sojourn.

—Mr. George P. Whitmore and family have enjoyed their summer at Bath, Me.

—Miss Ella M. Gates has returned from Sherbourne, N. H.

—Mr. Vose and family are among the returning parties from the shore.

—Mr. D. F. Healy spent a few days at Bath, Me.

—Mrs. A. K. Mallon of Oak avenue is spending a few weeks at Dennis, Mass.

—Mrs. Wells and sons of Webster Park have passed several weeks at New Boston, N. H.

—Messrs. John and William Heald took a bicycle ride to Lowell Sunday, returning Tuesday.

—Mr. Henry K. Burrison and family of Lincoln Park have returned from Yarmouth, N. S.

—Mr. Theodore Nickerson and family of Temple street are at home after an enjoyable period spent at Jefferson, N. H.

—Miss Josie West and Master West have spent their vacation at New Boston, N. H.

—Mr. F. A. W. Jose of Brighton drove Mr. F. M. Dutch's trotter at the York County Fair held in Saco, Maine, last week.

—Mr. Samuel Rathke of Washington street has returned from a trip to Nova Scotia.

—Mrs. Lizzie "Whalen and Master Harry King are at Charlestown, Prince Edwards Island.

—Mr. E. S. Merchant and family have returned from their summer home at East Derry, N. H.

—Mr. George A. Frost and family have returned from their summer residence at Osterville.

—Mr. S. F. Cate and family are expected home today from their cottage at Green Harbor.

—Mr. Fred Ross of Seaport, Maine, has accepted a position in the employ of Mr. F. M. Dutch.

—Miss Minnie Lovett of Parsons street is spending a week with friends in Worcester.

—Miss Hattie Mallon of Oak avenue has returned from two weeks visit at Sagamore, Mass.

—Miss Elizabeth Tate has resumed her duties as teacher in the school at Milbury.

—Miss Flora I. Pettigrew of Auburn street has returned from North Sandwich, N. H.

—The Comerford Stock Company gave a representation of East Lynne at Danvers recently. Mr. J. McCarthy of this place taking the character of Richard Hare.

—Mr. Patrick Hammer is home from Old Orchard and has resumed his duties as night gateman at the Chestnut street crossing.

—Mr. C. F. Eddy and wife are at home for a few days. Monday they intend to start on a return drive of ninety-five miles to their summer residence at Kennebunkport, Maine.

—The firemen of this place were ably represented at the State Firemen's Convention held at Gloucester, this week, by Capt. F. H. Humphrey and assistant foreman H. W. Micholl.

—Edward F. Barnes sold at mortgagee's sale on Wednesday, one of the houses on Prospect street, built by Mr. Ridgway, to Mr. H. A. Barker, for $4,250. The house was owned by Kenneth W. and Edison Lewis of Dover, N. H.

—There will be a vesper service in the Baptist church Sunday evening at 7 o'clock. Several selections will be rendered by a quartet, consisting of Miss Jennette Russell of Chicago, Mrs. Charles Fisher, W. T. Rice and W. H. Rand, also solos by the members of the quartet. Several years ago Miss Russell sang in the quartet choir of the Baptist church and has improved wonderfully. All who remember her will be delighted to hear her again.

—Mr. L. F. Warren and family have passed the vacation at their summer home in Sandwich, N. H.

—Patrolman and Mrs. J. J. Davis are at Bangor, Me., for a week's stay.

—Mr. John Lockett and family are among the returning party from Maine this week.

—There are letters at the post office for Miss Della Burke, H. E. Barney, Mrs. Walter V. Burdett, Rev. V. A. Cooper, M. Codey, Wm. C. Dacey, Miss Lena Emerson, Jennie Gardner, A. D. Henderson, F. B. Henderson, Mrs. Bridget Killey, Fred K Lane, Maggie Leahan, Patrick Linnehan, Miss May McDonogh, J. S. Murphy, Mrs. M. G. Parsons, Miss Annie M. Peterson, Miss Powers, R. Zigler.

—Mr. Elijah A. Wood, wellknown in horticultural circles, son of Mr. E. W. Wood of the state board of agriculture, and Miss Elizabeth K. MacDonagh of Middlebury, N. S., were married at Antigonish, N. S., on Monday, by Rev. J. Gardner. Mr. Wood and his bride returned to Newton, Wednesday, and after an early last evening for their new home at Denver, Col., where Mr. Wood proposes to establish himself in business. Before leaving, Mr. and Mrs. Wood received many costly and handsome tokens of friendship from a host of friends. Among the presents were several fine pieces and sets of costly silverware from the Massachusetts Horticultural Society, gold watch and chain from Philadelphia from the American Society of Florists, from the Odd Fellows of Newton, where Mr. Wood was a P. G. M., and many other beautiful gifts from florist friends.

—The Church of the Messiah was the scene of a very pretty wedding, Wednesday evening, when Mary B. Forbes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Forbes of Waltham street, was married to Dr. Frederick Scott Keith of Waltham, Rev. John Matteson officiating. The decorations were mostly golden rod and yellow flowers, and the same choir was carried out in the dresses of the bridesmaids. The bride wore white satin, with train, and a long veil, and carried white roses. The bridesmaids wore golden rod and yellow flowers. Newtonville wore a gown of yellow chiffon and carried yellow roses. The bridesmaids were Misses Clara Bowers and Elizabeth Bates of Newtonville, Lizzy Johnson of Conway, Mass., and Gertrude Blaisdell of Auburndale. They were attired in white muslin with yellow satin sashes and collars. The best man was W. F. Keith of Waltham, who Messrs. Bentley Fowler of Auburndale, C. E. Whitcomb, Jr., Dr. S. H. Littlefield of Boston, Paul Worcester of Waltham served as ushers. Dr. and Mrs. Keith will reside at Hotel Wallingford, Auburndale, and will be at home after Nov. 1st.

—The funeral of Mr. Nathaniel T. Lane took place from the residence of his mother in Auburndale Sunday afternoon. There was a large attendance at the services, friends of the deceased coming from Boston, the Newtons and from distant places to pay fitting tribute to one who had endeared himself to all who had the pleasure and privilege of his acquaintance and who treasured his kindly, cheery greeting. Rev. John Matteson, pastor of the Church of the Messiah officiated, assisted by Rev. Mr. Barrows. Beautiful floral tributes surrounded the draped black broadcloth casket in which the remains were entombed. A large box of roses, provided by Jacob Dreyfus & Son sent a large basket made up of white roses, carnations and ferns. The firm sent a beautiful wreath. Mr. Charles Weil, a former member of the firm, sent a large box of roses, provided by the family comprised a pillow inscribed "husband," a wreath with the words "papa," worked in immortelles and a floral crown from the mother of deceased, Mrs. Amanda T. Lane. Besides these, there were many designs and a large collection of cut flowers from relatives, neighbors and friends. A quartet rendered appropriate selections bringing the simple yet impressive ceremonies. Among the members present at the services were the members of the firm of Jacob Dreyfus & Co. and a large delegation of the employees of that house. The interment was in the Newton cemetery. The pall bearers were Messrs. John Strong, Jacob Symonds, E. R. Pope and H. B. Mason, associates of deceased connected with the house of Jacob Dreyfus & Co. Mr. Lane was a member of the American Commercial Travellers' Association and also of the Commercial Travellers' Home Association of New York.

AUBURNDALE.

—Ivers & Pond pianos, Farley Newton

—Thorn's Toothache Gum, cures 15c.

—Mr. C. W. King of Lexington street is able to be out.

—Mr. W. F. Hadlock has been confined to the house this week with malaria.

—Mr. Arthur Reed has received a position in Illinois.

—Mr. E. L. Mowry left town yesterday for El Paso, Texas, where he goes for the benefit of his health.

—There is an unnecessary quantity of waste paper and other refuse in the streets near the business places notwithstanding the presence of a waste barrel provided by the city. A little thought on the part of citizens and more pride in the appearance of the streets about the stores will improve things. Another matter in this connection is the neglect in keeping the gutters clean and stones out of the street in the village centre, work which properly comes within the province of the section man in this district. The square

China Dinner Sets.

The display in our Dinner Set Department was never larger, more valuable and comprehensive than now, including the best shapes and decorations in English, French, Austrian, Chinese and American wares. More than 40 Stone Decorated patterns to choose from which can be readily matched for years to come—advantage appreciated by experienced housekeepers.

All grades, from the low cost to the most expensive decorations.

Services decorated to order with Monograms, Etc., for Yachts, Families and Clubs.

The LAMP DEPARTMENT, ART POTTERY ROOMS, and GLASSWARE DEPARTMENT have many Novelties and at newly marked-down values.

Jones, McDuffee & Stratton,
CHINA, GLASS AND LAMPS,
120 FRANKLIN ST.

In front of Pluta's market and near Washburn's block is lamentably untidy, stones as large as one's fist lying in the street. The section men were appointed to keep such places in presentable shape and with such a small business centre as this village has there seems no excuse for such an appearance.

—Mr. Van Alstine of Grove street is contemplating a trip through Maine.

—New sidewalks are being built on Freeman street.

—Miss E. B. Tyler is visiting friends in Cambridge.

—Will J. Barton please send his or her address to the Graphic office.

—Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Miner have returned from Wilmington, N. H.

—Miss Julia H. Strong has been visiting her sister, Mrs. J. H. Worcester, at her home in Burlington, Vt.

—Lassell Seminary opens the fall session on the 20th of September. Most of the students will be here by the 18th.

—Dr. F. E. Porter of Auburn street has been having some extensive improvements made in the interior of his residence.

—Mrs. Olive Harpin and her mother, Mrs. Bourne, Melrose street, have returned from a visit to Mrs. John Brewster at Winsor, Vt.

—Mr. William H. Knowlton has been spending the summer at his cottage at Kennebunk, near Nantasket, but is returning to his home on Hancock street.

—Rev. T. W. Bishop returns from his vacation this week, having had a fine outing and will preach next Sunday morning at the Methodist church.

—Mrs. L. F. Clifford of Riverside is suffering from a severe attack of illness. Mr. Clifford is just recovering from a malarial illness.

—There are advertised letters at the post office for George Dobson, Isaac F. Foster, Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Forbes, Patt Hughes, P. C. Kirk, Herman Babson, Mary Killen, R. T. Stevens, Mrs. Julia H. Tarbox, Mrs. F. A. Williams.

—Is there any just reason why the residents of Woodbine street should be refused concrete sidewalks? They are Newton citizens and are entitled to equal privileges as such. The condition of the present sidewalks on certain days is deplorable. And Auburndale has three representatives in the city council.

—Mrs. H. H. Dyer has removed from the cottage on Hancock street owned by Mrs. Lewis Norton and has taken the house at the corner of Maple and Central street.

—Mrs. A. P. Norton is now occupying the cottage on Hancock street, having rented it, nearly a year, by Prof. Norton to Mr. Charles H. Sprague.

—Fred P. Barnes, quarter master 5th Regt., M. V. M., had a narrow escape from injury at the funeral of Gen. Banks, Tuesday. A horse ridden by one of his staff became frightened, and threw his rider, nearly unhorsing Quartermaster Barnes in the excitement.

—Mr. and Mrs. Harry H. Newell of Vista avenue were injured in a runaway accident Wednesday afternoon. They were driving over the Auburn street bridge when the horse became frightened at the bridge and backed, running over a wheel. He then started on a run toward Eddy's coal yard throwing Mr. and Mrs. Newell out near Mr. Pluta's stable. Mrs. Newell was badly bruised and shaken up and Mr. Newell's shoulder and arm were injured.

—The first of the September series of Promenade Concerts at the Newton Boat Club was given at the Clubhouse, Riverside, last Saturday evening, and was successful, although not largely attended.

—The club in connection with the lively boat houses of Robertson and Gray & Frost, are arranging to have an illumination on the night of the 15th, and hope that every one going on the river will display a colored lantern, so as to add to the general effect. If stormy, the illumination will be held on the Saturday evening following.

—The Rev. F. E. Clark, president of the United Society of Christian Endeavor, sails on Saturday next on the North German Lloyd steamer Seale for Bremen. Dr. Clark's health, which was somewhat broken, is much improved already, and a few weeks more of rest will doubtless complete the cure. Before returning he expects to do something towards introducing the Society of Christian Endeavor into Germany, Denmark and Scandinavia, which are almost the only countries which have not as yet adopted the Christian Endeavor movement.

—Prof. Charles H. Hitchcock and Miss Charlotte M. Brown, married in the Congregational church at noon Tuesday, by Rev. Calvin Cutler, pastor of the church. The guests comprised only the near friends of the contracting parties. There were no bridesmaids. Prof. Hitchcock is senior geologist of Dartmouth College, and was for a number of years state geologist for New Hampshire. The bride is a daughter of Prof. Barrows of Oberlin Theological Seminary and late of Andover Academy.

The bride was attired in a gown of gray material, with cream satin bodice, adorned with white lace. She wore a bonnet of French jet, decorated with violets. The bride was followed by Col. William Barrows of Philadelphia, and Mr. Frank Barrows was best man. A reception followed at the residence of Mrs. Edward Dummer, a sister of the bride.

A Card.

I wish to thank my many friends for their kindness, sympathy and help, through the long months of my illness. That Heaven's richest blessings may rest upon you all, is the sincere desire of

ISABEL CAMPBELL.

Card of Thanks.

The undersigned desires to express her sincere appreciation of the consideration and kindness shown to her in her recent bereavement. To those who made her burden of grief in a measure less painful in the sad hours of her great loss, she desires to express her heartfelt gratitude.

MRS. NATHANIEL T. LANE.
West Newton, Sept. 6, '94.

FOUND

HUDSON'S PHARMACY.

...A CURE FOR...
Coughs and Colds.

OVER 200 BOTTLES OF

PECTORAL SYRUP

have been sold during the past month. It has a

Home Reputation

due entirely to its

—MERITS—

PREPARED ONLY BY

Arthur Hudson,

Pharmacist and Chemist.

Upholsterers.

H. W. CALDER,

UPHOLSTERER.

Cabinet Maker and House Furnisher.

ARTISTIC PICTURE FRAMING.

A complete stock always on hand.

MINER ROBINSON ELECTRICAL ENGINEER.

12 Pearl St., Room 27, Boston. Order Office, 421 Centre St., Newton

The fitting of private residences for the Electric Light a specialty.

Boston, 3311. TELEPHONES—W. Newton, *234.
NEWTON *255-2.

HARDWARE

A New Hardware Store will be opened on or about September first, at

NEWTONVILLE

In the NEW Associates' Block, under the management of A. M. Gardiner of the A. M. Gardner Hardware Co., of Boston, by

E. C. Gardiner & Co.

It will be our aim to keep a first-class and full stock of Hardware, Cutlery, Sporting Goods, Paints, Oil, Paper Hangings, and House Decorating.

Having secured the services of a first class man to assist me, I wish to state to the public that I am now prepared to fill all orders for

Announcement

CUSTOM BOOTS AND SHOES

JAMES B. BEECHER,

Cherry Street, West Newton.

ESTABLISHED 1869.

SIMPSON BROTHERS,

CONTRACTORS FOR

Concrete Walks and Driveways

Asphalt Floors, and Artificial Stone walks.

We have been awarded the Sidewalk Contract for the City of Newton for 1894, and are ready to receive orders or give estimates for work in private grounds.

P. O. Address, Newton, or Boston Office, Room 58,
Telephone 1155 Boston. 166 Devonshire St.

REFERS TO 20 YEARS WORK IN NEWTON.

VIOLIN INSTRUCTION.

Fall Term Begins October 1st.

L. EDWIN CHASE,

43 Carleton St., Newton, Mass.

MISS ALICE D. CUTLER,

(Pupil of Carl Baermann.)

PIANO FORTE AND HARMONY.

Grove Street, Auburndale.

LOUIS C. STANTON,

(Pupil of W. H. Sherwood.)

Lessons in the Art of Playing the Piano.

Harmony and Musical Analysis taught in Classes.

26 Bacon Street, Newton.

MISS ELLA MAE HOLT,

Teacher of Piano,

CHESLEY PL., - NEWTONVILLE.

MISS ROSE CUNNINGHAM,

TEACHER OF

PIANOFORTE PLAYING and HARMONY.

Address 10 Beach Street, Newtonville.

FOUND

HUDSON'S PHARMACY.

...A CURE FOR...
Coughs and Colds.

OVER 200 BOTTLES OF

PECTORAL SYRUP

have been sold during the past month. It has a

Home Reputation

due entirely to its

—MERITS—

PREPARED ONLY BY

Arthur Hudson,

Pharmacist and Chemist.

Upholsterers.

H. W. CALDER,

UPHOLSTERER.

Cabinet Maker and House Furnisher.

ARTISTIC PICTURE FRAMING.

A complete stock always on hand.

NEWTONVILLE, MASS.

216 WASHINGTON STREET, - NEWTON.

There was once

A man

Who always tried

To save money

By buying cheap

goods;

He died in

The Poorhouse.

The Best is

The Cheapest.

We Keep that Kind

Central

Dry Goods

Co.,

Largest establishment between Boston

& Worcester.

107 to 115

Moody St.

Waltham.

GOOD NIGHT.

Pale in the amber flooded west
A horned moon dips low,
And soft through silver silences
The rose winds faintly blow.
Yet still a horned moon shall lend
A lance of lingering light
To cross the wind, to cross the dusk
And give my love good night.

The long lake rippling through its reeds
Hath lilies all afloat,
At fall of dew each sleepy flower
Folds up her leaves of snow.
Yet one fair lily bud shall wake
To smile all virgin white
Across the dark, across the dew
And give my love good night.

The light may fail, the lily fade,
The lightning's lurid glow
Flame in the sky, the rose winds rise
To storms that rudely blow.
Yet constant still as rose to June,
This heart shall take delight
Across the dark, across the world
To give my love good night.

—Martha McCulloch Williams in Godery's.

A DROP OF BLOOD.

In the summer of 1888 I was employed to look after some legal business at Boone Courthouse, W. Va. Leaving the railroad at Brownstown and taking directions and a horse from my landlord at that point, I set out through the mountains early in the afternoon, expecting to reach Racine in time for supper.

As the afternoon waned, however, I noticed that the road became constantly rougher and apparently more unfrequented until it was little more than a deserted pathway that crossed and recrossed the gravelly bed of a dry creek in a mad effort to remain in the narrow valley that wound circuitously among the mountains, whose black timbered summits seemed to stretch higher and higher above me in the gathering twilight. It being a cloudy day, I was completely mystified as to the points of the compass, and it now became evident to me that I had in some manner missed my way. I had already gone too far to retrace my steps before nightfall, so that unless I speedily found shelter I would be obliged to pass the night in the open air.

Being in no wise pleased with this prospect, I concluded to press on a little farther before abandoning the quest and had barely formed this resolution when a bend in the pathway brought me into full view of what appeared to be a large, square, southern mansion, surrounded by trees and situated a little way up the slope of a remarkably lofty mountain that rose precipitously behind it.

A nearer approach revealed an outward appearance of overgrowth and dilapidation. The fence had fallen down in several places. The open gate was barely supported by its rusty hinges. The yard was a mass of weeds. The condition of the house I could not determine in the dim light made dimmer by the heavy shadows of the trees. Between the tall weeds and briars there was a wide stone walk leading from the gate to the front door.

The prospect was not an inviting one, but as my situation had become somewhat desperate I determined if possible to obtain accommodations for the night.

My repeated knocks elicited no response beyond a hollow echo, and concluding the place to be deserted I tried the door. Somewhat to my surprise, it yielded, the rusty hinges creaking terribly as I pushed it wide open. As I entered I was greeted by that musty, lifeless odor common to places long closed and uninhabited. I had matches with me, and striking one I looked about me. I was in a wide hall. Before me a dark staircase, partially whitened with dust, led to rooms above. To the left and right were closed doors, and attached to the white casement of the latter was a little bracket candelabra containing a cluster of six half consumed wax candles. Lighting two of these, I took one of them from the holder, and opening the door at my right entered.

The room in which I found myself was apparently the parlor of the deserted mansion. The dust covered haircloth furniture, which had evidently been for many years undisturbed, was of a style massive and once much in vogue. A number of paintings and engravings were upon the walls in tarnished gilt frames. A large chandelier suspended in the center of the room was of elaborate workmanship. The floor was covered with a heavy matting, the exact nature of which I could hardly determine, owing to the thick covering of dust. Passing on to the adjoining room, I was not disappointed in finding it to be a large bedroom with all the appointments peculiar to an old time southern home of wealth. I approached the tall canopy bed in the opposite corner and drew back the curtains. It was ready for the guests for which it had so long waited. The bedding was yellow with age, but the canopy had protected it from the dust. It had not been occupied for years.

I confess I was possessed with a sense of awe amid these surroundings, but not being of a timid nature I determined to pass the night beneath this roof in preference to enduring the heavy fog that always gathers at night in these mountains. Leaving my candle lighted, I returned to my horse and arranged his bridle rein so that he could eat the grass for a considerable space about him. Then, removing the saddle, I returned with it to my strange quarters.

Frying open one of the creaking windows and his heavy shutters to let fresh air into the musty apartment, I fastened back the draperies of the tall bed and threw back the long unused bedding, the odor of which reminded me of cerements. To relieve this somewhat I covered the pillow with my coat, and removing only my outer garments I lay down, for I was greatly fatigued with riding, an exercise to which I was totally unaccustomed.

My candle I had, with a few drops of melted wax, affixed to a small table near the center of the room, and having no desire to remain in darkness in this lonely place I left it burning.

As I lay there, wondering at my strange surroundings and not altogether free from a sense of fear at the silence and shadows of the deserted place, I now noticed for the first time that beyond my candle and a little to the left there hung against the partition wall separating the two rooms a full length portrait of a lady. The picture was an oil painting and the execution admirable. It was fully life size, and the frame that inclosed it wide and elaborate, although now tarnished and dusty.

But it was the figure itself that most attracted me. The face was that of a woman not beyond 20 years of age and beautiful in the extreme. Her hair was a wealth of glistening gold, her dress that of a bride. The picture appeared to have suffered but little from age, and the light as it fell upon it made the view from my position remarkably good. As I lay there in silent contemplation of this beautiful portrait I forgot any incipient fears that had hovered about me and fell to speculating upon the history of this deserted house and the story of that fair bride.

I was too tired to muse long. My eyelids grew heavier, and I caught myself mingling fact and fancy without being able to distinguish them. Then I fell asleep.

I do not know what time it was when I awoke, but it must have been very late, for I noticed that the candle had burned low and was flaring wildly as from a draft. At that moment a fear came upon me such as I had never known. An icy chill seemed creeping over my body, beginning at my feet and extending rapidly upward. I was trembling as with an ague.

A slight rustling sound from the next room attracted me, and turning my eyes involuntarily in that direction I almost expired from fear, for into the chamber, her head bowed and wringing her hands in evident distress of mind, there entered the lady of the portrait. The counterpart was exact—the dress, the pattern of the lace, even the rings upon her slender white fingers. That it was a spirit I never for a moment doubted.

Slowly she approached the bedside without noticing me at first and seated herself in a heavy armchair a few feet away, still moaning and wringing her beautiful hands. Raising her eyes at last, she seemed to become conscious of my presence and spoke.

"Oh, pray for me," she moaned, "pray for my soul. Oh, pray for me."

I know not what power possessed me at that moment, but suddenly, in spite of my abject terror, I found myself upright upon my knees in the bed pouring forth a prayer for the beautiful, distressed spirit before me. As the words fell from my lips—words which seemed to be uttered through rather than by me—I noticed that she seemed to grow calmer and at last turned her sorrow stricken face full upon me. I noticed, too, and with the utmost terror, that the candle had burned down to the wood, and that in another moment we would be in darkness. Still the earnest words poured from my lips, and the face before me seemed to be growing misty in the flickering light of the expiring candle. Suddenly the figure rose from the chair, and taking one step toward me stretched forth her exquisite arms above mine and vanished. As she did so I distinctly felt something hot, like wax from a dripping candle, fall upon the back of my right hand. At that instant, too, the candle gave one final flare and went out.

When consciousness returned, I was lying across the bed, and the sun was streaming in at the open window. For a moment I was a little dazed at my surroundings; then it all came back to me. Seized with a wild panic—such panic as possesses stampeding cattle—I caught up my clothes and my horse's saddle and fled. As I passed the portrait its eyes seemed to follow me and added to my terrors. Through the dusty rooms, out of the weed grown yard, I tore as one distraught to where my horse was quietly waiting. A moment later I was urging him down the unfrequented path.

Not until I was far away did I pause in my frantic flight. Then, suddenly remembering, I glanced at the back of my right hand, and there—round, red and dry, like a crimson wafer—was a drop of blood.—Detroit Free Press.

Kite Flying in Burma.

Mr. E. D. Cumming, author of "In the Shadow of the Pagoda," describes the Burmese as much given to kite flying, an amusement that they contrive to enjoy with a minimum of bodily exertion. Their method of operations is very simple. Says Mr. Cumming:

You pare down two 12 inch slips of bamboo, tie them at their centers crosswise, run a thread around the four tips and paste upon this frame one thickness of paper. Tie a nail or a small screw nut to one corner, and your kite is made. The altitude that a well made kite of this kind will reach is wonderful, and the lightest breath of wind will take it up. A hundred and fifty or 200 yards of strong sewing thread, wound on a skeleton reel of 4 inches in diameter and 8 inches in length, completes the equipment.

Then, having started the kite by a process of gentle playing, you squat down in the middle of the street, so as to keep your thread clear of the houses and let the kite help itself.

If you have fastened the thread with running, the kite rises almost perpendicularly, bringing you joy in the envy and admiration of those who cannot make a steeper angle than 40 degrees. The kite having taken out all the thread, you sit and contemplate it poised still and clear in the upper air for a few hours.

In Rangoon, on a still morning or evening, hundreds of kites float over the Burmese quarter of the town, some nearly out of sight, others hovering just above the roofs. When driving, your eye has frequently to halloo out of the way a middle aged man who is backing slowly down in midstreet coaxing his kite up. He goes about the business with a ponderous solemnity that raises it to the dignity of a science.

NAPOLEON'S MIRACULOUS ESCAPES.

He Seemed to Live in a Charmed Circle and Went About With No Fear.

In reply to the question in what engagements he considered himself to have been in the greatest danger of losing his life Napoleon once said, "In the commencement of my campaigns." Indeed if further proof were demanded to show that he did not spare himself at Toulon it is only necessary to add that, during the 10 weeks of its siege, Napoleon, in addition to a bayonet wound in his thigh, had three horses shot under him, while at the siege of Acre during the expedition to Egypt he lost no fewer than four in the same manner.

During the last days of his life, when captivity, disappointment and sickness had well nigh completed their work, it is said that the agony of his fatal disease drew from him on many occasions the pitiful cry of, "Why did the cannon balls spare me?"

During his long military career Napoleon fought 60 battles, while Caesar fought but 50. In the early part of his career he was utterly reckless of danger while on the battlefield, and this spirit of fearlessness contributed largely to the love and esteem in which he was held by his armies. There was a curious belief among the English in Napoleon's time that he had never been wounded, and indeed the report was current that he carefully, if not in a cowardly manner, refrained from exposing himself. Nothing could be more contrary to the truth, for he was in reality several times severely wounded, but as he wished to impress upon his troops the belief that good fortune never deserted him, and that, like Achilles, he was well nigh invulnerable he always made a secret of his many dangers. He therefore enjoined once for all upon the part of his immediate staff the most absolute silence regarding all circumstances of this nature, for it is almost impossible to calculate the confusion and disorder which would have resulted from the slightest report or the smallest doubt relative to his existence. Upon the single thread of this man's life depended not only the fate and government of a great empire, but the whole policy and destiny of Europe as well.

Beards and Morals.

A policeman on duty in the Jefferson Market police court remarked that in the course of 18 years' service he had seen a great many men brought up on the charge of insulting women in the street or elsewhere. "They do not resemble one another much," he said, "except that in every instance they wear full beards. I don't remember of ever seeing a clean shaven, thoroughly smart looking man at the bar on that charge. Their whiskers are never trimmed to a point either, but always grow in a straggling or careless way. I have never noted any exception to this, and so far as my opinion goes, I think that any man who gets up in the morning, takes a bath and shaves himself with a bit of cold steel is apt to start out and be decent, whereas the whiskered man is not. I read an article by Chaucer Depew once, in which he said that the passing of the cold steel over his face in the morning always drove the fanciful ideas of the night out of his head and straightened him out for a hard and sensible day's work. I guess there is a good deal in it, though I am not able to reason these things out as Mr. Depew does. But you can go bail for one thing, and that is, whenever you read in the papers that a man has been arrested for insulting women you can picture him in your mind's eye as having a shabby set of whiskers."—New York Sun.

It Cures Cancer.

Some years ago the state department at Washington received through the minister of Ecuador to the United States specimens of a plant known as condurango, found in the province of Loya, in Ecuador, to which marvelous qualities in curing cancer were ascribed. The physicians in South America experimented on this substance and reported most wonderful cures. Its virtues are said to have been discovered by accident. An Indian had been suffering fearfully for a long time from internal cancer, and his wife undertook to relieve him by shortening his life by poison. For this purpose she selected the condurango, making a decoction of the bark. To her astonishment the first dose appeared to benefit the patient, and by the continuance of this remedy he was completely cured in a short time.—New York Advertiser.

Cost of Electric Cooking.

It has been shown by recent experiments that there is practically no difference in cost between cooking by electricity and by coal, while the advantages of the former method in point of comfort, cleanliness and safety are considerable. Of every 100 tons of coal burned in an ordinary cooking stove 96 tons are, it is said, practically wasted, whereas with electricity the expense is not so much on the fuel as on labor and interest on machinery.—Invention.

A Bottle Stopper.

If you want a stopper for a bottle of acid or any substance that would naturally call for a glass stopper because of the danger that the cork would be eaten up by the contents of the bottle, take the cork and steep it in vaseline. It will then be impervious to acids of any kind, and no action of chemicals will decay it. It will, in fact, be as good for all purposes as a glass stopper.—New York Dispatch.

Soap tablets are the latest form of compressed merchandise. They come packed in pretty boxes, each tablet about the size of a lozenge. Naturally they are chiefly valuable in traveling, but the slippery cake of the home dish may conveniently give way to these small doses.

The only remains of the splendid French possessions in India are five towns.

THEORIES ABOUT BALDNESS.

Why Does the Hair Fall Out on the Top of the Head and Not Elsewhere?

A question that often arises and is seldom answered twice in the same way is as to why the hair falls out on the top of the head and not at the back and on the sides. The old fashioned theory is that baldness occurs within the lines marked by a man's hat, and as nobody has ever offered conclusive proof to the contrary that explanation may be the correct one.

The case was stated the other day to two very intelligent barbers. One of them thought that the reason why baldness occurred at the top of the head was that the brain came closest to the surface there, and this being an age in which many brains are kept going at high tension the abnormal amount of blood thus carried to the cranium produced a kind of fever in the upper scalp. Fevers, as is well known, often result in the falling out of the hair.

The second barber gave variety to the discussion by enlarging upon the notion that he had formed from the observation and reflection of many years.

"You will notice," said he, "that the first hair a baby has comes in on the top of the head and falls out before the child is many weeks old. The hair that comes to stay grows thicker and stronger on the sides and at the back, and I have an idea that the growth on the top of the head is always the weakest from infancy on to old age."

"But how do you account for the fact that women do not grow bald as men do?" queried a skeptical listener. "Account for it? I don't have to account for it," replied the ready witted second barber. "It isn't so. Why, I used to work in an establishment where they had nine chairs in the men's department and 11 in the women's, and I want to tell you that I learned some things there that the average man and the average barber, too, for that matter, doesn't know. If you could appreciate as I do the number of women who have false hair so artistically arranged that nobody can tell it from their own natural tresses, you wouldn't ask why men grow bald and the other sex doesn't."

Hairdressers have their pet theories on this subject as well as barbers, and some of them are very plausible. But if you should ask a doctor who was not ashamed to confess his ignorance the chances are that he would tell you he didn't know much about it.—Washington Star.

Pulverized Diamond a Painless Poison.

According to the Mohammedans of southern India, pulverized diamond is the least painful, the most active and the most certain of all poisons. According to "Wilke's History," the powder of diamonds is kept on hand by the wealthy only, presumably as a last resource. But a belief in the poisonous character of the diamond also existed in Italy in the sixteenth century.—Chicago Times.

While in Chicago, Mr. Charles L. Kahler, a prominent shoe merchant of Des Moines, Iowa, had quite a serious time of it. He took such a severe cold that he could hardly talk or navigate, but the prompt use of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy cured him of his cold so quickly that others at the hotel who had had colds followed his example and half a dozen persons ordered it from the nearest drug store. They were profuse in their thanks to Mr. Kahler for telling them how to cure a bad cold so quickly. For sale by A. Hudson, Newark; E. W. Keyes, Auburndale; B. B. Buck, Newton Centre; E. F. Partridge, Newtonville; B. Billings, Newton Upper Falls.

NEWTON SAVINGS BANK.

INCORPORATED 1831.

Bank Hours: From 9 a. m. to 12 m., and from 2 to 4 p. m.; on Saturdays from 9 a. m. to 1 p. m.

Banking Rooms in Newton National Bank Building.

JAMES F. C. HYDE, President.
JOHN WARD, Vice President.
ADOLPHUS J. BLANCHARD, Treas.
H. W. NASON, Attorney and Conveyancer.
CHARLES A. MINER, Clerk and Auditor.

TRUSTEES:
James F. C. Hyde, John Ward, Joseph N. Bacon, Samuel M. Jacob, Dustin Lancy, William Dix, William C. Strong, Francis Murdoch, Charles T. Pulsifer, Elliot J. Hyde, Charles A. Miner, Warren P. Tyler and Harry W. Mason.

INVESTMENT COMMITTEE.
James F. C. Hyde, Samuel M. Jackson, Francis Murdoch.

Quarter days, TENTH day January, April, July and October. Dividends declared the Tuesday following January 10th and July 10th, are payable the day after being declared.

"Pillsbury's Best Is The Best."

USE

And you will always be sure of having perfect Bread, because you have the best Flour made.

Sold by all Grocers.

HENRY W. CROWELL, Agent, NEWTON.

The Past Guarantees The Future

The fact that Hood's Sarsaparilla has cured thousands of others is certainly sufficient reason for belief that it will cure you. It makes pure, rich, healthy blood, tones and strengthens the nerves, and builds up the whole system. Remember

Hood's Sarsaparilla Cures

Be Sure to get HOOD'S and Only HOOD'S.

Hood's Pills are especially prepared to be taken with Hood's Sarsaparilla. 25c. per box.

Millinery

JUVENE

Just returned from New York with a full line of

High Class Millinery.

Which we are now ready to show.

Open evenings on Saturday only.

E. JUVENE ROBBINS

Ellet Block, Newton.

Mrs. E. A. SMITH,

Millinery.

202 Moody Street,

Opp. Walnut,

Waltham, Mass.

J. FRANKLIN FULLER, Jr.

Civil Engineer and Surveyor,

12 PEARL ST. BOSTON.

Rooms 24 and 25.

Surveys, Plans, and Estimates, for the Improvement, Drainage, and Development of City and Suburban Real Estate.

Residence Highland St., West Newton.

to 2-22-0m 1-p

PURE MILK

SUPPLIED DAILY FROM

Prospect Valley Farm

One cow's milk supplied when desired

H. COLDWELL & SON,

Waltham, Mass.

Lock Box 192.

Boston & Albany R. R.

Time Tables showing local and through service between all stations may be obtained at all ticket offices of this Company.

THROUGH (DAY SERVICE) IN RE.

FEET JUNE 17, 1894.

No. 3—Leaves Boston at 5.30 a. m. except Sunday. Wagner Buffet Drawing Room Car, Boston to Albany.

No. 15—Leaves Boston at 10.30 a. m. Daily. Wagner Buffet Sleeping Car, Boston to Chicago, via E. S. & M. S. R. R. and M. C. R. R. Also Through Sleeping Car, Boston to Cincinnati, via "Big Four Route."

Dining Car, Boston to Utica.

No. 19—Leaves Boston at 2.00 p. m. Daily. Wagner Buffet Sleeping Car, Boston to Chicago, via M. C. R. R. Arrives Chicago 4.30 p. m. next day.

No. 5—Leaves Boston at 3.00 p. m. except Sunday. Wagner Buffet Sleeping Car, Boston to Chicago, via E. S. & M. S. R. R. and M. C. R. R. Arrives Chicago 5.30 p. m.

No. 63—Leaves Boston at 11.00 p. m. except Saturday. Wagner Sleeping Car, Boston to Albany, arriving at 7.55 a. m.

For Hartford, New Haven and New York (via Springfield Line).

No. 85—Leaves Boston 9.00 a. m. except Sunday. Buffet Drawing Room Car, Boston to New York, arriving at 3.30 p. m. Six and one half hours.

No. 49—Leaves Boston 11.00 a. m. except Sunday. Buffet Drawing Room Car, Boston to New York, arriving at 5.30 p. m. Six and one half hours.

No. 75—New York Limited Leaves Boston 4.00 p. m. Daily. Drawing Room Car and Coaches to New York, arriving at 10.00 p. m. Only six hours. Elegant Dining Car on this train between Boston and Springfield.

No. 62—Night Express. Leaves Boston at 11 p. m. Daily. Sleeping Cars and Coaches to New York, arriving at 6.45 a. m.

For tickets, information, time tables, etc., apply to nearest ticket agent.

City Office, 232 Washington Street, Station, Lowell Street, Boston.

A. S. HANSON, Gen'l Pass. Agent.

DETER SHOE CO., Inc. Capital, $1,000,000. BEST $1.50 SHOE IN THE WORLD. This dollar saved is a dollar earned. This Ladies' Solid French Patent Kid Button Boot delivered free anywhere in the U.S., on receipt of Cash, Money Order, or Postal Note for $1.50. Equals every way the boots sold in all retail stores for $2.50. We make this boot ourselves, therefore we guarantee the fit, style and wear, and if any one is not satisfied we will refund the money or send another pair. Opera Toe or Common Sense, widths C, D, E, & EE, sizes 1 to 8 and half sizes. Send your size and we will send you a FREE Catalogue.

DEXTER $1.50

DEXTER SHOE CO., 143 FEDERAL ST., BOSTON, MASS.

Special terms to Dealers.

Expressmen.

CHAMBERLAIN'S BAGGAGE EXPRESS.

Orders may be left at the B. & A. Baggage Room, or sent to Post Office Box 25.

HOLMES' Baggage Express.

You can always find one of Holmes' Express men at their stand, Newton Baggage Room from 6.30 A. M., to 8 P. M., where a call may be left, or leave orders at G. P. Atkins, Grocer, or by Telephone Call at Hubbard & Procter's Apothecary.

Furniture and Piano Moving, also Crockery and Pictures carefully packed for transportation.

General Jobbing of every description promptly attended to.

Residence: 152 Adams Street, Newton, Mass.

PEARSON'S Newton and Boston Express.

Boston Office: 91 Kilby St., 105 Arch St., 38 Court St., Order Box, 91 Faneuil Hall Market.

Newton Office: H. B. Coffin's, Order Boxes: Post Office and Blackbird & Atkins.

Leave Newton, 9.30 A. M. Leave Boston, 3 P. M.

NEWCOMB & SNYDER, Newton and Boston Express.

Leave Newton, 7.30 and 9.30 a. m., leave Boston, 12 m. and 3 p. m. Newton Office: 334 Centre St. Order Box: Newton City Market. Boston Office: 15 Devonshire St., 174 Washington St., 34 Court St., 25 Merchants Row, 67 Franklin St., 11 Harrison Ave. Extension, P. O. Box 420, Newton. Persons at attention given orders. Tel. 2752.

SLATE, COPPER, TIN AND GRAVEL ROOFING.

Special attention given to re-roofing.

JOHN FARQUHAR'S SONS, 20 and 32 East Street, Boston. Established 1838. Telephone No. 108.

Legal Notices.

By Edward F. Barnes, Auctioneer, 27 State St., Boston.

Mortgagee's Sale of Real Estate.

By virtue of a power of sale contained in a certain mortgage deed given by Michael Quirk to Marquitta M. Burnham, dated October 16th 1892, and recorded in the South District Registry of Deeds for the County of Middlesex libro 2164, folio 552, will be sold at public auction for breach of the conditions of said mortgage on the premises, on Tuesday the 19th day of September 1894, at 4-1/2 o'clock in the afternoon, all and singular the premises conveyed by said mortgage deed, namely: A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon situated in Newton in the County of Middlesex and State of Massachusetts and bounded Easterly on Green Court a private way fourteen feet in width leading Northerly from Green Street measuring on said Court twenty-seven and 64-100 (27-61) feet; Northerly on land now or late of "Brien fifty (50) feet; Westerly on Lot one on the Plan hereinafter referred to twenty-seven and 64-100 (27-61) feet; and Southerly on Lot nine on said Plan fifty (50) feet. Containing thirty-three hundred and eighty-two square feet and being shown as Lot ten on a Plan drawn by E. S. Mille dated September 27th 1892 and duly recorded and being the same conveyed to me by Edward F. Barnes by deed of conveyance and record together with the right of way therein set forth.

$200 will be required to be paid in cash by the purchaser at the time and place of sale. Balance to be paid in cash within Ten days from day of sale at 12 o'clock noon at the office of Edward F. Barnes 27 State St. Boston

Marquitta M. Burnham Mortgagee 47 St.

Newton August 22nd 1894

City of Newton.

City Collectors' Notice.

The owners and occupants of the following described parcels of real estate situated in the City of Newton in the County of Middlesex and Commonwealth of Massachusetts and the public are hereby notified that the assessments thereon severally assessed by the Board of Health of the City of Newton to defray in part the cost of abating a certain nuisance consisting of wet, rotten and spongy land, and lands covered with stagnant water so as to be offensive to persons residing in the vicinity thereof and injurious to health, situated in Ward Three in said City of Newton, described as follows: North of River street, east of Mague Court and extension of same to Cherry street, south of Cherry street Place and Derby street between Cherry street and Waltham street, and west of Waltham street, named in petition of D. P. Ingles and others, to said Board of Health, assessed in the year eighteen hundred and ninety-two, according to the list committed to me as Collector of Taxes for said City of Newton by said Board of Health, remain unpaid, and that said parcels of land will be offered for sale by public auction at the City Hall in said Newton on the Twenty-sixth day of September A. D. 1894, at Five o'clock in the afternoon, for the payment of said assessments with costs and charges thereon, unless the same shall be previously discharged.

NEWTON FREE LIBRARY.

LIST OF NEW BOOKS.

- (Cobbett, Tom (pseud). Young Sam and Sabina. 62.372
- A pastoral of Somersetshire, in which rustic life and local customs are described.
- Creighton, Mandell. History of the Papacy during the Period of the Reformation. Vol. 5, The German Revolt, 1517-27. 74.118
- Field, E. M. Little Count Paul; a Story of Troublesome Times. 64.465
- A story of the times of the French Revolution.
- Giborne, Agnes. The Starry Skies; or First Lessons on the Sun, Moon and Stars. 103.641
- A new volume explaining astronomy to youthful minds.
- Hazelline, Harold Dexter, and others. Brown Verse; Selections from Verse published in The Brunonian and The Brown Magazine, including Extracts from Class Poems; compiled and edited by the Brunonian Board of 1893-94. 54.901
- Hepworth, Geo. H. The Life Beyond; this Mortal must put on Immortality. 65.10
- Jacob, Ernest H. Notes on the Ventilation and Warming of Houses, Churches, Schools and other Buildings. 101.705
- The result of practical experience in examining and dealing with insanitary buildings, the remedies recommended having all been practically tried.
- King, Capt. Chas. An Initial Experience, and other Stories. 63.214
- Meneval, Claude Francois, Baron de. Memoirs of the History of Napoleon I. Vol. 3. 94.575
- This volume treats of the ill-fated Russian expedition, the collapse in the Peninsula, the invasion of France by the allied powers, the abdication and banishment to Elba, of Marie Louise and her unfortunate child, of the Congress of Vienna, the return from Elba, Waterloo, and the exile in St. Helena.
- Merriman, Florence A. My Summer in a Mormon Village. 31.445
- Miss Merriman, who spent the summer of 1893 in Utah, describes her observations of the people and their peculiarities, also the country and its picturesque features.
- Ruskin, John. Letters addressed to a College Friend, during the years 1840-45. 54.902
- Samuel, Mark. The Amateur Aquarist, how to Equip and Maintain a Self-Sustaining Aquarium. 102.691
- With instructions for selecting the best fresh water fishes and plants, how, when and where to obtain them, and how to keep them in health.
- Schaff, Philip and others, eds. American Church History. Vols. 3, and 10. 94.569
- Vol. 3 is a History of the Congregational churches in the U. S. by Williston Walker, and vol. 10, a Hist. of the Unitarians by Jos. Henry Allen, and of the Universalists by Richard Eddy.
- Trevatt, Edw. pseud. How to Build Dynamo-Electric Machinery, embracing Theory Designing and the Construction of Dynamos and Motors with Appendices on Field-Magnet and Armature Winding, Management of Dynamos and Motors; and useful Table of Wire Gauges. 105.472
- Webb, Sidney and Beatrice. History of Trade Unions. 85.206
- Describes the growth and development of the Trade Union movement in the United Kingdom from 1700 down to the present day, giving, in effect, the political history of the English working class during the last 150 years.
- Willis, Annie L. Exercises for Arbor Day; with Notes, Hints and Suggestions. 54.897
- E. P. THURSTON, Librarian.
- Sept. 5, 1894.

BOSTON AMUSEMENTS.

HOLLIS STREET THEATRE—The Hollis will give another peep at John J. McNally's excellent farce, "A Country Sport," during its second week here. To say nothing of the popularity of the play with local theatre-goers, the second visit in a stellar capacity of our sunny, tempered friend, Pete Dailey, is the signal for the assembling of a majority if not all of Boston amusement seekers. Peter has gained widespread fame since his debut as a star in this city last autumn and the well wishes bestowed upon him at that time have borne golden fruit. The many splendid features of the play, the excellence of the company employed in its interpretation and the noticeable departure from the beaten path in its method, together with Mr. Dailey's magnetic personality, happily combine to render "A Country Sport" at once entertaining and most refreshing. Two qualities lacking in many latter-day farces. The company this season has been improved where there was room for it, but those prime favorites, May Irwin, John G. Sparks, Ada Lewis and Andrew Mack, are retained and will each contribute a novelty of their own creation.

BOWDOIN SQUARE THEATRE—Manager William A. Brady has an idea that he has secured two plays that will fill the gap. The first will be done Sept. 10th, at the Bowdoin Square Theatre, and is called "The Cotton King." It is on the sensational order and is patriotic to the extreme, but Mr. Brady has cast it with the best people that money can get, and given it a scenic setting that is said to be very elaborate. Manager Brady's other great play is "The Cotton King." Sutton Vane's latest English melodramatic success. This will also be given for the first time in America at the Bowdoin Square Theatre. It is three years since Jack Mason appeared in melodrama at the Boston Museum. He is to play "The Cotton King," a part equally suited to his methods. He held out for a big salary, but Brady had to have him and he was secured. The scenery is wonderfully elaborate. John Thompson, Boston's greatest scenic artist, is now in New Bedford studying the best method of placing a calico printing machine on the stage. He is to direct the acts of the production, which is to be a Boston one in every sense of the word.

COLUMBIA THEATRE—"Young America" began its second week at the Columbia Monday night, and judging from the enthusiasm with which it was received and the intense interest it excited in the large and well-pleased audience, the play has taken a strong hold upon popular favor, and its departure will be a matter of regret to all those who have witnessed it. It is seldom that any play shows in its earlier days the result of such careful attention and great consideration of every minor detail as is shown in the entire management of "Young America." The superb cast portrays each character in a thoroughly effective manner. It is indicated from the advance sale that "Young America" will continue in the same vein of prosperity that has already characterized its stay at the Columbia.

CATCHING JEWFISH.

INGLING FOR MARINE MONSTERS IN SAN DIEGO BAY.

The Process Is of the Progressive Kind. The Part Toothpicks Play—The Run With a Keg—Members of the Bass Family That Weigh Hundreds of Pounds.

Don't talk to a man from southern California about black bass fishing, or he will make your best bass story a feeble, pitiful thing. He will tell you of black bass that could swallow the biggest day's catch you ever made and take in your creel for dessert without as much as gulping. Voice a doubt, and the man from San Diego will pull from his fishing traps something that looks like a one-flaked ship's anchor. That is what he fishes with for the strange, monstrous black bass in the bays and about the islands of the southern California coast. They don't call them black bass down there, though the fish connoisseurs say they are, and the naturalists have identified them by fins and bones and form with the gamy two and three pounders that make men fickle even to trout.

The men who catch these fish that sometimes weigh 1,000 pounds call them jewfish—a corruption of jewfish. The last is a translation of one of their Mexican names. Probably they were called jewfish from the fact that they are plentiful along the shores in the late spring and early summer. No matter how he got his name, the jewfish is a wonder. He looks like a bass fisherman's nightmare when they get him out of the water. Every fin and mark is there, magnified out of all proportion. His scales are as big as half dollars, his mouth is a gaping chasm, and the spikes of his dorsal fin are bigger than tenpenny nails.

The process of catching a jewfish is a progressive and interesting one. The fishers begin at the beginning. With bent pins or dip nets they look for minnows or sardelles. The quarry secured, it promptly becomes bait, and the connoisseur is treated to smelt fishing. Then comes the smelt's turn in the succession. He is impaled, and the fisherman, with a heavier rod and a larger hook, goes to the other side of the wharf for a halibut or a sea bass.

When the bait, dead or alive, is ready, the stoutest armed man on the wharf picks up the line. He swings the two or three pounds of bait around his head like an Indian does the bolas and hurls it seaward. The great line, as thick as a lead pencil, coils out after the hook, and that is nearly all until the fish comes along.

Incidentally toothpicks play quite a part in the fishing. Each fisherman takes a handful with him when he leaves the breakfast table. They stick one in a crack at the top of a pile and loosely loop the line around it. The shore part of the line is coiled on the wharf, and the end is fast to an empty powder keg or some such thing that will float well. On the toothpick is stuck a bit of white rag, and as half a dozen or a dozen lines are used at once there is a string of these little signal flags all along the dock. The fisherman has nothing more to do for awhile than to watch the flags. When one goes down, it means that something has taken the bait. After gathering in the barracuda heads or the impaled halibut the jewfish starts away like the locomotive on a fast express. Down goes the signal flag. Everybody around runs for the line. They know they can't hold the fish, but the resistance makes it harder for him and helps them to tire him out—the ultimate object. The great fish does not struggle at first, but moves steadily seaward, pulling the line through the men's hands. Occasionally, when the fish weighs less than 200 pounds, they can tire him out without paying out all of the line, but usually it all goes, and presently the struggle is transferred to the water. The empty powder keg bounces over the water most erratically, the men chase it in a boat, and when they catch it hold on. Then the real fun of jewfishing begins. It is just sport for a fish of any size to tow a whitehall around the bay, and it is pretty rough sailing in his wake. As soon as he realizes that there is a fight on the jewfish seems to forget that he is a staid bottom fish. All the steam of his black bass ancestors gets riled, and he plunges and turns, twists and strikes. Somewhere down in the cavern of his gullet he has an arrangement of bone like a couple of millstones, and when he discovers he cannot spit out the hook he tries to swallow it and grind the line apart, so the slack has to be carefully attended to. There are some tremendous fish in San Diego bay, and though the hooks are made of hand forged tool steel they have snapped many of them.

If everything goes well, if the hook holds and the fish does not grind the line, if he steers away from submerged buoy chains and docks, the fight must end in the death of the fish. Sometimes he tows the boat for three hours before his strength is gone and he is hauled to the surface. The death struggle is worst of all. The fish is dragged to the top and lies there, apparently all but dead. Then they drive a harpoon into him, and the sting of the steel starts all his life again. The harpoon line holds him near the surface, and he makes a great race for a little while, but, of course, it cannot last. At the end the fish is towed back to the dock, and there the floating population of San Diego is assembled. Everybody gets hold of a rope and hoists the giant fish upon the dock, and there the tired monster flounders, its mouth gaping like a tunnel and its eyes, big as baseballs, starting from their sockets.—San Francisco Examiner.

Two Points of View.

Wife—How people gaze at my new dress! I presume they wonder if I've been shopping in Paris.

Husband—More likely they wonder if I have been robbing a bank.—London Tit-Bits.

RECORD OF A TEXAS DESPERADO.

The Graves of His Victims Were Scattered From Dodge City to Santa Fe.

The man who told the story between the puffs of his cigar was from Texas. "Clay Allison's life was a tragic romance," he began. "Clay Allison was a desperado. He lived in the Rio Grande country in the Panhandle. His trigger finger was busiest in the early eighties. His record was 21. He boasted of it. Twenty-one dead men, whose graves were scattered from Dodge City to Santa Fe! I myself saw him kill Bill Chumk, a bad man, who shot people just for the fun of seeing them fall. The two men had no cause for quarrel. They were the prize killers of the same section of the country. It was a spirit of rivalry which made them swear to shoot each other on sight. Their friends bet on the result of their first chance encounter. They met one night at a crossroad inn in New Mexico and sat down at tables opposite each other, with their drawn six shooters resting on their laps beneath their napkins. A plate of oysters on the shell had just been set before Chumk, when he dropped his hand in careless fashion and sent a ball at Allison beneath the table. Quick as a leap of lightning Allison's gun replied. A tiny red spot between Chumk's eyes marked where the bullet entered. The dead man rolled over on the table and was still, with his face downward in the dish of oysters.

"Allison was a large cattle owner. He went on a drive to Kansas City once, and while there fell in love, married and took the woman to his home in the west to live. A child was born to them—a child whose face was as beautiful as the face of a cherub, but whose poor little body was horribly deformed. Allison loved the child with the great love of his passionate nature. In the babe's twisted and misshapen form his superstitious mind read a meaning as significant as that of the message which the divine hand wrote on the palace of the king of old in Babylon. God, he thought, had visited a curse upon him for his sins. He quit his wild ways. He drank no more. No man ever after the birth of his child felt before his deadly pistols. He was completely changed.

"In the new life which followed he devoted himself with absorbing energy to his business interests. He became rich in time. Ten thousand cattle on the Texas ranges bore his brand. A few years ago he was driving from his ranch in a heavy road wagon to town. The front wheels jolted down into a deep rut. Allison was pitched headforemost to the ground. His neck was broken. The team jogged on into the distance and left him lying there dead and alone upon the prairie."—Kansas City Times.

One of the Unknown Quantities.

There are many persons who talk very learnedly about electricity and seem to fancy that they have found out all about it that is worth knowing. In the face of ideas of this sort comes on an accident without precedent indeed, one that under ordinary circumstances would be counted impossible. A workman in oiling the machinery of a small electric fan—one used merely for the purpose of cooling the air in a business house—accidentally touched the wire and was instantly killed. The current that runs the fan is said to have scarcely power enough to give a gentle shock when touched. An electrician who has recently been making some important experiments has demonstrated that by using electricity in a certain way 50 times the current usually employed for executing criminals may be passed through the human body without injury. Is it not possible, then, that very weak currents under certain conditions may possess power hitherto unsuspected?—New York Ledger.

The Smell.

It is the opinion of the true gourmet that of all marine panfish there is none to compare with the smelt (Osmerus mordax). This primary rank is its own by reason of its delicacy and delicious flavor, and when fried a light brown in very fine bread crumbs and served with melted butter there is none that disputes its pre-eminence. Its delightful flavor, however, as well as its peculiar odor is evanescent. Like the mackerel, it cannot be too fresh.

It is from its odor that the smelt derives not only its familiar but Latin name, an odor so aggressive of sliced cucumbers that, if its presence be manifest only to the sense of smell, people are often deluded into such supposition. This odor is not marked except in the freshly caught fish and disappears in the cooking, giving place, however, to a fitting resurrection of the smelt to an olfactory sense still more savory and delightful.—Market Review.

Ideal and Real.

"I love all that is beautiful in art and nature," she was saying to her aesthetic admirer. "I revel in the green fields, the babbling brooks and the little wayside flowers. I feast on the beauties of earth and sky and air. They are my daily life and food and—"

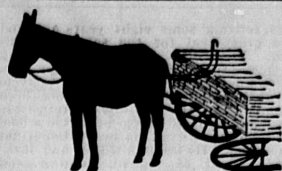

"Maudie!" cried out the mother from the kitchen, not knowing that her daughter's beau was in the parlor. "Maudie, whatever made you go and eat that big dish of potatoes that was left over from dinner? I told you we wanted them warmed up for supper. I declare if your appetite isn't enough to bankrupt your pa."—London Tit-Bits.

Proof.

"How do you know, then, that the young poet has an income apart from his profession?" asked the landlady's daughter.

"Because," was the confident reply, "he pays his rent regularly."—London Quiver.

The coldest day ever known in England was Dec. 25, 1796, when the mercury stood 16 degrees below zero in a Fahrenheit thermometer. We would call that fine winter weather in America.

BROKEN DOWN

—by disease is the natural result if you allow your liver to become inactive, your blood impure, and your system run down.

The germs of Consumption, Grip, or Malaria, wait for this time of weakness—this is their opportunity.

If you rouse the liver to activity, so it will throw off these germs, purify the blood so there will be no weak spots; build up healthy weight where there is a falling off, you will rest secure from disease, for you'll be germ-proof.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery does this as nothing else can. That's the reason it can be guaranteed. In convalescence from pneumonia, fevers, or other wasting diseases, it's an appetizing, restorative tonic to build up needed flesh and strength.

For all diseases of the liver or blood if "Discovery" fails to benefit or cure, you have your money back.

DR. SAGE'S Catarrh Remedy will cure the worst Chronic Catarrh in the Head—perfectly and permanently. Fifty cents, by all dealers.

BRACKETT'S MARKET COMPANY.

Established 1851. incorporated 1892. Telephone No. 16-3.

The Best Meats, Poultry, Game, Cream, Butter, Eggs, Fruits and Vegetables.

AT THE LOWEST PRICES.

This Market intends to fill all orders as if the merchant was present. Goods which are found to be as represented may be returned.

7 & 8 COLE'S BLOCK, Washington near Centre Street, NEWTON, MASS.

Ranges, Furnaces, Water Heaters, Steam Boilers,

AT FACTORY STORE OF

Walker & Pratt Mfg. Co., GALEN STREET, WATERTOWN, MASS.

Telephone No. 30, Newton. Furnaces, Ranges Cleaned and Repaired

MYLES J. JOYCE, Ornamental and Landscape GARDENER.

Grading, Sodding, Pruning and Gardening of Every Description.

Taking Care of Private Lawns and Gardens A Specialty.

Carpets Taken Up, Cleaned, and Put Down in the Best Manner.

ORDERS PROMPTLY ATTENDED TO. P. O. Box 42, Newton, Mass.

Newton National Bank, NEWTON, MASS.

BUSINESS HOURS: From 9 A. M. to 12 M., and from 2 to 4 P. M. On Saturdays, from 9 A. M. to 2 P. M. JOSEPH N. BACON, President. B. FRANKLIN BACON, Cashier.

M&D COAL W. A. Folsom & Co. Boston, Mass. Made RANGES

Mothers! When Anything Happens

use PAIN-KILLER. By its timely use serious results are prevented when neglect of supposed trifling ailments or accidents may cause long suffering and expensive doctors' bills. A lady, writing to the "New England Farmer" of August 1, '87, after giving good advice as to the care of children says: "Perry Davis' Pain-Killer is worth the price of your life in some cases—much more than a doctor for the diseases people, and especially children, suffer from in hot weather. It cures Cholera Morbus, Cramps, Colic and Diarrhea immediately." Many a young life might be saved if every mother would

USE PAIN-KILLER

Send for book on Summer Complaints mailed free to any address. Remember—Only Pain-Killer kills pain. Bottles now contain double the quantity at same price.

PERRY DAVIS & SON, Sole Proprietors, PROVIDENCE, R. I.

Tailors.

C. S. Decker Custom Tailor. 326 Centre Street, Newton, Mass.

J. R. SIMMONS & CO.

—Custom Tailors.—Repairing, Cleaning and Dyeing a Specialty. Miest Suits for Sale.

2 Carver Street, Boston, Mass. 1 Door from Boylston.

Livery Stables.

DANIEL'S Nonantum Stables.

HENRY C. DANIELS, Proprietor.

Patrons will find at these Stables the best of Horses and Carriages for hire. Landans and Hacks, with good horses and experienced drivers, for Pleasure Service and Funerals. Safe and reliable horses for ladies to drive.

—BOARDING—Superior accommodations for Boarding Horses. Clean and comfortable stalls; careful and prompt attention. Telephone 271-3.

GEO. W. BUSH, Livery, Hack & Boarding STABLE.

Particular attention paid to Boarding Horses. Hacks at depot or the conveyance of passengers to any part of the city. Horses and carriages to let for business or pleasure.

ELMWOOD STREET, NEWTON. Telephone Connection.

Livery, Hack, Established 1861.

Barges, City of Newton, Garden City. Boat Sleigh, Snow Bird.

S. F. CAFFE, Boarding Stable. W. Newton.

J. HENRY BACON, Dry Goods and Notions, LADIES' AND GENTS' FURNISHING GOODS. Oil - and - Straw - Carpets. TRUNKS, BAGS, ETC.

279, 281 Washington St., Newton.

HANDSOME LAMP SHADES,

Made of English Crepe Paper, a size, style or color.

$3.00 Each. Lamps and Fittings

Choice and Cheap. Lamp Shade Supplies

At Lowest Prices. Buy of us, the manufacturers, and save money.

A. E. Whitehouse & Co., 174 LINCOLN ST., BOSTON.

Near Albany Depot. Cars pass the door

Teachers.

MR. CARON'S FRENCH SCHOOL will re-open Sept. 16th. French teachers; private or class lessons. Day or evening. Terms reasonable. Classes may be held in Newton at class room. Call or address F. CARON, 284 Boylston Street, Boston. 48 6m

POSSE'S GYMNASIUM.

A thorough normal school of gymnastics. Classes for men; for women; for children. Medals for Method, Boston 1892, Chicago 1893

BARON NILS POSSE, B.Sc. M.G., 23 Irvington St., Back Bay, Boston.

Private Preparation for College and the Institute of Technology. Mr. W. N. Eaves will receive for private instruction in the studies requisite for admittance to College and the Scientific School, pupils of either sex, singly or in classes of 5 each. Mr. Eaves has had a long and very successful experience in this profession and will furnish references. If application is made to No. 198 Dartmouth Street, Boston, Mass.

FREDRIC A. METCALF, (Of the faculty of The Emerson College of Oratory) Private or class instruction in

ELOCUTION, VOICE & PHYSICAL CULTURE

PUBLIC RECITALS.

BOSTON: Emerson College of Oratory, Cor. Tremont and Berkeley Streets.

RESIDENCE: Webster Park, West Newton.

MRS. CARLYLE PETERSILEA, The Pianoforte.

62 BOYLSTON STREET, - BOSTON, MASS.

MISS GRACE G. DAVIS,

Teacher of Singing.

Residence, 64 St. James Ave., Boston.

MISS EMMA DEXTER ELLIS,

Pianoforte and Harmony.

Hoffman House, Boston.

At Newton Centre on Tuesdays and Fridays.

HARRY BROOKS DAY,

TEACHER OF PIANO-FORTE, ORGAN, HARMONY, COUN

TERPOINT AND COMPOSITION.

Hotel Hunnewell, Newton, Mass.

Dressmakers.

—S. T. TAYLOR SYSTEM—

Dresscutting.

Thorough instruction given; first class dress-making; cutting and basting a specialty. The E. A. B. skirt-chart, $2.50.

MADAM IRVING,

74 Boylston St., Boston, Mass.

DRESSES - -

Made from Six to Ten Dollars. Baques cut for Seventy-Five Cents. Work Warranted. Apply at once. DRESSMAKER, 398 Centre Street.

- - NEWTON.

DRESSMAKING

Evening and Street Costumes in Latest Designs.

Moderate Prices.

S. A. MERRITT, 33 PARSONS STREET, NEWTONVILLE.

Waltham & Newton electric cars pass the street.

MRS. T. E. GAMMONS,

Dressmaker.

Evening and Street Costumes in Latest Designs. Moderate Prices.

CHESTNUT STREET, - W. NEWTON.

Between Washington St. and Depot. 5-17

MISS ALICE D. JONES,

Dress and Cloak Making.

Methodist Building, Waltham.

C. MILLER,

IMPORTER OF

French - Millinery.

165 TREMONT STREET, Boston.

Any one

Pull Teeth.

But skill and patience can save them. Crown and bridge work can fill those gaps.

DR. G. P. WIKSELL,

The Pelham, Boston, Mass.

Rupture can be Cured.

QUICKLY. PERFECTLY. PERMANENTLY

Dr. Taylor System.

Radical Cure Without Danger.

Cutting, Pain or Loss of Time.

TAYLOR HERNIA CURE CO.,

164A Tremont St., Boston.

Rooms 6, 7, 8, 9.

Drs. DUNCAN and SHERMAN, Specialists.

Office Hours, 1 to 4 P. M.

Consultation and Examination Free. It

T. F. GLENNAN,

Carriage Trimming

and Harness Making.

BLANKETS, ROBES, WHIPS, ETC.

Washington St., - Newton.

PIANOS and all Musical Instruments

can be more advantageously bought, better selections,

WALTER THORPE, Newton Centre,
Agent of the GRAPHIC, and receives subscriptions and makes collections for it. He also makes terms for advertising, hand-bills and all other kinds of printing. Also, Real Estate to sell and to rent, and insurance agents are in the best English and American companies.

NEWTON CENTRE.

—Ivers & Pond pianos, Farley, Newton.
—School commences Monday.
—The new Mason school boiler is in place.
—Mr. James D. Greene and family, Chase street, have returned from Mt. Desert.
—Mr. William F. Woodman and family have returned from Duxbury.
—George Good of Warren street is the new bookkeeper at Richardson's market.
—Olives and sweet oils direct from France at Knapp's.
—Mr. Clinton Hunter has returned to South West Harbor, Me.
—Mrs. W. T. Wardwell of Irving street has returned from a visit to Worcester.
—Mr. Herbert N. Smith and family of Beacon street have returned home.
—William Abbott is at Concord, N. H., on a vacation.
—Burke & Beliss have opened their new grain and feed store.
—Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bailey of Beacon street have returned from Mt. Desert, Me.
—See advertisement of Burke & Beliss in another column.
—Mrs. O. I. George and family of Institution avenue have returned from a visit to Nova Scotia.
—Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Emerson Cook will occupy their new house on Middlesex road, Chestnut Hill, late in the fall.
—Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bailey of Beacon street have returned from North Scituate, where they passed the season.
—There is a great deal of waste paper about the streets, considering the convenience of the public waste barrels.
—Does the section man paid by the city confine his work to the outskirts, that most cleanly thoroughfares are not visible around the square?
—Rev. Dr. George M. Boynton and family, Station street, have returned from North Scituate, where they have passed the season.
—Mr. D. B. Claffin and family, Station street, have returned from St. Andrews, N. B., where they have been stopping at the Algonquin.
—The dance at Oak Hill on the evening of Labor Day was attended by 50 couples and music was furnished by Messrs. Hafermehl and O'Rafferty.
—Mrs. H. D. Degen has been called to Orange, N. J., on account of the sudden death of her little grandchild, Russell Quincy, the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Q. Adams, Jr.
—Mr. William J. Henderson, who has been stopping with Mr. C. B. Garey, Gibbs street, has gone to Providence, R. I., where he takes a position as teacher in the High school.
—There are letters as follows awaiting claimants at the post office: Kate Emory, Gertrude Houghton, McGowan, Annie McDonald, Sarah McLean, Annie Purcell, Archie McNeil.
—Services at the Unitarian church Sunday at 10.30, sermon by the pastor, "What went ye out to see?" Mrs. Loring will preside at the organ and Mr. Homer Loring will accompany on the cornet. All are heartily welcome.
—Mrs. J. E. Cousins and her friend, Mrs. A. B. White, of Sumner street have just returned from a trip up the Hudson and among the mountains, on their return spent several days with the family of Senator Carlyle of Newburgh and Mrs. Spurr of Brooklyn, N. Y.
—The Ladies' Home Missionary Society of the Baptist church held a memorial service in the chapel, Wednesday afternoon, in memory of the late Mrs. Gardner, who was a prominent member of the organization during her lifetime. The original plans for that day were made by Mrs. Celby herself, who proposed a missionary tea.
—Mr. Samuel Ward is one of the most valuable members of the Newton Club. He is one of the very few sufficiently interested in the welfare of Newton schools to request and insist upon full information upon every phase of important questions which come before the board, and it is due to him that several important matters have received mature consideration before the board, which otherwise would have passed without remark.
—Architect B. E. Taylor, of Rand & Taylor, 87 Milk street, Boston, has been about completed on Parker street which will make some fortunate purchaser happy, we say happy, because these late style houses, after Mr. Taylor's own special design, are very attractive in every particular. Some party is apparently trying to force matters, so to speak, on the next lot beyond, by attempting to build within six inches of Mr. Taylor's line and also, to near the sidewalk, which will simply mar the tasteful lines already established with other houses along the street. We welcome most heartily all new comers in erecting nice residences, but from now on must upon any effort which seems to intrude or conflict with fixed plans for the general good.
—In the presence of many friends in the First Baptist church, Miss Grace K. Daniels of Newton and Mr. Herbert E. Reed of Brookline were married at 8 o'clock last night by Rev. Richard Montague, pastor of the church. The bride, attired in a dress of white silk, wearing a tulle veil and carrying a bunch of roses in her hand, was attended by her sister, Miss Elbra Daniels as maid of honor. She was preceded by the bridesmaids, Misses Margaret Tucker and Hilda Scott. The maid of honor was dressed in white satin and the bridesmaids in white muslin. All carried bunches of roses. Mr. Edward Haven of Boston gave the bride away, and Mr. Charles E. Reed, brother of the groom, was best man. After the ceremony an informal reception was held in the church parlors. The ushers were Messrs. W. L. Peck, Alfred M. Russell, William Haven and Bartram Graham. The couple, after a tour, will reside on Gainsboro street, Boston.
—The Newton Athletic Association held a handicap meeting for members Labor Day morning on the Playground. The events were attended by a large number of citizens and the events were run off in good time and excellent form. The two bicycle races which were held were under the sanction and rules of the L. A. W. The track events and winners are appended: 75-yard dash—W. C. Benedict, scratch, first; W. C. Johnson second. Time 8-2-5. 100-yard dash—F. J. Kellaway, scratch, first; W. C. Johnson, 3 yards, second. Time 10-3-5. Mile bicycle race—W. M. Morse, 60 yards, first; R. L. Rottler, scratch, second. Time 2m. 37-3-5. 600-yard run—W. W. Heckman, scratch, first; T. P. Treadwell, second. Time 1m. 29-2-5. 300-yard dash—W. C. Johnson, 10 yards, first; F. J. Kellaway, scratch, second. Time 35-2-5. Two-mile bicycle race—G. H. Carter, scratch, first; W. M. Morse, 120 yards, second. Time 5m. 25-3-5. 1000-yard run—A. Miller, 33 yards, first; W. W. Heckman, second. Time 2m. 31-5. The field events and winners were as follows: Shot put—F. C. Rising, 3 feet, distance 31 ft. 11-1-2 in.; C. B. Cotting, 4-1-2 feet, distance 28 ft. 11 in. Running broad jump—W. C. Benedict, 3 feet, distance 18 ft. 5-1-4 in. Running high jump—W. D. Rising, scratch, 3 ft. 3 in.

—Hot Rolls at Paxton's at 4 p. m.
—Brown Bread every Saturday at Paxton's.
—Try Paxton's graham bread and coffee cakes.
—Mrs. W. A. Foster, Beacon street, was in town a few days this week.
—Mr. J. A. Daniels and family, Station street, are entertaining friends.
—Mr. W. S. Appleton and family of Holbrook Hall, are entertaining friends.
—William Griffith and family are occupying Mr. Bray's new house on Chase street.
—Mr. C. F. Kirtland and family are away for a few days for the benefit of his health.
—Dr. E. J. Tilton and family have taken a suite in Associates block.
—Mr. and Mrs. Welch of Cleveland, Ohio, are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Clement, Warren street.
—Mrs. Robert Thurston and Mrs. F. Burns of Yarmouth, N. S., are guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Hesse, Parker street.
—Mr. Thomas L. Rogers was in town Wednesday looking over Newton Centre improvements.
—Master Forbes, son of Mr. Gustavus Forbes, will attend the Worcester Academy this year.
—Mr. and Mrs. N. M. Brooks of Grey Cliff road are occupying one of the suites in Associates block.
—Mr. Thomas Armstrong and family expect to remove to Nova Scotia in a few days.
—Mr. Marite Hamptman Emery has been graduated by the New England Conservatory of Music.
—Mr. James F. Rabban is to build a large double house on Cypress street, for which plans are being perfected.
—Expressman Hesse had the misfortune to lose his horse last Friday, the animal getting loose during the night and eating too many oats.
—James F. Fennessey of Richardson's market, was best man at the Stockwell-Jennings nuptials in Cambridge, Tuesday evening. The groom is a brother of Fred Stockwell of the well-known firm of Barber, Stockwell & Co. of that city.
—A new jewelry store is to be opened in Bray's block, Sept. 10, by J. W. Beverly, till recently watchmaker for T. L. Mason, Newton. Mr. Beverly will carry a well selected line of jewelry and optical goods. Repairing fine time pieces will be made a specialty.

NEWTON HIGHLANDS.

—Mrs. F. E. Marston has returned home.
—The Sunday School of St. Paul's church reopens next Sunday at 12.15 P. M.
—Evening services at 7 o'clock have been resumed at St. Paul's church.
—Arthur Nash has gone to Nichols Academy, located at Dudley, Mass.
—The Misses Forbes and Mr. Forbes have arrived home.
—Mr. T. D. Sullivan is having an addition built to his house.
—Mrs. H. B. Erving and son Charles H. Erving have gone to Taunton for a few weeks visit.
—Mr. S. C. Spaulding and family have returned from their stay away of many weeks.
—The death of Mrs. Thomas Belger occurred on Wednesday after an illness of several weeks. Funeral on Friday.
—Miss Lamphier, one of the teachers in the Hyde school has returned and will board with Mr. B. F. Butler, Jr.
—Mr. Kent, a brother of Mrs. Pennell, and his wife from Colorado, are visiting here.
—Mrs. S. C. Cobb and Miss Margaretta Logan, are at home from their New Hampshire stay.
—Mrs. J. W. Foster and children are at home from an absence of several weeks and all in good health.
—Mr. C. Peter Clark and some of the members of his family have this week returned from Bay View, Hull.
—The Durgin and the Barnes families, who have been at Duxbury for several weeks are now at home again.
—Mr. J. R. Rossman and family are at home from their sojourn of two months or more in the Adirondack region.
—Mrs. J. T. Waterhouse and child have returned from a stay of two months or more at Fortune Rock, Biddeford Pool.
—The Tyler family have returned from their visits to Kennebunkport and other places.
—You can find the latest styles in boots and shoes at Barrows'. Bring your old shoes and have them repaired.
—Miss Thompson will receive applications for Kindergarten pupils, at her home on Hartford street, September 7 and 8.
—Services at St. Paul's next Sunday will be as follows: Holy Communion 9.45 a. m., Morning Prayer and Sermon 10.45 a. m., Sunday School 12.15 p. m., Evening Prayer and address 7 p. m.
—Hyde school will reopen on Monday next in the old schoolhouse. The new schoolhouse will probably not be ready to occupy before the Thanksgiving vacation.
—Mr. and Mrs. E. Moulton have as their guest again, Mrs. C. H. Moulton and son of Washington, D. C., who have made a stay of several weeks in Maine.
—Mr. Samuel Tuckerman and family who have occupied Mrs. Cobb's cottage, corner of Forest and Bowdoin street for two months have returned to their home in Boston.
—We hear that the Sunday papers report the sale of the tract of land between Centre and Boylston streets belonging to the Clark heirs, to Mr. M. G. Crane, and that it will be laid out into house lots.
—Mr. Spooner, who is having a house built on Bradford road near Woodward street, has taken the cottage vacated by Mr. Tuckerman and will occupy until his house is completed.
—Miss Anna T. Williams, who has had her home with her brother, Mr. J. S. Williams of Bowdoin street, has been sick with pneumonia for two or three weeks, but is now better and has gone to Middleboro for the winter.

NEWTON UPPER FALLS.

—William Mills is in Providence.
—Miss Jennie Billings, High street, has returned from a visit to Maine.
—A farewell reception was given Mr. Frank Simpson, Monday night, at the residence of Mr. Geo. Cutler, Highland avenue. Many friends were present. He leaves Sept. 15 for Europe with Peter Procter.
—Mr. John Allen Gould, whose death occurred last Sunday, was one of the prominent men in this village, where he enjoyed the respect and esteem of all for his upright character and public spirit. He came here when a young man to learn the machinists' trade and has lived here ever since, holding for many years a prominent position at Pettus's, and later at Barden's. He was born in Walpole, Feb. 27, 1815. He was subsequently a clerk on the Boston wharf. He was married to Nancy Page of Walpole, Apr. 15, 1839. He had been a member of the school committee for thirty years, retiring some eight years ago, and did a great deal for the schools of this ward. In politics he was originally a Whig, and then a Free Soiler, being a delegate to the Free Soilers' National Convention at Buffalo in 1848, and has since been a Republican. He has always refused to accept any local office, except on the school board, but has served on many important committees. He leaves a widow and three sons, Wm. H. of Waban, John A. and Melvin W. Gould of this place. The funeral Tuesday was conducted by Rev. W. R. Place, assisted by Rev. N. Fellows, and the Mendelssohn quartet sang. Interment at Newton cemetery.

NEWTON LOWER FALLS.

—Our popular police officer, Charles Tainter, returned from a week's vacation to duty Tuesday night.
—Miss Minerva E. and Waldo Leland have returned after spending the month of August at Jefferson Highlands, H. H.
—Judge Geo. White and family returned from the White Mountains last week after a month's visit there.
—Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Rice are home after spending the season at beach resorts in Maine.
—The Newton & Watertown Gas Co. are putting new mains in through the lower section of Washington street.
—A horse of Andrew Burnett's took the colic outside of Freeman block, Saturday evening, but a brisk walking soon revived him. The horse was in charge of a servant, who after the occurrence, would not take further responsibility and he was taken home, the carriage being left.
—The Labor Day picnic of St. John's parish attracted a crowd of over 10,000 people many of whom spent the day and evening in the grounds, finding amusement in the variety of attractions offered. The festivities of the week are being largely attended evenings, excellent entertainments, including a band concert are taking place in the grounds, in the tent after the termination of which dancing, to the music of Levy's Orchestra, has the principal call. Full report on the 3rd page.

WABAN.

—Mr. Thompson has been enjoying a short vacation at Sunapee.
—Mr. William Armstrong and family have returned from Scituate beach.
—Mrs. Edwin Litchfield of Roxbury is the guest of her sister, Mrs. S. K. Reading.
—Mrs. E. S. Phelps has been entertaining her mother.
—Miss Heaton returned from Patchogue on Tuesday.
—Miss Hattie Woodward has had a most enjoyable month at Magnolia.
—Officer Johnson is now occupying the home at the estate of the late Frederick Collins.
—Mr. W. E. Gould has the sympathy of this little community on the death of his father.
—Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Strong have been entertaining friends during the last two weeks.
—Mr. C. V. Campbell and family are at home after a two weeks outing at Kennebunkport, Me.
—Mr. E. L. Eldridge of Washington, D. C., and her two sons have returned to their home after a visit to Mrs. Fred Woodward.
—Mr. J. W. Heaton made a short business trip to New York the early part of the week. During his absence Mrs. Heaton visited friends at Hyde Park.
—Mr. E. P. Rand in company with Mr. Fred Woodward and Masters Willard and Fred Woodward have been camping in Sawin's Woods, Dover, for the past week.
—A party of young misses from Auburndale met with a slight accident while driving on Woodward street last Saturday. The horse gave a sudden start, breaking the shafts, but no further injury was done. Kind residents cared for the horse and carriage while its occupants made their way home on the train.

Newton Club Tournament.

The large number of ladies and gentlemen who witnessed the all day tournament on the Newton Club's new tennis courts on Monday, Sept. 3rd, were surprised and pleased to see such fine courts and such brilliant playing from members of that organization. This tournament while being a most festive occasion has proven the courts to be of the finest, and that the club is not lacking in the best of material for this sport as well as for the other gentlemen's games. Music and gay toilets added much to the otherwise gala aspect, and the occasion was most propitious as a forerunner of more enjoyable ones on these courts in the future. The splendid work of some of the players was a general surprise to the hitherto champions, and much amusement was afforded. Following is the score:

NEWTON CLUB TENNIS TOURNAMENT.
FIRST ROUND.
Follett	defeated	Sprague	6-3, 2-6, 6-3
Chase	"	Cobb	by default
Woods	"	Carter	6-2, 6-2
Rice	"	Fearing	by default
Felton	"	Estabrook	6-3, 6-1
Barker	"	Baker	8-6, 7-5
Copeland	"	Mason	6-0, 6-3
Clarke	"	Coolidge	by default
SECOND ROUND.
Follett	"	Chase	by default
Woods	"	Rice	6-2, 6-0
Barker	"	Fearing	6-3, 6-1
Copeland	"	Clarke	6-0, 6-1
SEMI-FINALS.
Woods	"	Follett	by default
Copeland	"	Barker	7-5, 6-1
FINALS.
Woods	"	Copeland	6-1, 6-4

Miss Spear's School

will begin its next year's work Monday, September 10th. Applications received at the school room, Bacon's Block, mornings after September 3rd, or at 89 Walnut Park, evenings.
Special classes will be formed in Penmanship under charge of W. C. Burnham, and in French and German with experienced native teachers.
Former pupils who wish to retain their seats, but are unable to be present at the beginning of the session, will please send their applications to the principal before September 10th. 48 3t

A. M. Bailey, a well known citizen of Eugene, Oregon, says his wife has for years been troubled with chronic diarrhea and used many remedies with little relief until she tried Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhea Remedy, which has cured her sound and well. Give it a trial and you will be surprised at the prompt relief it affords. 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by A. Hudson, Newton; E. W. Keyes, Auburndale; B. B. Buck, Newton Centre; E. F. Partridge, Newtonville; B. Billings, Newton Upper Falls.

What do you take medicine for? Because you are sick and want to get well, of course. Then remember, Hood's Sarsaparilla Cures.

The Way of Long Twilight.

On first thought it seems to be a rather paradoxical statement that the nearer we approach to the equator the shorter is that intermediate stage or transition from day to night and from night to day, which we call "twilight." This being the case, however, the period of duration of "the dim, uncertain light" in all tropical countries is very short when compared with that of countries of high northern or southern latitude. The explanation is this: On the equator the sun's path is at exact right angles with the horizon. The last beam of light fades from view when the sun is at 18 degrees below the horizon. This 18 degree mark is quickly reached at the equator for reasons given in the first sentence of this explanation. The farther from the equator we get the less become the angles which the sun's course makes with the horizon, and the longer the time required for him to reach the 18 degree mark; hence the longer the period of twilight.—St. Louis Republic.

"The Paradise of Tips."

"The paradise of tips," as we are told by a writer in The Kleine Zeitung, is Carlsbad. His estimate is that not less than a million marks must be paid during the season in the questionable shape of "voluntary" gifts or gratuities to waiters and others, which do not appear in any bill. Everybody who does you any service in Carlsbad looks for his or her "trinkgeld" before you depart. The waiter gets upon an average from 6 to 10 florins (12 shillings to £1). The maiden who serves you with water at the Brunnen expects and mostly receives 3 florins, the postman gets a florin, and there are various other male and female benefactors to whom you pay what you please.

A Valuable Play Toy.

Miss Olive Schreiner recently told the following story: She and her brothers and sisters had as one of their playthings a bright stone that they called the candle stone. It was about the size of a walnut and would flash in a bright and singular way when held to the light. Not until she had quite grown up and the candle stone had been lost for years did any of them realize that it was a diamond of doubtless immense value. The Kimberley mines were in the unknown future, but this stone had perhaps been washed down by some torrent or brought by other chance from that region.
Rubinstein's first teacher was his mother, and his first concert tour as a virtuoso was made when he was not quite 10 years of age.

Butter and Flour.

A barrel of Pride of Newton Flour and a tub of our best Butter makes a good successful combination and one that we guarantee to suit.

C. O. Tucker & Co.,

Newton, Newton Centre.
Telephone Connection.

NEW HAY AND GRAIN STORE

At Newton Centre.
Hay and All Kinds of Grain, Gluten, Cotton Seed, Etc.
BURKE & BELISS,
Old Post Office Building, Pleasant Street.

West Newton English and Classical School.

THE FORTY SECOND YEAR

of this Family Day School for Boys and Girls begins
Wednesday, Sept. 19, '94.
Prepares for College, Scientific School, Business and a useful life. Attention to character building. Send for Catalogue or call Tuesdays at ALLEN BROTHERS, West Newton.

Photographers.

GEORGE S. BRAZER,
(SUCCESSOR TO ODIN FRITZ.)
PHOTOGRAPHIC
Also Portraits in Oil, Water Color and Pastel.
358 CENTRE STREET, NEWTON, MASS.

Chandler & Spayer.
Portrait and Landscape Photographers.
West Newton, Mass.

WILLIAM E. DOYLE,
43 Tremont St., Boston.
Conservatories: 1509 Cambridge Street, Cambridge, Mass.

FLORIST.

Birthplace of Franklin, Opposite Old South Church.

Walter C. Brooks & Co.

Importing Tailors.

15 Milk Street, Boston, Mass.

W. C. BROOKS, Residence, N. Centre.

Fine Woolens at Moderate Prices.

PEARMAN & BROOKS Members of..... Boston Stock Exchange.
Stock and Bond Brokers.
Orders by Mail Promptly Executed. Good Bonds and Mortgages on hand for immediate delivery.
Correspondence Solicited.
Stock Exchange Building, 53 State St., Boston.
SUMNER B. PEARMAIN. L. LORING BROOKS.

Beautiful Melodies for Violin and Piano

Twenty-five Cents!!!
WALTZ—Kathleen O'Connor.
" Daisy Bell.
" Tabasco.
" The Little Maid in Pink.
" Won't You Be My Sweetheart?
All Popular and Perfect Gems.
Price 25 cts. each, or the five Pieces for $1.00!!
JEAN WHITE, Publisher.
226 Washington Street, Boston, Mass.

Carpets

.....Cleaned.

Having opened an agency at
Paine's Upholstery Rooms,
COLE'S BLOCK,
—am prepared to fill all orders for the—
Taking Up, Cleaning and Relaying of Carpets,
at short notice and in the best manner.
PETER S. WHITE,
Newton.

DR. ETNA JEWETT,
Magnetic : : Physician,
37 BOYLSTON ST., Room 6, BOSTON.

BICYCLES

Renting and Repairing.

Agent for Singer's, Spaulding's, Credenda's, Crawford's, and all the Leading Bicycles. Wheels sold on Easy Terms and old wheels taken in exchange.
Repairing of all kinds by skilled workmen in the best equipped repair shop in any of the New towns.

E. E. BROWN,
Bray's New Block, Newton Centre.
Directly opposite the Depot.

Wood! Wood!

100 cords hard wood for sale, suitable for fire logs.
W. H. HYDE, Box 182, NEWTON CENTRE.

WHITE MOUNTAINS.
Orient House, Kearsarge, N. H.

High situation, spring water, pine woods, grand mountain scenery. A beautiful summer resort. Special rates till July 15th. Send for circular. 38 L. WHEELER & SON, Prop's.

BEVERLY BROS. BAKERS.

Having recently put a cart on the road, are prepared to serve customers living in Newtonville, West Newton, Newton Centre and the Highlands.
354 Centre St., Newton.

Established in Boston, 1850.
F. PARTHEIMULLER,
Manufacturer in Rattan and Willow. Latest Styles of the popular English Willow Chair, Sofa, Baskets, and all kinds of Wicker Work.
24 HARVARD STREET, Next Street South of Kneeland Street, Boston.

Before Purchasing a Wheel

—CALL AT—
BARBER BROS., 415 Centre St.,
Newton Agents, and see the 1894 New Mail.

Highest Possible Grade, 12 Years Reputation. Also a few Second Hand Wheels at a Bargain for Early Comers.

NEW SHOE STORE

In Bray's New Block, Newton Centre. Old friends and new please call for bargains. Shoes of all and Furnishing Goods for gentlemen. A special line for Misses and Children.
GEO. H. LOOMER.

Jars and Jelly Tumblers. New Invoice.

W. O. KNAPP & CO.,
White's Block, Newton Centre.

WOOD FOR SALE

—AT THE—
NEWTON CEMETERY.

WEBER

The Newton Highlands Baker, leaves Hot Rolls at Knapp's, Stevens' and Tucker's Newton Centre Stores at 4 o'clock P. M.
EVERY DAY.

THE NEWTON GRAPHIC.

VOL. XXII.—NO. 50.

NEWTON, MASS., FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 14, 1894.

TERMS—$2.00 A YEAR.

THE First National Bank of W. Newton.

J. H. NICKERSON, President. A. E. MITCHELL, Vice-President.
EDWARD P. HATCH, Cashier.

CAPITAL $100,000.

SURPLUS $10,000.

We offer every facility to our depositors for the transaction of their business, consistent with safe banking methods, welcome small depositors, and furnish check books free to all.

SAFE DEPOSIT BOXES TO RENT FOR $5 PER ANNUM.

North Packing & Provision Co.

Were Given the Only Awards to New England Packers.

MEDALS AND DIPLOMAS

WORLD'S FAIR, CHICAGO.

Highest Award for Pure Leaf Lard, Hams, Bacon, Dry Salted and Pickled Meats, Barrel Pork, Pure Lard, Sausages.

TRADE MARK. — TRY THEM — TRADE MARK.

NORTH STAR BRAND

Pure Leaf Lard, Hams, Bacon, Dry Salted and Pickled Meats, Barrel Pork, Pure Lard, Sausages.

SURE TO PLEASE YOU

TAKE NO OTHER.

Seashore, Yachting, Camping and Vacation Requirements.

Cholera, Typhoid, Malaria, and other Tropical Diseases.

CHAS. L. RICHARDSON & CO.,

Staple and Fancy Groceries,

166 LINCOLN STREET, - BOSTON, MASS.

CIGARS — Butter is very low

Wholesale and Retail... just at present.

HURCHILL AND BEAN Tailors

503 Washington Street, BOSTON.

FINE DRESS SUITS A SPECIALTY.

CALL UP CENTRAL

AND THEY WILL CONNECT YOU WITH

273-3.

ASHLEY & DOANE.

GARDEN CITY MARKET.

WALTHAM Employment Bureau,

Main St., opp. Post Office.

ROOM THREE. — UP STAIRS.

JOHN B. SHEERIN,

Over L. Riley & Co., Dry Goods Store.

First class domestic help furnished at short notice.

Refrigerators

—AND—

Baby Carriages

—AT—

Bent's Furniture Rooms,

64 Main St., Watertown.

L. H. CRANITCH, House, Sign, and Ornamental PAINTER.

Paper Hangings in great variety and work promptly done.

Walnut St., - Newtonville.

2nd door from Central Block.

MR. WM. I. HOWELL

Pianoforte, Organ and Theory.

Also, SIGHT SINGING.

149 A TREMONT ST., BOSTON, MASS.

Residence, 91 Newtonville Avenue. 50 2m

Shirts

MADE TO ORDER.

A Perfect Fit Guaranteed. Best Material.

First-Class Work.

Superior Shirts, $1.50. Best Dress Shirts, $2.00.

Will call on customers at such time and place as will suit their convenience.

Repairing in Done Neatly and Promptly.

New Boston, 50c; Neckbands, 15c; Collars, 25c; Cuffs, 15c; Pockets, 25c.

Badly fitting shirt made to fit well.

E. B. BLACKWELL,

43 Thornton St., - Newton, Mass.

Democratic Caucus.

Pursuant to the call of the Democratic State Committee, the Democrats of Newton are requested to meet in Caucus on Friday, Sept. 21, 1894.

AT 7.30 P. M.

In their respective Wards as follows:—

Ward 1, Armory Hall.

Ward 2, Room 6, Central Block.

Ward 3, City Hall.

Ward 4, Auburn Hall.

Ward 5, Old Prospect School House.

Ward 6, Associates' Small Hall.

Ward 7, Eliot Lower Hall.

For the purpose of choosing delegates to each of the following Conventions, viz., State, Congressional and Councillor.

The respective Wards are entitled to delegates to each of these Conventions as follows:—Ward 1, 3 delegates; Ward 2, 4 delegates; Ward 3, 4 delegates; Ward 4, 3 delegates; Ward 5, 3 delegates; Ward 6, 3 delegates; Ward 7, 2 delegates.

The Caucuses are to be held in accordance with the provisions of the Election Act of 1883, and are to be called to order as follows:—Ward 1, by William F. Grace; Ward 2, by George M. Cranitch; Ward 3, by G. M. Cox; Ward 4, by P. A. McVicar; Ward 5, by James E. Conners; Ward 6, by George Linder; Ward 7, by H. C. Camp.

By order of the Democratic Ward and City Committee.

FRANK H. HOWES, President.

H. C. CAMP, Secretary.

...VIOLIN...

TEACHER AND SOLOIST.

Miss Marian Ogden commences teaching Monday, September 17th. Terms moderate. Special attention given to children and beginners. Ensemble practice given as soon as sufficiently advanced. Small orchestra furnished for concerts, receptions, musicals, etc. Address 34 Newton Street, Faneuil.

50 3m

Don't Drink

Impure water longer than for 50c, you can buy a good filter. They will fit a faucet which it has a thread or not. Call and see at Barber Bros

NEWTON.

—Pianos, Farley, 433 Washington St., N.

—Mrs. Dr. J. F. Frisbie has returned from her visit in Winchester.

—Miss Etta Worth of Morse street is seriously ill.

—There is a case of diphtheria reported on Green street in the Nonantum district.

—Ray Coppins entered the Worcester Military Academy this week.

—Mr. William F. Hammett and wife of Sargent street have gone to Canterbury, N. H.

—Miss Annie E. Appin of Carlton street leaves Saturday morning with a party of friends for the White Mountains.

—Rev. Dr. Byington and family of Franklin street have just returned home from Vermont.

—Miss Minnie Leonard has returned from a pleasant vacation trip passed at Bangor, Maine, and vicinity.

—The new double house which is being erected by the Stanley Bros. on Jefferson street, is rapidly approaching completion.

—Repair the old shirts for fall wear. Order new shirts for winter use. See Blackwell's Ad. on this page.

—Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Hadden and family of Fayette street have returned from Chester, N. H.

—Prof. H. E. Munroe's fourth season of dancing school commences in Armory Hall, Friday afternoon, Oct. 12, at 4.30 o'clock.

—Miss Amy L. Jones of Annapolis Co., N. S., formerly of Newton, is visiting her brother, Charles F. Jones, of Washington street.

—A friend has given $1000 to the Workingmen's Home, and a friend of the industrial school in this city, connected with the former institution, $500.

—Mrs. E. J. Whiton of Church street had a very beautiful bouquet of flowers which she opened this week, which was admired by many friends.

—Two of the professors of Trinity College, Hartford, who are making a tour of New England on their wheels, were guests at Hotel Hunnewell the past week.

—Mr. and Mrs. Francis Stanley and Raymond Stanley of Franklin street have returned from a four weeks trip to the Isle of Springs, Farmington and Auburn, Me.

—Miss Robbins of the Juvenile and Mrs. Robbins have returned from the White Mountains, where they have spent the summer, and have received a fine assortment of the latest styles in fall millinery.

—Music in Grace church Sunday night: Processional, "Pleasant are thy courts above." Magnificat, "For he became a King." Nunc Dimittis, "Clare." Anthem, "I will praise God." H. B. Day. Recessional, "On our way rejoicing." All seats free.

—Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Cutler and family of Franklin street will be visiting at main at Wood's Hall until October 1st. This week they entertained Mrs. Lamont, wife of the secretary of war, also Mrs. Bryant, wife of Dr. Bryant of President Cleveland's household.

—Music in Eliot church, Sunday evening: Organ Prelude, Mendelssohn. Anthem, "For he became a King." Oliver King. Benedictus, "From Mine Solenne." Gounod. "O God to whom we look up blindly." Chadwick. Soprano Solo, "Adore and be still." Gullmant. Organ Postlude.

The choir will be assisted by Miss Elizabeth Hamlin, soprano.

—Among the guests at Hotel Hunnewell the past week have been Mrs. Sumner and her daughter, Mrs. Joseph Melmoth of Kansas City, Mo., formerly of Newtonville; Mr. and Mrs. Crane of Boston; Miss Walter L. Littlefield of Boston; Miss Phelps and Miss Julia Phelps of New York City; Miss Grace Spence of Chicago; Mrs. H. A. Brooke, Mrs. Royal Winter, Ex-Mayor H. E. Hibbard, Mr. Thomas Phelps and Mr. Waldo Henry of Newton.

—A pleasant surprise party took place at the home of Mrs. G. Wilson of Richardson street, Wednesday evening, in honor of her daughter, Anne, who is visiting at the Watertown division of the Sons of Temperance was present in a body and nearly 100 of her shop mates of the Waltham Watch Factory. In the midst of the festivities a beautiful gold watch was presented to her. The house was tastefully decorated with flowers and golden red. The table in the dining room was fairly loaded with good things. Lighted candles denoted the age of the young hostess. After the supper the usual pleasant social features were enjoyed.

—A notable excellent piece of stained glass work has just been executed by the McDonald firm of Boston for Grace church. It is a window in memory of Mary Endicott Pond, who died last December. It is placed in the north wall of the church by the side of the beautiful La Farge window erected in memory of Miss Shinn. It is in exact harmony with the La Farge window in tones and general outline, although entirely different in all details. Upon a background of deep blue is a scroll, surrounded by palm branches, bearing the motto, "Whose names are in the Book of Life." At the bottom is the memorial inscription. There are numerous well finished features which come out as it is carefully studied, while the general effect is most satisfactory. The dedication took place Wednesday, Sept. 12.

—Upon the occasion of the retirement of Superintendent Ballantyne of the Nonantum Worsted Mills, last Saturday, there was a very pleasant affair arranged in the nature of a surprise and as a mark of respect and esteem to one who had so long been identified with one of Newton's principal industries. It was the afternoon that a group of about thirty of the employees of the Worsted Mills, under the leadership of Mr. John Gill, overseer of the designing department, presented him in behalf of the overseers and second hands of the mill with a solid gold chain, a gold watch charm set with diamonds and a valuable diamond shirt stud. Mr. Ballantyne, after recovering his composure, made an appropriate response expressing his appreciation of the gifts which, he said, would be treasured as valued tokens of the pleasant relations with the employees of the mill. Mr. Ballantyne's successor is Mr. Joseph Battles of Lowell. Mr. Battles is a well known club man and a member of the Yesters and other organizations of the Spindle city.

—The tomb containing the remains of Gen. William H. Hull of the war of 1812 fame was broken open last Saturday. The tomb is located in a secluded portion of the old Centre street cemetery and contained beside the remains of the war veteran, other members of his family. A man who had been in the neighborhood Saturday found that the entrance to the tomb had been broken open and immediately communicated his discovery by telephone to Sgt. Mitchell at police headquarters. The latter dispatched Officers Young and Fuller to the cemetery. They found that the tomb had been broken open and the remains of the war veteran, other members of his family, were greatly exaggerated. The marble door, he states, was broken and the padlock was stolen. The desecration of the tomb was in the opinion of the descendants of Gen. Hull and the police of this city the work of boys. The tomb will be faced with a granite front at once, thereby permanently sealing it.

—The Channing Sunday school begins regular sessions again the coming Sunday.

—Mr. H. W. Wellington and family have returned from Wianan.

—Mrs. C. E. Billings and family have returned from Magnolia.

—Mr. C. W. Lord and family have returned from Cumberland Mills, Me.

—Mr. I. T. Loveland and family have returned from Chatham.

—Mr. W. D. Tripp and family are at Cottage City for a short stay.

—Mrs. W. O. Trowbridge and family have returned from Magnolia.

—Mr. Fred A. Gay and family have returned from Douglass Cottage, Hull.

—Mr. W. F. Bacon of Hyde avenue has gone South on a sea trip.

—Rev. Dr. Wolcott Calkins and family have returned from Magnolia.

—Miss Moore of Boyd street has returned from a month's stay at Winthrop.

—Mr. G. H. Snyder and family return tomorrow from Montreal, Canada.

—Mr. Adams has started the cellar for a new house on Maple street.

—Miss Amy Randall has returned from her outing at Northampton.

—Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Converse arrived home this week from the Seater House, Centre Harbor, N. H.

—Mrs. S. H. Pennell and Miss Elizabeth Pennell have returned from Jefferson, N. H.

—Tonsorial art has much to do with one's appearance. If parents want their children's hair cut in style they go to Burns'.

—Mr. Briggs' new double house on Williams street is nearly completed. He will soon commence the erection of another on land adjoining.

—Rev. L. V. S. Speare and Mr. Joshua Davis will from New York tomorrow on the Werra, to spend six months in southern Europe.

—Wiley S. & Frank Edmunds have leased the house of Chas. E. Lord on Park street to F. A. Miller, Lieutenant Commander, U. S. N.

—Dept. Commander W. A. Wetherbee started for Pittsburgh, Pa., Monday evening, to take part in the national G. A. R. encampment exercises.

—Business at the N. E. telephone office here has increased considerably and a number of new instruments are soon to be added to the present equipment.

—Mr. John D. Morgan went on the excursion to Casco Bay with the N. E. Railroad agents this week. It was the seventh annual trip of the association and one of the most enjoyable in its history.

—On Sunday evening Rev. Mr. Bronson of the Methodist church will preach a sermon especially to bicyclists. All wheelsmen cordially invited.

—Aban. Trowbridge & Co. have rented the Brown house, 128 Nonantum street, to E. Eustis of the Norfolk Rubber Co., Boston. Also the Spooner house, 128 corner Hunnewell avenue and Oakleigh road, to Dr. H. Mason Perkins of Boston. Also 180 Nonantum street to Mrs. Mary Sennott.

—Mr. Frank D. Frisbie, who has been spending the summer in West Newton, Me., started last Monday with a company of six for a carriage drive through the White Mountains. Leaving their carriage at Crystal Cascade they walked up through and through the Ravine to the Summit of Mt. Washington, where they had beautiful views, then down the carriage road to the Glen. They are now in Randolph on their way through Jefferson, Bethlehem, to the Bluff House, then they will return to Newfield by Crawford, Bartlett and Ossipee. A two weeks drive through the White Mountains in September is one of the most delightful trips to be had in New England. The scenery is of a most beautiful and such magnificent scenery should attract the tourists rather than the heats of summer.

—Arrangements are nearly completed for a big Royal Arcanum meeting at Music Hall, Boston, Wednesday evening, Oct. 3rd. The program of entertainment includes selections by Reeves' American Band of Providence; Herbert Johnson's sextet; recitations by Prof. George W. Bligh, of the Eliot church; and address by Supreme Rector Col. Chitt W. Hazard of Monongahela, Penn., and others.

—Mr. Joseph B. Simpson, brother of Messrs. James and Fred Simpson of this city, who was married at Arlington, N. J., Aug. 30th, to Miss Georgia Linnhart of Chicago, went west on his wedding trip on a very thrilling experience.

They were on the steamer Northwest, bound for Duluth, when it went aground, but got off in safety, and took one of the vestibule limited express trains through Minnesota, and the last train had passed safely through the burned district.

Mr. Simpson has sent home very realistic accounts of the terrible experiences the party met with. At one town where they were there was no fire, but in the ten minutes the train stopped, fire swept the town, and every house, the depot and platform were all blazing, and the train took on board a number of firebrands and had a run of eight miles over a burning track, which included several blazing bridges. The stories of death were not exaggerated. Mr. Simpson states, and he gave an account of some of the terrible sights he saw from the train. Fortunately Mr. and Mrs. Simpson passed through in safety and are now in Chicago, where they make their home at the Hyde Park Hotel, Mr. Simpson being in business in that city.

—The funeral of Mrs. Wilfred A. Wetherbee took place here last Saturday afternoon. There was a large attendance at the services, including a delegation representing the G. A. R., W. A. R., Woman's Relief Corps 79, and other organizations. Many neighbors and friends came to pay their tribute of respect to one who has endeared himself to a large circle in the community by her gracious manners, kindly assistance and generous hospitality. Rev. F. B. Hornbroke, pastor of the Channing church, officiated. There were a large number of floral tributes, including a large wreath from Charles Ward post, a mound surmounted by a crescent from Mrs. Wadsworth of Dorchester, a pillow with the words "rest" worked in memory of the employees of Henry Downs & Co., Boston, where a son of deceased is employed, a closed book on a base of calyx leaves and ferns, bearing the inscription, "her life's book is closed," from the G. A. R. comrades of Mr. Wetherbee, department commander of the Massachusetts G. A. R., a wreath from Mr. Wetherbee's business associates and a beautiful design, representing the Woman's Relief Corps 79. The tribute of the sons of deceased was a large pillow inscribed "Mamma." The interment was made in the Newton cemetery. The sympathy of the entire community is extended to Mr. Wetherbee and the immediate family in their sad hour of bereavement.

—Miss Bessie Hyde of Avon place, who has been quite seriously ill, is now convalescing.

—An event of interest here last Tuesday was that of the marriage of Capt. Vail and Mrs. Annie Brannen at the residence of Mr. Charles Burgher, Maple avenue. Rev. Dillon Bronson officiated, only the relatives and near friends witnessing the ceremony. The couple departed on a tour to the north, leaving the bride's return to their home on Maple circle.

—Miss Whiton of Church street had a narrow escape in a runaway accident Monday afternoon. Her horse was frightened by a wagon close in the rear of her vehicle and dashed down Glen street, colliding with an approaching carriage. The rear wheel of Miss Whiton's buggy was taken off. Lewis Winkfield, who witnessed the affair, stopped the horse and prevented more serious consequences.

—There was quite a blaze in the house of Patrick Atkins, 380 Washington street, Monday night. It started in a closet and spread through into an adjoining room. The inmates fought the fire and after hard work extinguished the flames. There was some damage done. There was considerable damage, it is thought, amounting to about $200. The house and contents were insured, but the underwriters may offer some objections to a settlement on the usual basis, owing to the fact that the fire department was not summoned.

—The Veteran Association of the 3rd Massachusetts Regiment visited Gettysburg last Saturday to dedicate its monument. Newton Co., (K), was represented by Col. J. F. Kingsbury and Mr. Hosea Hyde. Others present from this city were Rev. Dr. D. L. Furber, Rev. S. F. Smith, D. D., Postmaster George H. Morgan and John W. Keefe. Capt. I. F. Hoyt of Boston, president of the association, presided at the exercises. Prayer was offered by Rev. Dr. Furber, the oration was delivered by Gen. Luther Stephenson, governor of the Tugus (Maine), Home for Veterans, Rev. Dr. S. F. Smith, D. D., contributed the memorial poem and addresses were made by Capt. Hoyt and others. The monument is in the Loop and is a shelter tent in granite, designed by the late S. C. Spaulding who long resided in this city. The monument is situated on the edge of the woods by the gallant boys of the old 32d. Maj. Robbins of the 4th Alabama Regt. was present at the dedication ceremony. The party of Massachusetts veterans and visitors were photographed in a group about the monument after the ceremonies.

—Lee Ding entertained his cousin this week.

—Mr. Johnson, machinist at the Newton Rubber Works, is quite seriously ill.

—Improvements are being made about the residence of Miss Rosmond.

—The "tall-hat brigade" had possession of the streets Tuesday evening.

—There is a letter at the postoffice for Rosmond Engard.

—Mr. Samuel Hewins gave a farewell party last Monday in honor of Mr. Peter Procter, who sails for England tomorrow.

—Contractor James Cahill and William E. Hurd have each bought a pair of fine work horses.

—Messrs. Joshua Randall and John Thomson attended the Veteran Firemen's muster yesterday at Pawtucket, R. I.

—Warren Campbell was seriously bit by a dog belonging to Joseph Hall on Wednesday morning.

—Mr. Daniel Hurley and family have moved into their handsome new house on High street.

—Mrs. Daly has recovered from the shock sustained by her in the recent runaway accident.

—The Upper Falls tug-of-war team, who won $50 in gold at St. John's carnival last week, celebrated their victory in "Canada" Tuesday night.

—The main shaft at the Pettie Machine Works broke down Tuesday morning, causing a shut down for the day until it was repaired.

—Rev. H. S. Davis of the Baptist church has been appointed chaplain of the State Prison, and will resign his position here and remove there with his family.

—Supt. C. H. Davis has resigned his position at the Newton mills and has accepted a position as superintendent of the large Champlain mills at Whitehall, N. Y. Mr. Robert O'Hara from Lakewood, N. J., a former superintendent, takes charge here.

—Peter Procter, Frank Simpson and Mr. Twigg of Highlandville sail for Europe on Saturday. Procter will take over four carriages from the lot of David L. Hurley and will release them in England after arrival there, with the hope that they will find their way across the Atlantic. The birds are the strongest and best that Mr. Lillies has.

—The horse belonging to Mr. Chesley, which dropped down the precipice from High street last week with a loaded gravel cart, has survived and will doubtless be all right in a week or so. It was a rough experience and no one of those who saw the cart horse take a sheer drop of 30 feet on Eliot street expected to see the animal get out alive.

A Card.

The large number of communications, rendering individual response almost impossible, I take this method of thanking my many friends for their kind words of sympathy tendered me in my affliction.

Also to extend my heartfelt thanks for the generous gifts of flowers, and other kind attentions shown my wife during her illness, with the assurance that both their acts and words will never be forgotten.

Sincerely,

WILFRED A. WETHERBEE.

Miss Spear's School

will begin its next year's work Monday, September 10th. Applications received at the school rooms, Bacon's block, mornings after September 3rd, or at 89 Walnut Park, evenings.

Special classes will be formed in Penmanship under charge of W. C. Burnham, and in French and German with experienced native teachers.

Former pupils who wish to retain their seats, but are unable to be present at the beginning of the session, will please send their applications to the principal before September 10th. 48 St

GARDEN CITY'S FOUR HUNDRED.

VERY BRILLIANT SEASON AT THE NEWTON CLUB THIS WINTER.

It seems certain that the coming winter season will have more than ordinary interest for society people. It promises to be brilliant in many ways for there are numerous notable events chronicled that will bring out the most representative gatherings of recent years. The chief points of attraction will be the elegantly equipped Newton clubhouse where the smart set, comprising Newton's "Four Hundred," will be provided with a series of receptions, assemblies, concerts and entertainments that will surpass in charm of detail and beauty of environment the admirably arranged program of a year ago.

The executive and entertainment committees have not completed their labors yet and, consequently, the full list of winter events has not been made up. Enough progress has been made, however, to show that the record of preceding seasons, brilliant as they may have been, will be eclipsed.

Some of the fixtures have been, of course, settled upon. It has been voted to give a series of five symphony concerts, with Adamowski or Kneisel as leader. There will be a series of six assemblies, and owing to the popularity of what last season, a series of drive what parties will be arranged. The opening Fall reception will occur on Wednesday evening, Nov. 14; the first ladies' night, Oct. 17, (the feature in connection with it to be either an assembly or a drive what party.) After Oct. 17, the third and first Wednesdays of each month during the winter season will be given up to the ladies. The entire house upon these occasions will be thrown open to them as last year. Saturday nights will be reserved for the gentlemen and there will be some entertaining feature for their amusement. It is probable that an afternoon series of lectures for the ladies will be arranged and, in that event, some talented women will address audiences made up of intelligent representatives of their sex upon topics of interest. "Gentlemen's night" will be made more of a feature than ever before; in fact, every effort and care will be given to make the various departments of the club popular and attractive. What will be a great feature this year. The department will be under the direction of Mr. Fisher Ames and it will be developed with a view to sending a strong team to the meet of the American Whist League in Minneapolis. The Newton Club team made a very creditable showing in the national whist tourney last winter. The club was greatly honored by the league in the selection of Mr. George W. Morse as one of its directors. It was both a high compliment to Mr. Morse and to the Newton Club, the latter being now represented in the directorate of the American Whist Congress.

It has been decided not to enter a team this year in the Massachusetts league bowling competitions. Last season, the Newton Club team made a good showing and, as a matter of fact, it has every year since the organization of the state league. Still, it has been thought best, to develop local or club tournaments this year. Some matches will probably be arranged with league clubs from time to time and friendly tournaments arranged with clubs located in this vicinity. There will be departure this season, perhaps, in the make-up of teams. It is proposed to roll ten men instead of five and two strings instead of three. It would enable a larger number of players to participate in the matches with teams representing other clubs and would besides be an economy of time. The three-string contests are so often long drawn out, that there is hardly an opportunity for any succeeding social interchanges and it seems an excellent move, therefore, to provide some way to gain time for the chat and agreeable hour

CITY GOVERNMENT.

HEARING ON WIDENING WASHINGTON STREET—ROUTINE BUSINESS OF VARIOUS IMPORTANCE.

The city council held their first regular meeting since the summer vacation on Monday evening.

The hearing on the widening of Washington street to a width of 75 and 85 feet, was the most vital business of the evening and City Hall was filled with citizens and friends before the hour of the hearing had arrived.

The two branches of the city council convened in their respective chambers for a few moments and then adjourned upstairs where they took seats upon the platform and Mayor Fenno opened the hearing.

WIDENING WASHINGTON STREET.

Those in favor of the proposed improvement were first called upon to express their views. Alderman Bothfeld, chairman of the highway committee, prior to the voicing of public sentiment on the matter, at the request of the mayor, explained what was proposed in the way of carrying out the project. In response to the request, Alderman Bothfeld said that the entire subject had been given careful consideration by the highway committee. It was decided, he continued, to recommend a widening of 86 feet, except that portion of the street abutting the Boston & Albany railroad tracks, where a width of 75 feet was deemed sufficient. The plan provides for carrying the electric car tracks close to the B. & A. line with a narrow sidewalk on that side of the thoroughfare, possibly 3 or 4 feet wide, simply providing a walk for the convenience of persons getting on and off the cars. The 55 feet width will cover three-quarters of the distance between the Newton bank and West Newton. From the bank to Church street, it is proposed to widen on the south side; from Church street crossing to Brookside avenue on the north side; from Brookside avenue to the house at West Newton, the street is 75 feet wide; from the car house to the park in West Newton the widening will be partly on the south side.

The committee, said Alderman Bothfeld in conclusion, believe that the improvement is demanded in the interests of the safety and convenience of the public; that it is in fact, a public necessity. It is not proposed to widen under the betterment act. The land damage has been carefully figured and the estimate of land cost and construction, carefully estimated by the city engineer, will be under $250,000.

Mr. Joseph Byers was the first speaker in remonstrance. He said that he desired to enter a protest because he thought the city was not prepared to deal with the improvement at this time. The chairman of the highway committee, he added, stated that only one house would be disturbed under the plan which he outlined. Now, I have two houses that would be seriously disturbed. There is no room to move them back. Alderman Bothfeld says that the cost will not exceed $250,000. I have estimated the land damage roughly and I figure that the cost from Lowell to Harvard street will be $100,000. I am willing to concede the necessity for widening. There are things that I want and that seem necessary, if I can afford them, I should have them; if not I must rest contented with them. Now I think the City of Newton is just in that position at this time. It cannot afford now to undertake this improvement.

I keep a horse and have been driving through Washington street the last 14 years. I never yet saw a blockade that I could not get through with little difficulty. The street cannot be widened without large expense and the question is are we in a position to do it now? There are two blocks in Newtonville square that will be cut in two if this improvement is carried out. The cost will be, I think, a very large item. I protest against it, because I do not believe the tax payers are ready to do this thing. Can Newton afford it? At the present rate of taxes, I think not. [Applause.]

Mr. Henry F. King appeared for Julia A. Houghton who owned a business block on Washington street. He believed thoroughly that the street should be widened and the time was ripe for such action, but wished to enter a protest in Mrs. Houghton's behalf. The owner was dependent upon the income of the building and by widening of the street it would be so irreparably injured that her source of income would be stopped.

Mr. Austin R. Mitchell asked the chairman of the highway committee if Clinton block would not have to be moved back?

Alderman Bothfeld said it would. When he spoke of only one house being untouched he was thinking particularly of dwellings and not of business places. Alderman Bothfeld in reply to Mr. Mitchell stated that the highway committee was aware that the blocks in Newtonville on the north side must be moved back. He said that he referred to houses on the north side when he said that only one would be disturbed. The point, he added, is a trivial one and does not deteriorate from the necessity of the improvement. I am very glad, however, to be corrected in any slip that I may make, and it is the desire of the committee to present the facts.

Mr. Mitchell—I hope the widening will be made on the south side, even if the cost should be more. I think we need wide roads and that the advisability of widening on the south side, to get a broad way, should be carefully looked into.

Mr. Ballou appeared for an estate on Washington street, adjoining Mr. Mitchell's land. He protested, he said, because it would injure the lot, making it only 55 feet in depth and consequently damage its value for building or sale. Mr. Houghton objected for the Alvin Houghton estate. He said that it would necessitate moving three houses in which he was interested back close to the line of the railroad fence. The city engineer said that there was a depth of land in the rear of the house of 150 feet, but Mr. Houghton thought he must be mistaken.

Dr. Otis E. Hunt—Those who have spoken tonight do not oppose the widening. The objectors are concerned purely from a money standpoint. They want to be assured of getting full damages if their buildings are disturbed. Now, I understand the city proposes to deal fairly by them. If these people felt sure that they were going to be paid for their property, would they not all be in favor of the improvement? Nobody has pretended that the widening was not necessary. The car tracks have made the street very bad for travel. If we need a thing, why not have it if it is a mere question of money? Whatever the cost is, the city can and must pay it.

The time to put this improvement through is now. Pretty soon the railroad will be asking for another track. I hope they won't get it with the street in its present condition. If ten feet more is taken up by more rails, there will be no room left hardly. As to the widening on the north or south side, it is merely a question of judgment to be left to the highway committee. In the last ten years, travel on Washington street has increased 40 per cent. If it increases in that proportion and the street remains as it is, what is going to be the condition ten years from now? It is useless to say that the street can be widened at less cost at some future time. The present is the time to do it, when the people recognize the necessity, and the cost is not likely to be so great as at some later time. [Applause.]

Mr. John B. Goodrich—This is one of the biggest things Newton has ever undertaken. It seems too bad that the highway committee did not give a hearing to parties interested before deciding this matter of widening. I understand that it is practically done and that this hearing is called simply in conformity to statute requirement, giving an opportunity for protest and to give notice of claims for damages.

Mayor Fenno—The City of Newton has taken no action in this matter. Mr. Goodrich—I am glad to learn that. It is as it should be. I believe the widening ought to be made and made in the best possible manner. It should be done after careful deliberation to the end that no mistakes are made. I assume that the board of aldermen will consider the matter very carefully. So far as the plan proposed is concerned, there is a difficulty beginning with the Jackson estate. The widening there goes up nearly to the doors of that old mansion, one of the landmarks of the city, practically destroying the value of the estate. Opposite the Jackson homestead there are two cottages perched up in the air in a place where they never should have been erected, and between a coal yard that some persons have dreamed might be removed to some other place when the plan for widening and beautifying Washington street was made. The question is could not the street be widened at this point on the south side, getting rid of those little houses at the coal yard? It is not so easily feasible as an engineering problem to widen the street there on the south side. In doing that, the most of the Jackson estate would be saved and you would likewise save from mutilation the Catholic church estate. You ought to save that property if you can. The Catholic parish is one of the largest, probably the largest in the city. The church grounds have been attractively laid out, converting a gravel bank into a beautiful estate that is an ornament to the city. This spot is the church and social home of thousands of our citizens. The grounds have been laid out with a view to the future. Along the present line of Washington street, there is a magnificent row of young trees that must be removed if the thoroughfare is widened on the north side. The trees cannot be transplanted; they are too large. It is proposed to cut off 40 feet from the front of this estate, bringing the dusty, noisy street up nearly to the doors of the church and parochial residence. Don't do it, if you can possibly avoid it. Don't do it, even if you are obliged to enter the sacred precincts of that coal yard; don't do it even if you have to remove those air castles perched up on the hill. [Applause.]

Money doesn't pay the Catholic church people for the loss of their grounds. Why, when it was proposed to do this very thing some two years ago, a memorial in remonstrance was prepared to present to the city council signed by 270 or more tax payers and citizens. The scheme was abandoned at that time and the memorial was not, therefore, presented. That memorial is just as good now, however, as it was then and it is submitted at this time for the consideration of the city government.

Take as much land as is necessary for this improvement, but save the estate if you can. Why not deflect and make a slight curve there, again going back to the north side. The railroad certainly would be willing to allow the city to take some of its land for such a public improvement. It certainly could not afford to take an attitude in opposition to such a proposition. If the railroad has not refused to do this, we may presume that there is no difficulty there. From an aesthetic standpoint, it would be a good idea to have all unsightly things removed as far as practical in carrying out the improvement. The board will study this question and determine whether there really is any obstacle in widening at this point on the south side. The course of Bellevue street could be changed so as to render the widening on the south side feasible. The cost for damages on the south side would be much less. So far as damages and satisfaction to the people of Newton are concerned, it would be vastly better to save the Jackson estate and the Catholic church property. If it can be reasonably done, we ask you to do it. [Applause.]

Mr. E. S. Smilie, civil engineer, was called upon by Mr. Goodrich to state if in his judgment, it was feasible to widen on the south side opposite the Jackson, Maskell and Catholic church estates. He stated that there was no engineering difficulty in the way and that it was perfectly feasible to divert the line of Bellevue street, following more closely the B. & A. railroad tracks to Washington street. A plan prepared by Mr. Smilie for widening on the south side above Church street to a point beyond the Catholic church estate was submitted to the city council for its consideration before final action is taken.

Mr. Jesse C. Ivy—Mr. Bothfeld, what would be the cost of widening if the land was taken wholly on the south side?

Alderman Bothfeld—About $400,000.

Mr. Ivy—And in the way proposed, the cost would be about $250,000?

Alderman Bothfeld—Yes sir.

Mr. Ivy—What would be the difference in cost in the plan recommended by the highway committee and that of widening on the south side from Church to Crafts street?

Mr. Ivy—I appear here tonight representing several parties who are desirous of having the street widened. It seems clear from the discussion this evening that the street can never be widened in a manner to give satisfaction to every one. The highway committee has been congratulated that so little opposition has been made to its plan. If there is a deviation at this point and that point, the result will not be a symmetrical street, and as many difficulties will be presented in making the deviations as in the way proposed. The public is suffering great inconvenience from the condition of Washington street and it seems to be the unanimous opinion that widening is a necessity. The fatal accident which cost our late lamented fire chief his life is fresh in memory. The street is not wide enough for public travel. I am not an expert in engineering matters, but I think it would be criminal for our municipality to continue to permit such a state of things as exist in Washington street at the present time. An electrical engineer who rode with me on the car here tonight said that the street was dangerous for public travel. The electric cars run very close to trees and posts and if derailed a very serious accident would surely result. Now, when the street is widened, that menace to public safety will be removed.

There has been no opposition to the widening. Everybody wants the street widened. Some don't want the widening to result in taking any of their land. The City of Newton is going to deal squarely by its citizens in this matter, to the end that nobody will be injured as far as taking land is concerned. This applies to dwelling house property. It doesn't apply, perhaps, to an institution, school or church. If practical, therefore, I think a deviation might be made along the line of the Catholic church estate. My message from my clients to this board is, however, very brief. They instruct me to say that they want you to do something. [Applause.]

Mr. W. S. French—In the interests of owners of land to be taken for the widening, I think that some assurance should be given by the city that individual rights will be protected. The highway committee might call a meeting for the purpose of hearing the objections on the line of the proposed improvement, giving them an opportunity to furnish estimates of the amount of damage from their standpoint, and then coming to an agreement if possible as to the amount. The city can go ahead if it so desires and make the improvement under the betterment act and there would be no time for owners to present their claims. I, therefore, hope that the committee will take the step I have suggested before final action is taken. [Applause.]

Mr. A. L. Gordon entered a protest in behalf of the Central Congregational church property on Washington street. He said that lot would be made narrower and injure it for either sale or building purposes.

Mr. J. Sturges Potter—There is no question of the necessity of the widening. The only point is to have it done in the best way. I think it would be better and more economical to take and take all the land between the B. & A. tracks on the south side. The cost would be more, but a wider street would be secured and an opportunity afforded for laying it out more attractively.

Representative E. J. H. Estabrook—I think all the land should be taken on the south side. The street should be made 100 feet wide if possible. It is better to make the improvement with a view to the future rather than simply to meet the exigency of the present.

Mr. H. F. King—I believe that the cost of the improvement should fall upon the city. I don't believe in applying the betterment act in this case. The improvement is for the good of the whole city and, therefore, the whole city should bear the expense.

Mr. J. B. Goodrich—There is one point that I would like to bring out more clearly relating to the trees on the Catholic church estate. They serve an important purpose now, keeping out the dust from the coal yards, and particularly the dust from the coal yards. I mention this to show the value of those trees there and the necessity of preserving them, if possible. It is, as has been said by other speakers, a matter of congratulation that the explanations of the highway committee have left so little to warrant opposition to its plan of widening. It is, in fact, remarkable that there has been such a substantial acquiescence to its general proposition relative to the improvement.

Mr. H. F. Bent—I have listened very attentively to the remarks here tonight. I expected to see a plan showing clearly what was proposed, but I did not find one until after the hearing was well under way. Let us stick to the railroad track, I say. For the paltry sum of $200,000 more, it seems, this widening can be done in first class shape. Newton can afford the additional cost for it secures a better thing and a wide road that provides not only for today, but for the requirements of the future. Therefore, I say, stick to the railroad track, even if it costs $250,000 more. [Great applause.]

Mayor Fenno declared the hearing closed at 9:30 o'clock and a memorable discussion concerning an important public improvement was at an end.

THE ALDERMEN.

After the hearing was closed the aldermen assembled in their chamber, the mayor presiding and all the members being present.

The mayor presented a list of election officers which was laid over for confirmation later.

A hearing was on constructing a sewer in Ware road, but was closed without remonstrance.

The resignation of F. E. Rawson from Rose 4 was accepted and David Dow was appointed to the vacancy.

John Murray was appointed assistant foreman of Hose 8.

The quarterly report of the overseers of the poor was received.

A petition and order relative to two writs against the city from Jerome A. Bacon and John J. Sullivan were received.

Communications were received from the inspector of buildings relative to the condition of the estate of W. H. O'Brien of Adams street and W. F. Hadlock of Lexington street. The first was granted by action of the board and the latter was referred to the committee on licenses.

H. W. Boyd objecting to it in a written communication.

A communication was received from W. B. H. Dowd relative to the pollution of a book on the Geo. Dix land by the boulevard construction. This came up from the lower branch and concurrent action taken. Similar action was also taken on a communication from the board of health relative to erecting one or more bath houses.

A hearing was opened at precisely 7:45 o'clock on taking land bordering Crystal lake for park purposes.

Alderman Rumery was on his feet at once moving that the hearing be closed. The hearing was closed.

PETITIONS.

Sumner Robinson, et. al., petitioned for one acre light, corner of Chestnut and Highland streets. C. F. Crehore & Son petitioned for concrete sidewalks adjoining their premises; Geo. H. Pratt, et. al., petitioned for the acceptance of Camden road; John Titus, et. al., petitioned for fire alarm box on Boylston street; Mary G. Lyman, et. al., petitioned for concrete sidewalks on Lincoln street; Harriet E. Holt, et. al., presented a communication relative to the flooding of Columbus and Hillside streets through insufficient drainage; Charles H. Cashman, et. al., asking that the tracks of the Newton & Waltham Street Railway on Lexington street to the Waltham line, be re-located in the

(CONTINUED ON THIRD PAGE.)

Dentists.

DR. S. F. CHASE,
DENTIST.
Office and Residence, 303 Walnut St., Newtonville
Careful and thorough operating in all branches
NEW METHOD FOR ARTIFICIAL TEETH.

Dr. Elbridge C. Leach
DENTIST.
429 COLUMBUS AVE., 80
The correcting of irregular teeth in children
mouths a specialty.
Residence, Crystal St., Newton Center.
Will make appointments at residence after 5 P.M.

E. B. Hitchcock, M. D., D. M. D.,
DENTIST,
ELIOT BLOCK, NEWTON.

Dr. H. L. SANDERSON,
Surgeon Dentist,
Anesthetics used when desired. Elevator service.
480 Boylston Street, Boston, Mass.

Upolsterers.
H. W. CALDER,
UPHOLSTERER.
Cabinet Maker and House Furnisher.
ARTISTIC PICTURE FRAMING.
A complete stock always on hand.
NEWTONVILLE, MASS.

O—FLORIST—O
Floral Decorations for Weddings and Parties
arranged for at short notice. Funeral designs and flowers a specialty.
CHARLES E. HOLBROW, 407 Centre St.,
Washington Street.

Used and endorsed by Adams Express Co.
TUTTLE'S ELIXIR,
The Great Cure for Man and Beast.

$100 Reward (if not cured) for every case of Colic, Contracted and Knotted Cords, Curbs, Splint Shoe Bolls (when first started), and Calfous of all kinds. Never fails to relieve Spavins, Ringbones, or Cockle Joints.
Read following from a letter dated Boston, Aug. 5, 1892:—
"TUTTLE'S ELIXIR, diluted with water and applied externally, in connection with TUTTLE'S CONDITON POWDERS, cured my horse Dandy of a sore of 6 months' standing. It also proved as efficacious as applied to bleeding warts on my cow's teats; and a severe case of Rheumatism from which my man was suffering, was relieved at once."
Yours truly,
A. R. WHITTIER."

Tuttle's Family Elixir
Cures Rheumatism, Coughs, Colds, Lame Back, Sprains, Sore Throat, La Grippe and Pneumonia. Sample bottle FREE, or sent to any address on receipt of 3 cent stamps to J. N. DANFORTH, Brighton, Agent.

S. A. TUTTLE, 27 Beverly St., Boston.

EXPERIENCE AND PROMPTNESS.
NICE WORK GUARANTEED BY
WHITE'S NEWTON CARPET CLEANING COM'Y.

Only 1 cent per yard running for taking up; 3 cents per running yard for cleaning Wool, Brussels or Tapestry; 4 cents for Wiltons, Velvets or Axminsters; 8 cents per square yard for Turkish Rugs or Carpets; 4 cents per running yard for Stairs, 30 cents and upwards per flight. Carpet Sewing, $2.50 per day. Removing and repairing of carpets a specialty. Carpet work in all its branches done properly and at reasonable prices. All kinds of Carpet Linings for sale. Church Cushions and Mattings cleaned at bottom prices. Carpets called for and delivered free of charge. Send postal. New Carpets made to order of every shape and size.

SIMON A. WHITE,
F. O. Box 71, Newtonville. Telephone 7.
Factory and Residence, Clinton Street

Bicycle Repairing
of Every Description.
Brazing, Enameling, Nickel-Plating, Etc.
Wheels Changed from Solid to Cushion or Pneumatic.
Connected by Telephone.

Best Cycle Oil 25 cents per pint. Lawn Mowers cleaned and sharpened for $1.00. Called for and delivered for 25 cents extra.

Haddow & Batchelor, 49 Galen Street, Watertown, Mass.

P. A. MURRAY,
Carriage Builder.
FOR PERFECT PLEASURE IN RIDING
Use Rubber Tires.
ALL WORK GUARANTEED.
Special attention given to REPAIRING AND PAINTING FINE CARRIAGES AND SLEIGHS
WASHINGTON, COR. PARK ST., NEWTON.

Genuine Bargains
Always to be obtained by examination of the varied assortment of
IMPERFECT GOODS AND REMNANTS,
STRICTLY ALL WOOL.

Made at the Assabet Mills which are exclusively sold
and at the lowest prices by
THE PEOPLE'S DRY GOODS COMPANY
MAYNARD, MASS.

The Salesroom is open until 6 p. m. except Saturday. Closes Saturday at 12 o'clock. Positively open as above until further notice in this paper.

Veterinary Surgeon

MADISON BUNKER, D. V. S.
Veterinary Surgeon
BUSH'S STABLE, ELMWOOD ST., NEWTON.
Telephone Connection.

Carpenters and Builders.
S. K. MacLEOD,
Carpenter and Builder.
Jobbing of all kinds neatly and promptly executed. Bathrooms and Fixtures for Plumber's Work a Specialty.
SHOP: CENTRE PL., Opp. PUBLIC LIBRARY.
Residence: Boyd Street, near Jewett.

G. W. RIGBY,
Carpenter and Builder.
JOBING PROMPTLY ATTENDED TO.
Washington St., opp. Waban, Newton.

OVER - 57,000
NEW ENGLAND
PIANOS
MADE AND SOLD
An Index of Public Opinion.

For Sale on Easy Payments
To Rent by Day, Week, Month or Year
New England Piano Co.
300 Tremont St., BOSTON.
38 Fifth Ave., NEW YORK.
202, 204 Wabash Ave., CHICAGO.
26, 28, 30 O'Farrell St., SAN FRANCISCO.

Plumbers.
Having
Purchased the business of the Newtonville Heating and Plumbing Co., I beg leave to inform the public that I am prepared to do all work in the.....

PLUMBING AND HEATING
Line at short notice in a workmanlike and satisfactory manner at reasonable prices. Jobbing and repairs a specialty. Please give me a trial, and references given.

GEO. E. THOMPSON,
Formerly of
Providence, R. I.
824 Washington Street,
NEWTONVILLE.

HEWITT & THOMAS,
Practical Plumbers.
And Sanitary Engineers.
247 WASHINGTON ST.,
Nonantum Block, Newton.

M. C. HIGGINS,
Practical Plumber
—AND—
SANITARY ENGINEER.
Plumbing Work in all its branches.
Having had twenty-two years' experience in the business in this city, perfect satisfaction is guaranteed.

Summer's Block, Newton.
ESTABLISHED IN 1896.

T. J. HARTNETT,
Plumber and Sanitary Engineer.
IRON DRAINAGE & VENTILATION A SPECIALTY.
JOBING
PROMPTLY ATTENDED TO.
375 Centre Street, - Newton.

HOWARD B. COFFIN,
DEALER IN
Fine Teas, Best Coffees.
AND NEWTON AGENT FOR
Deerfoot Farm Products.

363, 361 CENTRE ST., 4, 6 HALL ST.,
Cole's Block, Newton.

HOWARD
ICE COMPANY.
SUCCESSORS TO
HOWARD BROTHERS.
Orders can be left at
342 CENTRE STREET, NEWTON.
OFFICE HOURS:
7.45 to 11 A. M.; 3 to 5.45 P. M.

ABRAHAM L. HOWARD, Proprietor.
43 Galen Street, Watertown, Mass.
Telephone 13-3 Newton.

Turkish Baths.
The Best in Boston. Modern improvements with all appointments first class. Open day and night. Smith Building, under the old Sherman House, Boston.

The West Newton Savings Bank.
Incorporated 1887.
West Newton, Mass.
AUSTIN R. MITCHELL, President.
JAMES H. NICKERSON, Treasurer.
ALFRED L. BARBOUR, Clerk.

Trustees: Austin R. Mitchell, Dwight Chester, Edward L. Pickard, Prescott C. Bridgman, Charles A. Potter, Fred E. Crockett, Alfred L. Barbour, Edward W. Cato, C. F. Eddy, Frank E. Hunter, Edward C. Burrage, Benj. F. Oliver.
Committee of Investment: Austin R. Mitchell, Edward L. Pickard, Dwight Chester, Charles A. Potter, Fred E. Crockett.
Open for business daily, 8.30 to 11 a. m., 1.30 to 3 p. m.
Deposits will commence drawing interest on the first days of January, April, July, October.

Newton and Watertown
Gas Light Company
All orders for Gas or Electric Lighting left at their office, 421 Centre St., will receive prompt attention.

BOOK

JOB PRINTING

Of Every Description
Promptly Executed at
the

Newton Graphic
OFFICE

285 Washington Street,
NEWTON.

Plumbers.
Having
Purchased the business of the Newtonville Heating and Plumbing Co., I beg leave to inform the public that I am prepared to do all work in the.....

PLUMBING AND HEATING
Line at short notice in a workmanlike and satisfactory manner at reasonable prices. Jobbing and repairs a specialty. Please give me a trial, and references given.

GEO. E. THOMPSON,
Formerly of
Providence, R. I.
824 Washington Street,
NEWTONVILLE.

HEWITT & THOMAS,
Practical Plumbers.
And Sanitary Engineers.
247 WASHINGTON ST.,
Nonantum Block, Newton.

M. C. HIGGINS,
Practical Plumber
—AND—
SANITARY ENGINEER.
Plumbing Work in all its branches.
Having had twenty-two years' experience in the business in this city, perfect satisfaction is guaranteed.

Summer's Block, Newton.
ESTABLISHED IN 1896.

T. J. HARTNETT,
Plumber and Sanitary Engineer.
IRON DRAINAGE & VENTILATION A SPECIALTY.
JOBING
PROMPTLY ATTENDED TO.
375 Centre Street, - Newton.

HOWARD B. COFFIN,
DEALER IN
Fine Teas, Best Coffees.
AND NEWTON AGENT FOR
Deerfoot Farm Products.

363, 361 CENTRE ST., 4, 6 HALL ST.,
Cole's Block, Newton.

HOWARD
ICE COMPANY.
SUCCESSORS TO
HOWARD BROTHERS.
Orders can be left at
342 CENTRE STREET, NEWTON.
OFFICE HOURS:
7.45 to 11 A. M.; 3 to 5.45 P. M.

ABRAHAM L. HOWARD, Proprietor.
43 Galen Street, Watertown, Mass.
Telephone 13-3 Newton.

Turkish Baths.
The Best in Boston. Modern improvements with all appointments first class. Open day and night. Smith Building, under the old Sherman House, Boston.

The West Newton Savings Bank.
Incorporated 1887.
West Newton, Mass.
AUSTIN R. MITCHELL, President.
JAMES H. NICKERSON, Treasurer.
ALFRED L. BARBOUR, Clerk.

Trustees: Austin R. Mitchell, Dwight Chester, Edward L. Pickard, Prescott C. Bridgman, Charles A. Potter, Fred E. Crockett, Alfred L. Barbour, Edward W. Cato, C. F. Eddy, Frank E. Hunter, Edward C. Burrage, Benj. F. Oliver.
Committee of Investment: Austin R. Mitchell, Edward L. Pickard, Dwight Chester, Charles A. Potter, Fred E. Crockett.
Open for business daily, 8.30 to 11 a. m., 1.30 to 3 p. m.
Deposits will commence drawing interest on the first days of January, April, July, October.

Newton and Watertown
Gas Light Company
All orders for Gas or Electric Lighting left at their office, 421 Centre St., will receive prompt attention.

CITY GOVERNMENT.

(CONTINUED FROM SECOND PAGE.)

centre of the street; J. B. Haskell petitioned for cross walks on Centre street; Dennis Terney one light on Bridge street; by hydrant in Allston street. These were referred and various petitions for sewers and sidewalks were received and referred to the proper committees.

Dana Estes and thirty-five others petitioned the city to lay out a public street from Ward street to Waban Hill to be known as Waban Hill road. Referred to the highway committee.

The N. E. Telegraph and Telephone Co. petitioned for poles and wires on Watertown and Austin streets and Hillside avenue, also for arms on fire alarm poles on River street. The latter was granted under the approval of the chief of fire department and hearings appointed for the remainder.

COMMUNICATIONS.

Communications were received from A. F. Harris relative to Magus meadow assessment on land, corner of Cherry and Derby street, asking that it be abated; T. M. Clark relative to amount allowed him on land taken for sewer; B. Dickerman, et al., relative to electric track location on Woodward street.

The petitions of Robert Vachon and J. H. Farrell for additional pool tables were granted, also petition of Mrs. D. E. Lane for restaurant at 317 Watertown street.

ORDERS.

Alderman Hamilton presented two orders which were passed, authorizing the city treasurer to issue and sell two $20,000 bonds to be denominated Newton sewer loan.

The sum of $2,500 was appropriated for miscellaneous expenses.

The sum of $19,210 was appropriated for expenses of the city during the month of October.

Alderman Ruffey reported, giving the petitioners relative to taking land for park purposes about Crystal lake, leave to withdraw as they wished no further action in the matter. Accepted.

Alderman Roffe moved that a hearing be granted on the locations asked for by the Newton & Boston Street Railway along the boulevard and approaches thereto. A hearing was appointed.

The petition of W. A. Lamb for an awning on Centre street was granted, also Mrs. Seagrave's petition for license to run a merry-go-round under the direction of the city marshal.

Orders were passed for placing sewers in Watertown, Highland, Cherry, off Allston street and in Ware road; establishing polling places, giving notice of hearing on laying out Ripley and Chase streets, Fisher avenue, Elmhurst, Elm, Hillside roads, Tudor terrace; re-locating Walnut street from Griffin avenue and the Sudbury river conduit; authorizing the mayor to execute agreements releasing damage claims on the Cheesecake boulevard and to adjust claims for betterments.

Papers from the common council were passed in concurrence.

The board then adjourned.

COMPROMISE PLAN SUGGESTED.

CITY MAY SEIZE LAND FOR STREET TO B. A. A. GROUNDS.

Notwithstanding the recent controversy over the proposed construction of a bridge across the Charles river, west of the Newton Boat Club house, providing a way of quickly reaching the new grounds of the Boston Athletic Association in Weston from the Riverside station of the Boston & Albany railroad, it now seems probable that it will become a reality.

It is not likely, however, that it will cross the river west of the Newton boat-house, as the tremendous opposition to that plan on the part of boat club members and Newton citizens has induced those interested in the project to suggest another location, east of the Newton boat-house and about midway between that building and the Boston & Albany railroad bridge at Riverside.

There are, unfortunately, several obstacles in the way of carrying out the compromise plan. In the first place, it will be necessary to get a right of way somewhat over a strip of private land which is held at a high figure by the owner.

It will be necessary to purchase this strip of land containing about 38,000 square feet, which is assessed for $40,000. The owner, however, considers the land worth $1 per foot, and if he sticks to that figure the land cost would be in the vicinity of $38,000. There is besides, a public boathouse on this lot of land, leased on a long term of years. Of course, that is another big obstacle in the way of the eastern route.

The lessee of this public boathouse is doing a lucrative business, and will not give up their location unless handsomely reimbursed. The consequence is that the cost to Mr. Blake and the B. A. A. to get a right of way in the ordinary manner through this lot would be considerably above $50,000.

It is then the question of a legal claim against the city on account of this largely increased expenditure if the right of way originally secured at a comparatively small outlay is taken away by the seizure of land for river park purposes.

Neither Mr. Blake nor the B. A. A. board of governors feel inclined, however, to take the case into the courts. They are willing to build the bridge east of the Newton boat-house, provided any plan can be devised to bring the cost within a reasonable figure. The knotty question is, how can it be accomplished?

Mr. Blake and the B. A. A. management believe that a way can be found if the city of Newton will take hold of the matter, and they suggest the seizing of a strip of land desired for the purpose of laying out a street which would connect with the bridge on the Newton side of the river.

Members of the Newton city council generally favor this scheme, if it can be shown to be feasible, and the city solicitor has been requested to report on the right of the city to take the land named for highway purposes. Several lawyers have been asked for an opinion on this point, and all believe that there can be no question of the right of the city to seize the land for the purpose of laying out a street.

Room to Spread Himself.

Frank: "I have just taken my entrance exams for Princeton."

Grace: "Where were they held this year; at the Polo Grounds or Mott Haven?"—Life.

Scrofula humors and all diseases caused or promoted by impure blood or low state of the system, are cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla.

CONCERNING REQUESTS.

THEIR VALUE IN CARRYING ON THE WORK OF NECESSARY INSTITUTIONS.

The announcement that the will of the late Mr. N. P. Coburn of Newton contained a bequest of $15,000 to the Newton Hospital, has created a widespread feeling of gratitude in our community, partly because the hospital is just now greatly in need of money, and partly because this may be the beginning of a usage that will, we hope, become quite common among persons of means in our city.

It is very true that the best time for any one to devote a fair share of his possessions to benevolent purposes is in his own life time, for he then has opportunity to see that it is applied just as he wishes, and he has the pleasure of looking upon the good that grows from his benefactions.

But there comes a time when any are possessed of property that must be distributed at his death finds it necessary to make his will.

Then it is that the claims of the Newton Hospital should loom up into special prominence.

Here it is among us a singularly well managed and successful institution. It has won credit and renown for our city. It has become a bond of union between rich and poor, and between people of very differing views.

It extends its benefit to hundreds of sufferers each year, and it offers some protection to every home in Newton by the removal and isolation of those who are suffering from contagious diseases.

The Newton Hospital deserves well of the community, and in the main, Newton people have shown their appreciation of it by contributing generously each year to its support. But the two facts which have not been really grasped yet by many persons of means among us are the extent of the work the hospital is doing, and the great need of putting it upon a firmer financial foundation.

It is no longer an experiment but a well tried institution, strong in everything except pecuniary resources. It should have an endowment of $100,000. With Mr. Coburn's bequest and the generous gifts of Mrs. Eldredge and others it has now about $30,000. It needs $70,000 more. In fact even $200,000 of endowment would not be too much, for the annual expenditure now is over $18,000.

There will always be the calls for annual payment by those able to pay for treatment and attendance, but with an endowment yielding, say $5000 per year, the trustees would be relieved of much of their present anxiety and the institution would do much better work than it is doing today.

If this is read by any one whose will is already made let him add a Codicil in some such words as these:

"I give and bequeath the Newton Hospital the sum of $— towards the Endowment Fund."

If it is read by any one whose will is not made, it is respectfully suggested that the Newton Hospital be placed high up in the best of institutions to be remembered. It ought to become among Newton people as well established a custom to remember the hospital by will as it is for Harvard graduates to remember their college.

There is a special reason that should commend our hospital to the favorable notice of all who can aid it. It is this, the establishment and successful development of the training school for nurses provides training for a most useful and honorable vocation for women, and now year by year, there are sent out from six to twelve persons thoroughly equipped for the care of the sick and injured.

It may be that nurses are as well trained elsewhere, but hardly better trained than they are here, and so there is this added incentive to benevolence: the sustaining a department that widens the field of self-support for women while it fits them for relieving suffering in the homes of others.

Surely if anyone wants to find an institution where his gifts will be gratefully received and wisely used he need not go out of Newton to search for it.

GEO. W. SHINN.

Political and Otherwise.

The other day I had the pleasure of meeting several prominent Newtonians at a delightful, informal spread and naturally, following the discussion of the menu, there was an agreeable social chat. Not a breath of scandal reached my ear. Are men apt to talk about the peculiarities and short comings of their friends and acquaintances? I don't think. The ladies—well, I cannot say a word against them. It is the duty of man to defend the fair sex at all hazards.

But to return to that after dinner affair. The conversation took a political turn and I was nearly flustered to learn that, seemingly, two-thirds of the voters were out for an office and willing to take anything from the majority down to the position of inspector of elections. The latter office has its advantages, for he who fulfills its duties is, at least, paid for his services. The mayor, to be sure, gets a paltry remuneration, but he surely earns his money and probably loses far more than he receives in the loss of time taken from his business. Drifting again.

To return to the subject matter, it was the unanimous opinion of those Newton gentlemen that Mr. J. Edward Hollis was an ideal candidate for mayor. The suggestion struck me most favorably, but I understand that it does not hit Mr. Hollis that way and that he is averse to the idea of becoming a candidate.

I'm told that there is a big boom in process of construction in the interest of E. M. Rumery. Mr. Rumery's friends want to send him popular Ward Two alderman to the state legislature to succeed Representative Estabrooks who, it is said, retires after two years' faithful and intelligent service. It is urged in behalf of Mr. Rumery that he has lots of time to devote to the duties of the position.

If Alderman Rumery steps down this year, who will be selected to fill his place in the upper branch of the city council? How would Councilman Savage fill the bill? He has been an efficient member of the lower branch and his friends believe that he is deserving of promotion.

Mr. Edward P. Hatch is really in line for Mr. Rumery's place, for he consented not to run last December and was assured of solid support this year in the event of his becoming a candidate. He has had experience in the common council and is a bright, enterprising business man who would serve the city with ability.

The desecration of Gen. Hull's tomb reminds me of the necessity of some one suggesting a plan to the city authorities in the way of putting the old cemeteries in better condition. I took a preambule through some of the grave yards recently and found a very bad state of things. An ancient tomb, for example, was crumbling away. The granite slab which once served for a door had been broken and a wooden coffin could be seen plainly enough close to a portion of wall in a thorough state of demolition. I would suggest a small appropriation for the care of these old burying places, even if it does call for an expenditure on private property. It is sort of unsightly to run against these gruesome sights and the municipality can afford to be generous if only to spare some of its sentimental citizens from that queer feeling when the chill objects of the grave are disclosed.

Guess Washington street will be widened all right. It can be accomplished they say for an output of $250,000. Might I be so bold as to inquire if the electric street railway company has agreed to chip in any portion of that amount?

Who is the best man in the upper branch of the city government for mayor? It won't take long to answer that. In my judgment it is H. E. Bothfield who has proved himself to be able, fearless and well equipped in every way for the mantle which Mayor Fennos has worn so gracefully.

There is a practice that has developed to some extent in the city that ought to be nipped in the bud. It is that of playing cards Sunday in any handy place, either stone wall or lawn, along the line of public thoroughfares. If a bluecoat is seen approaching, the pack is put out of sight and the faces of the players assume a most Sabbath like expression, seemingly indicating an appreciation of the sacred character of the day. It is confined to young men and boys who should be taught to employ their time in some more fitting manner.

A good substitute for anarchy—hemp. QUERICUS.

While in Chicago, Mr. Charles L. Kahler, a prominent shoe merchant of Des Moines, Iowa, had quite a serious time of it. He took such a severe cold that he could hardly talk or navigate, but the prompt use of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy cured him of his cold so quickly that others at the hotel who had bad colds followed his example and half a dozen persons ordered it from the nearest drug store. They were profuse in their thanks to Mr. Kahler for telling them how to cure a bad cold so quickly.

For sale by A. Hudson, Newton, E. W. Keyes, Auburndale; B. B. Buck, Newton Centre; E. F. Partridge, Newtonville; B. Billings, Newton Upper Falls.

The Puzzle Solved. Perhaps no local disease has puzzled and baffled the medical profession more than nasal catarrh. While not immediately fatal it is among the most noxious and disgusting ills the flesh is heir to, and the records show very few or no cases of radical cure of chronic catarrh by any of the many modes of treatment until the introduction of Ely's Cream Balm a few years ago. The success of this preparation has been most gratifying and surprising. No druggist is without it.

Coughing Leads to Consumption. Kemp's Balsam stops the coughing.

SENATOR VANCE MET THE ISSUE. But the Reporter Failed to Get a Big "Scoop" All the Same.

"I once had an experience," said an old newspaper man at the Press club to a reporter, "with the late Senator Vance which I shall never forget. It was during Crisp's first contest for the speakership, and, as you all probably remember, every newspaper man in town was hustling for inside news. The sources of this, as usual in such cases, were very few, and Senator Vance, who was acting in the capacity of an advisor to the nominating caucus, had to spend most of his time dodging journalists.

"So wary did he become that he discontinued taking his lunch in the senate restaurant and had it served in a committee room. One day, however, I caught a glimpse of him passing through one of the lower corridors on the house side. Determined not to let him escape me, I at once hastened forward, and in the most innocent manner possible began asking him about his health, which was rather bad at the time. He answered all my questions in the kindest manner possible and was about to leave when I said:

"Oh, by the way, senator, who do you think will get the nomination?"

"I don't know exactly," he replied, "but they will have to fight if they want to win."

"Certain now of my information, I began to see the letter I was going to receive from the home office, after they had published my big scoop, telling me in the most flattering terms that the paper had decided to raise my salary on account of my good work."

"Which side, senator?" I asked, almost in a whisper for fear some one would be lurking in the dark recesses and hear the reply which was to make me the most noted hustler for news in the ranks of journalism.

"Both sides," he replied as he disappeared in the door of a committee room. "And the letter that I looked for never came."—Washington Times.

Generalship. "The Clantys does be slow returning what they borrow," said Mrs. Dolan.

"Yis," replied Mrs. Rafferty. "O' niver forgot the trouble O' had gettin back the flatirons O' lint 'em wanst out of the kindness ay me heart."

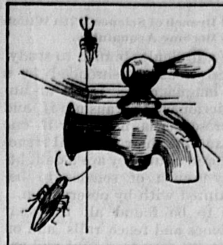

"An how did yez git 'em?"

"O' sint my b'y Teddy to holler out that the Clantys wouldn't be in this country 'n' St. Patrick chased the snakes out ay O' Ireland. Thin the clontons com over the back fence fasht em."

All Tiddy had to do was to dodge 'em."—Washington Star.

Had No Other Chance. Reedy—Why do you smoke continually from morning until night?

Wooley—It's the only time I get to sleep from night till morning.—London Tit-Bits.

No Water Bugs around sinks and cracks.

No Ants running all over pantry shelves.

No Cholera or other disease germs in clothes and cooking utensils, when carefully washed and kept clean with

Purest, Safest, Best

IVORINE WASHING POWDER

1½ lb. packages costs no more than pounds of other kinds.

From April 1st, 1893, every package contains a splendid cake of pure Olive Oil Toilet Soap.

The J. B. Williams Co., Glastonbury, Ct. For 50 years the makers of Yankee Shaving Soap.

Ely's Cream Balm For CATARRH
THE POSITIVE CURE.
ELY BROTHERS, 54 Warren St., New York. Price 50 cts.

Newton Horse Shoeing Shop

DELANEY, LELAND & HEWITT.

Successors to

P. A. MURRAY,

Washington Street,

NEXT TO

Murray's Carriage Manufactory

Having purchased the horse shoeing branch of the business formerly conducted by Mr. P. A. Murray, we desire to state that we have worked at his stand several years and established a first-class reputation and we therefore feel assured of a continuation of your patronage. The shop in which we will continue the business is fitted up exclusively for horse shoeing and we can guarantee to give better satisfaction than ever. Special attention will be given to over reaching, interfering and tender footed horses, and also gentlemen owning trotting horses, can have them shod in any of the various styles of weighted shoes desirable for track work.

Water Bugs and Roaches. EXTERMINATOR CLEAR THEM OUT WITH OUR

No dust. No trouble to use. Price, 50c. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded. If your druggist or grocer does not keep it, we will mail package on receipt of price.

BARNARD & CO.
7 TEMPLE PLACE, BOSTON
FOR SALE BY HARRIS BROS., NEWTON.

Undertakers.

Railroads.

GEORGE H. GREGG,

Undertaker

TELEPHONE - - CONNECTIONS.

Funeral

and

Furnishing

Undertaker.

COFFINS, CASKETS, ROBES, and every modern requisite for the proper performance of the business constantly on hand. Orders by telephone promptly attended to.

GEO. W. BUSH,

Elmwood Street, - Newton.

S. L. PRATT,

FUNERAL AND FURNISHING UNDERTAKER

Newton Centre, Mass.

First-class Appointments and Competent Attendants. To accommodate the people of Upper Falls and vicinity orders may be left at the office of Fanning Printing Co., which will immediately be forwarded to me by telephone.

Also shall continue in the Black, Livery and Boarding Stable. Business at my old stand, corner of Beacon and Station Streets.

S. F. CATE

Furnishing - Undertaker.

WASHINGTON ST., WEST NEWTON.

C. A. HARRINGTON

LUMBER,

Lime, Cement, Plaster, &c

Crafts St., Newtonville, Mass.

Telephone 5248, Newton

Don't Drink

impure water longer buy a good filter. They will fit a faucet where it has a thread or Barber Bros

J. H. LOOKER,

French Cleansing and Dyeing

Dry Cleansing and Repairing a Specialty.

Particular attention paid to

Blankets, Lace Curtains, Fine

Linens and Hand Laundry

Work of all kinds.

No. 21 Carlton Street, NEWTON, MASS.

SPRINGFIELD LINE

BETWEEN

Boston and New York.

Trains leave either city at 9.00 A. M., except Sunday; 11.00 A. M., except Sunday; 4.00 P. M., daily; 11.00 P. M., daily. Drawing room cars on all day trains, and sleeping cars on night trains.

A. S. HANSON, Gen. Pass. Agt.

Boston, Mass.

WEST END STREET

RAILWAY COMPANY.

Newton to Bowdoin Square

Huron and Concord Aves. to Harvard Sq. (Transfer) via Concord Ave and Garden St.

Time—First car, 6.00 a. m., and every 20 minutes to 11.00 p. m. Return 20 minutes later.

Sunday—First car, 8.00 a. m., and every 20 minutes to 11.00 p. m., last car.

Newton and Watertown to Bowdoin Sq. (Via Mt. Auburn St., and Harvard Sq.)

Time—First car, 5.36 a. m. (from Mt. Auburn car house). Leave Newton at 5.56 a. m., and every 15 minutes to 9.56, 10.20, 10.40 p. m., last car.

Return, leave Bowdoin Sq., 40 minutes later.

Sunday—7.27 a. m. and 30 minutes to 8.57 a. m., 9.12, and every 15 minutes to 8.57, 9.17, and every 20 minutes to 10.37 p. m., last car.

C. S. SERGEANT, General Manager.

NEWTON COAL CO.,

Coal and Wood.

Family Orders a Specialty.

OFFICE, - ELIOT BLOCK.

-BRANCH OFFICE-

J. F. Payne's Drug Store, Newtonville.

FISK'S

NEW RESTAURANT.

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN.

One of the Best Places to Dine in Boston. Let the readers of this paper try it and be convinced that the above is true.

42 Bedford Street, Boston.

Directly opposite R. H. White's Harrison Avenue entrance.

NEWTON SAVINGS BANK.

INCORPORATED 1831.

Bank Hours: From 9 a. m. to 12 m., and from 2 to 4 p. m.; on Saturdays from 9 a. m. to 1 p. m.

Banking Rooms in Newton National Bank Building.

JAMES F. C. HYDE, President.

JOHN WARD, Vice President.

ADOLPHUS J. BLANCHARD, Treas.

H. W. MASON, Attorney and Conveyancer.

CHARLES A. MINER, Clerk and Auditor.

TRUSTEES:

James F. C. Hyde, John Ward, Joseph N. Bacon, Samuel M. Jacob, Dustin Lacey, William Dix, William C. Strong, Francis Murdoch, Charles F. Fuller, Elliot J. Hyde, Charles A. Miner, Warren P. Tyler and Harry W. Mason.

INVESTMENT COMMITTEE: James F. C. Hyde, Samuel M. Jackson, Francis Murdoch.

Quarter days, TENTH day January, April, July and October. Dividends declared the Tuesday following January 1st and July 1st, are payable the day after being declared.

Real Estate and Insurance.

ABAN, TROWBRIDGE & CO.,

725 Exchange Building, 53 State St., Boston

Have For Sale in all parts of Newton,

Elegant Estates in Choice Locations.

THE NEWTON GRAPHIC

PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY

285 WASHINGTON ST., NEWTON,
MASS.

Entered as second class matter.

Subscription for year, $2.00
Single Copies, 5 cents
By mail free of Postage.All money sent at sender's risk. All checks, drafts and money orders should
be made payable toEDWARD D. BALDWIN,
Editor and Publisher.

TELEPHONE NO. 338-3.

THE GRAPHIC is printed and mailed Friday
afternoons, and is for sale at all News
Stands in the Newtons, and at the Boston &
Albany News Room, Boston Depot.ALL communications must be accompanied with the name of the writer, and
unpublished communications cannot be returned by mail unless stamps are enclosed.

WASHINGTON STREET WIDENING.

There seems to be a unanimity of opinion among the residents and taxpayers of the city concerning the proposition to widen Washington street. It is conceded to be a public necessity. The hearing before the city council Monday evening clearly demonstrated the cooperation of the people in the plan which the highway committee has recommended for a necessary improvement in the interests of common safety and convenience. The City Hall, where the hearing was held, was well filled with a company of ladies and gentlemen anxious for details relative to the proposed method of taking land and the construction of the thoroughfare. If any of those present came with a view to seriously opposing the measure it was perhaps, because of a belief that it was carried out under the betterment act. Alderman Bothfield's statement that such was not the intent of the city removed the principal objection, at least, and among the various speakers who presented their views upon the matter, no one attempted to deny the pressing need of increasing the width of the roadway, admitted to be now in such condition that further delay in executing some plan of improvement would be construed as criminal neglect. One life has been sacrificed that might have been spared had the street been widened, as it should have been, some years ago, and to leave things in their present shape after such a dire misfortune, would call for the condemnation of those who have the power to act in this very important matter.

The plan of widening recommended by the highway committee was substantially endorsed at the hearing. Of course, various views were expressed relative to the best way to do it and it was the idea of quite a number that it would be better to take all the land on the south side instead of portions from both the south and north sides as proposed. A strong plea was made in behalf of the Jackson, Maskell and Catholic church estates in the interests of saving them from being cut into, and it was suggested that the land opposite the properties named might be taken with equal advantage and greater economy from the south side. If it is practicable to do this, it would seem wise to deviate a little at this point, especially as there is, apparently, no engineering difficulty in the way. The Jackson estate is an historic landmark and the Catholic church land cannot be taken without seriously injuring the finely laid out grounds, skirted on the present street line by a magnificent row of shade trees that would necessarily be destroyed. There are obstacles in the way of widening entirely on the south side, while by the lines proposed it is feasible to push the work rapidly toward completion. With a few modifications, therefore, the highway committee's plan presents a practical solution of a means of broadening out a very narrow and dangerous main thoroughfare, and all things considered, seems to be the best thing to do at this time with a view to necessary economy and public safety.

NEWTON people can not help a feeling of pride in the high compliment paid to one of its prominent citizens, Hon. Joseph R. Leeson, by the Boston Herald, and they will endorse heartily all that is said as to the value of his services, and the importance of securing his consent to serve another term as councillor. We quote from the Herald the following:

"Mr. Leeson, as a successful merchant and manufacturer of Boston, has brought to the governor's council a degree of practical good sense which, combined with his high intellectual and moral attainments, have been of decided value, and if by any possibility his services can be continued it would be a loss to the community not to secure them. Ordinarily our progressive and enterprising merchants have their time so far preoccupied by their business as to be unwilling to accept of public office, and for this reason these positions too frequently fall into the hands of lawyers, who take with us a disproportionate share in public life, or go to those who are office-seekers because they have been unsuccessful in business pursuits and think in this way to gain prominence and perhaps income. But when eminent merchants are found with the required public spirit to perform official service in the thorough and conscientious way in which Mr. Leeson has fulfilled his duties, it is desirable that every means should be employed to continue them in office. Whatever opinions may be held concerning the advisability of maintaining the governor's council as a part of our state administrative system, it can at least be said that its value largely depends upon having in the council chamber men of the type of Mr. Leeson, though it may be that, in consequence of his exceptional worth as a citizen, it would be difficult to find many who could flit rank with him. For this reason, if the Republicans of the 3d district can by any possibility prevail upon him to stand again, we trust they will so far have the interests of the commonwealth at heart as to make the needed solicitation.

Condition of Voting Lists.

The Board of registrars of voters has compared the assessed poll lists with the list of voters of Dec. 5, 1893, the last municipal election, with the following results:

On lists, Dec. 5, 1893,	4677
Losses, not assessed,	352
" by death,	89
" by transfer,	152
Total losses,	563
Gain by transfer,	152
Net losses,	411
On lists Sept. 14, '94,	4266

NONANTUM.

—The new rectory is nearly finished.
—The sewer construction here has left a number of streets in an awful condition.
—Mrs. Poore and her daughter Edith have returned to New York after a pleasant stay of two months visiting friends here.

—Mr. F. L. Page has resigned his place in Russell's drug store and taken a similar position in Boston.
—Congratulations are being received by Mr. and Mrs. W. Stevens over the birth of a son.

—Patrick Shea received a fine of $100 and a two months' sentence Wednesday when he appeared before Judge Kennedy, for selling liquor. He appealed.

—Mrs. Cleland has resigned her position as teacher in the Jackson school, after a term of service reaching over twenty years.

—The Eliot school opened Monday with about the same number of pupils. One new thing that has been copied from the Watertown grammar school being tried there this year is the one session plan, and so far it has worked perfectly.

—The Newtons played a drawn game of cricket Saturday with the colored West Cambridge team on Morse field. The Newtons were all out for 21 runs and the visitors had made 17 for 6 wickets when it commenced to rain and they drew the stumps. Tomorrow they play the Boston team on the above field.

The beautiful display of rich furs, cloth garments and rugs in the windows of the International Fur Co., No. 39 to 45 Summer street (next to C. F. Hovey & Co.'s), Boston, is attracting no little attention. The company announces in another column an informal opening to take place on Monday and Tuesday of next week, to which all our lady readers are cordially invited. The stores will be kept open evenings during the opening. We do not remember ever having seen a choice or more elegant line of furs than this company is showing (all of which being their own importation), and visitors to the store will be offered every opportunity to inspect the stock.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address: F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists, 75c.

Greek Humor.

When, after Salamis, Xerxes was in full flight for Asia, and the overcrowded vessel, so the story ran, was laboring in the storm, Xerxes, getting frightened, asked the captain whether there was any chance of safety. "None," said the captain, "unless the ship is lightened of some of its passengers." Whereupon Xerxes, turning to the Persians, exclaimed, "Now is the time to show your loyalty to your king, for on your safety depends." And without a word the well trained courtiers made obeisance and leaped into the sea.

Thus unburdened, the ship arrived at the land, whereupon Xerxes presented the captain with a golden crown for having saved the king's life, and then ordered his head off for having caused the death of so many noble Persians.—Westminster Review.

Artificial Glaciers.

An excellent object lesson has been given by Herr Koch, the German physicist, who wishes to illustrate the formation of glaciers to his students. He took a square tray, having a sloping gutter, down which yellow pitch, resembling colophony, which, like ice, is plastic under pressure and brittle under tension, was allowed to flow, the gutter being first lined with very hot pitch so as to give the main flow a better hold on the sides. Transverse fissures, like the crevices in a glacier, appear in the middle of the stream, and smaller ones join them from the edges. Where the bed widens longitudinal crevices are produced.—London Times.

A Terrible Thought.

Grace—I don't know what I am going to do.
Ethel—Why, what is the matter?
Grace—Why, Mr. Fearer of Paris was talking very earnestly to me in French last night, and I didn't quite understand him, as he spoke so impetuously. I replied, "Oui, oui," several times. It has just occurred to me that perhaps he was proposing.—Pick Me Up.

Highest of all in Leavening Power.—Latest U. S. Gov't Report.

Royal Baking Powder

ABSOLUTELY PURE

THE STUDY OF LICHENS.

A Delightful Branch of Science With Which to Become Acquainted.

They are a difficult branch to study, for the descriptions are shrouded in a mysterious language that needs an unabridged dictionary to translate it, and a good microscope is necessary if one wishes to examine their internal structure and spores. But they are a delightful and easy branch of science to become acquainted with by observation.

They are to be found all the year round on stones and fence rails and on trees. They are easy to mount and are so fascinatingly ugly or beautiful that they make an interesting collection. In almost any wild bit of country there are from 50 to 70 kinds to be found, and even in the most civilized place, at one's own hearth, there are sure to be seven or eight species growing on the sticks of wood laid for the fire. They are so like and yet unlike that they sharpen the powers of comparison and observation until one feels that the keen bladed knife and pocket lens, which are constant companions in a lichen ramble, are dull compared with one's own bright mind.

Lichens—and, by the way, they are pronounced li-kens, not litch-ens—grow in three ways, which can be easily distinguished at a glance. There are crustaceous lichens that grow close to a stone or bark and have no leafy part, but are simply a few warts or dots or a stain. There are foliaceous lichens that lie flat. They are green or brown or yellow leathery plants that are something like leaves, and that have brown or red or pink disks on them, and there are fruticose lichens that grow upright like little shrubby bushes, with bright colored knobs.

Go to any birch tree, and there will be seen within a stained circle some curious little black marks like elfin hieroglyphs. They are the fruit spots of a common lichen called, very appropriately, Graphis scripta. Almost any tree one visits will have some irregular circular stains upon it, especially if the bark is quite smooth, and in the center there will be some brown or black or white specks. It is easy to collect such crustaceous lichens by slicing off a thin strip of the bark, large enough to show the outline of the stain, and by writing the name of the tree from which it was taken on the bark, but it is quite a different matter when one sits down beside a boulder.—New York Independent.

OPENING.

We beg to announce an informal opening on Monday and Tuesday, Sept. 17 & 18.

A particularly choice selection of

Rich Furs and Cloth Garments will be arranged for inspection, and the stores 39 to 45 Summer Street, (next Hovey's) will be kept open the evenings of both days.

International Fur Company
39 to 45 Summer St.,
Adjoining C. F. Hovey & Co. BOSTON.

MARRIED.

JOYNER-MOORE—At West Newton, Sept. 5, by Rev. T. P. Prudden, Richard Columbus Joyner and Evelyn Moore.

WHITE-HATT—At Newton, Sept. 5, by Rev. Lillian Bronson, John James White and Sophie Hatt.

CROCKER-GILLINGS—At Newton, Sept. 1, by Daniel Greene, Judson B. Crocker and Susan Gillings.

VAIL-BRANNEN—At Newton, Sept. 7, by Rev. Lillian Bronson, Louis Jeremiah Vail and Mrs. Annie Sophia Brannen.

HOWE-FREEMAN—At West Newton, Sept. 5, by Rev. H. J. Patrick, D. D., Willard Howe and Maria Annette Freeman.

DENNI ON-HARDMON—At Newton, Sept. 9, by Rev. J. F. Giffether, Daniel Joseph Dennison and Nora Hardmon.

WILKINSON-O'CONNELL—At Newton, Sept. 9, by Rev. J. F. Giffether, Thomas Robert Wilkison and Hannah O'Connell.

BRICK-SUSENSKA—At Boston, Sept. 9, by Rev. John M. Gmelinski, Joseph Brick and Elizabeth Susenska.

DIED.

SANBORN—At Newton Centre, Sept. 13th, John H. Sanborn, Funeral from his late residence, Chase street, Newton Centre, Sunday, Sept. 16, at 1.30 p. m. (Kindly omit flowers.)

WETHERBERG—In Newton, Sept. 8th, Lizzie Holbrook, wife of Wilfred A. Wetherberg, 46 years.

TITUS—At Seattle, Washington, Aug. 31, Franklin H., infant son of Dr. and Mrs. H. F. Titus 1 day.

FITZPATRICK—At West Newton, Sept. 11, Josephine F., daughter of Michael W. and Mary A. Fitzpatrick, 14 years, 2 months.

MORGAN—At Newton Lower Falls, Sept. 4, Mrs. Eliza Morgan, 68 years, 3 months.

DARMODY—At Newton, Sept. 8, Patrick Darmody, 64 years, 8 months.

HOBBS—At Newton Highlands, Sept. 10, Mrs. Mary Ayers Hobbs, 72 years, 7 months, 25 days.

LODGE—At West Newton, Sept. 11, Mrs. Elizabeth Lodge, 65 years, 3 months, 22 days.

NICKERSON—At West Newton, Sept. 12, very suddenly, Theodore Nickerson, 52 years. Services at his late residence, Temple street, West Newton, at 2 o'clock, Saturday, Sept. 15. Friends and relatives are invited without further notice. Burial private.

Real Estate, Mortgages, Insurance

Special Attention paid to Sale and Leasing of Estates in the above villages.

Representatives of All the Leading Insurance Companies.

J. C. FULLER, Newtonville. J. FRENCH & SON, 226 Washington St., Boston.

T. P. DeWolf

Fine Candies.

407 Centre Street, Newton, Mass.

Dr. CHAPIN'S

Malaria and Ague Cure

Is a sure cure and preventive of Malaria and all kindred diseases. Builds you up, makes you strong. Used many years in the malarial districts of Michigan. Regular price, $1.00; trial order, two bottles, $1.50.

THE CHAPIN MEDICINE CO.,
Auburndale, Mass.

Fish and Provisions.

Newton City Market

Fresh and Salt

Meats.

Poultry and Game.

Fish and Oysters.

Butter, Cheese, Eggs,
Canned Goods,
Fruit, Vegetables.

Wellington Howes, Proprietor

BUNTING'S FISH MARKET

Cole's Block, Newton.
Established 1877. Tel. Connections.FISH, OYSTERS, Fruit and Vegetables of All Kinds.

GAS

CAN BE USED FOR COOKING IN OUR
RANGES AS CHEAP AS
COAL.W. A. FOLSOM & CO.,
17 Union St., Boston.WARD & CO.
Carriage Painting and RepairingIN ALL ITS BRANCHES.
Best Work at Lowest Prices.
Repairing of Fine Carriages a Specialty.
Cor. Elm and Washington Sts., Near City Hall
WEST NEWTON

Why go

---HUNGRY---

when you can get a

BARREL OF FLOUR

for making the

Highest

Score

—ON THE—

ALLSTON

BOWLING ALLEYS

During Sept.

Prize

for Candle Pins: A Pair Bowling Shoes. 47 2c

HOWARD R. MASON,
Optician.Spectacles and Eye-Glasses Repaired.
Opticist's Prescriptions Filled.

390 CENTRE ST., NEWTON.

—WITH—

THEO. L. MASON, Jeweler.

Newton,
Newtonville,
West Newton,
Auburndale.

BUSINESS NOTICES

RATES—50 cents first insertion for not exceeding 5 lines, and 35 cents each time thereafter, in advance.

Wants.

WANTED—A single gentleman engaged in business in Boston desires room and board with private family in one of the Newtons. References exchanged. Address G., this office.

WANTED—Board with two connecting rooms for gentleman and wife from October first at Newton Highlands, address P. O. Box 3296, Boston. 50 ct

WANTED—Miss Linda M. Curtis, graduate of the Emerson College of Oratory, will receive pupils in Elocution and Physical Culture. For terms address Box 506, Newtonville, Mass.

WANTED—Two connecting rooms, furnished or unfurnished, with or without board, near Newtonville Square. Address Box 512, Newtonville, P. O. 50 ct

WANTED—Tenement of 3 or 4 rooms in Newton or Newton Highlands. Address H. L. Graphic Office, Newton. 50 ct

WANTED—Sewing by the day in private families. Address Seamstress, Box 147, Newton. 50 ct

WANTED—Good dressmaker will go out for $1.50 per day, or by the week less. 239 Moody street, Waltham. 50 ct

TO LET—House of 10 rooms, all modern improvements, with fine garden, 50 Jefferson street, Newton, $450 a year. Apply to H. E. Hibbard. 10 ct

LADY, educated in Paris, Germany and London (diplomee) des res position as morning governess to teach French, German, Italian, drawing, music and English branches. Address, "Europe," Brighton P. O. 48 ct

For Sale.

HOUSE FOR SALE—At a bargain, just being completed: 8 rooms, bath, set tubs, cemented cellar, Ridgeway furnace, built in most thorough manner throughout; 6000 feet of land. Apply to H. L. Wood, Newton or H. B. Hiltz, Eliot Station, near Newton Highlands. 50 ct

FOR SALE—Family horse; she is young, sound, fearless, fine looking. An extra roadster and a reliable family horse. Box 578, Newton Centre. 50 ct

FOR SALE—A Polished Oak Dining Set, Extension table and Four Chairs. Only used two months; also two Oak Chamber Sets. Apply at 42 Thurnton street, Newton. 50 ct

FOR SALE—at a great sacrifice, a Henry F. Miller square piano, good as new. Cost $375, will sell for $150. Inquire of F. H. Wood, Box 44, Newton Highlands. 50 ct

FOR SALE—At a bargain, a new Hickory bicycle of the latest pattern. Apply at the Graphic Office. 34 ct

FOR SALE—In Newton Centre, 5 houses, and 4 in Newton Highlands. Walter Thorpe, Newton Centre. 27 ct

To Let.

TO LET—A tenement of five rooms to a small family, first class location, corner of Crafts and California streets, rent nine dollars and a half per month. Apply to T. F. Frohisher, Newtonville, Mass. 50 ct

FURNISHED ROOMS to let, two minutes' walk from the station. Apply at 37 Cambridge street, Newton. 50 ct

TO LET—House of seven rooms and bath, furnace, set tubs, cemented cellar, etc. Rent $21 a month. Apply to T. J. Hartnett, Newton. 50 ct

TO LET—Two houses and stable, two minutes' walk from station; very desirable location for physician or dentist. Mrs. J. H. Dodge, Newton Centre. 50 ct

TO LET—Small house No. 21 Bennington St., Newton, at low rent. Apply to Bruce R. Ware, 200 Devonshire St., Boston. 49 ct

TO LET—In Newtonville, three sunny rooms, together or single, with board; four minutes from R. R. station, electric cars, and F. O. Pleasant grounds. Address Box 486, Newtonville. 49 ct

TO LET—Small store on Felham St., Newton Centre, just vacated by fruit dealer; rent low. Enquire at W. A. PARK'S SHOE STORE. 10 ct

TO LET ON LEASE—House No. 183 Nonantum st. east. Contains 7 pleasant rooms, good bath, modern conveniences. Call on or address Mrs. B. Merritt, North Scituate Beach. 46 ct

TO LET—Furnished or unfurnished room. Apply at 379 Washington street, Newton. 45 ct

TO LET—Two houses with stables, and five houses without stables to rent in Newton Centre. W. Thorpe, Newton Centre. 45 ct

TO LET—June 1st, a tenement of seven rooms on Washington street, Newton. Apply to H. O. Daniels. 31 ct

Lost & Found.

LOST—In West Newton or on Washington street, last Tuesday, a doll with long brown hair, in a pink silk dress. Please return to Theodore A. Fleu, Winthrop street, West Newton. 10 ct

Miscellaneous.

ASSOCIATED CHARITIES.—The office hours of the Secretary of the Associated Charities are from 9 to 10 every week day, and from 7.30 to 8.30 Saturday evenings. The Provident Committee will be at the office to distribute clothing Tuesday forenoons and Saturday evenings. Mr. R. Martin, Secretary, Office, Newtonville square.

YOUR WALKS

Should be laid with

Granitic Stone.

Best materials and skilled labor.

Best of references.

Asphalt Floors.

W. A. MURTFELDT,

192 DEVONSHIRE ST., BOSTON.

MISS FRAZIER,

FIRST CLASS DRESSMAKER.

House formerly occupied by Mrs. Doane.

DAVIS STREET, WEST NEWTON.

P. O. Box 412. 43

CLEARING OUT SALE!

Horse Blankets and Whips at Half Price.

Near the Boston Depot.

R. KETZ HARDWARE STORE,

99 KNEELAND STREET, BOSTON.

WALL STREET OPERATIONS

can be successfully carried on by following our

Daily Market Letter and Pamphlet on Speculation.

Mailed free on application. Highest references.

WEINMAN & CO.,

41 Broadway, N. Y. 7, 9 State St., Boston 44 13c

NEWTONVILLE.

—Miller pianos, Farley, Newton.

—Mr. John Carter and family have returned from Duxbury.

—Mrs. C. O. Tufts and family have returned from the seashore.

—Mr. W. F. Dearborn and family have returned from Falmouth.

—Mr. B. F. Day, recently of Austin street, has removed to Glasgow.

—Mrs. A. P. C. Griffin and family have returned from Seaside.

—Mr. J. Sealie Holland has gone to Providence, R. I.

—Mr. Harry Decatur of Otis street left yesterday on a Western trip.

—Mr. George W. Morse returned home from Europe yesterday.

—Miss Carrie Moffat of Hingham is the guest of Mrs. Chas. French, Otis street.

—Mr. Percy Page has returned from North Adams.

—Mr. C. C. Briggs, Jr., and family of Watertown street have returned from Hull.

—Mr. H. Brewer has leased and taken possession of a house on Clyde street.

—Harry Savage and Richard Gould went to Henniker, N. H., this week, on their wheels.

—Mr. Fred Sherman and family of Watertown street returned from Hull this week.

—The next "At Home" of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Vose will be held at their residence, Waban, Sept. 26th.

—Mr. Davis of Dover, N. H., was the guest last week of Mr. and Mrs. Fred S. Johnson, Otis street.

—Rev. A. Frost of Cambridge will preach in the Highland avenue church on Sunday. All are welcome.

—Wiley S. & Frank Edmunds have leased the house of J. L. Phillips off Highland avenue to Henry G. Burgess.

—Mr. William B. Bosson and family have returned from Bear Island, Lake Winnepesaukee.

—Mrs. John Shortall of Chicago is the guest of Mrs. Henry H. Carter, Highland avenue.

—Mr. Le Barron of Washington, D. C., is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Donald MacDonald of Highland avenue.

—Congratulations are being received by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gage of Appleton street over the birth of a son.

—Mr. and Mrs. Greenwood of Edinboro street left here today for a trip to the mountains.

—Mr. and Mrs. Leahy of Washington terrace have returned from their summer place at Penobscot.

—Miss Lillian Anderson and Mrs. Frank Jordan of Austin street have returned from a pleasant month's sojourn at Falmouth.

A large number from this place went to Waban Wednesday evening for the first "at home" of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Vose.

—Mr. Thomas G. Estes and family of Watertown street have returned after their summer outing at Toulisset on the Kiekenut.

—The Newtonville Woman's Guild will hold its annual reception at the residence of Mrs. G. F. Kimball, Walnut street, Tuesday, Oct. 9th.

—Mrs. E. C. S. Tanner of Clarendon street chopped the end off a finger of her left hand while manipulating a small hatchet Tuesday.

—Higgins & Nickerson have sold their new house on Lowell street to Mr. Curtis, who has been occupying Mr. Samuel Brown's house on Walnut street.

—The Walnut street crossing needs some attention. The planks are decaying and some are in such condition that it would be well to replace them by new ones.

—The tennis tourney for men and boys on the Newton Club courts started off well Wednesday. There are over 30 entries in the three classes. The finals are scheduled for Saturday.

—Henry W. Savage has rented Mr. Thomas Emerson's house, Brookside avenue, to Mr. E. R. Eaton of Boston for a term of years. Mr. Eaton will probably occupy it Oct. 1st.

—Mr. H. N. Hyde, superintendent of water works, is recovering from his severe illness. When taken sick, Mr. Hyde was alone and his family was hastily summoned from Kennebunkport where they have been spending the summer.

—The school accommodations here are not very good yet as a result in part of the fire in the Adams school house and a generally overcrowded condition of buildings. Some of the pupils are being sent to the Pearl street school and parents don't like it.

—The music at the Universalist church Sunday morning will be as follows:
Soprano, Alto, Tenor, Bass Solos and Quartet. "Hark! Hark my Soul."
Soprano Solo and Quartet, "How Lovely are Thy Dwellings Fair." Quartet, "Hear us, O Father."
J. S. Knight

—In that natural amphitheatre, known as "Morton Park," on the shore of Bullock's Pond, there was quite a gathering of persons for the first time, Hyde and Watertown, on Sunday afternoon last, to listen to the sacred concert given by the Crescent Band of Waltham. As there seems to be a demand for entertainments of this nature, a second concert will be given at the same place on Sunday the 18th inst., commencing at 3.30 o'clock. These concerts are given by private subscription and everybody is invited to come and enjoy them.

—On Wednesday evening Miss Florence Johnson entertained a number of her young friends, among whom were Miss Alice Biscoe of Spencer, Miss Florence Sylvester of Newtonville, Mr. Charles Brown of Newton Upper Falls, and Mr. Hobson of Boston. What was a special feature of the occasion. The special prize, an excursion ticket to Woods Hole, was captured by Miss Florence Johnson. After enjoying the beautiful collation served by the hostess, the members of the merry party separated wishing the hostess and her charming daughter many long and happy years.

—Mr. J. H. Wright gave a house warming Tuesday evening and a party of about 50 friends from the Newtons and Boston were most hospitably entertained and given an opportunity to inspect his fine new residence on Nevada street. It was erected by Higgins & Nickerson and is a very substantial and convenient structure of the modern architectural type. The floors in the first story are laid in oak which is also used in the general finish. The walls are treated in oil colors and the ceilings are in rich tints and fresco effects. The house is lighted by electricity. It is equipped with every modern convenience with the purpose in mind, evidently, of securing an ideal home. Those who admired its many attractive features Tuesday evening extended the full measure of congratulations to the genial host and it is unnecessary to add, that he did everything possible for the comfort and pleasure of his guests. An excellent dinner was served and then followed an hour of a delightful, social character. Mr. Wright was presented with some valuable household articles including an oak dining room set, a chamber set, a very handsome card table, a richly upholstered couch and a fine Haviland dinner set. He expressed his thanks in well chosen words and will treasure the gifts,

4

LINES OF WEAR CUT.

Outing Shirts reduced from $1.50 to .50
Ladies' Waists " " 2.75 to 1.00
Men's Neck Wear " " 3.00 to 1.50

RAY 509 Wash. St., cor. West.
641 B. St., Boston.

WEST NEWTON

—Pianos, rented and tuned, Farley Newton

—Mrs. J. T. Prince is spending a few weeks at Jackson, N. H.

—Mrs. S. P. Darling and daughter have spent the season at Corinth, Vt.

—Mrs. W. G. Wise has returned from the mountains.

—Mrs. A. L. Abbott and daughter have returned from West Wilton, N. H.

—Miss Gertrude Hall of Waltham street is spending a few weeks at Buzzards Bay.

—Mr. E. E. Burdon and family have returned from their outing at Seaview.

—Mr. S. W. Reynolds and family returned from Seaview this week where they have been passing the summer months.

—Mr. Frank H. Humphrey has returned from the state firemen's convention held in Cottage City last week.

—Dr. Albert Nott of Washington street has returned from a brief trip in New Hampshire.

—Mr. Charles Hastings of South Carolina is visiting his mother on Temple street.

—Mr. Christopher Needham of Crescent street has returned from North Sandwich, N. H.

—Mrs. Gow, wife of Lieut. Gow of the United States Navy, is the guest of her mother, Mrs. A. K. Tolman.

—Mrs. Jane M. Hastings is seriously ill with typhoid fever at her home on Temple street.

—Mr. James T. Allen and family returned Sunday from their summer home at Linnekin, Me.

—Rev. Wm. Thayer, formerly of South Boston, occupied the pulpit at the Unitarian church last Sunday.

—Mr. S. F. Cate's family of Highland street have returned from Green Harbor, Mass.

—Cornell has honored Miss Alice Walton, Ph. D. Her essay on "The Cult of Asclepius" has been constituted one of the studies or text books of the University in the department of classical philology.

—Mr. James P. Tolman and Mr. George L. Lovett were chosen as delegates to the National Conference of the American Unitarian Association to be held at Saratoga, Sept. 24 to 30th.

—The Newton Ladies' Home Circle will hold their first meeting of the season with the president, Mrs. Geo. M. Fiske, Wolcott street, Abundale, Wednesday, Sept. 19 at 2 p. m.

—Miss Amelia Davis, first assistant at the Framingham Normal school, has been granted a year's leave of absence for needed rest. Her duties last term were very arduous, the work of the principal having largely devolved upon her.

—There are letters in the post office for Mrs. Arthur Bellows, Miss Polly Brady, James Cochran, Mrs. Caroline Hubbard, Miss Annie Harrison, Wm. F. Henderson, Mrs. W. Harvey, Miss H. B. Janeway, Kate McQuillan, W. H. Mortimer, Mrs. E. K. Wilson, E. Y. Whiston, Miss H. L. Wilson, Mr. George Wright.

—Miss Josephine, second daughter of Mr. M. T. Fitzpatrick, died at the home of her parents, Webster street, Tuesday, aged 15 years. The funeral took place from St. Bernard's church, yesterday morning. There was a solemn, high mass, Rev. L. J. Toole, celebrant.

—The 42d year of the West Newton English and Classical school, for boys and girls, begins next Wednesday, Sept. 19. It prepares students for college, scientific schools, business and a useful career. The outlook in attendance is excellent and the number of pupils, it is thought, will exceed last year's figures. The list of day pupils will be considerably augmented.

—John F. Foster met with a serious accident on Washington street near Oak square, Brighton, last Saturday morning. He was coasting on a bicycle down the long hill from Newton when his wheel slid from under him, and he was thrown against a post. He struck on his left side, and his arm was broken. He also received several cuts about the head and face. He was attended by a physician and taken to his home.

—Despite the intense heat, a large audience assembled in the Baptist church last Sunday evening and thoroughly enjoyed the vesper service. The quartet consisting of Miss Russell, recently from Chicago, Miss Fisher, W. T. Rice and W. H. Rand, rendered several selections with fine effect. As Miss Russell formerly sang in the choir of this church she was the leading attraction of the service, and the anticipations of her many friends were fully realized. Her unassuming manner together with her pure quality of voice, clear enunciation, and true conception of the theme renders it a pleasure to listen to her. The tenor solo by Mr. Rice was sung in his unusually pleasing manner. Rev. E. P. Bart, pastor of the church, made a short address at the close of the service which showed his characteristic earnestness in his work. The service was so successful that undoubtedly similar ones will be held in the future.

The pastor has arranged to have special music at all the Sunday evening services and all are cordially invited to attend.

—Mrs. H. L. Bisby and family have returned from Chatham.

—Mr. S. W. Reynolds and family have returned from Chatham.

—Mr. H. A. Glazier is enjoying a week visiting various points of interest about Newport, Staten Island and Dover, N. H.

—Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Haynes of Cherry street are receiving congratulations over the birth of a son.

—Misses Annie and Olive Haynes who have been visiting Miss Gertrude Haynes, Eden avenue, have returned to their home in Hind head.

—Loyalty Lodge, 154 L. O. G. T. will hold a public Good Friday Social and Luncheon in Good Templars Hall, West Newton at 7.45. The G. C. T. Willard O. Wylie will address the meeting. The public are cordially invited to be present.

—Mrs. Elizabeth Lodge died Tuesday at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. W. M. Bullivant, 205 New York street. The funeral took place Thursday afternoon, Rev. E. P. Bart officiating. The floral offerings were numerous and beautiful. Appropriate music was furnished by a quartet. The interment was made in the family lot at Forest Hills.

—Mr. Nathaniel T. Allen has accepted an invitation of Mr. F. T. Morrill of New York, one of his former students, to join a party on Mr. Morrill's steam yacht Vamoose, the swiftest craft of its class in the world. The boat's record is 28 miles per hour. On Thursday a trip up the Hudson is planned and on Friday, the Vamoose will meet the Augusta Victoria when that steamer enters New York harbor. The Misses Allen return from Europe on the big foreign steamer which is named in honor of the Queen. They will reach home with Mr. Allen, Saturday Sept. 22.

—Mr. Theodore Nickerson, widely known as a railroad man, died suddenly Wednesday evening in the Boston & Albany railroad station on Kneeland street. Mr. Nickerson had come in from his home in West Newton on a late local, intending to take the 11 o'clock express for New York. When he was about to pass through the gate at 10.50 o'clock to enter one of the cars, he was seized with a violent coughing fit. A resident of West Newton who recognized him secured assistance and helped him to the West Newton train due to leave at 11.15. Mr. Nickerson expressing the opinion that he felt too ill to go to New York and ought to return to his home. While being assisted up the steps to the platform of one of the cars on the local, he suddenly collapsed and exhibited the symptoms attendant upon a fit. After lying there a few minutes, the sufferer was taken to the platform, thence to a truck standing near the baggage room. He was probably dead at this time, for no pulse could be found. The Emergency Hospital physicians pronounced Mr. Nickerson dead on their arrival at 11.15 o'clock. After the body was given to the undertaker, Mr. Nickerson's relatives were notified by telephone. Embolism of the heart was given as the cause of death. Deceased was an old resident of this city. He was long associated with his father, the late Thomas Nickerson, at one time president of the Mexican Central railroad. The elder Nickerson was one of the most prominent railroad men of his generation and accumulated a vast fortune. The son inherited much of his father's shrewdness and tact. He possessed genial manners and had a very wide circle of friends. He was a popular member of the Newton Club. A widow, three sons and two daughters survive him. The funeral services will be held at his late residence on Saturday at 2 p. m.

AUBURNDALE.

—Ivers & Pond pianos, Farley Newton

—A nice toothbrush at Thorne's.

—Mr. John Feeley is spending a week's vacation at his home in Stoneham.

—Mr. David F. Parker has returned from Fitzwilliam, N. H.

—Mrs. E. H. Walker, Hancock street, has returned from Stoughton.

—Mrs. Harpin is assisting at the post office for a few weeks.

—Mr. C. W. King of Lexington street has so far recovered from his recent severe illness as to resume business.

—Miss C. V. Smith of Brooklyn, N. Y., is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Higgins, Woodbine street.

—The engagement of Miss Felix of Central street to Mr. Frederic J. Randlett has just been announced.

—Ernest Harlow of Pluta's store is at the hospital quite seriously ill with typhoid fever.

—Misses Phillips & Collins have returned and are ready to take orders for fall work.

—John Klooker of Woodberry's store cut his hand very severely with a knife while at work one day this week.

—Owing to the death of Mr. Nickerson the illumination at the Saturday night promenade concert of the Newton Boat Club will be omitted.

—Mrs. Fred E. Whiting and sons returned yesterday from the Intervale House, N. H., where they have been staying several weeks.

—Miss Kate M. Plummer, Woodland avenue, has returned from Hallowell, Me., where she has been passing the warm season.

—Miss Mame Staples of Essex, Conn., has been visiting for two weeks with her friend, Carrie L. DeWolf of Lexington street.

—Mr. Fred W. Dodge, accompanied by his brother, left this week on a ten days' trip through Maine to Upper Canada, returning by way of the St. Lawrence river.

—Mr. Henry Parker and family from Newport News, North Carolina, are guests of his mother, Mrs. Charles Edward Parker.

—There are letters at the post office for Wm. A. Childs, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Drew, James Fitzmorris, S. W. Winslow, F. A. Young, Miss Elizabeth Carter, Miss Idelle Carpenter, Mr. Harry Hollis, Mr. Martin Kennedy, Mrs. Christy Ann Me Isaacs.

—The change wrought in the appearance of the streets about the business section this week is very gratifying. The section man has been doing excellent work in keeping things tidy this week and it is to be hoped the improvement will be permanent.

—Mrs. E. C. Merrill and Miss Carrie L. DeWolf, Lexington street, left Auburndale today on their bicycles for an extended trip which will occupy a month or six weeks' time. They will go through New Hampshire and Maine to Canada, where Montreal, Quebec and other places of interest will be visited, returning home through Vermont and western Massachusetts.

Tired, Weak, Nervous.

Means impure blood, and overwork or too much strain and body. The only way to cure is to feed the nerves on pure blood. Thousands of people certify that the best blood purifier is Hood's Sarsaparilla. What it has done for Hood's Sarsaparilla. What it has done for Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Hood's Pills cure constipation by restoring peristaltic action of the alimentary canal.

Education & Employment

Reopens September 4th.

A thorough and practical course of study in BUSINESS AND SHORTHAND, Preparing young people to earn their own living. Individual instruction; positions for pupils; experienced teachers. Our record of 54 YEARS AND 29,000 PUPILS speaks for itself. Prospects free by mail or at office.

COMER'S COMMERCIAL COLLEGE,
666 Washington St., cor. Beach,
BOSTON, MASS.

MISS C. E. MARSH,
Pianoforte Teacher,
Will resume lessons October 1st, 1894.

RESIDENCE: ALPINE ST., WEST NEWTON.

S. GRAHAME NOBBS,
graduate N. E. Conservatory of Music, resumes Vocal Teaching on the 15th of September. Terms, Box 265, Newtonville. 50 2c

MISS LOUISE E. TROWBRIDGE,
Pupil of Prof. Julius W. Hill, Wellesley College.

Plaint and Teacher of Piano Forte Playing. Reference, J. Elliot Trowbridge, Organist. Fall term begins October 1st, 1894. 50 4t

ADDRESS: - WEST NEWTON.

Republican
Caucuses.

Pursuant to the call of the Republican State Committee, the Republicans of Newton are requested to meet in caucus on

TUESDAY, SEPT. 18,
1894, at 7.30 P. M.

at their respective Wards as follows:-

Ward 1, Armory Hall.
Ward 2, Room 8, Claflin Bk'k.
Ward 3, City Hall.
Ward 4, Auburn Hall.
Ward 5, Stevens' Hall.
Ward 6, Associates' Hall.
Ward 7, Eliot Lower Hall.

For the purpose of choosing delegates to each of the following Republican Conventions, viz:- State, Congressional, County and Senatorial. The respective Wards are entitled to delegates to each of these Conventions as follows: Ward 1, 3; Ward 2, 4; Ward 3, 4; Ward 4, 3; Ward 5, 4; Ward 6, 4; Ward 7, 4.

Also for the purpose of choosing delegates to a representative Convention for the choice of candidates for the General Court, which convention is hereby called to meet at

CITY HALL,
TUESDAY, OCT. 2, '94,
AT 8 P. M.

By vote of the Republican State Convention of 1893, the representative Wards are entitled to delegates to the Representative Convention as follows: Ward 1, 3; Ward 2, 4; Ward 3, 4; Ward 4, 3; Ward 5, 4; Ward 6, 4; Ward 7, 4.

Also for the purpose of choosing delegates to a representative Convention for the choice of candidates for the General Court, which convention is hereby called to meet at

By order of the Republican City Committee of Newton.

ROBERT H. GARDINER, Chairman.

CHARLES W. KNAPP, Secretary. 49 2t

S. H. FOLSON, Register. 50 3t

BEVERLY BROS..
BAKERS.

Having recently put a cart on the road, are prepared to serve customers living in Newtonville, West Newton, Newton Centre and the Highlands.

354 Centre St., Newton.

PIANOS and all Musical Instruments

can be more advantageously bought, better selections, lower prices and larger varieties from which to select, by one who is not connected with a one maker, but selects from all. Call or write circulars to "An Expert Professional Buyer" - Pianos and all Musical Instruments, L. H. ODE, 125 Tremont Street, Boston. Hours 9 to 5.

MINER ROBINSON
ELECTRICAL ENGINEER.

12 Pearl St., Room 27, Boston. Order Office, 421 Centre St., Newton

The fitting of private residences for the Electric Light a specialty.

ELECTRIC LIGHT

Boston, 3311. —TELEPHONES— W. Newton, *234.
NEWTON *255-2.

Announcement

CUSTOM BOOTS AND SHOES
JAMES B. BEECHER,
Cherry Street, West Newton.

Having secured the services of a first class man to assist me, I wish to state to the public that I am now prepared to fill all orders to

At short notice; also REPAIRING in the same prompt manner as heretofore. Thanking the public for their liberal patronage in the past and hoping by strict attention to business to merit a continuance of the same, I remain yours respectfully,

SIMPSON BROTHERS,
ESTABLISHED 1869.

Concrete Walks and Driveways
Asphalt Floors, and Artificial Stone walks.

We have been awarded the Sidewalk Contract for the City of Newton for 1894, and are ready to receive orders or give estimates for work in private grounds.

P. O. Address, Newton, or Boston Office, Room 58,
Telephone 1155 Boston.
166 Devonshire St.

REFERS TO 20 YEARS WORK IN NEWTON.

Violin Instruction.

Full Term Begins October 1st.

L. EDWIN CHASE,
43 Carleton St., Newton, Mass.

MISS ALICE O. CUTLER,
(Pupil of Carl Baermann.)

TEACHER OF

PIANO FORTE AND HARMONY.
Grove Street, Auburndale. 49 13c

LOUIS C. STANTON,
(Pupil of W. H. Sherwood.)

Lessons in the Art of Playing the Piano. Harmony and Musical Analysis taught in Classes.

26 Bacon Street, Newton.
Corner of Washington Street. 49

MISS ELLA MAE HOLT,
Teacher of Piano,

CHESLEY PL., - NEWTONVILLE.
49 9c

MISS ROSE CUNNINGHAM,
TEACHER OF

PIANOFORTE PLAYING AND HARMONY.
Address 10 Beach Street, Newtonville. 49 4

FOUND

...AT...

HUDSON'S PHARMACY.

...A CURE FOR...

Coughs and Colds.

OVER 200 BOTTLES OF

PECTORAL SYRUP

have been sold during the past month. It has a

Home Reputation

due entirely to its

-----MERITS-----

PREPARED ONLY BY

Arthur Hudson,

Pharmacist and Chemist.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

MIDDLESEX, ss.

PROBATE COURT.

To the heirs-at-law, next of kin and all other persons interested in the estate of Eliza Morgan late of Newton in said County, deceased.

WHEREAS, a certain instrument purporting to be the last will and testament, of said deceased has been presented to said Court, for probate, by Ida E. Seaver who prays that letters testamentary may be issued to her, the executrix therein named, without giving a surety on her official bond.

You are hereby cited to appear at a Probate Court, to be held at Cambridge in said County of Middlesex, on the second day of October A. D. 1894, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause, if any you have, why the same should not be granted.

And said petitioner is hereby directed to give public notice thereof, by publishing this citation once in each week, for three successive weeks, in the Newton Graphic a newspaper published in Newton the last publication to be on day, at least, before said Court, and by mailing, post-paid, or delivering a copy of this citation to all known persons interested in the estate, seven days at least before said Court.

Witness, CHARLES J. MCINTIRE, Esquire, Judge of said Court, this eleventh day of September in the year one thousand eight hundred and ninety-four.

S. H. FOLSON, Register.

BICYCLES

WE CAN'T BE BEAT.

How is this for an assortment of wheels? Agents for the Rambler, Union, Raleigh, Warwick, Relay, Eagle, Puritan, Lovell, Waverly, Crawford.

Call and see the League Chainless Safety. We allow more in trade for your old wheel than any other dealer. The best fitted repair shop in Boston. Call for catalogue.

RAZOUX & HANDY

444 TREMONT STREET, BOSTON.

GEORGE S. BRAZER,

(SUCCESSOR TO ODIN FAIRIE.)

PHOTOGRAPHY

Also Portraits in Oil, Water Color and Pastel.

358 CENTRE STREET, NEWTON, MASS.

Chandler Seaver.

Portrait and Landscape Photography.

West Newton, Mass.

There was once

A man
Who always tried
To save money
By buying cheap
goods;
He died in
The Poorhouse.
The Best is
The Cheapest.
We Keep that Kind

Central
Dry Goods
Co.,

Largest establishment between Boston & Worcester.

107 to 115

Moody St.

Waltham.

West Newton English and Classical School.

THE FORTY SECOND YEAR

of this Family Day School for Boys and Girls begins

Wednesday, Sept. 19, '94.

Prepares for College, Scientific School, Business and a useful life. Attention to character building. Send for Catalogue or call Tuesdays at

ALLEN BROTHERS, - West Newton.

GARDEN

CITY

-BAND.

The Garden City Brass Band is open to engagements for parades, banquets, societies, concerts, picnics, lawn parties and all occasions where an excellent band with a full complement of musicians is needed. All communications for engagements may be made to Joseph T. Hall, Newton Upper Falls, or P. H. Callanan, Newton Lower Falls. 38 6m

FRED A. HUBBARD,

Pharmacist

P. O. Block, - NEWTON.

SUNDAY CLOSING HOURS:

From 10.30 A. M. to 12 M.: 2 P. M. to 4 P. M.

J. A. BUSHEE

Painter and Decorator.

Graining, Glazing, Paper Hanging, Whitening, Tinting and Whitewashing.

216 WASHINGTON STREET, - NEWTON.

Photographers.

GOING ABROAD.

The other shore—she sails to that
And leaves me here alone whereat
I sigh in vain and let a tear
Slip down my cheek. Another dear,
However, still is left me at

The old stand, and I hang my hat
Up there until she comes, whereat
I much rejoice. Business, I fear
The other shore.

Ah, me, I talk but through my hat
When I begin to talk like that,
And still I have a doubt and fear,
And hope I never'st but little cheer,
Yet if I'm left I'll take for that
The other shore.

THE RAY'S WORK.

Of all the beautiful things in this beautiful world there was none that the little ray loved so well as the summer sea. He and his comrades would play by the hour together with the rippling wavelets, darting from one to another in dazling, mad flashes of light, spreading themselves over the waters, a sheet of molten gold, till a touch of the wind's light lips broke it up into a thousand shimmering fragments. And the waves loved their playmates, too, and each, as the rays kissed it, became itself a little golden sun, sending forth its light into the radiant air, for the sea, like a fickle, lovable woman, answers back to all in their own moods and is loved just because she cannot be trusted. Then, where the waves broke on the golden sands or round the clean, dark rocks, the little rays would fill their foam with light till it shone more brightly white than the Jungfrau's crest, and the music of the waves breaking was a joy song for their own loveliness. Laughing, they ran up the smooth sand and embraced with teasing play the small pink feet which scampared away before them, while the sun's rays flashed from their surface to meet the light, brighter still, which shone from children's eyes. Oh, those were happy days, and as the little ray danced along over the waters he hoped that they never might end.

But a time came when the voice of the wind sounded from afar. The sea heard it and was troubled to its depths at the new life of power and strength which was tearing within it, while the wavelets far and wide raised their tiny crests, and in ripples of white foam whispered the news one to another. The clouds, too, heard the voice and gathered together at its bidding to spread themselves a thick, dark curtain over the sea and hide from the sun's face the things which were to be. And so the little ray could visit the sea no longer nor join any more in sport with his favorite playmates. At this his heart was very sad, and he took no delight in the other pleasures to which his comrades called him. They told him of the wild games they played with the wind shaken leaves of the forest; of the snow cold peaks which they crowned with dazzling splendor of jewels; of fog laden valleys filled with dream forms of weirdest, strangest loveliness; of mysteries of beauty revealed midst the world's most squalid dreariness. But it was all in vain. The little ray longed for his lost playmates and would care for none of these things.

As he wandered sadly among the heavy, driving clouds, losing himself in their sullen masses, searching for some crevice through which he might penetrate, one of them pitied him. "Since you will it so," said she, "I will let you through, though I fear you will find that dreams that are past can never be dreamed again." Then she shrank back from her neighbor, and with one swift word of thanks the little ray darted down through the opening she had made.

Down he went to the sea below and there lay quivering and lost in its black gulf. Oh, what a changed world it was! Above him the tempest hurried along and shouted to the waves as it went, and the waves threw their white heads up and answered back in crashing thunders. "Death, death, and the end of all things!" passionately yelled the tempest. "Ruin!" roared the waves. "Naught is that can withstand us!" a world of darkness and tumult and terrible unrest. The little ray lay where he had lighted, tremulous and afraid, now glimmering for an instant among cataracts of rushing foam and then lost again in the dark depths of the water. "Hal!" cried the waves when they saw him. "So you are here, little ray. The world is changed since you saw it last." "Changed indeed," said the ray. "Oh, why cannot you be as you were before, my playmates?" But the waves laughed, shaking spray from their crests till the tempest caught it and whirled it mountain high in the air. "Give us the winds for playmates," they cried, "and the men's lives for our sport. Talk to us not of the wretched, spiritless living in now." "But you were happy then. You rejoiced in the earth's beauty and were happy," said the little ray wistfully. "Because we knew no better," they answered. "We have learned since then that there is something fairer than beauty, more glorious than joy. Oh, the rapture of fury when we raise the ship high in the air to hurl her down on the rocks beneath—the cruel rocks whom we love and linger to kiss and in fold in our soft white arms even then in the joy of that moment of power. To crush into pieces the mighty vessel with all its wealth and labor of workmanship; to scatter abroad the heavy fragments, flinging them to and fro in the very storm of our sovereign strength; to watch men gasp in their death agony as we lift ourselves above their writhing bodies, and then to crash down and dash the life from their lips—this is power, little friend; this is power, and there is no glory in the world like the glory of power."

The ray grew chill and wan and trembled as he listened. "Is there nothing, then, left which is fair to look upon in all this waste of waters?" he cried, and he wandered dizzily on. Everywhere the same dark cliffs and white crested mountains mingling together in tumultuous chaos, everywhere floating fragments of wreck and the stain of earth torn from its parent shore; ruin and destruction and nothing that was fair to look upon.

Far out to sea a woman, with a child in her arms, floated alone in a small open boat. Alone they had been saved from a wrecked and sunken ship—saved from drowning, as it seemed, but to die of hunger, and for hours they had tossed helpless at the mercy of the waves. Many a ship had come near them, but the woman's cries were not heard in the howling of the tempest, and beneath the darkened sky the fluttering rag she waved was lost in the spray which enveloped her. So the ships went on. The woman's voice grew faint, and despair was in her heart. "Let death but come quickly," she cried, "and but for my child it would be welcome—but for my child and for his father awaiting him at home, I have cried. I have prayed in vain. No help is left in earth or in heaven."

But the little ray wandered on toward her over the sea, and the woman, lifting her heavy lids, saw the coming glimmer on the water. Her breath came quicker, her pale lips trembled, her glance followed swiftly up to the patch of blue sky above, while over her death-like face and in her dulled eyes there broke a light such as the ray had never seen before. At the sight of it now he flashed back up to the heavens beyond the clouds. "Come," he cried to his comrades, "come and see, for there is something fairer than aught that has been before, fairer than the sunlit sea or than the laughter on children's lips." His comrades flocked to his call and poured down through the crevice in the clouds, widening it as they went. Then they stretched themselves, a broad path of light, from the sky above to the lonely boat, which they bathed in their soft radiance.

Across the storm driven sea, cleaving the waves asunder with stately motion, a great ship came. The eyes of those on board her, wearied with gloom, turned gladly to that bright spot on sky and sea, and turning saw the boat, saw the white face of the woman and her waving signal. So the ship altered her course, and soon the mother and her burden stood safe upon the decks.

Evening drew near. The tempest had fled now, and thus left alone the tired, gray waves, their strength failing and their fury spent, were heaving in sullen impotence to rest. The clouds, falling away from the sky, gathered themselves in soft, changing masses of vapor around the edge of the sea. The sun, sinking lower and lower, called to the rays to come. Sadly they heard the call. They bade farewell to their beloved earth in a passion of fervid color. Upon wave and cliff, mountain and cloud, they rained their glowing kisses, and earth's beauty quivered into new glory, as does a maiden's in her lover's embrace. Then they drew together, a road of golden splendor on the sea as they crowded westward after their departing king. With slow, majestic motion he sank to rest.

But the little ray hung back. He had found the cloud who had stood his friend that morning, and he waited to give her goodbye. He was filling her now with his own golden glory of light as he whispered to her of all the beauty which was in the world. Alas, she would stay with it still in the wonder of the night, the great dark peace which he never might know. He thanked her, too, in loving words and kisses till she blushed red with pleasure, and then with tender, slow reluctance he drew away from her. As he went the flush faded, passing in gentle change through every shade of russet and purple till the cloud was left alone, resting soft and gray on her twilight couch.

But the little ray was thinking of the light of hope which he had seen in the woman's eyes that day. "Ah," said he to himself, "if I could only shine like that!" And with this wish in him he lingered still in the sky beneath, coloring it a green so pure and so tender that to the woman watching from the ship's deck it seemed as if heaven's own spring were bursting into blossom in her sight. But the light lessened, and the color faded, and she remembered that it was but sun tinted vapor after all. She sighed, but the sigh left her lips in a smile, for the child laughing stretched his hands to her face. Lovingly she pressed him closer to her and drew her shawl more warmly round him. "Good night, little one," she whispered. "You must sleep now, for the day is ended. Tomorrow, when the light comes back, you shall wake again." Then she bent her head down toward his face and mingled her smiles with his in a long, soft kiss.

That was the last thing which the little ray saw before he, too, followed the sun to rest.—Fall Mall Magazine.

A Big Dress Order.

"Women play odd tricks on one another sometimes," said a smart American woman the other day, "but the queerest I ever heard of was perpetrated by one social leader in a western city upon another. They were rivals and hated each other accordingly, though outwardly they preserved the semblance of pleasant relations. Every chance that either got to give a dig at the other was eagerly seized.

"But the final and most effective broke, after which no calls were exchanged, was delivered by Mrs. L—. She sent out cards for a grand entertainment and then took pains to find out what Mrs. F—, her competitor, was going to wear. A gorgeous pink brocaded satin was the material of Mrs. F—'s gown, it was ascertained.

"Accordingly Mrs. L—, whose husband was in the dry goods business, obtained several hundred yards of the same identical stuff and draped the walls of all the rooms on the lower floor of her house with it. You may imagine the feelings of Mrs. F— on arriving in her superb new frock, which she expected to make a sensation. Naturally she ordered her carriage and drove away in tears."—London Tit-Bits.

MAGIC EXPLAINED.

THE STAR TRICKS OF HINDOO CONJURERS MADE EASY.

The Mango Trick Explained by Kellar, the Magician—It Is the Same Which Globe Trotter Stevens Claims Is Miraculously Performed by Yogi Men.

The sleight of hand performances of Mr. Maskelyne, a remarkably clever juggler, have excited a great deal of interest in London. Not only are his tricks skillfully done, but his explanations of other tricks have attracted much attention among a class of men who seldom visit the halls where feats of this sort are presented.

The Mail and Express recently published an article from the London Spectator in which the writer describes one or two tricks which he saw in India and which mystified him greatly. Here is one, which, by the way, is described by Thomas Stevens, the globe trotter, who says that the Yogi men, who perform it, are aided by an occult force that the world is as yet ignorant of.

A juggler placed a cloth over the pavement of the street, and presently he removed it, and there was a mango growing between the stones. "The juggler," adds the writer, "one of the hereditary caste, did undoubtedly make a leaf spring out of the ground; did make it grow into a dwarf mango, and did hand the mango from it to be eaten. It looked wonderful because of the apparent simplicity of the juggler, but he performed his feat in four processes, and between each he shook out his chunder, or muslin wrapper, so that it passed for an instant between the spectators and the plant. The writer had no doubt then and has no doubt now that this was done not to conceal anything, but to distract attention momentarily; that the first leaf, the upgrowth of leaves, the dwarf mango and the mango on it were all of wax or other carefully made imitation, and that the whole miracle was marvellously rapid sleight of hand."

To Americans who are interested in this sort of thing this mystery is almost amusing. It was exposed several years ago by Kellar, the prestidigitateur. Four or five years ago Kellar publicly offered $1,000 to anyone who would perform a trick which he could not duplicate and which he could not prove to be done by wholly human aids. A number of persons who had recently visited India immediately deluged him with descriptions of this and other specimens of oriental jugglery. Of course as they could not perform the trick themselves they did not compete for his money offer, and therefore they were not publicly answered.

Kellar, however, gave me personally a full explanation not only of these tricks, but of several others which have long baffled the cleverest of the occidental investigators. The magician has spent more than 15 years of his professional life in India and the far east, and he has closely studied the tricks of the native jugglers with more or less profit to himself. This is how he explained the mango or pineapple trick as nearly as I can recall it:

"The first time I saw the mango trick," said he, "was in Bombay in 1879 or thereabouts, and the man who did it was the most skillful conjurer I ever saw in India. Even after I had learned the secret of his illusion I could not help admiring its ingenuity and the dexterity with which it was performed. The juggler and his two comrades chose a spot before the Prince of Wales' statue on the plaza. He first laid down a bag on the hard ground and then drew from it a large handanna handkerchief. Digging a small hole in the ground with one finger, he buried a pineapple seed, and over this he placed his handkerchief. He carefully smoothed out the cloth, rubbing swiftly from left to right. After this maneuver was ended he made several passes with his arms over the handkerchief, while his comrades beat industriously upon their drums and blew upon their pipes.

"Suddenly, to my surprise, I saw the handkerchief begin to slowly rise in the center and gently sway from side to side as though a plant were really sprouting to life from the seed which he had planted beneath the cloth. When the handkerchief had risen like a tent to a height of about 12 inches, the conjurer stopped his incantations and cautiously lifted up the left hand corner of the cover and peered beneath it. Then, plunging both hands underneath to the accompaniment of loud and discordant music, he threw aside the cloth and showed a full grown pineapple plant.

"This is the way he did the trick, as he afterward admitted to me:

"In smoothing out the cloth he reached into the bag, the mouth of which was conveniently placed near the handkerchief, and whisked out a hooded cobra snake. The moment the reptile was laid down it began to coil. That made the handkerchief rise. When it had reached its full height, its angry hissing meanwhile being drowned by the music of the assistants, the performer looked under the cloth, taking care to draw the corner close to the mouth of the bag. Then he adroitly whisked out a hollow pineapple from the bag underneath the cloth. It was now the work of a minute only to force the snake into the apple, close the aperture, and the trick was done."—Benjamin Northrup in New York Mail and Express.

Lace and Brocade.

If you have any treasured short lengths of old brocade, you may produce them now and make the fronts of one of the long Louis Seize waistcoats of them. And if you are happy enough to possess old lace you can make them up en jabot to wear with the same. It is to mount the lace on bands of muslin, keeping the folds quite soft and using as few stitches as possible. In this way the tender susceptibilities of the fabric are spared, and when the jabot fashion is over and done with the lace remains to be used in some other way.—Fashion Journal.

THE GRAPEVINE SWING.

Bilthely whistling, with agile swing,
Leaps the farmer's boy to the grapevine swing.
To and fro, high and low,
Up where the winds the branches blow,
Flying down to lightly pass
Where bare feet ripple the blue eyed grass.
Up again in the sunshine free,
Back in the shade of the maple tree,
Sprung the ground with supple foot
At the well worn spot at the maple's root.
Higher; the branches strike his breast,
There are three blue eggs in the robin's nest!
Dropping, dropping, swiftly down,
With a flying glimpse of the distant town,
Back and forth in the noontide glow,
Swinging slower and still more slow,
Idly rocking in sun pierced gloom
To a tremulous pause in the vine's perfume.

Springing at length where the grasses yield,
He follows the men to the hayfield.

—Mary L. Paine in Good Housekeeping.

ACID FOR MAKING SUGAR.

A Curious Process Which Has Met With Some Success In France.

A very novel method of making sugar has been patented in France by M. Pellegrini. Sugar is chemically a compound of carbon, oxygen and hydrogen in such proportions that if carbonic acid, water and certain kinds of illuminating gas could be persuaded to unite in the proper quantities the composition of sugar would be exactly imitated. Hitherto no one has been able to make sugar by mixing water with two kinds of gas, but M. Pellegrini claims to have succeeded. The apparatus he uses consists of a large block of pumice stone, cleansed by soaking first in sulphuric acid and then in water, which is set in an iron box plated with nickel inside. The length of the box is three times that of the pumice stone block, which is tightly fitted in the middle, and pipes are arranged to convey the ingredients to the empty ends of the box, as required. Two of them enter from the sides and serve to bring carbonic acid and hydrocarbon gas, while another pipe from above branches so as to reach both empty portions of the box and conveys steam. All the pipes are fitted with valve and pressure gauges.

Another pipe at the bottom of the box serves as an outlet. At first this pipe is closed, as is also the steam pipe from above, and carbonic acid is forced into one end of the box, while ethylene gas is forced into the other under equal pressure and in equal volumes. A few minutes later the steam valve above is opened and the steam forced in under the same pressure. As the gases unite the pressure falls, so that the supply of each must be kept constant. At the end of half an hour the supply of gas is shut off, the outlet pipe is opened, and one of the chambers is found to be filled with sirup containing 25 per cent of sugar.

The sirup is drawn off for refining, and as soon as the apparatus is cool it is ready for a fresh charge. The ethylene gas can be obtained by roasting rosin or grease, but M. Pellegrini's patent covers other hydrocarbons, such as petroleum products. The explanation is that the three gases are condensed in the pores of the pumice stone and there unite.—American Architect.

To brine butter take a pound of granulated sugar, a tablespoonful of salt-peter and 3 gallons of brine strong enough to bear an egg. Boil the brine and strain when cool. The butter should be wrapped in cloth before placing in the brine.

"Pillsbury's Best
Is The Best."

USE

And you will always be sure of having perfect Bread, because you have the best
Flour made.

Sold by all Grocers,
HENRY W. CROWELL, Agent,
NEWTON

City of Newton.

Proposals for addition to Engine House, No. 2, Washington Street, West Newton, will be received at the office of the Superintendent of Public Buildings, City Hall, until Monday, September 18th, where plans and specifications may be seen. The committee reserve the right to reject all or any of the bids.

GEO. H. ELDER,
Supt. of Public Buildings.

After the Grip

My son was left weak, stomach and lungs affected, could not eat or sleep. Hood's Sarsaparilla

Hood's Sarsaparilla
Cures
Hood's Pills are prompt and efficient.

Millinery

JUVENE

Just returned from New York with a full line of

High Class

Millinery.

Which we are now ready to show.

Open evenings on Saturday only.

E. JUVENE ROBBINS

Eliot Block, Newton.

Mrs. E. A. SMITH,

Millinery.

202 Moody Street,

Opp. Walnut,

Waltham, Mass.

J. FRANKLIN FULLER, Jr.,

Civil Engineer and Surveyor,

19 PEARL ST. BOSTON.

Rooms 24 and 25.

Surveys, Plans, and Estimates for the Improvement, Drainage, and Development of City and Suburban Real Estate.

Residence Highland St., West Newton.

Telephone 1-9

PURE MILK

SUPPLIED DAILY FROM

Prospect Valley Farm

One cow's milk supplied when desired

H. COLDWELL & SON,

Waltham, Mass.

Lock Box 192.

Boston & Albany R. R.

Time Tables showing local and through service between all stations may be obtained at all ticket offices of this company.

THROUGH CAR SERVICE IN EFFECT JUNE 17, 1894.

No. 3—Leaves Boston at 8:30 a. m., except Sunday. Wagner Buffet Drawing Room Car, Boston to Albany.

No. 15—Leaves Boston at 10:30 a. m. Daily. Wagner Vestibuled Sleeping Car, Boston to Chicago, via L. S. & M. S. R. R. and M. C. R. R. Also Through Sleeping Car, Boston to Cincinnati, via "Big Four Route." Dining Car, Boston to Utica.

No. 19—Leaves Boston at 2:00 p. m. Daily. Wagner Buffet Vestibuled Sleeping Car, Boston to Chicago, via M. C. R. R. Arrives Chicago 4:30 p. m. next day.

No. 5—Leaves Boston at 3:00 p. m., except Sunday. Wagner Vestibuled Sleeping Car, Boston to Chicago, via Michigan Central R. R. Sleeping Car, Boston to St. Louis.

No. 9—Leaves Boston at 7:15 p. m. Daily. Wagner Vestibuled Sleeping Car, Boston to Cleveland and Chicago, via L. S. & M. S. R. R.; also Wagner Vestibuled Sleeping Car, Boston to Detroit and Chicago, via M. C. R. R.

No. 43—Leaves Boston at 11:00 p. m., except Sunday. Wagner Sleeping Car, Boston to Albany, arriving at 7:55 a. m.

For Hartford, New Haven and New York (via Springfield Line).

No. 81—Leaves Boston 9:00 a. m., except Sunday. Buffet Drawing Room Car, Coaches to New York, arriving at 3:30 p. m. Six and one-half hours.

No. 49—Leaves Boston 11:00 a. m., except Sunday. Buffet Drawing Room Car, Coaches to New York, arriving at 5:30 p. m. Six and one-half hours.

No. 25—New York Limited Leaves Boston 4:00 p. m. Daily. Drawing Room Car and Coaches to New York, arriving at 10:00 p. m. Only six hours. Elegant Dining Car on this train between Boston and Springfield.

No. 63—Night Express. Leaves Boston at 11 p. m. Daily. Sleeping Car and Coaches to New York, arriving at 6:45 a. m.

For tickets, information, time tables, etc., apply to nearest ticket agent.

City Office, 333 Washington Street, Boston.

A. S. HANSON, Gen'l Pass. Agent.

DESTER SHOE CO., Inc's Capital, $1,000,000.

$1.50 SHOE IN THE WORLD.

"A dollar saved is a dollar earned."

This Ladies' Solid French Donkey Kid Button Boot delivered free anywhere in the U. S. on receipt of Cash, Money Order, or Postal Note for $1.50.

Equals every way the boots sold in all retail stores for $2.50 to $3.00.

We make this boot ourselves, therefore we guarantee the fit, style and wear; and if any one is not satisfied we will refund the money or send another pair.

Open Toe or Common Sense, with a C, D, E, & EE, sizes 1 to 8 and half sizes. Send your size; we will send it you.

Illustrated Catalogue FREE

DEXTER SHOE CO., 143 FEDERAL ST., BOSTON, MASS.

Special terms to Dealers.

Expressmen.

CHAMBERLAIN'S BAGGAGE EXPRESS

Orders may be left at the B. & A. Baggage Room, or sent to Post Office Box 25.

HOLMES' Baggage Express.

You can always find one of Holmes' Expressmen at their stand, Newton Baggage Room, from 6:30 A. M., to 8 P. M., where a call may be left, or by telephone call at G. F. Atkins, Grocer, or by Telephone Call at Hubbard & Procter's Apothecary.

Furniture and Piano Moving, also Crockery and Pictures carefully packed for transportation.

General Jobbing of every description promptly attended to.

Residence: 152 Adams Street, Newton, Mass.

PEARSON'S

Newton and Boston Express.

Boston Office: 91 Kilby St., 105 Arch St., 38 Court Sq.; Order Box, 91 Faneuil Hall Market.

Newton Office: 12 B. Coffin St., Order Boxes: Post Office and Blanchard & Atkins.

Leave Newton, 9:30 A. M. Leave Boston, 3 P. M.

NEWCOMB & SNYDER,

Newton and Boston Express.

Leave Newton, 7:30 and 9:30 a. m.; leave Boston, 12 m and 3 p. m. Newton Office: 334 Centre St.

Order Box: 12 B. Coffin St., Boston. Office: 15 Devonshire St., 174 N. Main St., 24 Co. St., 25 Merchants Row, 67 Faneuil St., 11 Harrison Ave. Express, P. O. Box 424, Newton. Persons at long distance orders, Tel. 373.

SLATE, COPPER, TIN AND GRAVEL

ROOFING

Special attention given to repairing.

JOHN FARQUHAR'S SONS,

28 and 32 East Street, Boston.

Established 1836. Telephone No. 162.

Legal Notices.

By Edward F. Barnes, Auctioneer, 27 State St., Boston.

Mortgagee's Sale

of Real Estate.

By virtue of a power of sale contained in a certain mortgage deed given by Michael Quirk to Margaretta M. Burnham dated October 15th 1892, and recorded in the South Dist. Registry of Deeds for the County of Middlesex lib. 2164, folio 562 will be sold at public auction for breach of the conditions of said mortgage on the premises, on Tuesday the 18th day of September 1894, at 4 1/2 o'clock, in the afternoon, all and singular the premises conveyed by said mortgage deed, namely:—A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon situated in Newton in the County of Middlesex and State of Massachusetts and bounded Easterly on Green Court a private way fourteen feet in width leading Northerly from Green Street measuring on said Court twenty-seven and 64/100 (27.64) feet; Northerly on land now or late of A. Brian fifty (50) feet; Westerly on Lot one on the Plan heretofore referred to twenty-seven and 64/100 (27.64) feet; and Southerly on Lot nine on said Plan fifty (50) feet. Containing thirteen hundred and eighty-two square feet and being shown as Lot ten on a Plan drawn by E. S. Smith dated September 1892 and duly recorded and being the same conveyed to me by Edward F. Barnes by deed of even date and record together with the right of way therein set forth.

$200 will be required to be paid in cash by the purchaser at the time and place of sale.

Balance to be paid in cash within Ten days from day of sale at 12 o'clock noon at the office of Edward F. Barnes 27 State St. Boston.

Margaretta M. Burnham Mortgagee 47 St.

Newton August 22nd 1894

City of Newton.

CITY COLLECTORS' NOTICE.

City of Newton, August 31st, 1894.

The owners and occupants of the following described parcels of real estate situated in the City of Newton in the County of Middlesex and Commonwealth of Massachusetts and the public are hereby notified that the assessments thereon severally assessed by the Board of Health of the City of Newton to defray in part the cost of abating a certain nuisance consisting of wet, rotten and spongy land, and lands covered with stagnant water so as to be offensive to persons residing in the vicinity thereof and injurious to health, situated in Ward Three in said City of Newton, described as follows: North of River street, east of Mague Court and extension of same to Cherry street place, south of Cherry street Place and Derby street between Cherry street and Waltham street, and west of Waltham street, named in petition of D. F. Inglis and others, to said Board of Health, assessed in the year eighteen hundred and ninety-two, according to the list committed to me as Collector of Taxes for said City of Newton by said Board of Health, remain unpaid, and that said parcels of land will be offered for sale by public auction at the City Hall in said Newton on the Twenty-sixth day of September A. D.

NEWTON FREE LIBRARY.

LIST OF NEW BOOKS.

- Balsac, Honore de, La Cure de Tox; [Extract, ed. with English] Notes by C. R. Carter. 42.92
- Bangs, John Kendrick. Three Weeks in Politics. 61.40
- The story of a contest for the office of Mayor in a suburban city.
- Bates, Arlo. The Torch-Bearers. 55.50
- A poem in the Centennial of the Incorporation of Bowdoin College, June 28, 1894
- Cole, Grenville A. J. The Gypsy Road: a Journey from Krakow to Coblenz. 32.50
- The writer describes the main features of his bicycle journey through Poland, Hungary, Bohemia, etc., and tells how he explored routes closed to the traveler by rail.
- Collier, Price. Mr. Pickett-Pin and his Friends. 71.412
- A review of the present political position of the North American Indian, to which race Mr. Pickett-Pin belongs.
- Forney, Mathias N. Political Reform by the Representation of Minorities. 85.207
- Describes briefly the evils growing out of the present system of electing, and suggests how these evils might be remedied.
- Hawkins, Anthony Hope. A Change of Air. 63.57
- Preceded by a biographical sketch of the author, who is the writer of "The Prisoner of Zenda." (61.55)
- Howells, Wm. Dean. A Traveller from Altruria. 64.209
- The traveler comes to visit an American friend, and many phases of American life are discussed with constant reference to the feigned land called "Altruria."
- Kirk, Eleanor (Mrs. E. K. Ames, and Street, J. C. The Influence of the Zodiac upon Human Life. 103.642
- Mutgero, Leopold. On and off the Saddle: Characteristic Sight and Scenes from the Great Northwest to the Antilles. 31.444
- Sketches of travel in the Yellowstone Park, Alaska, the Yosemite, the Rocky Mountains, Southern California, Mexico and Cuba.
- Thael, Geo. M. The Story of South Africa, the Cape Colony, Natal, Orange Free State, the Transvaal Republic, and all other Territories south of Zambesi. 72.328
- One of the volumes in Putnam's Story of the Nations series.
- Trall, Florence. Under the Second Renaissance. 62.373
- Underwood, Francis H. The Builders of American Literature: Biographical Sketches of American Authors born previous to 1825. 92.717
- A revised edition of the author's former work, the "Hand Book of American Literature," with the omission of the specimens of style. To be followed by a second volume taking up authors from later than 1825.
- Vandam, Albert D. The Black Note Book: by the author of an Englishman in Paris. 91.797
- Contains anecdotes of Louis Napoleon, Victor Emmanuel, the actors of the Comedie Francaise; recollections of Paul de Kock, Renan, Thiers, McMahon, Grey and many others.
- Warner, Wm. Lee. The Protected Princess of India. 85.204
- Designs to bring together under one view a short account of India under Home Rule.
- Winthrop, Warren. Exercises for Washington's Birthday. 54.898
- Wylie, Laura Johnson. Studies in the Evolution of English Criticism: a Thesis presented to the Philosophical Faculty of Yale University in Candidacy for the Degree of Doctor of Philosophy. 63.483
- Contents. John Dryden; the Evolution out of Classicism; German Sources of Coleridge's Criticism; Samuel Taylor Coleridge; Bibliography of the subject.
- E. P. THURSTON, Librarian.

BOSTON AMUSEMENTS.

BOSTON THEATRE—Immense audiences are in evidence every night and the elaborate revival of "The Old Homestead" has been a great success, and so far as attendance is concerned, phenomenal in the history of amusement enterprises. The personal popularity of Denman Thompson would be sufficient to draw large houses, but when he is seen in a play which comes so close to our very hearts as does "The Old Homestead," we are less likely to discover the secret of the great success of the combination. Everything that could be utilized to assist the actors in their work of making "The Old Homestead" and a scenes appeal to an audience as a leaf from the book of nature has been called into service, and the result is one of the most realistic performances that the stage has ever known. The unusually fine scenic effects are materially augmented by the use of the Mayrhofer system of electrical illumination, and the resultant simulation of the workings of nature in the sunset, the thunder shower, etc., is far in advance of any previous attempts in this direction.

PALACE THEATRE—Next week will be a gala one in the history of the Palace Theatre in Boston and the management is confident that the greatest entertainment of burlesque comedy, specialty and living pictures, which has ever been given in this city will be presented. The attraction will be the "City Sports" Big Burlesque and Specialty show, Flynn and Sheridan's aggregation of vaudeville stars, which rank among the best in the profession. The great crowd that will be the four Nelson Sisters, whose fame as lady acrobats extends the world round. Everywhere they appear they create a sensation. It will be remembered that when they were at the Palace last season that the house was crowded to the doors at every performance and their act was the talk of the town.

BOSTON MUSEUM—Visitors to Boston after the 17th of September should not fail to visit the Boston Museum, which on that date will open its fifty-fourth regular dramatic season. The attraction will be a grand production of Barnet and Thompson's beautiful and tuneful musical fantasy, "Prince Pro Tem," superbly mounted, with new scenery, costumes and appointments. Of equal interest will be the first appearance of the New Museum Stock company, composed of some of the leading people of the musical stage. The whole production will be on a superb scale and in the beautiful New Museum, so finely adapted for light opera, the enormous success of "Prince Pro Tem" cannot be questioned.

CASTLE SQUARE THEATRE—In this beautiful new temple of amusement, a miniature stage will be erected in the scenery shop, with its prominent arch and all equipments to correspond with the big stage in the theatre proper, even to the electric lighting equipment. When the management has a production in mind, a stage carpenter is first instructed to build models of the scenery which will be necessary for all scenes and acts of the play. Then the scenic artist is called in to apply his brush and when the ready lights on this miniature stage may be turned on and the manager can see just how his play is going to look scenically when produced life-size. These models are all built on the scale of a half inch to the foot, so that this miniature stage is but a little bit of a box when one stops to think of the enormous proportions of the big stage. Yet perfect models of everything used in the way of scenery and lighting on the big stage will be found on the little one. Sidney Chidley, the scenic artist who will paint most of the scenery at the Castle Square Theatre, has already begun upon that work.

HOLLIS STREET THEATRE—Mr. Augustin Daly's company will open their engagement at the Hollis Street Theatre Monday, September 17, with the presentation of the comedy, "A Night Off," which will also be the bill offered on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday evenings, and at the Wednesday matinee. "7-20" will be presented on Friday and Saturday evenings and at the Saturday matinee. The company consists of Mr. James Lewis, Mr. Herbert Gresham, Mr. Francis Carlin, Mr. Charles LeGendre, Mr. William Gilbert, Mrs. G. H. Gilbert, Miss Percy Haswell, Miss Laura Hansen, Miss Kathleen Hill, Miss Catherine Lewis and Mr. Henry E. Dixey. The box office sale has already assumed large proportions for the week's engagement. The usual Hollis Street Theatre prices will prevail.

COLUMBIA THEATRE—Beginning September 17, the Columbia Theatre will be given up to minstrelsy, as Lew Dockstader and his famous aggregation of burlesque artists will take possession of the stage for that week. Mr. Dockstader has long been known as one of the funniest men in this line of business, and the fact that he is at the head of the company is a guarantee that the entire entertainment will be a good one. Everything will be new and up to date, and Mr. Dockstader may be relied upon to furnish a number of local allusions and bits, which will be kindly taken. The company includes Frank H. White, John C. Harrington, William Galpen, John S. Terry, a new counter tenor, whose voice is regarded as phenomenal; McIntyre and Heath, the three Marvels, who do a wonderful eccentric act; Sharp and Platt, who have a control of musical instruments that is called marvellous, and Frank Dumont, the well known interloctor.

GRAND OPERA HOUSE—Commencing Monday evening, Sept. 17th, and continuing throughout the week with the usual Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday matinees, Pitou and Alfriend's romantic war drama "Across the Potomac" will be presented at the Grand Opera House. The play has since its last appearance here been rewritten and revised by these distinguished authors, and many changes calculated to improve the general excellence of the performance have been made. As it now stands "Across the Potomac" is beyond all doubt the very best of American war dramas. Every feature of the performance is new, and many songs, dances and interesting yet thorough appropriate specialties have been introduced. "Across the Potomac" will be followed by a magnificent production of Bartley Campbell's famous play "The Galley Slave."

BOWDOIN SQUARE THEATRE—Next week at the Bowdoin Square Theatre Manager Atkinson will offer to his patrons the powerful melodrama, "Dark-est Russia," by Sidney R. Ellis' company. The production in every way will be one of the most attractive and complete which will be seen at this house during the season. The scenery, costumes and accessories are not only beautiful but correct, and are strictly Russian in every detail. All the sets are carried by the company and several novel mechanical effects are shown. This change is made in full view of the audience, and the rapid transition from a brilliantly lighted interior to a "night" is particularly effective. The cast is composed of over twenty speaking characters, all being effective and strong. Preparations are already well under way for the production of that well constructed and splendidly written drama, "The Cotton King," at the Bowdoin Square Theatre on Oct. 8th. The play appeals to rich and poor alike and it can hardly fail to make a big hit in America as well as England. The cast will be a very fine one. Jack Mason, has already been engaged for the leading role and the negotiations are now in progress with Wilton Lackaye and Edgar L. Davenport and others.

CHARACTER WITHOUT BLEMISH.

STATE FIREMEN'S OPINION OF THE LATE CHIEF H. L. BIXBY.

At the annual convention of the Massachusetts State Firemen's Association held at Cottage City last week the following resolutions were unanimously adopted:

Whereas, Death has suddenly taken from us while in the performance of his duties and in the midst of his usefulness, Chief Henry L. Bixby of Newton, one of the original members of this association,

Resolved, That in this event this association has lost one of its most valued and ablest members, and the fire service of this state and country a chief who has done much to improve and elevate the service, a fireman of superior ability whose personal purity is without a blemish.

Resolved, That we bow in heartfelt sorrow to that sovereign decree which has taken from us one who for forty years was a fireman for fifteen years a chief, and since its organization a member of this association, and that we express our admiration for his great talents, spotless integrity and devotion to the service to which he gave his whole supreme ability and life.

Resolved, That we tender our most affectionate sympathies to the family of the deceased in the irreparable loss which we have sustained in common.

Irving W. Larimore, physical director of Y. M. C. A., Des Moines, Iowa, says he can conscientiously recommend Chamberlain's Pain Balm to athletes, gymnasts, bicyclists, foot ball players and the profession in general for bruises, sprains and dislocations; also for soreness and stiffness of the muscles. When applied before the parts become swollen it will effect a cure in one half the time usually required. For sale by A. Hudson, Newton; E. W. Keyes, Auburndale; B. B. Buck, Newton Centre; E. F. Partridge, Newville; B. Billings, Newton Upper Falls.

HARDENED BY CUSTOM.

The Divorced Woman Did Not Feel Comfortable About Her Children.

The conversation took place at a table in a Chicago restaurant within earshot of half a dozen persons, so it is to be presumed that it is not to be considered particularly sacred. The woman in the brown dress had evidently just come in from Denver. The one in black had met her at the depot. There was an animated description of the details of the journey; what time she started, how tired she got, what a terrible draft there was and so forth, interspersed with exclamations of sympathy from her hearer. Then she leaned forward and asked with more than ordinary interest:

"Have you seen George since?"

Her companion's face took on an expression that seemed to betoken resignation to all the evils the human race is destined to come in contact with.

"Yes, twice," she answered.

"And the children?"

"No, I haven't seen them."

"Nor his wife?"

"No, but they say she is quite pretty and sensible too."

The woman in brown sighed.

"I never heard a word of it until about a week ago. You can't imagine what a shock it gave me. He was married in December, wasn't he?"

"Yes, just a month after you were."

She sighed again.

"I'd like to see the children, but I'm afraid I couldn't bear it. It makes no difference how good George's new wife is, she won't be like an own mother to the poor little things. It's against all reason, you know that."

The woman in black admitted that the argument was indisputable.

"And I'd never feel right again," the speaker continued, apparently giving her conscience a few affectionate little pats and lulling it to rest. "When I left George, I tried to get the children for myself; but, you see, I had no idea what I should do. I knew it would be out of the question for me to try to struggle along with all three of them. I had faith enough in him to believe that he would do the right thing by them, even though my own life with him had been a perpetual martyrdom. If I had only known that I should marry again so soon and so well, nothing on earth could ever have compelled me to give them up. But, you see, I didn't know. So, all things considered, I guess I'd better go right on east. As I said, it would be a terrible trial to see them under the charge of somebody else and hear them call another woman 'mother.' It would break my heart."

The two women finished their lunch and went out. The baldheaded man at the end of the table dropped his fork with a clatter.

"Well," he said emphatically, "it's my opinion that those three children are better off with that new mother if she's anything short of an amazon than they would be with that woman. Heaven grant she won't be like their own mother."

The little audience looked as though it agreed with him individually and collectively.—Exchange.

A PLAY THAT WAS NOT WRITTEN.

Dramatic Plans of the Elder and Younger Dumas That Miscarried.

A curious and interesting bit of correspondence between Alexandre Dumas, father, and Alexandre Dumas, son, has been published in Paris by Georges Boyer, showing the two eminent Frenchmen had planned to write a theatrical piece together. Unfortunately the plan was not carried out, and the literary world was deprived of a brilliant production. The letters read as follows:

PARIS, Oct. 7, 1865.

Alexandre Dumas, father, to Alexandre Dumas, son:

DEAR MASTER—After 30 years of struggle, defeats and victories, of failures and successes, I believe that, if not a great celebrity, I have at least the reputation of being a fruitful novelist. Only yesterday I received from Victor Hugo, in Geneva, a letter full of encouragement and congratulations. I have the honor to belong to the Society of Authors and the Society of Dramatists. My modest claims to the first are (Here follow a list of his most successful works.) Now, I beg dear master, the honor of writing with you a drama in five acts, the ideas for which I shall discuss with you at our first meeting. The ideas are, I believe, in accordance with the tastes of the day. Will you agree?

ALEXANDRE DUMAS, FATHER.

The reply of the son was:

Alexandre Dumas, son, to Alexandre Dumas, father:

DEAR MASTER—Your letter came to the correct address. The friendship, the love, the respect, the admiration which I have for my father make it my duty and pleasure to accept blindly your amiable offer. Be it so, therefore, we shall work together on some piece in five acts. To work with you, let me say, between us, will be no bad piece of business for me.

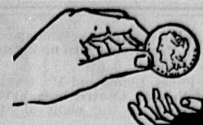

ALEXANDRE DUMAS, SON.

Woman Inventor's Prayer to Congress.

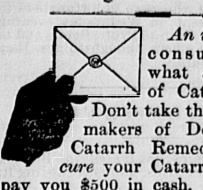

A unique petition has turned up on the house side among some old papers. The memorialist is a woman, and she asks congress to appropriate $500 to enable her to perfect and place upon the market sundry inventions, which she lacks means to secure patents upon. She says: "I have asked assistance from most every one I thought most likely to aid. I began on the common liner, went on to the thousands, then to millionaires, governors and the president—not the present president—but I asked Brother Arthur. They all paid as deaf an ear to it as the Alps would to the chirp of a snowbird." She asks congress to "look into the patent office treasury and see if you can find an idle $500 that is doing no one any good. Bring it out and let me use it for a season. Money, like trees, yields more by being stirred about the roots."—Washington Post.

Von Bulow's Independence.

So far as the audience was concerned, Von Bulow always made a point of doing exactly as he pleased. On one occasion when a Leipzig audience insisted on recalling him in spite of his repeated refusal to play again he came forward and said, "If you do not stop this applause, I will play all Bach's 48 preludes and fugues from beginning to end."—San Francisco Argonaut.

YOUR MONEY IS RETURNED if you receive no benefit from Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. This fair and business-like offer is held out to all women who suffer from the diseases and derangements peculiar to their sex. To weakly womanhood no prize could be more secure, nor the benefit more lasting, than that to be derived from the purchase of a bottle of this famous "Prescription." Its success in curing all the functional derangements, painful disorders, and chronic weaknesses of women, warrants its makers in guaranteeing it. What this medicine has done for thousands of delicate women, it will do for you. At the two critical periods in woman's life, the change from girlhood to womanhood, and, later, the "change of life," it's an invaluable tonic and a soothing nerve, which can produce only good results. It cures nervous prostration, insomnia, or inability to sleep, and many nervous disorders due to derangement of the functions.

An invitation to consumption is what a bad case of Catarrh means. Don't take the risk! The makers of Doctor Sage's Catarrh Remedy agree to cure your Catarrh, or they'll pay you $500 in cash.

BRACKETT'S MARKET COMPANY.

Established 1851. incorporated 1892.

Telephone No. 16-3.

The Best Meats, Poultry, Game, Cream, Butter, Eggs, Fruits and Vegetables.

AT THE LOWEST PRICES.

This Market intends to fill all orders as if the customer was present. Goods which are found to be as represented may be returned.

7 & 8 COLE'S BLOCK,

Washington near Centre Street,

NEWTON, MASS.

Ranges, Furnaces, Water Heaters, Steam Boilers,

AT FACTORY STORE OF

Walker & Pratt Mfg. Co.,

GALEN STREET, WATERTOWN, MASS.

Telephone No. 30, Newton.

Furnaces, Ranges Cleaned and Repaired.

MYLES J. JOYCE, Ornamental and Landscape GARDENER.

Grading, Sodding, Pruning and Gardening of Every Description.

Taking Care of Private Lawns and Gardens A Specialty.

Carpets Taken Up, Cleaned, and Put Down in the Best Manner.

ORDERS PROMPTLY ATTENDED TO.

P. O. Box 42, Newton, Mass.

Newton National Bank, NEWTON, MASS.

BUSINESS HOURS:

From 9 A. M. to 12 M., and from 2 to 4 P. M.

On Saturdays, from 9 A. M. to 2 P. M.

JOSEPH N. BACON, President.

B. FRANKLIN BACON, Cashier.

W. A. Folsom & Co. Union St., Boston, Mass.

Best Made RANGES

W. A. Folsom & Co. Union St., Boston, Mass.

Best Made RANGES

W. A. Folsom & Co. Union St., Boston, Mass.

Best Made RANGES

W. A. Folsom & Co. Union St., Boston, Mass.

Best Made RANGES

W. A. Folsom & Co. Union St., Boston, Mass.

Best Made RANGES

W. A. Folsom & Co. Union St., Boston, Mass.

Best Made RANGES

W. A. Folsom & Co. Union St., Boston, Mass.

Best Made RANGES

W. A. Folsom & Co. Union St., Boston, Mass.

Best Made RANGES

W. A. Folsom & Co. Union St., Boston, Mass.

Best Made RANGES

W. A. Folsom & Co. Union St., Boston, Mass.

Best Made RANGES

W. A. Folsom & Co. Union St., Boston, Mass.

Tailors.

C. S. Decker Custom Tailor.

326 Centre Street, Newton, Mass.

J. R. SIMMONS & CO., Custom Tailors.

Repairing, Cleaning and Dyeing a Specialty. Men's Suits for Sale.

2 Carver Street, Boston, Mass.

1 D or 1 m Boylston.

Livery Stables.

DANIEL'S Nonantum Stables.

HENRY C. DANIELS, Proprietor.

Patrons will find at these Stables the best of Horses and Carriages for hire.

Landans and Hacks, with good horses and experienced drivers, for Pleasure Service and Funerals. Safe and reliable horses for ladies to drive.

BOARDING—Superior accommodations for Boarding Horses. Clean and comfortable stalls; careful and prompt attention.

Telephone 271-3.

GEO. W. BUSH, Livery, Hack & Boarding STABLE.

Particular attention paid to Boarding Horses. Hacks at depot or the conveyance of passengers to any part of the city. Horses and carriages to let for business or pleasure.

ELMWOOD STREET, NEWTON.

Telephone Connection.

Livery, Hack, & Boarding STABLE.

Established 1861.

Barges, City of Newton, Garden City.

Boat Sleigh, Snow Bird.

S. F. CATE, Boarding Stable.

W. Newton.

J. HENRY BACON, Dry Goods and Notions.

LADIES' AND GENTS' FURNISHING GOODS.

Oil - and - Straw - Carpets.

TRUNKS, BAGS, ETC.

279, 281 Washington St., Newton.

HANDSOME LAMP SHADES,

Made of English Crepe Paper, a size, style or color.

$3.00 Each.

Lamps and Fittings

Choice and Cheap.

Lamp Shade Supplies

At Lowest Prices.

Buy of us, the manufacturers, and save money.

A. E. Whitehouse & Co.,

174 LINCOLN ST., BOSTON.

Near Albany Depot. Cars pass the door.

Teachers.

MR. CARON'S FRENCH SCHOOL

will re-open Sept. 14th. French teachers; private or class lessons, day or evening. Terms reasonable. Classes may be made in Newton at class rooms. Call or address F. CARON, 288 Boylston street, Boston.

POSSE'S GYMNASIUM.

A thorough normal school of gymnastics. Classes for men; for women; for children. Medals for Methodism, Boston 1892, Chicago 1893.

BARON NILS POSSE, B.Sc. M.G.,

23 Irvington St., Back Bay, Boston.

Private Preparation for College and the Institute of Technology. Mr. W. N. Eays will receive for private instruction in the studies requisite for admittance to College and the Scientific Schools, pupils of either sex, singly or in classes of 5 each. Mr. Eays has had a long and very successful experience in this profession and will furnish references if application is made to No. 108 Dartmouth Street, Boston, Mass.

FREDERIC A. METCALF,

(Of the faculty of The Emerson College of Oratory) Private or class instruction in

ELOCUTION, VOICE & PHYSICAL CULTURE

PUBLIC RECITALS.

BOSTON: Emerson College of Oratory, Cor. Tremont and Berkeley Streets.

RESIDENCE: Webster Park, West Newton.

MRS. CARLYLE PETERSILEA,

The Pianoforte.

62 BOYLSTON STREET, - BOSTON, MASS.

MISS GRACE G. DAVIS,

Teacher of Singing.

Residence, 64 St. James Ave., Boston.

MISS EMMA DEXTER ELLIS,

Pianoforte and Harmony.

Hoffman House, Boston.

At Newton Centre on Tuesdays and Fridays.

HARRY BROOKS DAY,

TEACHER OF PIANO, FORT, ORGAN, HARMONY, COUN- TERPOINT AND COMPOSITION.

Hotel Hunnewell, - Newton, Mass.

Dressmakers.

S. T. TAYLOR SYSTEM—

Dresscutting.

Thorough instruction given; first class dress-making; cutting and making a specialty.

The E. A. B. shirt-chart, $2.50.

MADAM IRVING,

74 Boylston St., Boston, Mass.

DRESSES - -

Made from Six to Ten Dollars. Baskets cut for Seventy-Five Cents. Work Warranted. Apply once. DRESSMAKER, 398 Centre Street.

NEWTON.

WALTER THORPE, Newton Centre,
Agent of the GRAPHIC, and receives subscriptions and makes collections for it. He also makes terms for advertising, hand-bills and all other kinds of printing. Also, Real Estate to sell and to rent, and insurance against fire in the best English and American companies.

NEWTON CENTRE.

—Ivers & Pond pianos, Farley, Newton.
—Mrs. O. J. Shaw has gone to Medford.
—Mr. W. H. McElwain has removed to Bridgewater.
—Miss Lulu L. Brown is attending the State Normal school at Bridgewater.
—For French clock repairing go to J. W. Beverly, the new jeweller, Bray's block.
—Mr. and Mrs. Charles Smith of Moreland avenue have gone on a European trip.
—Rev. J. L. Malle preached last Sunday at the First church.
—Mr. S. M. Tourtellott is in New Hampshire for a two weeks' vacation.
—Mr. John Cole of Station street is entertaining friends from the west.
—Mr. Dennison and family, Homer street, arrived home this week.
—Miss Maud Dyer is attending school at Wilbraham.
—Mr. Edward Furber is able to be about after his serious illness.
—Prof. Bullens was in Portsmouth, N. H., over Sunday.
—Mr. D. B. Harding and family have returned from North Falmouth.
—William Abbott has returned from Concord, N. H.
—Mr. Stephen Greene and family, Centre street, have returned.
—A new picket fence has been built along the north side of Union street.
—Mr. H. T. Willis' new house is nearly finished and will be ready for occupancy the first of October.
—Mrs. Calhoun of Portland, Me., has been the guest of her sister, Mrs. B. Welles Folly, Lyman street.
—Rev. Amos E. Lawrence has returned from his stay at Arlington Heights greatly improved in health.
—Mr. O. J. Hall of Centre street has leased and will occupy the Farnham house on Beacon street.
—Mr. John H. Sanborn is quite seriously ill again and has the sympathy of many friends.
—Mr. H. E. Chamberlain and family of Ashton park have returned from their trip to Maine.
—Mr. William B. Macomber of Homer street is expected to return from his Boston residence this week.
—Hon. Alden Spaulding and family have returned from their summer residence among the Adirondacks and Catskills.
—Rev. W. A. Benedict and family of Peabody street have returned from the Catskill Mountains.
—Mr. R. G. Waters and family of Bowen street have left on a few weeks' trip to Portland, Me., and the White Mountains.
—Mrs. Levi C. Wade of Oak Hill removed this week to her new home in Springfield.
—Mrs. E. H. Edmonds, who has been visiting during the summer at Mrs. Rowen's, has gone to Brookline.
—Messrs. F. O. Swallow and C. C. Patten are enjoying a two weeks' vacation at St. John, N. B.
—Mrs. Albert L. Harwood, Beacon street, has returned from a visit to friends at Ware.
—Mrs. J. B. Wood and Miss M. F. Wood of Homer street have returned from Pigeon Cove.
—Mr. A. H. Leonard and family, Paul street, have returned from New Hampshire.
—Mrs. A. W. Snow, Pleasant street, is spending three weeks with friends at Orleans and Martha's Vineyard.
—A delegation from Crystal Lake Division S. of T., visited the division in Hyde Park last Friday evening.
—Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Kirtland have returned from the seashore, where his health has been greatly improved.
—Mr. and Mrs. Charles Copeland of Gray Cliff road have returned from Thomaston, Me., where they have spent a delightful summer.
—Mr. William S. Appleton and family will close Hobrook Hall for the season this week and return to their winter house in Boston on Saturday.
—Mr. S. V. A. Hunter and family returned this week from Southwest Harbor, Me., to their handsome residence on Lake avenue.
—Mr. and Mrs. Lewis of St. Johnsbury, Vt., who have been visiting Mr. C. H. Dolan, Marshall street, are occupying a suite in Associates block.
—Alford Bros. & Co. have sold 7495 feet at Oxford terrace and Oxford road for Luther Paul to Bennett Norwich. He will erect a $500 house on the property.
—Mr. Herbert F. Hatch of Waverley avenue has accepted a position with a New York firm and will assume his new duties October 1st.
—Mr. Fred Cutler and family have moved into and are occupying the house on Moreland avenue recently vacated by Mr. Chas. Smith.
—Services at the Unitarian church next Sunday at 10.30. Sermon, "The one true Religion." The Sunday school will resume Sept. 29th.
—Rev. F. G. Woodworth, D. D., president of the Tongoloo University of Mississippi, will occupy the pulpit at the First church next Sunday.
—Prof. H. E. Munroe's select dancing school for youths and misses, commences in Bray's Hall, Tuesday afternoon, Oct. 9, at 4.30 o'clock.
—The Christian Endeavor society of the First Congregational church began their usual services on Sunday evening. The topic of the meeting was "The Alternatives."
—Mr. Henry T. Willis arrived home last week Wednesday from Europe, where he has spent the summer. Mrs. Willis and family have returned from the White Mountains.
—Rev. Dr. Smith, Dr. Furber and Col. I. F. Kingsbury were in attendance and took active part in the exercises attending the dedication of a monument at Gettysburg for the 32nd Mass. Regt. last Saturday.
—Alford Bros. & Co. have sold for Luther Paul a lot of 7500 feet on the corner of Oxford road and Oxford terrace. A house of ten rooms has already been commenced which will be a substantial addition to this locality.
—The bowling alleys in the basement of Bray's block were opened to the public on Monday and have been quite well patronized. They are reserved for engagement on Monday, Wednesday and Friday evenings and are open to the public Tuesday, Thursday and Friday.
—Mr. Chas. A. Clark and family of Cypress street returned last week from the most delightful stay at the Ben Mere Inn, Sunapee Lake. Mrs. Clark was at once called away by the dangerous illness of her father, Mr. W. N. Ashley, one of the oldest and best known residents of Fall River. Should no new complication arise, it is probable he may recover.

—Mr. and Mrs. P. E. Linnehan are at Exeter, N. H., for a few weeks.
—Mrs. Mosher, a newspaper reporter of Montreal, is visiting her brother, Mr. Louis E. Murphy of Pleasant street.
—Miss Bartleson (a pupil of Mr. John Orth) receives pupils on Trowbridge street. See advertisement in another column.
—Mr. Alfred Morse does not improve in health, and his condition is considered serious.
—Mrs. Dwight Chester, nee Stiles, of Park street, gave her second wedding anniversary last Wednesday afternoon which was largely attended.
—Messrs. George B. Sherman, George Linn and F. W. Stringer attended the Veteran Firemen's muster at Pawtucket, R. I., on Thursday.
—Mr. John H. Sanborn died at his home, Thursday evening, after a lingering illness of more than five months. The funeral will be held at his late residence, Sunday afternoon at 1.30 p. m.
—Officers Fletcher, Bartlett, Moulton and Condrin raided the house occupied by Emil Weiss on Vine street, Sunday afternoon and secured two gallons of lager. At Mr. Dorsey's house nothing was found.
—Mr. and Mrs. Christopher Geier, Jackson street, celebrated their silver wedding anniversary the first of the week. They entertained about 50 friends from Boston, Roxbury and the Newtons and were the recipients of many gifts including silver purses, one containing twenty five dollars in silver.
—The Newton Centre Tennis Club held an open tournament on Mr. Bray's tennis courts, Institution avenue, Thursday, Friday and Saturday of last week. There were 34 entries and some very good playing was seen. The finals were played off Saturday before a large number of spectators, between Messrs. Geo. R. Hovey and Fitz. Fitz beat Hovey, 7-5; 4-6; 6-2; 6-3.
—The death of Mrs. William M. Noble of Pleasant street which occurred Sunday at Hancock, N. H., where she has been spending the summer, came as a severe shock to her many friends here. She had endeavored herself to a large circle of acquaintances during her short residence here and was a member of the First Congregational church and of the Christian Endeavor society and Maria B. Furber Missionary society in all of which she was deeply interested. She had been in ill health for nearly a year. The funeral which took place from her late home at 11 o'clock Wednesday, was largely attended and Rev. Mr. Jefferson of Chelsea officiated and a quartet from the Christian Endeavor society of the First church, consisting of Miss Mary E. Ward, Miss Jessie Fitch, and Messrs. John M. Farnham and George P. Hazleton rendered music. The burial was at Woodlawn.
NEWTON HIGHLANDS.
—Old boots made new at Barrows.
—Mr. James Simpson and family are at home again.
—Mrs. Hurlburt has returned from her summer absence.
—The Lapham family are at home again from their summer travels.
—Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Wells of Norman road are at home again.
—The hour for Holy Communion at St. Paul's is now 8 a. m. instead of 8 a. m.
—The people of St. Paul's church expect to observe "Harvest Home," Oct. 11th.
—Mr. J. W. Moore and family are now occupying the house formerly owned by Mr. O. J. Kimball.
—Mr. R. M. Burnette and family are occupying the house of Mr. G. P. Atkins for a short time.
—Miss Abby Allen, who has been the guest of the Crane family, has returned to her home in New York.
—Harold Gilbert has gone to Hanover, N. H., and will enter Dartmouth College at the commencement of the term.
—Mr. John R. Henderson, who has been visiting here for a few days, has returned to Dartmouth College.
—Mrs. W. B. McMullin and child are home again from their summer stay in Nova Scotia.
—For French clock repairing go to J. W. Beverly, the new jeweller, Bray's block, Newton Centre.
—Mr. and Mrs. Shumway have as their guest her grandmother, Mrs. Hollis, of Hunnewell Hill, Newton.
—Mr. E. H. Tarbell has moved into his fine new Colonial house, just completed, corner of Lincoln and Chester streets.
—The Chautauqua Circle will hold its first fall meeting with Mrs. Richards on Monday at 2.30 o'clock.
—We are sorry to hear of the illness of Mr. H. C. Robinson with pleurisy at his home at the closing of his vacation season.
—Mrs. C. H. Moulton and her son, who have been the guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. Moulton, have returned to their home in Washington, D. C.
—The following music will be rendered at the Congregational church next Sunday: There will be a vesper service in the evening at 7.30.
—The September number of the Church Bell, the official organ of St. Paul's Parish, has been delayed by an accident in the office where it is printed.
—Mr. and Mrs. Foye have as their guests Mrs. Foye and her son of Brooklyn, N. Y. Mrs. Foye is a sister of Mrs. Hayward.
—Miss Mina Walton, the sales woman at Down's ice cream and confectionary saloon, who went to Lowell for medical treatment, died there on Monday.
—Services next Sunday at St. Paul's. Holy Communion, 9.45; morning prayer and sermon, 10.45; Sunday school, 10.15; evening prayer and address, 7. The rector will officiate.
—Mrs. Hobbs, whose death occurred on Monday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. T. P. Curtis, was taken to West Gloucester and the funeral services were held at the Universalist church on Wednesday.
—The Monday Club held a special meeting by the invitation of Mrs. Wheeler at her home on Wednesday to listen to an address by Prof. E. W. Bemis of Chicago University on "The recent Strikes and their Lessons."
—Mrs. Dr. Eaton, with some of her relatives, were passengers on the steamer J. Putnam Bradley which ran on Dolphin Lodge on Wednesday. They were much alarmed by the accident and are thankful to have arrived home in safety.
—Mr. Walter Nash has gone on a vacation trip to Europe, going out on the Bark St. Mary with his uncle, Capt. Samuel Nash, which arrived at Limerick, Ireland, on the 6th after a fine passage. He will travel about for a few weeks returning in two or three months.
—St. Paul's Sunday school has been organized for the term of 1894-95. A teachers meeting was held last Monday and the system for the winter was discussed. The school numbers about seventy-five children with three officers and ten teachers. It meets on Sundays at 12.15 o'clock. All welcome.
—Mr. C. C. Clancy of the Newton Rubber Works has moved from Woodward street and taken a house belonging to Mr. J. N. Bacon on Orchard street, near Woodward street, towards Waban. Mr. H. N. Wagner, superintendent of the Rubber Works, who has been residing on Circuit avenue, has sent his children, accompanied by their aunt, to Paris, and will make his home with Mr. C. Caney.

—Mr. Henry Fobes, tenor, and Mr. Gardner Bassett of Newton Centre, bass, have been added recently to the choir of St. Paul's church.
—The Boys' Club met last Wednesday in the vestry of St. Paul's church. It has now entered upon its fourth year. Owing to its increase in members and the diversity of ages the club has been divided into a senior and a junior division. The senior division elected as officers: President, Arthur Nickerson; secretary and treasurer, Harry Ball; doorkeeper, Franklin Wood. The junior division chose president, Theodore Wood; secretary and treasurer, Geo. Stevens; doorkeeper, Arthur Logan.
—Wiley S. & Frank Edmonds have leased the house of Edwin W. Parker, Harrison street, Elliot, to Thomas Casson.
MORNING.
Watson
Costa
Calkins
"O worship the Lord,"
Duett, tenor and bass
"The sacrifices of God."
EVENING.
Schlesker
King Hall
Bart Nivin
Gonod
Barnby
"There is a city great and strong,"
"O Lord, my trust is in thy mercy."
"Lovely appear."
"Now the day is over."
—Prof. E. W. Bemis of Chicago University was a guest at the home of Mrs. E. C. Wheeler on Wednesday evening of this week, and upon her invitation a party of ladies and gentlemen assembled in her parlors to greet the visitor and listen to what he might have to tell them of the recent strikes in the West. The speaker was introduced by Prof. George and divided his theme into three parts, the Miner's, the Pullman and the Railroad strike. Those who were so fortunate as to have been present on Wednesday evening were grateful, both to Prof. Bemis and to the hostesses, to whose thoughtfulness they owed the pleasure.
NEWTON LOWER FALLS.
—Mr. J. Geddies has rented the Bullock house, Wellesley Hills, and is occupying it.
—School commenced Monday with the same corps of teachers as before closing with the exception of the kindergarten department.
—Mr. Fred Dennis has resigned from a position as knitter at a mill in Canada and is accepting a more lucrative one at Pawtucket, R. I.
—Mr. Geo. N. Smith is now able to be out by the aid of crutches after being confined to his house two months by a serious fall from a building at Auburndale.
—The N. & W. Gas. Co. are continuing the work through here of putting in large gas mains and causes some inconvenience to travel. Washington street is very narrow in places.
—Two dogs attacked a young heifer of Mr. Chas. Rice that was tied in his pasture last week and the animal had to be killed. It was badly bitten. No trace of the owners of the dogs are known.
—Mr. Cain, an old and respected resident of River street, met death very suddenly last week, Saturday, at noon, by falling in a well head foremost, death resulting almost instantly as life was extinct when assistance arrived shortly after the accident was known. He was quite active for a man of his years and leaves a grown up family. The funeral took place from St. John's church Sunday afternoon. Interment was at the Needham cemetery.
—The Newton board of health returned this week from its trip to Philadelphia and other cities undertaken for the purpose of inspecting the system in these cities for removal of garbage. While at Washington, Del., Mr. Frederick Curtis of the board from this place, was present at a very happy occasion on the 6th, it being the celebration of the "golden wedding" of his uncle, Solomon Minot Curtis, of Newark near Washington, occurring on the evening of that day. The event was more notable for its having been the second of like character in the family, an older brother, Mr. Wm. Curtis, of this city, in 1873 having celebrated the 50th anniversary of his marriage. The event was a most interesting one and was remembered by many citizens of Newton as a former resident who went South many years ago to introduce the manufacture of paper into that region. The bridesmaid and groomsmen of the occasion were the same as at the original ceremony conducted by the pastor of St. Mary's church of this village, who also officiated at the marriage of Mr. William Curtis.
Peculiar to Itself.
Hood's Sarsaparilla is peculiar to itself, in a strictly medical sense, by the important particulars, viz: first, in the combination of remedial agents used; second, in the proportion in which the active curative properties of the preparation are secured. These important particulars make Hood's Sarsaparilla peculiar in its medicinal merit, as it accomplishes cures hitherto unknown. But it is not a what we say but what Hood's Sarsaparilla does, that tells the story. What Hood's Sarsaparilla has done for others is reason for confidence that it is the medicine for you.
WABAN.
—Miss Dinna had returned to Waban.
—Miss Maude R. Kendrick is at Roxbury for two weeks.
—Mr. Robert Dresser is suffering from an attack of malaria.
—Mr. Howard and Miss Bertha Childs have returned from Woonsocket, R. I.
—Mr. J. H. Robinson and family are expected home from Hull this week.
—Miss Annie Braine of Brooklyn, N. Y., has returned to her home after a protracted visit to friends here.
—Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Heaton are entertaining Dr. and Mrs. Force and Dr. and Mrs. Edwards of Minneapolis, Minn.
—Mr. Joseph Seranton Lynde of Soranton, Pa., has been the guest of Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Reading during the past week.
—Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Vose held the first of their wedding receptions at their charming little home on Woodward street last Wednesday.
—The pupils entering High school this year from this village are Miss Margaret Seaver, Henry Seaver and Robert Dresser. At Auburndale are Misses Millie Dresser, May Cummings and Master Eddie Seaver, Sammie Seaver, Fred Woodworth, James Shields and Willie Shields.
—A. M. Bailey, a well known citizen of Eugene, Oregon, says his wife has for years been troubled with chronic diarrhoea and used many remedies with little relief until she tried Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, which has cured her sound and well. Give it a trial and you will be surprised at the prompt relief it affords. 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by A. Hudson, Newton; E. W. Keyes, Auburndale; B. B. Buck, Newton Centre; E. F. Partridge, Newtonville; B. Billings, Newton Upper Falls.
Turn About.
I bought a yearling colt, and hoped
A winner he would prove to be;
Alas! I broke him in the spring,
And in the summer he broke me!
Puck.

CLEOPATRA'S NEEDLE.
Getting the Obelisk Aboard Ship a Pretty Piece of Engineering.
"One of the pleasantest recollections I have to look back on," said Adam Johnson, "is the fact that I was one of the party that helped to run up the American colors over Cleopatra's needle when it was being taken down to be carried to New York. Our vessel was out in the Mediterranean with a roving commission, and we were at Alexandria at the time the obelisk was being moved. The big stone had been presented by the Egyptian government to this country, but the people were wild about having it moved. We had to place a guard around the men who were working on the shaft, and even then there was almost a riot."
"But that was one of the prettiest pieces of engineering work I have ever seen. The engineers who were moving our shaft had a couple of big wooden cases built that fitted around the needle like the pieces of wood around the lead in a pencil. There were a couple of projectiles on each side of the casings just on the center of gravity in the shaft, like the trunnions on a cannon. Under these they put lifting jacks and just picked that immense stone off its pedestal, swung it around horizontal and then lowered it as gently as could be on a long sliding way, with cannon balls under it for rollers. They had a square hole cut in the stern of the steamship and slid it into the hull through that and replaced the sheathing outside."
"Under the shaft in the inside of the pedestal there were a lot of bronze toads and ornaments and the Lord knows what not that the Masons claimed were placed there by some of their progenitors eons ago. I don't know anything about that, though, and you can leave it or take it, as you choose."
"The British were not half so slick with the obelisk they carried over to England. They cased it up in a big sheet iron arrangement like a boiler, riveted it in and floated the whole thing off through a trench dug in the sand down to the water. Then they rigged jury sails on it and towed it over to England, but they lost three or four men off it before they got it in port and had all sorts of a time generally."
"A couple of years afterward I saw the British obelisk set up on the east bank of the Thames, and when I came home the first thing I went to see was ours in Central park."—Washington Post.
TRAGEDIES ON TOMBSTONES.
English Churchyards and Their Deeply Graven Accusations of Murder.
In the churchyards of Britain several tombstones exist with the accusations of murder deeply engraved upon them. A stone over the grave of three children in Merrington (Durham) churchyard bears the following inscription:
Sleeping we were slain,
And here we sleep till we must rise again.
In Sandridge churchyard, Surrey, on the tombstone of a custom house officer who was shot in an encounter with smugglers is the following:
Thou shalt do no murder, nor shalt thou steal
Are the commands Jehovah did reveal.
But thou, O wretch, without fear or dread
Of thy tremendous Maker, shot me dead.
On a stone in Cadoxton churchyard, Glamorganshire, is inscribed the most fearful accusation of murder to be found on any tomb in Great Britain:
"TO RECORD MURDER."
"This stone was erected over the body of Margaret Williams, aged 26, living in service in this parish, who was found dead with marks of violence upon her in a ditch on a marsh below this churchyard on the morning of Sunday, the 14th July, 1832.
"Although the savage murderer escaped for a season the detection of man, yet God hath set his mark upon him either for time or eternity, and the cry of blood will assuredly pursue him to certain and terrible but righteous judgment."
A tombstone stood in Dulverton churchyard a few years ago on which was inscribed:
Poisoned by the doctor, neglected by the nurse,
The brother robbed the widow, which made the matter worse.
An accusation of murder appears on the tomb of Edwin, the Irish comedian, who was buried in St. Werburgh's churchyard, Dublin, and also on tombs to be found in Acton churchyard, Gloucestershire; Hoo, near Rochester; Little Stukeley, and Mytton, near Clitheroe, Lancashire.—London Tit-Bits.

WILLIAM E. DOYLE,
43 Tremont St., Boston.
Conservatories: 1509 Cambridge Street, Cambridge, Mass.
Birthplace of Franklin, Opposite Old South Church.
Walter C. Brooks & Co.
Importing Tailors.
15 Milk Street, - Boston, Mass.
W. C. BROOKS, Residence, N. Centre.
13 Summer Tailor
149 Tremont St., Boston.
Fine Woolens at Moderate Prices.
PEARMAN & BROOKS
Stock and Bond Brokers.
Orders by Mail Promptly Executed. Good Bonds and Mortgages on hand for immediate delivery.
Correspondence Solicited.
Stock Exchange Building, 53 State St., Boston.
SUMNER B. PEARMAIN. L. LORING BROOKS.
Beautiful Melodies for Violin and Piano
Twenty-five Cents
WALTY—Kathleen O'Connor.
"Daisy Bell."
"Tabasco."
"The Little Maid in Pink."
"Won't You Be My Sweetheart?"
[All Popular and Perfect Gems]
Price 25 Cts. each, or the five Pieces for $1.00!!
JEAN WHITE, Publisher.
226 Washington Street, Boston, Mass. 32 266
Carpets Cleaned.
[Having opened an agency at] PAINE'S Upholstery Rooms, COLE'S BLOCK, am prepared to fill all orders for the Taking Up, Cleaning and Relaying of Carpets, at short notice and in the best manner.
PETER S. WHITE, Newton.
375 DR. ETTA JEWETT, Magnetic Physician, 37 BOYLSTON ST., Room 6, BOSTON.
BICYCLES
Renting and Repairing.
Agent for Singer's, Spaulding's, Crocenda's, Crawford's, and all the Leading Bicycles. Wheels sold on Easy Terms and old wheels taken in exchange. Repairing of all kinds by skilled workmen in the best equipped repair shop in any of the New towns.
E. E. BROWN, Bray's New Block, Newton Centre. Directly opposite the Depot.
Wood! Wood!
100 cords hard wood for sale, suitable for fire logs.
W. H. HYDE, Box 182, NEWTON CENTRE.
MISS BARTLESON, Pupil of Mr. John Orth. Teacher of Piano and Harmony, TROWBRIDGE STREET, Newton Centre, - Mass. 80 111
W. O. KNAPP & CO., Walta's Block, Newton Centre.
WOOD FOR SALE
—AT THE—
0 0 0 NEWTON CEMETERY.
WEBER
The Newton Highlands Baker, leaves Hot Rolls at Knapp's, Stevens' and Tucker's Newton Centre Stores at 4 o'clock P. M. EVERY DAY.

FLORIST.
Walter C. Brooks & Co.
Importing Tailors.
15 Milk Street, - Boston, Mass.
W. C. BROOKS, Residence, N. Centre.
13 Summer Tailor
149 Tremont St., Boston.
Fine Woolens at Moderate Prices.
PEARMAN & BROOKS
Stock and Bond Brokers.
Orders by Mail Promptly Executed. Good Bonds and Mortgages on hand for immediate delivery.
Correspondence Solicited.
Stock Exchange Building, 53 State St., Boston.
SUMNER B. PEARMAIN. L. LORING BROOKS.
Beautiful Melodies for Violin and Piano
Twenty-five Cents
WALTY—Kathleen O'Connor.
"Daisy Bell."
"Tabasco."
"The Little Maid in Pink."
"Won't You Be My Sweetheart?"
[All Popular and Perfect Gems]
Price 25 Cts. each, or the five Pieces for $1.00!!
JEAN WHITE, Publisher.
226 Washington Street, Boston, Mass. 32 266
Carpets Cleaned.
[Having opened an agency at] PAINE'S Upholstery Rooms, COLE'S BLOCK, am prepared to fill all orders for the Taking Up, Cleaning and Relaying of Carpets, at short notice and in the best manner.
PETER S. WHITE, Newton.
375 DR. ETTA JEWETT, Magnetic Physician, 37 BOYLSTON ST., Room 6, BOSTON.
BICYCLES
Renting and Repairing.
Agent for Singer's, Spaulding's, Crocenda's, Crawford's, and all the Leading Bicycles. Wheels sold on Easy Terms and old wheels taken in exchange. Repairing of all kinds by skilled workmen in the best equipped repair shop in any of the New towns.
E. E. BROWN, Bray's New Block, Newton Centre. Directly opposite the Depot.
Wood! Wood!
100 cords hard wood for sale, suitable for fire logs.
W. H. HYDE, Box 182, NEWTON CENTRE.
MISS BARTLESON, Pupil of Mr. John Orth. Teacher of Piano and Harmony, TROWBRIDGE STREET, Newton Centre, - Mass. 80 111
W. O. KNAPP & CO., Walta's Block, Newton Centre.
WOOD FOR SALE
—AT THE—
0 0 0 NEWTON CEMETERY.
WEBER
The Newton Highlands Baker, leaves Hot Rolls at Knapp's, Stevens' and Tucker's Newton Centre Stores at 4 o'clock P. M. EVERY DAY.

THE NEWTON GRAPHIC.

VOL. XXII.—NO. 51.

NEWTON, MASS., FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 21, 1894.

TERMS—$2.00 A YEAR.

THE First National Bank of W. Newton.

J. H. NICKERSON, President. A. E. MITCHELL, Vice-President.
EDWARD P. BATES, Cashier.

CAPITAL $100,000. SURPLUS $10,000.

We offer every facility to our depositors for the transaction of their business, consistent with safe banking methods, welcome small depositors, and furnish check books free to all.

SAFE DEPOSIT BOXES TO RENT FOR $5 PER ANNUM.

North Packing & Provision Co.

Were Given the Only Awards to New England Packers.

MEDALS AND DIPLOMAS

WORLD'S FAIR, CHICAGO.

Highest Award for Pure Leaf Lard, Hams, Bacon, Dry Salted and Pickled Meats, Barrel Pork, Pure Lard, Sausages.

TRADE MARK.

NORTH STAR BRAND

Pure Leaf Lard, Hams, Breakfast Bacon, Sausages.

SURE TO PLEASE YOU.

TAKE NO OTHER.

Seashore, Yachting, Camping and Vacation Requirements.

Choice of Table Wines and Unadulterated Liquors.

CHAS. L. RICHARDSON & CO.,
Staple and Fancy Groceries,
166 LINCOLN STREET, - BOSTON, MASS.

CIGARS

Butter is very low just at present.

HURCHILL & BEAN
Tailors
503 Washington Street,
BOSTON.
FINE DRESS SUITS A SPECIALTY.

CALL UP CENTRAL

AND THEY WILL CONNECT YOU WITH

273-3.

ASHLEY & DOANE.

GARDEN CITY MARKET.

WALTHAM
Employment Bureau,
Main St., opp. Post Office.
ROOM THREE. - UP STAIRS.
JOHN B. SHEERIN,
Over L. Riley & Co., Dry Goods Store.

Refrigerators
-AND-
Baby Carriages
-AT-
Bent's Furniture Rooms,
64 Main St., Watertown.

L. H. CRANITCH,
House, Sign, and Ornamental
PAINTER.
Paper Hangings in great variety and work promptly done.
Walnut St., - Newtonville.
2nd door from Central Block.

MR. WM. I. HOWELL
Pianoforte, Organ and Theory.
Also, SIGHT SINGING.
149 A TREMONT ST., BOSTON, MASS.
Residence, 91 Newtonville Avenue. 50 2m

Shirts
MADE TO ORDER.
A Perfect Fit Guaranteed. Best Material.
First-Class Work.
Superior Shirts, $1.50. Best Dress Shirts, $2.00.
Will call on customers at such time and place as will suit their convenience.
Repairing is Done Neatly and Promptly.
New Bosoms, 50c.; Neckbands, 15c.; Wristbands, 15c.; Collars, 25c.; Centre Plaids, 25c.
Badly fitting shirt made to fit well.

E. B. BLACKWELL,
43 Thornton St., - Newton, Mass.

ATWOOD'S MARKET.
HEADQUARTERS FOR
Fine Fruit,
Vegetables,
The Choicest
Fish and Meats.

Mr. Atwood's long experience gives him unusual facilities for securing the best things in the market.
371 CENTRE ST., NEWTON.
Telephone 122-2.

MISS ALICE F. PEIRCE,
Piano Forte.
ELIOT BLOCK ROOM 6, NEWTON,
Wednesdays and Fridays, 2 to 4.
687 BOYLSTON ST., - BOSTON, MASS.
Refers to Mr. Arthur Foote. 51 4t

MR. CUTLER'S
Preparatory School,
Newton, near station. Both sexes. Eighth year begins
SEPTEMBER 10th, 1894.
Tuition $150. Number limited. EDWARD H. CUTLER, Newton, Mass. 41 1t

COPLEY SQ. SCHOOL.
Katherine Frances Barnard, Principal.

MUSIC, LANGUAGES, ELOCUTION AND ART.
Applications for admission may be made from 10 A. M. to 3 P. M. Fall term begins October 1st. Prospectus mailed upon request. 51 3m

Pierce Building, Copley Sp., Boston.

BERKELEY - SCHOOL,
Boylston, cor. Berkeley St., Boston.
Co-educational. Certificates of the school received at Smith, Wellesley, Etc. Special students fitted for Institute, Harvard and Boston Universities, Law and Medical schools, etc. Catalogues mailed. 51 TAYLOR, DEMERETTE & HAGER.

Don't Drink impure water longer when for 50c. you can buy a good filter. They will fit a faucet where it is a thread or a hole. Call and see at Barber Bros

NEWTON.

—Pianos, Farley, 433 Washington St., N.
—Mr. George H. Snyder and family have returned from Montreal.

—Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Harris of Newtonville avenue are in North Woodstock, N. H. a few days ago.

—Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Hammett are in Tilton, N. H., this week.

—Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Merrill have returned from Kineo, Me.

—Mr. Ed. Lowe, Postmaster Morgan's assistant, has returned from his vacation.

—Miss Adeline F. Newton has returned from Hartford, Ct.

—Mrs. M. G. Pearson is at the "Interval," Intervale, N. H.

—Rev. F. B. Hornbroke and family are now occupying the residence which they recently leased on Lombard street.

—Mr. C. E. Currier and family of Hunnewell avenue returned this week from Nahant.

—Mrs. W. H. Emery has closed her house on Ivybrook street and will reside in Boston this winter.

—Mrs. McDonald of Louisville, Ky., has leased one of Dr. Stone's houses on Vernon street.

—Mrs. M. A. Molineux and Miss Molineux are at the Mt. Lookout house, Contooscook, N. H.

—Will Paxton has been sending out some finely executed works in color from his Boston studio.

—Mrs. Helen E. H. Wright will resume lessons in vocal culture, Sept. 24th, as per card in another column.

—Fred G. Barker, editor of the Watertown Enterprise, has been re-elected president of the Watertown Y. M. C. A.

—Mr. Louis A. Hall and Mr. Fred Loveland are on their way home from Canada. They reached New York last evening.

—Mr. Hornblower of New York and Mr. and Mrs. Lathrop of Boston are recent arrivals at The Hollis.

—Mr. Reuben Ford of Waverley avenue is in the West attending the meeting of the managers of the Whitman and Barnes Manufacturing Co.

—Mrs. C. S. Holbrook is in Poland Springs, Me., for a short stay. Mr. Holbrook and Miss Holbrook are in North Middleboro.

—Miss Mabel T. Hall and Mrs. Lillie Stetson of Brighton with Mrs. B. S. Wetherbee of Nonantum street are at North Woodstock, N. H., for a short stay.

—Patrolman Harrison is enjoying a two weeks' vacation. Patrolman Richardson has been assigned to duty during his absence.

—It is said that the A. P. A. secured representation in the choice of delegates selected from some of the caucuses. This secret political movement seems to spring up everywhere.

—The choir of Grace church, under Mr. Day's leadership, will give a concert in the Town Hall at Wellesley on the evening of Wednesday, Oct. 10th. The proceeds will be for the building fund of the new chapel.

—The Ladies' Missionary Society of Grace church are making arrangements for a "Neighborhood Missionary Meeting" to be held on the evening of October 4th. There will be several addresses.

—Music at Eliot church Sunday evening: Give unto the Lord, H. W. Parker; Bass solo, "Judge me O God," D. Book; Hear me when I call, G. C. Schaefer; Quartet, Son of my Soul, Schaefer; Choir assisted by Miss Carrie E. Woolf, soprano; W. H. Dunham, director.

—Eliot church has sent out a call for an ecclesiastical council to be held on Sept. 25, at 3 p. m. to ordain Mr. David S. Herriek to the ministry, for missionary service in India, he having been approved by the American board. The council meets at 3 p. m. and the ordaining service will be held at 7.30 p. m.

—The following resolution was passed at the Ward One Caucus: Resolved, That it is the wish of the Republican caucus of Ward One that the Republican city committee provide for three Republican rallies during the fall campaign, one at Eliot Hall, one at City Hall and one at Newton Centre.

—The dry summer has produced an early fall of leaves and some of the trees, especially, are almost bare already. The recent rains have driven new life into the lawns and meadows, but they come too late to give us the usual brilliant display of fall foliage.

—Col. Arkell of Gov. Waite's staff, Colorado, delivered an address upon "Silver and Its Great Influence in the Troubles of the West," before the Nonantum Club last evening. He is a very interesting speaker and treated his subject from an intelligent standpoint.

—The choice display of fruit always to be found at Atwood's market, corner of Centre street and the railroad crossing has attracted much attention from housekeepers. Mr. Atwood's long experience in the business enables him to secure the choicest fruit, vegetables, fish and meat for his customers.

—A horse attached to one of the delivery wagons of the Brackett Market Co. started off on a fast jog from a house in Walnut park Tuesday. The driver was just getting into the cart and was thrown down and quite severely bruised. The animal had gone but a short distance when it was hit in the leg by the weight. That settled it. Down went the horse in a heap and it was soon found that a limb had been fractured. A shot from a revolver put the beast out of misery and in due time the carcass was removed in the wagon from the abattoir.

—Miss Marguerite W. Abbot of West Newton, formerly teacher of French at the Newton High school, has just returned from a year's study in Paris where she was educated, having lived ten years in that city. She has been making a special study of French literature at the University of Paris. Attention is called to Miss Abbot's advertisement in another column. She will take private pupils in French and direct classes in French literature, grammar or conversation and will also do private tutoring.

—Ezra Barkers, formerly of this city, was arrested in Watertown Tuesday evening on the charge of obtaining money under false pretences. Barkers, in the palm days of the endorsement orders, was the agent for a Boston association, which paid a sick and death benefit. Among those he insured were Phillip Learned of Watertown. About 18 months ago the benefit association lost its charter and ceased to do business, and its affairs are now being settled up. Up to the present, however, Learned had been paying his assessment to Barkers, but as the latter did not come round regularly for the assessment, Learned became suspicious that all was not right and reported the matter to the police. Barkers says that he had never been notified that the company had ceased doing business, and supposed the concern was solid. He further states that he sent the money in an envelope to the main office, but it is not the custom of the association to send receipts. Barkers has lived a number of years in Newton and Watertown, and has always borne a good character.

—Mr. W. F. Bacon has returned from his Southern trip.

—Mrs. E. J. Locke is in North Brookfield for a short stay.

—Mr. Harry Stone caught a black bass weighing 5-14 lbs., at Charles River village a few days ago.

—Mr. E. S. Hamblen and family return next week from their summer place at Seltua.

—Mr. and Mrs. Walter White returned this week from Pigeon Cove, where they have spent the summer.

—Gentlemen and children who wish stylish hair cutting go to Burns', Cole's block.

—Mrs. E. H. Hames of Walnut Park gave a luncheon for her daughter, Mrs. S. W. Whitney of Albany, N. Y., on Wednesday, to a party of eight ladies.

—North street is being graded toward Watertown street. It rises one foot in every one hundred. It will be a much improved thoroughfare when completed.

—The Newton Y. M. C. A. rooms will hereafter be open every afternoon and evening, the new secretary, Mr. Parker, giving his whole time to the association work.

—There will be a meeting next Sunday p. m., 23rd inst., at 4 o'clock, at the Baptist church vestry to meet the new Y. M. C. A. secretary. All interested in this work are cordially invited to be present.

—Mrs. Francis Dutton Wood, formerly a well known singer of Newton, and a member of a Newton church choir, will next month for Europe, where she will study for the operatic stage.

—A company of about twenty young ladies and gentlemen from this place were among those present at the sociable given in the City Hall on Wednesday evening. The smart set was well represented.

—The old platform about the Newton station is a thing of the past. Workmen have been engaged this week in laying new planking and the substantial men of the Garden City will rejoice in something substantial to tread upon until decay again claims its board as a tribute to fleeting time and all it means of wear and change.

—There are the usual number of cases of typhoid fever this fall, chiefly among those who have been away for the summer in places where unsanitary conditions prevail. This is the case every fall, the doctors say. Very few cases have appeared among those who have remained at home for the summer, so that the stay-at-homes have the best of it in this respect.

—Director H. B. Day of Grace church choir is securing new music and making preparations for the usual annual chorale festival in January. Since the organization of the choir five years ago, there have been only five withdrawals, leaving a membership now of over 80. There are still many names on the waiting list for membership in the vested choir.

—Music in Grace church Sunday night: Processional, "Rejoice ye pure in heart," Gloria Patri, "Messiah," Magnificat, "Nunc Dimis," "Aldreda si g. to Jesus," Antiphon, "Thou wilt keep him in perfect peace," Recessional, "The Son of God goes forth," All seats free.

—Rev. Dillon Bronson took part in the exercises in connection with the laying of the corner stone of the new M. E. church last Sunday. The church committee of the Centre street M. E. society attended and many others from this city. Alfred Handley of the Grand Opera House orchestra, rendered a cornet solo, and the new ecclesiastical edifice is from plans of Mr. A. F. Haynes, architect, a former well known newspaper man here.

—Mr. P. A. Murray has just finished a very handsome Beverly wagon for Mr. Morton Cobb, built after the latter's own design, and made specially roomy and comfortable. It carries a good deal of attention in Mr. Murray's show rooms, and was inspected by many visitors and has been much admired since it appeared on the street. Like all of Mr. Murray's cars, special care was given to the selection of stock, workmanship, painting and finishing.

—A Newton artist brought two valuable pictures to the Kneeland street station of the Boston & Albany railroad a few nights ago with the idea of bringing them to his home here. He placed the pictures in a passenger coach between two seats, but the urbane conductor wouldn't have it and ordered him to remove them to the baggage car. Rather than do that, the man of pictures left the train taking the pictures with him. He tried another outward bound accommodation later and met with better success, being permitted to guard the artistic work representing members of the various lodges of Masons, including Zealand lodge, St. Matthew chapter, St. Omer commandery and the Mystic Shrine, all of Boston. He was also a member of the Golden Cross and Beacon lodge, A. O. U. W. He was the organizer and leader of the Mendelssohn quartet and had sung in various leading church choirs. He served in the 36th Massachusetts Regiment during the civil war. Mr. Knowles' widow, Mrs. Carrie E. Knowles, is a professional singer. She was at one time a member of the Boston Ideals, and for a number of years sang and played one of the principal roles in "The Old Homestead." Mr. Knowles' stepson, to whom he was greatly attached, is Mr. Eugene Ormonde, a member of the New York Lyceum Theatre Company. An aged mother and a sister also survive him. The funeral took place Tuesday afternoon at 1 o'clock, from the family residence on Jefferson street. The services were attended by members of the various lodges of Masons, of which he was a member, including the Mystic Shrine, G. L. F. Yates Council Princes of Jerusalem and Massachusetts Consistory. The address was delivered by Rev. A. A. Berle, pastor of the Brighton Congregational church. Paul Revere lodge Knights of Honor, Loyal Council Home Circle, Beacon lodge, A. O. U. W., and Abraham Lincoln post 11, G. A. R., were represented. Among the floral offerings were emblems of the Masonic order, an open book from the deceased's associates in the office of the board of commissioners of public institutions, a large pillow from the widow, and mounds from the sister and stepson, Mr. Eugene Ormonde. The interment took place at Evergreen cemetery, Brig's on.

—Mr. and Mrs. George W. Bush are enjoying a Raymond excursion through the White Mts.

—Mrs. Fred Getchell of Harvard is the guest of Mrs. Farrington of Nonantum street.

—Miss Alice Peirce has returned from her vacation and announces in another column her hours for receiving pupils.

—Mr. W. P. Ellison was made a grandmaster twice within the past two weeks, been born to the office of grandmaster, Frank A. Day of Waban Park, and Mr. and Mrs. Eben H. Ellison of Vernon street.

—Among the arrivals at Hotel Hunnewell the past week have been Dr. Sneed of Louisville, Ky., Mrs. S. K. Harwood, Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Kimball, Miss Addie Kimball, Messrs. Lemuel and Henry H. Kimball and Master Clarence Kimball.

—The Newton Y. M. C. A. has engaged Mr. Pitt F. Parker to act as its general secretary. Last night the various committees of the association met Mr. Parker in the rooms in an informal reception. Mr. Parker comes from Lynn, where he has served the Lynn Y. M. C. A. during the past two years in the capacity of assistant secretary.

AUBURNDALE.

—Ivers & Pond pianos, Farley Newton

—See page 3 for additional news.

—Good Stationary by weight. Thorn's.

—John Keeley of Weston is at work in V. A. Pluta's market.

—Mr. C. W. Brainard and family of Lexington street have removed to Holyoke.

—Ernest Harlow, who has been very ill with typhoid fever, is somewhat improved.

—Mr. Frank P. Bates and daughter have returned from an extended visit at London, N. H.

—Officer Dolan returned Saturday from St. Johns, N. S., where he has been spending his vacation and is again on duty.

—Mr. Richard W. Dennison of Weston has gone to Manitoba with friends, on a pleasure trip of four weeks.

—Jerry Coleman has commenced the erection of a double house on Lexington street.

—William Donnelly, who has been in the employ of Mr. E. A. Walker, has purchased a business in Gloucester.

—Mr. and Mrs. Elliot W. Keyes are receiving congratulations on the birth of a baby boy.

—Mr. W. S. Mayo and family have leased and will occupy the house on Lexington street recently vacated by C. W. Brainard.

—Dr. Jacob Childs of Lexington street is making extensive alterations and improvements in his house.

—Mr. and Mrs. Bailey of Auburn street have returned from a trip to Northern Vermont.

—Misses Phillips and Collins have gone to New York for the fall and winter styles in dresses and wraps.

—Mrs. G. Fred Pond of Auburndale avenue lost valuable St. Bernard, Tuesday, which was purchased in West Roxbury only a few days previous.

—Mr. and Mrs. Willis F. Hadlock, Lexington street, enjoyed a trip to Portland, Me., this week, where they spent a few days at his home.

—Mr. and Mrs. William E. Thayer of Andover street have returned from a week's vacation spent in Providence, R. I. and vicinity.

—Miss Louise Imogen Guiney of Vista avenue has gone to Martinville for a few weeks' sojourn, where her mother expects to join her later.

—The Misses Mason of Boston, who are connected with the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, have taken and will occupy Mrs. L. M. Norton's house on Hancock street.

—Miss Lena Emerson, who has been the guest of Mrs. E. B. Beardsley, Crescent street, this summer, will go to her home in Newton for a few weeks the latter part of September, returning here for the winter season.

—There are letters at the post office for William Bowen, Guy W. Currier, Pat. C. L. Dickinson, Henry Edwards, W. Sears, Esq., Geo. W. Wheaton, Mrs. J. M. Currier, Mrs. M. D. Hastings, Annie O'Connor, Caroline E. Priest, Marie F. Phelps, Mary W. Phipps, Miss M. E. Wells.

—Arthur Plummer is spending his vacation at St. Johns, N. S., with a party of friends. He was taken quite ill with bilious fever a few days after his arrival while at St. Martin's, sixty miles up the river on a hunting trip. His friends wish him a speedy recovery.

—The statement recently heard in regard to Woodbine street that more money had been spent on it than any other street in Newton, we have found to be entirely correct. There is no reason to doubt that the work done on that locality have spared neither money or pains to improve the appearance of their street.

—Three breaks were made sometime Monday night at Riverside. The restaurants of Gray & Foster and W. G. Tucker, and John R. Robertson's booth were entered and a few cigars and miscellaneous articles stolen. The burglars borrowed one of Robertson's boats when they finished their work, leaving it a few rods down the river on the Weston side, where it was discovered in the morning. The breaks were probably the work of tramps.

—Mr. A. A. Brigham of Weston is having an artificial lake constructed on his estate for the use of his water fowl, of which he has a large and valuable stock. The birds are imported by Mr. Brideham, who takes great interest in thoroughbred and rare species of water fowl. The preparation of this pond represents quite an undertaking. There are thirty men employed in excavating the basin for the proposed lake, which will cover about one and one-half acres of ground. The basin will be some six feet in depth and some six weeks' work will be necessary to complete the pond.

—One hundred and fifty-four young ladies arrived at the Lasell Seminary, yesterday, and resumed the studies of the opening fall and winter term. All of the departments were well under way, and by today matters will have resumed their even tenor of progress. The change of teachers, as previously announced, will go into effect at once. When the term shall have extended over a few weeks, the young ladies entered in years heretofore will have a brilliant repetition this year. The unique battalion feature of the seminary will be revived, and a battalion will be formed at once and placed under drilling tactics. The famous "war canoe crew" of last season, owing to the lateness of the season, will not be seen upon the Charles river before next spring.

A SIGNIFICANT EVENT.

OPENING OF THE COPLEY SQUARE SCHOOL OF MUSIC, LANGUAGES, ELOCUTION AND ART.

The sixth year of this popular high-grade school opened on the 17th inst., with a corps of exceptionally capable teachers in charge, embracing some of the most noted instructors in New England. No school of its kind is more fortunately located, or possessed of more thoroughly qualified teachers in every department. The student in voice culture, English literature, and Delsarte, has specially desirable opportunities for securing the best possible instruction by the most approved methods. An art department has been added this year which will give the student who cannot afford private lessons, the rarest chance for development in this line under the best artists. The high character of this school, together with the personal and individual attention given its pupils in every department has given this institution a prominent position among similar schools of instruction. Its popularity is shown by the large number of pupils already enrolled.

Laying the Corner Stone.

The exercises in connection with the laying of the corner stone of the new library building, now in process of erection for the Newton Baptist Theological Institution, took place at Newton Centre, at 5 o'clock Tuesday, in the presence of several hundred people. The time of preparation was very short, as arrangements for such exercises were only decided upon by the committee a week ago.

The exercises opened with an address by Prof. Alvah Hovey, president of the institution. He referred to the erection of Colby Hall, where the library is now located, and the laying of the corner stone 30 years ago, and of those who officiated at that time, all but one of whom have since passed away. He spoke of the conception of libraries among the Greeks and the services rendered by monastic libraries down through the middle ages to present literature.

He referred to the accommodations needed in a good library building of the present time and particularly in the case of the institution, such as shelving, stock room, reading, reference and newspaper rooms, where the periodicals of the day could be read. The new building would furnish all of these and provide two or three small rooms for groups of students to use in making investigations. Offices would also be provided for the librarian and staff which are today indispensable in a good library. He emphasized its character as a theological library. The Bible was the nucleus to which was added all that would throw light upon the history, interpretation or customs of the Bible and its times and pertaining to the truth of the Christian religion, as compared with others—in fact, every help for a complete knowledge of the Christian religion.

The corner stone was then laid by Prof. Hovey, and prayer was offered by Prof. J. M. English. Rev. Dr. R. J. Adams of Boston and Prof. C. H. Brown made brief addresses.

The library building will be a handsome structure, about 100x75 ft. in size, with granite foundations and trimmings and light colored imported brick superstructure. The building is expected to be ready for dedication May 1, 1895. The cost will be $40,000. The building committee who have the matter in charge are W. A. Moore of Boston, president of the board, Stephen Greene of Newton Centre, and Rev. G. E. Merrill of New-Canton. When the new building is finished the interior of Colby Hall will be remodelled, an ell added and the chapel recitation and lecture rooms all concentrated in this building.

Foot Ball.

In view of the excellent showing made by the Newton Athletic Association foot ball eleven last year, it is the desire of the committee in charge to place a much stronger team in the field this season, and also organize a second eleven. The first practice for candidates will take place Saturday, Sept. 22nd, at 3.30 p. m., on the Newton Centre playground. Please advise the undersigned if you are a candidate and your choice of position.

D. DEWEY, JR.,
Chairman Committee.

More Business.

The Central Dry Goods Co. of Waltham are again extending their business and are fitting up a department for the sale of ready made clothing for men and boys, and will have it ready for public inspection in about ten days. They are now the largest retail business house between Boston and Worcester, having two large stores devoted to ladies' dress goods, of which they carry a great variety, cloaks, dress trimmings and ladies' furnishings; another store filled with a fine assortment of boots and shoes, and a fourth store devoted to men's hats, neck wear and general furnishings. The clothing department will be in the second story, which is now being fitted up in handsome style.

Men's Suitings.

A choice variety of fall and winter importations of men's suitings, overcoatings and furnishings, is shown by Churchill & Bean, Tailors, 503 Washington street, Boston. Their Newton patrons and others are invited to inspect their stock before the assortment is broken.

Before going on a sea-voyage or into the country, be sure and put a box of Ayer's Pills in your valise. You may have occasion to thank us for this hint. To relieve constipation, biliousness, and nausea, Ayer's Pills are the best in the world. They are also easy to take.

Fall Bonnets.

Mr. J. W. Macurdy will have his usual fall opening on Sept. 27th and 28th, at 133 Moody street, Waltham, where a fine display of French hats and bonnets will be shown. The ladies of Newton are invited.

Do you have headache, dizziness, drowsiness, loss of appetite and other symptoms of biliousness? Hood's Sarsaparilla will cure you.

ELECTION OFFICERS CONFIRMED.

ALDERMEN MEET FOR THAT PURPOSE IN SPECIAL SESSION.

A special meeting of the board of aldermen was held Monday evening. The mayor was absent and Alderman Roffe was elected president. He announced the mayor's nominations for election officers and they were confirmed by unanimous vote. There are some vacancies still to be filled. The list so far as completed is given below:

Ward One—Precinct 1, John E. Butler, R., warden; Hiram S. Foss, R., deputy warden; John W. Keefe, D., clerk; James A. Grace, D., deputy clerk; I. T. Fletcher, R., Francis H. Murray, D., Myles J. Joyce, D., inspectors; Thomas Kybert, R., M. A. Drury, D., deputy inspectors. Precinct 2, S. C. Stevens, D., warden; E. O. Childs, D., deputy warden; Walter S. Ring, R., clerk; Benjamin F. Tripp, R., deputy clerk; J. F. Griffin, D., E. E. Dearborn, D., M. L. Blanchard, R., Charles A. Farley, R., inspectors; John Flood, D., deputy inspector.

Ward Two—Precinct 1, H. P. Dearborn, D., warden; Jeremiah Cashman, D., deputy warden; K. S. Billings, F., clerk; C. D. Cabot, R., deputy clerk; Lawrence H. Cranitch, D., T. G. Cutler, R., J. D. Billings, R., inspectors; W. J. Dunn, D., G. H. Crocker, Jr., D., Lewis E. Binney, R., Elbridge Bradshaw, R., deputy inspectors. Precinct 2, W. S. Higgins, R., warden; A. H. Sisson, R., deputy warden; J. W. Page, D., clerk; H. Page, D., deputy clerk; U. H. Dyer, R., W. W. Palmer, R., J. W. Cotton, D., George M. Bridges, D., inspectors; D. H. Fish, R., C. H. Johnson, R., George B. Cook, D., Charles W. Richardson, D., deputy inspectors.

Ward Three—Precinct 1, F. H. Humphrey, D., warden; George H. Baker, R., clerk; E. O. Burdon, R., deputy clerk; F. C. Sheridan, D., J. W. Gaw, D., W. G. Folsom, R., George D. Rice, R., inspectors; Eugene E. Connor, D., deputy inspector. Precinct 2, H. G. Wood, R., warden; Chandler Seaver, Jr., R., deputy warden; Severance Burrage, D., clerk; Fisher Ames, Jr., D., deputy clerk; F. E. Hunter, R., Francis Newhall, R., J. F. Burrage, D., inspectors; A. W. Bell, R., Joseph Commons, Jr., D., F. H. Hensley, D., F. D. Hamer, R., deputy inspectors.

Ward Four—Precinct 1, Frederick Plummer, D., warden; A. F. Tucker, D., deputy warden; Lyman G. Snow, R., clerk; Colon S. Ober, R., deputy clerk; P. A. McVicar, D., Henry Washburn, D., C. B. Ashenden, R., Albert W. Little, R., inspectors; C. Brown, D., D. E. Parker, D., H. E. Crandell, R., deputy inspectors. Precinct 2, W. R. Dimond, R., warden; J. L. Sears, R., deputy warden; E. H. Kenney, D., clerk; James A. Earley, D., deputy clerk; W. A. Atherton, R., A. B. Hayden, R., John Dolan, D., Thatcher R. Raymond, D., inspectors; Fred C. Lyons, D., Owen S. McCourt, D., deputy inspectors.

Ward Five—Precinct 1, A. J. Grover, R., warden; J. W. Howe, R., deputy warden; F. W. Barney, D., clerk; C. B. Bancroft, D., deputy clerk; Otis Pettie, R., Erasmus Gott, R., Frank Fanning, D., Daniel Kelleher, R., inspectors; J. F. Brown, R., C. W. Kendall, R., B. S. Ford, D., J. E. Connors, D., deputy inspectors. Precinct 2, C. H. Burr, D., warden; H. W. Taylor, D., deputy warden; E. H. Corey, R., clerk; E. H. Greenwood, R., deputy clerk; H. W. Holbrook, D., E. E. Bird, D., G. E. Leonard, R., Fred A. O'Connor, R., inspectors; B. E. Moulton, R., Alexander Taylor, D., Philip S. Carbone, D., deputy inspectors.

Ward Six—Precinct 1, F. H. Hovey, R., warden; H. A. Tomlinson, D., clerk; Walter Thorpe, R., D. H. McWain, D., H. H. Day, R., F. E. Kuehlund, D., inspectors; Charles N. Fitz, D., deputy inspector. Precinct 2, R. B. Baker, D., warden; Arthur E. Fowler, R., clerk; F. M. Stuart, D., Arthur Muldoon, R., Ernest S. May, R., inspectors; Fred P. Dunbar, R., deputy inspector.

Ward Seven—Precinct 1, Amasa W. B. Huff, R., warden; Edward L. Lemon, R., deputy warden; Moses Clark, Jr., D., clerk; F. S. Belding, D., B. S. Ford, D., Robert B. Edes, R., Lawrence M. Clark, R., Francis A. Barrows, D., George W. Lamson, D., inspectors; Robert A. Brackett, R., Thomas Dalton, Jr., D., Henry B. Poole, R., deputy inspectors.

BILLERICA MURDER CASE.

VALUABLE CLEWS OBTAINED OF THE KEARNEY'S WEST NEWTON.

Chief McIntosh of the Woburn police department, accompanied by State Officer Joseph Bean, visited this city Tuesday in search of more evidence concerning the movements of Sullivan, Foley and Nagle, the trio held on suspicion of being concerned in the murder of Duroy S. Foster at Billerica.

The three men declared that they were in West Newton the night of the murder and it is said that they stated that they lodged in the house of Mrs. Kearney, 225 River street. Mrs. Kearney informed Patrolman Porelli that the men were not in her house on the night of the murder and that information was several days ago given to Chief McIntosh, and, also, the fact that Sullivan had some six weeks ago removed from West Newton and taken up his residence in Somerville.

A rifle range in Woburn, it appears, was recently entered and some fine rifles stolen. Chief McIntosh had some reason for suspecting Sullivan and his pals, and resolved to search the apartments they formerly occupied in the Kearney house. There was one gun stolen valued at $125, the property of the Massachusetts Rifle Association. The Woburn chief had no search warrant, but Mrs. Kearney gave her keys to Officer Porelli and told him at her desire to give all the assistance possible. They went all over the house and got a valuable clue from Mrs. Kearney's son, Joseph, who has been duly summoned as a witness.

Officer Porelli induced the Kearneys to give some information that may have a very important bearing on the Billerica case.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 30 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address: F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.

Sold by Druggists, 75c.

Political and Otherwise.

Well, the caucuses this week were rather slow. It surprises me that so few people turn out to the primaries in a city conspicuous for its red hot political fights. It is when the municipal kettle is boiling that the boys get together and astound the outside world with their knowledge of shrewd political moves and thorough mastery of the intricacies of successful campaigning. Do I remember? Well, I should say so. You refer to that surprised Republican convention, when Hon. J. Wesley Kimball, the Citizens' candidate, came very near capturing the nomination. I recall the fact that the Ward Three delegation was supposed to have been in favor of some one else and I cannot refrain from a smile now when I measure up the blank look of astonishment that chased over the features of the loyal Republican. "Dem was great days," as the bootblack said to a chum, referring to a room of a hash house where buckwheat cakes and lasses were served while without extra charge.

There is a prospect of some lively times ahead and I wouldn't be a bit surprised if the real kitchen politicians get their heads together this Fall and set things a spinning. There will be no dearth of aspirants for municipal honors and even if they all cannot get party nominations, what does it matter? They can run on an independent ticket. The more contests, the more fun and the livelier the campaigning. These purely local fights only come once a year or so, and surely they ought to be taken advantage of.

The Boston papers have printed long articles with cuts, telling about the clever work of the Woburn police in connection with the Billerica murder. Chief McIntosh came out here last week with the idea in mind of placing P. Sullivan, a suspect, under arrest. Sullivan once lived in West Newton, but departed from there several weeks ago for Somerville where his home now is. The Woburn chief was credited with a great deal of shrewdness in tracing Sullivan's movements in this city. The fact that he came out here, supposing Sullivan lived here and was greatly surprised when Officer Porelli gave him the particulars of his recent movements and removal to another place. Nobody would wish to detract from the credit which attaches to the Woburn chief's action, but would it not have been fair to have given the Newton police a word of praise? They furnished some valuable information, and all they got was a cut. That is, any reference to them was out of the very glowing newspaper accounts. No one holds Chief McIntosh responsible. He probably forgot to mention the assistance rendered him by the Newton officers. The much abused newspaper men did the rest. What columns of glory they build up for an oftentimes rather unappreciative lot of persons.

Some very funny things are said on the witness stand. In the police court here, recently, I heard an aggrieved Irish woman giving her testimony against a fire. She had kindled a little blaze in her back yard and it had resulted in a more serious conflagration. To the judge, referring to the fire in the yard, she said: "I was squelching it, yer honor, with an iron rake, when two polis-men came up to me. One of dem was Mr. Fetscher, I dun know, for he was driven the parole cart. I axed the sporty chap on de cart to drive down de back strate, as I were not wantin to be exposed in that parole wagon. He tould me it were no worse for me than for him, (a common polis-man, yer honor), and that it wud be rough on him to be seen ridin with the loikes of me. Said I, I'll tell de judge of yer impudence, ye nothin, and he'll take de buttins from yer fine blue frock. The polis man, he said de principal strates in de parole cart and put me in a dirty cell in de station house. Ye'll stay there a while, said they and, faix, I made up me mind that I would, for the dure were shut and locked and I hed no key to it. It all came about me tryin to put out de fire in de rear of me gatin wid a bit of an iron rake, and the's all I've to say, yer honor."

Here's another amusing local court incident. Judge to prisoner—"Give an account of yourself and remember you are under oath." Prisoner—"I was taken to Mr. Judge—"Am I to understand that it affected your brain so that you made the disturbance of which you are charged?" Prisoner—"Bedad, oim thinkin so, yer honor; I hed a grate wad of it on me!"

Alderman Rumery may be a member of the next Legislature, I'm told. He will, if the influence and support of his many friends count for anything. They are working earnestly in his interests and when people are in earnest and determined to do a great deal, they accomplish it. It was hoped that the Republican nomination would come his way, but as there seems to be no prospect of that, it has been decided to wage an independent fight. Therefore, it appears certain that Alderman Rumery is out for Legislative honors and that the Boston politician he is "in the hands of his friends." Nomination papers will be filed while the grass is yet green and a general spirit of hustle and get there has already permeated the citizen warriors, who will battle in Mr. Rumery's behalf.

A polished specimen of the genus tramp came very near fooling some of our resident clergymen a few days ago with a clever tale. He was out of funds, don't you know, in temporary hard luck, but having, of course, no end of influential friends and wealthy relatives who would stand him, the contents of a bank if he simply let them know that he was in want. He was too proud for that; no blood charity in his. His Vanderbilt and Astor connections should never hear from him until the past had been blotted out and he could return with the glitter of a shakedown aurora about him, the testimonials of his own efforts and well earned success. We have some quite practical ministers in Newton and they very good naturedly decided to let the fellow carve out his pietatorial future in his own way rather than humble his pride by offering him any pecuniary assistance. I suppose he is hustling now for greenbacks, but, somehow, there is a vein of doubt running through my mind as to his intention to earn an honest living.

The Boston papers did not cover the Ward Six Republican caucus the other night. Why, I wonder? It was once the custom to cover them all, but then that was when the news out here was considered of some value by the press and before the period of "combines" in news gathering to save a few dollars and drive, perhaps, many an honest and conscientious worker out of the business. Oh, these days of trusts, to which the HERALD alludes occasionally in its editorial columns. It makes one sigh for the past and sadly comment upon the present.

HE WAS A FRAUD.

SEEDY YOUNG MAN ATTEMPTS TO VICTIMIZE NEWTON CLERGYMEN.

A young man of rather seedy appearance, but with a smooth tongue and refined manners, despite his well worn and somewhat ragged costume, visited several of the resident ministers Sunday for the purpose of enlisting their sympathy in a charitable way. He gave different accounts of his past life and the circumstances leading up to his present straits, saying, however, in every case that he had secured a position as telegraph operator for the Western Union Telegraph Company in the Newton depot. He was without funds, he said, and needed a little assistance to enable him to get on his feet until he received his wages from the company.

The fellow turned out to be an imposter. He made his first call upon Rev. Dr. G. W. Shinn, pastor of Grace church. He told him that his name was Wilson and claimed that his father was a very wealthy man, principal owner of the Cleveland Electric Street Railway Company. He had led, he said, a somewhat wild life, but had resolved to turn over a new leaf. "When I left home," he explained, "I had what is termed a swelled head, but rough experience has gradually reduced it to about the normal size. I want to make a man of myself and have accepted this place in Newton as a stepping stone to something better. I don't want to go back home a beggar."

He gave some details of his more prosperous days, stating that he had enjoyed the advantages of a good musical education. He was at one time, he said, leader of a large choir and had been on the boards in comic opera. Rev. Dr. Shinn was inclined to aid him, if he was worthy of assistance and gave him an order for a night's lodging, supper and breakfast at the Central house. He had reason later, however, to suspect that he was a fraud and notified Mr. Lamson, proprietor of the hotel, not to harbor him.

To Rev. Mr. Merrill, pastor of the Immanuel Baptist church, the young man introduced himself as Charles Morrill, stating that he was the son of a Baptist clergyman. He said that he was hard up, but that it was his own fault and he was going to do better. He represented that he was an electrical engineer by profession. During his recent wanderings he had played, he said, baseball in a professional team. He gave broad hints that some sort of financial assistance would not be ungraciously received. He had stated, however, that his letters of recommendation were coming by mail and it occurred to Rev. Mr. Merrill that it was strange that the Western Union had given him a place in an important office with having any very satisfactory guarantee as to his character. He did not give him any money.

The fellow finally went to the Newton station and informed the agent that he was going to supervise a piece of work for the Boston & Albany Railway Company, that of equipping the main line from Boston to South Framingham with the block electric signal system. He said that a tower would be put up near the Newton depot, and the lumber for the construction was on the way. It was ascertained that it was a fairy tale, and the police were put on his track, but he disappeared, seemingly, in a twinkling and has probably decided to try his luck in some other place.

The imposter was a young man, dark complexioned, rather stocky, with dark, shaggy clothes and a dark derby hat. He had a brown mustache. The right shoe was pointed and the toe turned up considerably.

HOME CRICKETERS LOSE.

BOSTON ELEVEN WINS EASILY IN THE STATE TOURNEY.

The Boston cricketers visited this city last Saturday and defeated the home team hands down. The Bostonians batted first, and when they had made 73, with the loss of eight wickets, the inning was declared closed. All Newton could make was 27, consequently they were beaten by 46 runs.

BOSTONS.

Shepherdson, c. Kershaw, b. Lyons..... 7
Simmons, c. Kershaw, b. Lyons..... 0
Harrison, c. Ellis, b. Weldon..... 33
Snell, c. Kershaw, b. Bastow..... 12
Thompson, c. Lyons, b. Bastow..... 12
Ross, not out..... 12
Devlin, c. Smith, b. Lyons..... 2
H. Merritt, run out..... 2
Hathaway, c. Martin, b. Lyons..... 3
Extra..... 1
Total..... 73

NEWTONS.

Barker, c. Devlin, b. Shepherdson..... 5
Kershaw, c. sub. b. Simmons..... 2
Smith, b. Shepherdson, b. Simmons..... 2
Collett, b. Shepherdson..... 0
Bastow, run out..... 0
Weldon, c. Shepherdson, b. Simmons..... 0
Dyson, c. Shepherdson, b. Simmons..... 0
Martin, run out..... 1
Cameron, not out..... 9
Extra..... 9
Total..... 27

Nominate an Energetic Man.

Sept. 10th, 1894.

To the Editor of the Graphic:—

In a recent issue of your valued paper, there appeared an article mentioning several citizens as possible candidates for mayor.

Among them appeared the name of the present Alderman from Ward Two, Mr. E. M. Rumery, who has served the city so faithfully for the past two years.

The article referred to above prompts me to suggest that there is another office in the gift of the citizens of this city, where we are in need of an earnest, fearless and energetic representative, one who has the interests of the city thoroughly at heart, and one who has the time to devote to these interests. This office is that of state representative, and who could the voters select, who is more capable of filling this position than Mr. E. M. Rumery?

I sincerely trust that our people will carefully consider this suggestion and that when the time comes to nominate one candidate for a representative, Mr. Rumery will receive as graceful a compliment as he did two years ago when he was nominated for alderman. If this is done I feel sure that the voters will pay him a handsome compliment by electing him, perhaps, many an honest and conscientious worker out of the business. Oh, these days of trusts, to which the stadium has, perhaps, not yet been built, and the people are still waiting for the day when the stadium will be built and the people will be able to see the games.

Yours truly,
A. YOTER AND CITIZEN.

Ayer's WAS
THE ONLY
Sarsaparilla

ADMITTED AT
THE World's Fair.
GET
The Best.

Upholsterers.
H. W. CALDER,
UPHOLSTERER.
Cabinet Maker and House Furnisher.
ARTISTIC PICTURE FRAMING.
A complete stock always on hand.
NEWTONVILLE, MASS.

J. H. LOOKER,
French Cleansing and Dyeing
Dry Cleansing and Repairing a Specialty.
Particular attention paid to
Blankets, Lace Curtains, Fine
Linens and Hand Laundry
Work of all kinds.
No. 21 Carlton Street
NEWTON, MASS.

O—FLORIST—O
Floral Decorations for Weddings and Parties
arranged for at short notice. Funeral designs and cut flowers a specialty. CHARLES E.
HOLBROW, 407 Centre St. Greenhouses
Washington Street. 17

S. A. TUTTLE, 27 Beverly St., Boston.

EXPERIENCE AND PROMPTNESS.

NICE WORK GUARANTEED BY

WHITE'S NEWTON CARPET CLEANING COM'Y.

Only 1 cent per yard running for taking up; 3 cents per running yard for cleaning Wool, Brussels or Tapestry; 4 cents for Wiltons, Velvets or Axminsters; 8 cents per square yard for Turkish Rugs or Carpets; 4 cents per running yard for laying; Stairs, 30 cents and upwards per flight. Carpet Sewing, $2.50 per day. Removing and repairing of carpets a specialty. Carpet work in all its branches done properly and at reasonable prices. All kinds of Carpet Linings for sale. Church Cushions and Matings cleaned at bottom prices. Carpets called for and delivered free of charge. Send postal. 25¢ New Carpets made to order of every shape and size.

SIMON A. WHITE,

P. O. Box 71, Newtonville. Telephone 7. Factory and Residence, Clinton Street

Bicycle Repairing of Every Description.

Brazing, Enameling, Nickel-Plating, Etc.

Connected by Telephone.

Wheels Changed from Solid to Cushion or Pneumatic.

Best Cycle Oil 25 cents per pint. Lawn Mowers cleaned and sharpened for $1.00. Called for and delivered for 25 cents extra.

Haddow & Batchelor, 49 Galen Street, Watertown, Mass.

P. A. MURRAY, Carriage Builder.

FOR PERFECT PLEASURE IN RIDING

Use Rubber Tires.

ALL WORK GUARANTEED.

Special attention given to REPAIRING AND PAINTING FINE CARRIAGES AND SLEIGHS

WASHINGTON, COR. PARK ST., NEWTON.

Genuine Bargains

Always to be obtained by examination of the

varied assortment of

IMPERFECT GOODS AND REMNANTS,

STRICTLY ALL WOOL.

Made at the Assabet Mills which are exclusively sold

and at the lowest prices by

THE PEOPLE'S DRY GOODS COMPANY

MAYNARD, MASS.

The Salesroom is open until 6 p. m. except Saturday. Closes Saturday at 12 o'clock. Positively open as above until further notice in this paper.

Assigned by A. YOTER AND CITIZEN.

stadium has, perhaps, not yet been built, and the people are still waiting for the day when the stadium will be built and the people will be able to see the games.

Yours truly,
A. YOTER AND CITIZEN.

stadium has, perhaps, not yet been built, and the people are still waiting for the day when the stadium will be built and the people will be able to see the games.

Yours truly,
A. YOTER AND CITIZEN.

stadium has, perhaps, not yet been built, and the people are still waiting for the day when the stadium will be built and the people will be able to see the games.

Yours truly,
A. YOTER AND CITIZEN.

stadium has, perhaps, not yet been built, and the people are still waiting for the day when the stadium will be built and the people will be able to see the games.

Yours truly,
A. YOTER AND CITIZEN.

stadium has, perhaps, not yet been built, and the people are still waiting for the day when the stadium will be built and the people will be able to see the games.

Veterinary Surgeon
MADISON BUNKER, D. V. S.
Veterinary Surgeon
BUSH'S STABLE, ELMWOOD ST., NEWTON.
Telephone Connection.

Carpenters and Builders.

G. W. RIGBY,
Carpenter and Builder.
JOBING PROMPTLY ATTENDED TO.
Washington St., opp. Waban, [Newton].

S. K. MacLEOD,
Carpenter and Builder.
Jobbing of all kinds neatly and promptly executed. Bathrooms and Fittings for Plumbers' Work a specialty.
SHOP: CENTRE PL., Opp. PUBLIC LIBRARY.
Residence: Boyd Street, near Jewett.

Dentists.

DR. S. F. CHASE,
DENTIST.
Office and Residence, 3031 Walnut St., Newtonville
Careful and thorough operating in all branches
NEW METHOD FOR ARTIFICIAL TEETH.

DR. H. L. SANDERSON,
Surgeon Dentist,
Aesthetics used when desired. Elevator service.
480 Boylston Street, Boston, Mass.

DR. ELBRIDGE C. LEACH
DENTIST.
422 COLUMBUS AVE., NO
The correcting of irregular teeth in children
months a specialty.
Residence, Crystal St., Newton Centre.
Will make appointments at residence after 6 P.M.

DR. H. L. SANDERSON,
Surgeon Dentist,
Aesthetics used when desired. Elevator service.
480 Boylston Street, Boston, Mass.

DR. ELBRIDGE C. LEACH
DENTIST.
422 COLUMBUS AVE., NO
The correcting of irregular teeth in children
months a specialty.
Residence, Crystal St., Newton Centre.
Will make appointments at residence after 6 P.M.

DR. H. L. SANDERSON,
Surgeon Dentist,
Aesthetics used when desired. Elevator service.
480 Boylston Street, Boston, Mass.

DR. ELBRIDGE C. LEACH
DENTIST.
422 COLUMBUS AVE., NO
The correcting of irregular teeth in children
months a specialty.
Residence, Crystal St., Newton Centre.
Will make appointments at residence after 6 P.M.

DR. H. L. SANDERSON,
Surgeon Dentist,
Aesthetics used when desired. Elevator service.
480 Boylston Street, Boston, Mass.

DR. ELBRIDGE C. LEACH
DENTIST.
422 COLUMBUS AVE., NO
The correcting of irregular teeth in children
months a specialty.
Residence, Crystal St., Newton Centre.
Will make appointments at residence after 6 P.M.

DR. H. L. SANDERSON,
Surgeon Dentist,
Aesthetics used when desired. Elevator service.
480 Boylston Street, Boston, Mass.

DR. ELBRIDGE C. LEACH
DENTIST.
422 COLUMBUS AVE., NO
The correcting of irregular teeth in children
months a specialty.
Residence, Crystal St., Newton Centre.
Will make appointments at residence after 6 P.M.

DR. H. L. SANDERSON,
Surgeon Dentist,
Aesthetics used when desired. Elevator service.
480 Boylston Street, Boston, Mass.

DR. ELBRIDGE C. LEACH
DENTIST.
422 COLUMBUS AVE., NO
The correcting of irregular teeth in children
months a specialty.
Residence, Crystal St., Newton Centre.
Will make appointments at residence after 6 P.M.

DR. H. L. SANDERSON,
Surgeon Dentist,
Aesthetics used when desired. Elevator service.
480 Boylston Street, Boston, Mass.

DR. ELBRIDGE C. LEACH
DENTIST.
422 COLUMBUS AVE., NO
The correcting of irregular teeth in children
months a specialty.
Residence, Crystal St., Newton Centre.
Will make appointments at residence after 6 P.M.

DR. H. L. SANDERSON,
Surgeon Dentist,
Aesthetics used when desired. Elevator service.
480 Boylston Street, Boston, Mass.

DR. ELBRIDGE C. LEACH
DENTIST.
422 COLUMBUS AVE., NO
The correcting of irregular teeth in children
months a specialty.
Residence, Crystal St., Newton Centre.
Will make appointments at residence after 6 P.M.

DR. H. L. SANDERSON,
Surgeon Dentist,
Aesthetics used when desired. Elevator service.
480 Boylston Street, Boston, Mass.

DR. ELBRIDGE C. LEACH
DENTIST.
422 COLUMBUS AVE., NO
The correcting of irregular teeth in children
months a specialty.
Residence, Crystal St., Newton Centre.
Will make appointments at residence after 6 P.M.

DR. H. L. SANDERSON,
Surgeon Dentist,
Aesthetics used when desired. Elevator service.
480 Boylston Street, Boston, Mass.

DR. ELBRIDGE C. LEACH
DENTIST.
422 COLUMBUS AVE., NO
The correcting of irregular teeth in children
months a specialty.
Residence, Crystal St., Newton Centre.
Will make appointments at residence after 6 P.M.

DR. H. L. SANDERSON,
Surgeon Dentist,
Aesthetics used when desired. Elevator service.
480 Boylston Street, Boston, Mass.

DR. ELBRIDGE C. LEACH
DENTIST.
422 COLUMBUS AVE., NO
The correcting of irregular teeth in children
months a specialty.
Residence, Crystal St., Newton Centre.
Will make appointments at residence after 6 P.M.

DR. H. L. SANDERSON,
Surgeon Dentist,
Aesthetics used when desired. Elevator service.
480 Boylston Street, Boston, Mass.

DR. ELBRIDGE C. LEACH
DENTIST.
422 COLUMBUS AVE., NO
The correcting of irregular teeth in children

THE AUTHOR OF "AMERICA."

SIXTIETH WEDDING ANNIVERSARY OF
REV. S. F. SMITH.

Rev. Samuel F. Smith, D. D., the author of "My Country, 'Tis of Thee," was married 60 years ago last Sunday. The lapse of three score years has not dulled the recollection of that happy day, but he and his good wife passed the anniversary quietly, preferring that no gathering or special observance mark the event. A visitor who went from Boston to their beautiful home in Newton Centre Sunday evening to note the extraordinary occasion was the only caller of the day.

Many friends sent congratulations by letter, and some offered gifts. The following letter and accompanying poem are of interest:

Rev. S. F. Smith, D. D., Newton Centre;
Dear Friend: Think of the presumption of a poor rhymster inditing lines to the author of that world wide glorious hymn, "My Country, 'Tis of Thee." But, how could I help it? It seems but a short time since myself and wife were honored guests at your golden wedding; yet it was 10 years ago, and we would be among the first to congratulate you and your good wife on reaching the 60th anniversary of your marriage.

Please accept the "lines" as our united and cordial offering. They may serve to emphasize, in some degree, the extraordinary fact of the universal popularity of your inspired song.

I was glad to find in, and cut from, The Boston Herald, your beautiful patriotic hymn, written for the dedication of a memorial monument at Gettysburg on the 81st of the present month.

Ever most sincerely yours,

HORATIO KING,

West Newton, S. pt. 14, 1894.

(To Rev. Dr. S. F. Smith, on the 60th anniversary of his marriage, Sept. 16, 1894.)

"My country, 'tis of thee,"

Sing patriots far and near,

At home and o'er the sea,

Fete days, year after year.

Where'er "Old Glory" floats,

On land or on the sea,

Are heard the inspiring notes—

"My country, 'tis of thee."

In home, or foreign clime,

Wherever we may be,

Our heart responds in rhyme,

"My country, 'tis of thee."

The author still we see

Of this enrapturing song—

"Sweet land of liberty,"

His days in love prolong.

In wedlock's joyous years,

What good old times we spend,

"As honor, love," warm cheers,

"Obedience, troops of friends!"

All, all are his to share

With his beloved bride,

Delight beyond compare,

While they on earth abide.

HORATIO KING.

West Newton, Mass.

Rev. Dr. Smith was born in Boston

Oct. 21, 1808. He attended the Boston

Latin school from 1820 to 1825, was graduated at Harvard in 1829, and at Andover Theological Seminary in 1832.

He was ordained to the ministry of the Baptist church, Waterville, Me., in 1834-

42, and Newton, Mass., in 1842-54, and

1850-2 he visited the chief missionary stations in Europe and Asia. He received the degree of D. D. from Waterville College in 1854.

Dr. Smith has done a large amount of literary work, mainly in the line of hymnology, his most noted composition being "My Country, 'Tis of Thee,"

Land of Liberty, which was written while he was a theological student, and first sung at a children's celebration in the Park Street church, Boston, July 4,

1832. The missionary hymn, "The Morning Light is Breaking," was written at the same time and place. He translated from the German most of the pieces in the "Juvenile Lyre" (Boston, 1832), and from the "Conversations-

Lexicon" nearly enough articles to fill a volume of the Encyclopedia Americana

(1828-32). His collections of original hymns, poetry and poetical translations have been published under the title of

"Lyric Gems" (Boston, 1843); "The Psalmist," a noted Baptist hymn book

(1843), and "Rock of Ages" (1867-77).

Other writings by him are "Life of Rev.

Joseph Grafton" (1847), "Missionary

Sketches" (1879-1883), "History of Newton, Mass." (1884), "Rambles in Mission Fields" (1884), and contributions to numerous periodicals. His classmate,

Oliver Wendell Holmes, in his reunion poem, entitled "The Boys," thus refers to him:

And there's a nice youngster of excellent pith;

Fate tried to conceal him by naming him Smith!

But he shouted a song for the brave and the free—

Just read on his medal, "My Country, of Thee!"

The age of Rev. Mr. Smith and his wife does not permit of their participation in public or social affairs, but they take as much interest as ever in what goes on in the world about them. Mr.

Smith is in receipt of many letters from all classes of people asking for his authograph, or for information. He is pleased to know that the table at the Andover Theological Seminary, at which he wrote "America" is still pointed out to visitors as worthy of first notice.

His health has been excellent this summer. His voice is strong, and has a cheery ring. Mrs. Smith has not been feeling so well this summer as in years past, but has no serious ailment.

The muse inspires the author of "America" as happily as in the earlier years of his life. In honor of yesterday

he composed a poem of four stanzas, which he read to his wife, who treasures

the lines as a sacred memento.

A. M. Bailey, a well known citizen of Eugene, Oregon, says his wife has for years been troubled with chronic diarrhoea and used many remedies with little relief until she tried Chamberlain's Colic,

Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, which has cured her sound and well. Give it a trial and you will be surprised at the prompt relief it affords. 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by A. Hudson, Newton;

E. W. Keyes, Auburndale; B. B. Buck,

Newton Centre; E. F. Partridge, Newtonville; B. Billings, Newton Upper

Falls.

The Puzzle Solved.

Perhaps no local disease has puzzled and baffled the medical profession more than nasal catarrh. While not immediately fatal it is among the most noxious and disgusting ills the flesh is heir to, and the records show very few or no cases of radical cure of chronic catarrh by any of the many modes of treatment until the introduction of Ely's Cream Balm a few years ago. The success of this preparation has been most gratifying and surprising. No druggist is without it.

FIRST PRIMARIES.

REPUBLICANS ELECT DELEGATES TO THE SEVERAL CONVENTIONS.

Republican caucuses for the choice of delegates to the state, congressional, councilor, county, representative and senatorial conventions were held in the several wards of the city Tuesday evening. The attendance was fair. In Wards One and Seven there was a very good turnout of citizens. Col. David W. Farquhar of the Governor's staff made a characteristic speech, in which he said that the renomination of Gov. Greenhalge was beyond question, and that he would, probably, be nominated by acclamation in the state convention. He spoke of the depressed condition of business since the Democratic party came into power, and of the more happy signs of the times, now that the period of juggling and pantomime in Congress had passed by. There will be said he, a tremendous Republican majority in this state in the approaching election, and the not uncertain voices from Maine and Massachusetts will emphasize the fact of certain Republican national victory in 1896.

The list of delegates chosen is given below:

Ward 1. State, E. R. Scales, Ira Franklin, J. T. Fletcher; congressional, H. W. Downs, J. S. Potter, J. M. Briggs; councilor, D. G. Harrington, G. W. Rigby, J. H. Barber; county, S. W. Tucker, J. H. Parks, Frank Potter; senatorial, E. J. H. Estabrooks, J. T. Langford, Reuben Forknall; representative, J. H. Hamilton, E. P. Tuttle, E. H. Hames, F. W. Stone and Walter Lowrey.

Ward 2. State, W. F. Slocum, W. H. Chadwick, A. R. Mitchell, G. W. Morse; congressional, J. W. Kimball, E. Sands, E. E. Stiles, R. C. Bridgman; councilor, W. F. Slocum, E. W. Greene, J. W. Stickney, A. E. Greene; county, A. A. Savage, L. E. Greene, J. W. Ballantyne, W. S. Higgins; senatorial, W. H. Coolidge, E. F. Ross, W. Hollings, W. C. Boyden; representative, N. H. Chadwick, E. L. Sands, A. T. Sylvester, W. S. Slocum, A. E. Hunt, R. C. Bridgman, W. H. Coolidge, A. G. Sherman.

Ward 3. State, G. P. Bullard, G. E. Howard, G. W. Reynolds, E. B. Wilson; congressional, G. H. Ingraham, G. P. Staples, E. E. Marsh, C. F. Eddy; councilor, E. B. Wilson, C. R. Fisher, J. J. Eddy, V. E. Carpenter; senatorial, W. B. Howe, C. E. Hatfield, G. E. Howard, J. T. Allen; county, F. W. Spague, G. P. Bullard, W. E. Sheldon, J. J. Eddy; representative, A. S. Glover, E. B. Wilson, F. E. Hunter, E. A. Marsh, J. T. Allen, A. L. Karslaw.

Ward 4. State, H. O. Ryder, G. A. Fiske, Charles Kimball; congressional, C. W. Carter, A. W. Little, C. H. Sprague; councilor, A. H. Wiggins, A. J. Desoe, G. M. Steele; county, W. B. Atherton, W. P. Thorne, G. A. Hewitt; senatorial, E. L. Richard, C. M. Kipp, C. C. Burr; representative, E. L. Richard, A. W. Kelly, C. E. Handlett, W. H. Blood, G. D. Harvey, W. S. State, F. J. Hale, E. McIntosh, J. H. Walton, M. H. Coffin; congressional, J. H. Walton, F. A. Watson, W. Marcey, S. Turner; councilor, F. L. Thurston, E. Peterson, C. H. Hunter, Eben Thompson; county, C. H. Brown, C. T. Beckman, L. A. Ross, C. A. White; senatorial, C. S. Wilder, T. White, S. W. Jones, A. Rankellor; representative, C. A. White, S. W. Jones, C. P. Clarke, E. Thompson, J. H. Walton, M. H. Coffin, William Mason.

Ward 5. State, R. H. Gardiner, A. F. Hayward, W. Webster, Prof. W. E. Huntington; councilor, J. H. Nichols, E. T. Colburn, Prof. J. B. Thomas, W. Sanborn; congressional, G. F. Richardson, J. W. Parker, E. M. Fowle, A. D. Claffin; senatorial, G. H. Ellis, A. L. Harwood, H. D. Degen, J. Ward; county, W. M. Planders, W. B. Merrill, A. L. Harwood, H. G. Ruhe; representative, S. Ward, E. T. Colburn, D. Chester, A. F. Harwood, E. R. Benton, W. M. Flanders, E. P. May, F. Edmonds; ward and city committee, A. L. Harwood, E. B. Bowen, G. S. Smith, F. H. Hovey, one vacancy.

Ward 6. State, G. D. Gilman, G. C. Travis, W. H. Furber, W. P. Tyler; congressional, W. P. Ellison, A. R. Weed, T. A. Thayer, A. A. Sweet; county, Samuel Farquhar, A. W. B. Huff, L. P. Bowers, E. H. Ellison; councilor, C. E. Eddy, W. O. Bates, J. C. Elms, Jr., W. F. Bacon; senatorial, J. B. Goodrich, D. W. Farquhar, S. L. Powers, F. A. Gay; representative, G. S. Bullens, Thomas Weston, Henry Tolman, J. W. French, E. W. Gay, E. H. Byington.

NEWTON CLUB COURTS.

RESULTS OF FIRST ROUND IN SENIOR AND JUNIOR CLASSES.

The Newton Club courts were occupied Saturday by the competitors in the senior, junior and boys' classes. Prizes are offered for the winner and runner up in each. In the senior bout, Loring and Anders played some lively tennis, the former winning a two-set match 13-11, 8-6. Brewer had quite a tussle with Pollett in the boys' class, capturing the set 6-4, 10-8. There was quite a large attendance and the events were watched with no small degree of interest. The summary:

SENIOR CLASS—FIRST ROUND.

Chase beat C. A. Keller, 6-2, 6-3.
C. R. Loring beat Anders, 13-11, 8-6.
H. J. Pollett beat Feltz, 6-3, 9-7, 6-3.
H. Feltz beat Beckman, 6-2, 6-1, 7-5.
Chase beat Copeland, by default.
Mason beat Bailey, 10-8, 6-2.
Coppins beat Hollis, 6-4, 6-4, 6-4.

JUNIOR CLASS, FIRST ROUND.

Clark beat Keller, 6-3, 8-6.
Anders beat Walworth, 6-3, 8-6.
Whitmore beat Carter, 6-4, 6-0.
Kinsball beat Holmes, 6-0, 6-4.
Holt beat Hackett, 6-0, 6-0.
Loring beat Lowell, 6-2, 6-0.
Wise beat Nickerson, 6-2, 6-1.

BOYS' CLASS, FIRST ROUND.

Leonard beat Johnson, 6-2, 6-3.
Whitmore beat Carter, 6-2, 6-4.
Holt beat Feltz, 6-4, 10-8.
Johnson beat Jones, 6-2, 6-1.

Irving W. Larimore, physical director of Y. M. C. A., Des Moines, Iowa, says he can conscientiously recommend Chamberlain's Pain Balm to athletes, gymnasts, bicyclists, foot ball players and the profession in general for bruises, sprains and dislocations; also for soreness and stiffness of the muscles. When applied before the parts become swollen it will effect a cure in one half the time usually required. For sale by A. Hudson, Newton; E. W. Keyes, Auburndale; B. B. Buck, Newton Centre; E. F. Partridge, Newtonville; B. Billings, Newton Upper Falls.

Coughing Leads to Consumption, Kemp's Balm stops the coughing.

AUBURNDALE.

—Ivers & Pond pianos, Farley Newton—

A handsome high bred Irish setter belonging to this village has been making history the past few weeks. His puppyhood home was in New Hampshire, but he came to Auburndale as the property of Mr. Drost of Central street. Wishing to go away later and not wishing to take the dog he was given to Mr. Walters, who in turn presented the dog to Mr. Ridgely Brown last Fourth of July. The dog was a fine, valuable animal and he became much attached to it, and when the setter mysteriously disappeared one day, the house was searched from cellar to garret, enquiries made about the neighborhood, and the police were notified and given a description of his missing dogship. After some weeks of patient waiting the dog was located at Watertown and his master at once went to the setter's property. His right to such a claim was questioned by the Watertown party, but after showing conclusively his right to the property the Watertown man demanded $10 to pay the dog's board and lodging during his visit. He also claimed that the man whose name was on the dog's collar had been written to and advised him to keep the dog until further notice. He said the dog followed him home one day from Nonantum, though how the dog got to Nonantum from Auburndale was left unexplained. Lawyers were consulted at this stage with a determination to secure the dog and punish the Watertown man who led the dog astray, but no good came of it. A little point that entered into the controversy at this time was the collar which the dog wore. Now this particular collar was a present to the dog when he was living up in New Hampshire on the farm, and of course with all other associations of puppyhood's genial days it was treasured and no attempt had been made by any of the setter's later owners to change it. The Watertown man when he found himself besieged, naturally enough referred to the collar as evidence of the dog's owner and stoutly denied any proof being shown to the contrary. Thus the matter lay and was argued pro and con by the lawyers. Mr. Brown and the Watertown man. But Mr. Brown got his dog back safe and sound. How? Well, he paid the $10.

One advantage of taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla to purify the blood is that you need not infringe upon your hours of labor nor deny yourself any food that agrees with you. In a word, you are not compelled to starve or loaf, while taking it. These are recommendations worth considering.

STATE ELECTION

Nov. 6, 1894.

City of Newton.

REGISTRATION OF VOTERS.

1894.

Notice is hereby given that the Registrars of Voters commencing Monday, September 24, 1894, to and including Wednesday, October 17, 1894, will hold sessions for the registration of voters and to correct and revise the Ward Lists at the City Clerk's office, City Hall, daily as follows viz: 8.30 A. M. to 12 o'clock M.; 2 o'clock to 5 P. M.; except Saturdays, when the hours are from 8.30 o'clock A. M. to 12 o'clock M.; also from 7.30 to 9 o'clock in the evening upon the following dates and at the places herein named:

Newton Lower Falls—Freeman Hall, Saturday, September 29.

Nonantum—Atheneum, Tuesday, October 2.

Newton Upper Falls—Old Prospect School-house, Wednesday, October 3.

Newton—Armory Hall, Saturday, October 6.

At the City Hall on Monday, October 8.

Auburndale—Auburn Hall, Wednesday, October 10.

Newtonville—Room 8, Central Block, Saturday, October 13.

Newton Highlands—Stevens Hall, Monday, October 15.

Newton Centre—Associates' Hall, Pleasant street, Tuesday, October 16, from 7.30 to 9 o'clock.

Also at City Hall on Wednesday, October 17, from 12 o'clock M. to 10 o'clock P. M., which is the last session preceding the Election, November 6, and thereafter the Registrars will not, before the Election, add any names to the Registers, except the names of voters examined as to their qualifications, since the preceding thirtieth day of April.

Every person whose name is not on the Voting List as posted, must in order to be registered as a voter, appear in person before the Registrars of Voters on either of the days above mentioned, presenting a certificate from the assessors or tax bill or notice from the collector of taxes showing that he has been assessed for a poll tax as a resident of the city or town on the preceding first day of May.

All naturalized citizens must present their final papers when they register.

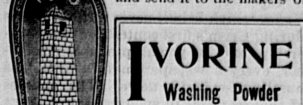

If the father of an applicant was naturalized before he (the son) became 21 years of age, the son is naturalized thereby, and must present the father's naturalization papers.

Every male citizen of 21 years of age and upwards, who has resided in the state one year, and in the city of Newton six calendar months next preceding the state election, November 6, 1894, and who shall be able to read and write, shall have the right to vote at said state election.

GEORGE E. BRIDGES,
GEORGE H. BOURNE,
AMOS L. KINGSBURY,
Registrars of Voters.

City Hall, Newton, September 13, 1894.

Cut Me Out

Cut out this advertisement, and send it to the makers of with your address and 14c. in stamps, and by return mail you'll receive their beautiful

BUNKER HILL
SOUVENIR SPOON.

Address, THE J. B. WILLIAMS CO.,
Glastonbury, Ct.,
PREMIUM DEPARTMENT.

We warrant these spoons made of the best German silver, extra plated with pure silver, oxidized handles, gold lined bowls.

Underwriters.

GEORGE H. GREGG,

Undertaker

TELEPHONE - CONNECTIONS.

Funeral and Furnishing Undertaker.

COFFINS, CASKETS, ROBES,
and every modern requisite for the proper performance of the business constantly on hand.
Orders by telephone promptly attended to.

GEORGE W. BUSH,

Elmwood Street, - Newton.

S. L. PRATT,

FUNERAL AND FURNISHING UNDERTAKER

Newton Centre, Mass.

First-class Appointments and Competent A assistants. To accommodate the people of Upper Falls and vicinity orders may be left at the office of Fanning Printing Co., which will immediately be forwarded to me by telephone.

Also shall continue in the Black, Livery and Boarding Stable. Business at my old stand, corner of Beacon and Station Streets.

S. F. CATE

Telephone:—
West Newton Office, 19-5.
House, 19-4.
Also Billings' Drug Store, 19-3.
Upper Falls.

Furnishing-Undertaker.

WASHINGTON ST., WEST NEWTON.

Lumber.

C. A. HARRINGTON

LUMBER,

THE NEWTON GRAPHIC

PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY

285 WASHINGTON ST., NEWTON,
MASS.

Entered as second class matter.

Subscription for year, $2.00
Single Copies, 5 cents
By mail free of Postage.All money sent at sender's risk. All checks, drafts and money orders should
be made payable toEDWARD D. BALDWIN,
Editor and Publisher.

TELEPHONE NO. 338-2.

THE GRAPHIC is printed and mailed Friday
afternoons, and is for sale at all News
Stands in the Newtons, and at the Boston &
Albany News Room, Boston Depot.ALL communications must be accompanied with the name of the writer, and
unpublished communications cannot be returned by mail unless stamps are enclosed.

REPRESENTATIVES.

It is a matter for regret that Representative Estabrooks has positively refused to be a candidate for another year. He has served the city with great ability and has displayed remarkable independence throughout his two terms of office. It is within the bounds of truth to say that Newton has never had a representative who stood up so firmly for the interests of the people against the corporations who are seeking to control the state, and it was due to his efforts that many of the corporation schemes to get special privileges without paying therefor came to grief. Such men as he are needed in our State Legislature, and the people should take care that his successor is a man of the same high character as Mr. Estabrooks. There is a remarkable lack of interest in the question this year, and it is in such times of political indifference that the corporations find it easy to secure the nomination and election of their candidates. If the other towns and cities in the state had been as careful in selecting their representatives as Newton has been, the standing of the General Court would be higher than it is today, and the state would have been spared the air of suspicion, to call it nothing worse, which has attended many of the acts of recent legislatures.

MR. ROBERT H. GARDINER'S declination to serve on the Republican Ward and City Committee from Ward Six caused great regret and his ward caucus declined to accept his resignation, and strenuous efforts are being made to induce him to serve another year. As he has also been chairman of the Ward and City Committee, his retirement would leave a vacancy that would be hard to fill. Mr. Gardiner has served very usefully for several years, and as he is a very enthusiastic party man, he has been unsparing in his efforts and has given his time and thought without stint to see that nothing was left undone which could benefit his party. He has sought no office for himself, his labors have been purely unselfish, and it would be very difficult to find a man who would take the same interest and work with the same heartiness, and Republicans all over the city will unite in the wish to have him reconsider his declination. There are few Republicans who believe so thoroughly that all right and justice are on the side of their party as Mr. Gardiner, and for that reason he is a valuable man to have on a political committee, as he inspires his associates with something of his own enthusiasm and certainty. It is not believed that he can resist the appeals which are being made by prominent Republicans all over the city, to have him continue to lead the cause another year.

MANY people watched the recent meeting of the school board with great interest to see what action would be taken with regard to the showing that has been made of the great cost of Newton schools as compared with the schools of other cities. Evidently the revelation was not news to the school board, as no attention whatever was paid to it, and the board showed its appreciation of the situation by voting extra appropriations in many directions, and the superintendent made a plea for larger appropriations from the city. Only one member had the courage and the curiosity to ask to have the reasons explained for some of the extra appropriations. Many people were amazed at such action, which seemed like a defiance of the people who have to pay for school expenses, and from certain indications the issue may possibly come up in the next city election. People would really like to know why schools in Newton cost so much more in proportion to those of other cities, but it looks as though they would have to figure it out for themselves, for all the assistance they will get from the school authorities. How would it do for the City Council to appoint a committee of investigation, and give them authority to summon witnesses and examine papers?

It is said that the naming of the representative on the south side of the city was left this year to Ward Five, but with great modesty that ward has decided that it has no candidate it wishes to honor, but has indicated that it would be satisfied with Mr. A. L. Harwood of Newton Centre. The Ward Six men regard Mr. Harwood very favorably, as he is universally respected for his high character and ability, and probably he will be nominated. On the north side of the city there appears to be the same modesty, the only candidate yet advocated being Alderman E. M. Rumery, but it is said he can not secure the Republican nomination as the delegates from his ward do not favor him. Mr. Howard of West Newton is talked of by some in order to recompense him for his defeat for a second term some two years ago, which is said to have been due to railroad influences.

MR. BARRETT has given a crushing defeat to Senator Lodge, and has even carried every ward in Lynn, the home of Mr. Hayes, Mr. Lodge's candidate. This is very unfortunate for the junior Senator, as he made the contest a personal matter, but it demonstrates that the people of this state do not take kindly to a political dictator. Possibly if Senator Lodge had kept out of the fight the result might have been different, as a good many people voted for Mr. Barrett out of sympathy and not because they preferred him to Mr. Hayes. The Senator can console himself, however, with the fact that his candidate, Mr. Simpkins, defeated Mr. Randall in the Cape district, after a contest which was unprecedented in the history of the Cape Codders.

THE state campaign is not exciting any very lively interest in Newton, as no Newton man is a candidate for an important office, and Newton politicians can rest and watch the fun. Watertown has been the scene of great excitement over a candidate for Senator, the A. P. A. has taken a very vivid interest in the contest, and the friends of the several candidates have been very active. Mr. Oliver Shaw heads the list, from what now appears, and Newton would be glad to support him for the office, for which he is well qualified. Here in Newton indications that it is an "off year" in politics abound, and also the fact that the Republican candidates are expected to win without much effort on their part.

It would be quite a change for this councillor district to exchange such a man as Hon. Joseph R. Leeson for a mere politician, or even for the ordinary kind of a councillor. The aspirants this year are said to be Francis H. Raymond of Somerville, ex-Mayor of Cambridge and C. A. Campbell of Chelsea, and in case Mr. Leeson persists in his refusal, a warm fight is expected. The councillor district comprises five senatorial districts, which include the cities of Newton, Somerville, Waltham, Chelsea and Medford, and a part of Boston and Cambridge, to say nothing about the small towns.

THE Registrars of voters begin their duties on Monday next and will close the registration Oct. 17th, twenty days before election, according to the law passed by the legislature of 1894. This change will hurry up the work of making new voters and should be noted by those who wish to get their names on the list.

More Requests for the Hospital.

To the Editor of the GRAPHIC:
Upon making further inquiry I find that my statement last week respecting the Endowment Fund was not entirely correct although fairly so. The amount actually in hand does not yet reach $20,000, but the amount in sight is about $20,000 more. There are some legacy funds, which have not yet become available, and others which will reach the institution only after certain life interests have terminated.

To these may be added some vague, but quite pleasant intimations given from time to time that this person and that have a clause in their wills for this deserving institution. Several of such intended bequests have come to the notice of the writer, but of course it would not be proper to mention names. Other trustees say they have heard of others who will surely remember the hospital in this way, so that the good usage advocated in last week's letter seems to be taking hold of Newton people, and it may in time really become a matter of course that the Newton Hospital be mentioned in the list of beneficiaries whenever a will is drawn here. But while calling upon persons of means to help sustain the Hospital by generous gifts in their life time and by legacies, we must not forget that the privilege of giving is not denied to persons of smaller resources.

The great majority of our number do not have very much above the daily needs, but we must take some part in this good work. We are not willing that the rich shall have a monopoly of this pleasure, and so our opportunity comes especially on Hospital Sunday. That is the people's day, when the widow's mite, the laborer's dollar, and the business man's check go rolling together to help make up the thousands which are collected in the churches of the city on that occasion.

The Sunday before Thanksgiving is two months off, but so great are the needs of the Hospital that the treasury will be scraped dry long before the Hospital collections can be made. What will the treasurer do when bills crowd in upon him at the rate of over $50 per day?

Using the utmost economy the executive committee find it impossible to keep below an average of $1500 per month. If it were not for the pay of paying patients and the earnings of the nurses employed outside we would fall steadily behind. Let us hope that Nov. 25th will find all the congregations in line this year so that the treasury may be filled.

GEO. W. SHINN.

Highest of all in Leavening Power.—Latest U. S. Gov't Report

Royal Baking Powder

ABSOLUTELY PURE

SENATOR VANCE MET THE ISSUE.

But the Reporter Failed to Get a Big "Scoop" All the Same.

"I once had an experience," said an old newspaper man at the Press club to a reporter, "with the late Senator Vance which I shall never forget. It was during Crisp's first contest for the speakership, and, as you all probably remember, every newspaper man in town was hustling for inside news. The sources of this, as usual in such cases, were very few, and Senator Vance, who was acting in the capacity of an advisor to the nominating caucus, had to spend most of his time dodging journalists."

"So wary did he become that he discontinued taking his lunch in the senate restaurant and had it served in a committee room. One day, however, I caught a glimpse of him passing through one of the lower corridors on the house side. Determined not to let him escape me, I at once hastened forward, and in the most incoherent manner possible began asking him about his health, which was rather bad at the time. He answered all my questions in the kindest manner possible and was about to leave when I said:

"Oh, by the way, senator, who do you think will get the nomination?"

"I don't know exactly," he replied, "but they will have to fight if they want to win."

"Certain now of my information, I began to see the letter I was going to receive from the home office, after they had published my big scoop, telling me in the most flattering terms that the paper had decided to raise my salary on account of my good work."

"Which side, senator?" I asked, almost in a whisper for fear some one would be lurking in the dark recesses and hear the reply which was to make me the most noted hustler for news in the ranks of journalism."

"Both sides," he replied as he disappeared in the door of a committee room. "And the letter that I looked for never came."—Washington Times.

Generalship.

"The Clantys does be slow returning what they borrow," said Mrs. Dolan. "Yes," replied Mrs. Rafferty. "O' niver forgit the throuble O' had gettin back the flatorious O' lint 'em want out o' the kindness av me heart." "An how did yez git 'em?" "O' sint my b'y Teddy to holler out that the Clantys couldn't be in this country on'y St. Patrick chased the snakes out av O' Ireland. Thin the O'rons cam over the back fence fasht enough. All Tiddy had to do wor to dodge 'em."—Washington Star.

Gold Lined Caps Not In It.

A tall young man, with a pretty young woman, sauntered across Independence square yesterday afternoon when Old Sol was at his hottest. When they came to the ice water fountain, the young woman stopped and picked up one of the tin cups, and scanning it ruefully shook her head at her companion and laid it quickly down again. The next thing was to slip off a small suede glove, and placing the pretty hand it fitted under the stream she filled its palm with water and drank from it three times. And the next thing was to see the young man bend over the same palm while he held her wrist to balance the novel cup, and five times it took to satisfy him, and right willingly did the pretty young woman fill it and place it to his lips. Both actors were perfectly unconcerned, and after the young man had dried the young woman's hand in his pocket handkerchief they sauntered in a down town direction.—Philadelphia Record.

A Great Problem.

"As we were going home from flying his kite," said Mr. Bozzle, "my young son says to me, 'I know how to fly a kite when there's a good breeze, don't I?' and I say, 'Surely,' but I do not say to him—why should I burden him with such things now?—that anybody can fly a kite when there's a breeze—that the great problem of life is to know how to fly a kite when there isn't any breeze."—New York Sun.

What will do it?

Medical writers claim that the successful remedy for nasal catarrh must be non-irritating, easy of application, and one that will reach the remote sores and ulcerated surfaces. The history of the efforts to treat catarrh is proof positive that only one remedy has completely met these conditions, and that is Ely's Cream Balm. This safe and pleasant remedy has mastered catarrh as nothing else has ever done, and both physicians and patients freely concede this fact. Our druggists keep it.

MARRIED.

COOLY-STIMSON.—In Boston, Sept. 17, by Rev. C. R. Eliot, Mr. Levi Cooly, Jr., of Newtonville and Miss Agnes Stimson of Lynn.

FOSTER-DAVIS.—Sept. 15, at Davis Park, Providence, by the Rev. Rev. the Bishop of Rhode Island, Maybell Poulton, daughter of Hon. Thos. F. Davis and Theodore Waters Foster.

MURPHY-MAHONEY.—At Watertown, Sept. 16, by Rev. R. P. Stack, Edward Murphy and Helen Mahoney.

FARRELL-QUINN.—At Newton, Sept. 6, by Rev. J. F. Gilfeather, Edward Farrell and Mary Quinn.

SULLIVAN-MURRAY.—At Newton, Sept. 18, by Rev. J. F. Gilfeather, Daniel Thomas Sullivan and Mary Alice Murray.

HEALEY-SULLIVAN.—At Newton, Sept. 18, by Rev. J. F. Gilfeather, Daniel Healey and Ellen Sullivan.

CALLEY-SEARS.—At Newtonville, Sept. 18, by Rev. D. H. Brewer, Charles Loring Calley and Mary Elizabeth Sears.

DIED.

HULL.—At Newton Hospital, Sept. 16, Edmund B. Hull, 77 years.

Real Estate, Mortgages, Insurance

Special Attention paid to Sale and Leasing of Estates in the above villages.

Representatives of All the Leading Insurance Companies.

—OFFICES—

J. C. FULLER, Newtonville. J. FRENCH & SON, 226 Washington St., Boston.

T. P. DeWolf

Fine Candies.

407 Centre Street,

Newton, Mass.

IN ITS ORDINARY DEPARTMENT

METROPOLITAN LIFE INS. CO.

ISSUES

Policies from $1,000 to $25,000

ON PLANS adapted to all stations and circumstances of life. AT RATES considerably lower than those of other first class companies. The policies contain no restriction as to travel and residence—provide for the immediate payment of claims upon receipt of satisfactory proof of death, and in brief, are PRIZE BUSINESS CONTRACTS—that is, contracts which tell their whole story upon their face; leave nothing to the imagination; borrow nothing from hope; and make definite promises in dollars and cents.

Premiums may be Paid Yearly, Half-Yearly or Quarterly.

BRANCH OFFICE: ELIOT BLOCK, NEWTON.
W. S. GORDON, Superintendent.

MISS GRACE H. BLANCHARD,

Teacher of Piano.

Special attention given to beginners.

CHESTNUT STREET WEST NEWTON.

MRS. HELEN E. H. WRIGHT, will resume lessons in

.....Vocal Culture.....

SEPTEMBER 24th, 1894.

Mondays and Thursdays: 18 Pearl St., Newton.

Wednesdays and Saturdays, Boston Conservatory.

134 TREMONT ST., BOSTON, MASS.

Fish and Provisions.

Newton City Market

Fresh and Salt

Meats.

Poultry and Game.

Butter, Cheese, Eggs,

Canned Goods,

Fruit, Vegetables.

Fish

and Oysters.

Wellington Hawes, Proprietor

BUNTING'S FISH MARKET

Cole's Block, Newton.

Established 1877. Tel. Connections.

FISH, OYSTERS,

Fruit and Vegetables of All Kinds.

GAS

CAN BE USED FOR COOKING IN OUR RANGES AS CHEAP AS COAL.

W. A. FOLSOM & CO.,
17 Union St., Boston.

WARD & CO.

Carriage Painting and Repairing

IN ALL ITS BRANCHES.

Best Work at Lowest Prices.

Repairing of Fine Carriages a Specialty

Cor. Elm and Washington Sts., Near City Hall

WEST NEWTON

Why . .

go

---HUNGRY---

when you can get a

BARREL OF FLOUR

for making the

Highest

Score

—ON THE—

ALLSTON

BOWLING ALLEYS

During Sept.

Prize . . .

for Candle Pins: A Pair Bowling Shoes.A Pair Bowl-
ing Shoes.A Pair Bowl-
ing Shoes.A Pair Bowl-
ing Shoes.A Pair Bowl-
ing Shoes.A Pair Bowl-
ing Shoes.A Pair Bowl-
ing Shoes.A Pair Bowl-
ing Shoes.A Pair Bowl-
ing Shoes.A Pair Bowling Shoes.

Newton.

Newtonville.

West Newton.

Auburndale.

BUSINESS NOTICES

RATES—50 cents first insertion for not exceeding 5 lines, and 25 cents each time thereafter, in advance.

QUANTS.

LADIES—Do not fail to attend the exhibition and sale of Art Needle Work, commenced and finished pieces at Hotel Hunnewell, Tuesday, September 25th, from 9 A. M. to 5 P. M. 51 tf

SEAMSTRESS—An experienced seamstress will go out by the day or week. Address P. O. Box 629, West Newton. 51 tf

WANTED—Lady having experience in general office work would like position as book-keeper and cashier. 51 tf

WANTED—A smart young man with a wheel and well acquainted with the Newtons, for Real Estate Solicitor. A good opportunity to learn business. Address Box 114, Newtonville. 51 tf

WANTED—We have customers wanting to buy or rent houses in all parts of city. Special inquiry this week for houses in Newton Centre and Newton Highlands. Send us a description of yours at once. Aban, Trowbridge & Co. 51 tf

LADY—Educated in Paris, Germany and London (diplome) desires a position as morning governess to teach French, German, Italian, drawing, music and English branches. Address, "Europe," Brighton P. O. 51 2t

WANTED—A Protestant girl or woman for general housework in small family. References required. Address: Box 572, Newton Centre. 51 tf

WANTED—A single gentleman engaged in business in Boston desires room and board with private family in one of the Newtons. References exchanged. Address G. 51 tf

WANTED—Miss Linna M. Curtis, graduate of the Emerson College of Oratory, will receive pupils in Elocution and Physical Culture. For terms address Box 566, Newtonville, Mass. 51 tf

TO LET—House of 10 rooms, all modern improvements, with the garden, 50 Jefferson street, Newton, $450 a year. Apply to H. E. Hibbard. 51 tf

For Sale.

FOR SALE—At a bargain, a barn on the Miller Estate, Maple avenue, Newton. 51 tf

FOR SALE—At a sacrifice a moderate price a Pew in Eliot Church; owner moved away. Address C. H. Whitney, 149 Pearl street, Boston. 51 tf

HORSES FOR SALE—To close an estate, a pair of handsome black carriage horses, absolutely safe. Also cow three years old, good milk, only $40. May be seen at Colby place, Centre street. 51 tf

HOUSE FOR SALE—At a bargain, just being completed; 8 rooms, bath, set tubs, cemented cellar, Ridgely furnace; built in most thorough manner throughout; 6000 feet of land. Apply to H. L. Wood, Newton or H. B. Hiltz, Eliot Station, near Newton Highlands. 50 1t

FOR SALE at a great sacrifice, a Henry F. Miller square piano, good as new. Cost $375, will sell for $150. Inquire of F. H. Wood, Box 44, Newton Highlands. 50 2t

FOR SALE—At a bargain, a new Hickory bicycle of the latest pattern. Apply at the Graphic Office. 31 tf

FOR SALE—In Newton Centre, 5 houses, and 4 in Newton Highlands. Walter Thorpe, Newton Centre. 27 tf

To Let.

TO RENT—House 568 Centre street, ten rooms, bath and laundry. Five minutes walk from station. For particulars apply at office. 51 tf

TO LET—A small single house in Newton Centre, 4 rooms, city water. Also modern house of 9 rooms, with large stable, 1/2 mile from Newton Centre station, price $30 per month, or will sell at a bargain. W. Thorpe, Newton Centre. 51 tf

TO LET—Two nice square rooms with or without board, with modern improvements, within four minutes of depot. Apply at Graphic Office. 51 2t

TO LET—At Newtonville, suite of rooms with all modern conveniences for housekeeping. Apply at the premises, 2 Clarin place, or 5 Tremont street, Boston. Curtis Abbott. 51 3t

TO LET—A tenement of five rooms to a small family, first class location, corner of Crafts and California streets, rent nine dollars, and a half per month. Apply to T. F. Frohman, Newtonville, Mass. 50 3t

FURNISHED ROOMS to let, two minutes' walk from the station. Apply at 37 Channing street, Newton. 50 2t

TO LET—House of seven rooms, and bath, furnace, set tubs, cemented cellar, etc. Rent $21 a month. Apply to T. F. Hartnett, Newton. 50 tf

TO LET—Two houses and stable, two minutes walk from station, to rent in Newton Centre, for physician or dentist. Mrs. J. H. Bodge, Newton Centre. 50 tf

TO LET—Small house No. 21 Bennington St., Newton, at low rent. Apply to Bruce R. Ware, 200 A Devonshire St., Boston. 49 tf

TO LET—Small store on Pelham St., Newton Centre, just vacated by fruit dealer; rent low. Enquire at W. A. PARK'S SHOE STORE. 1t

TO LET ON LEASE—House No. 183 Nonantum street, contains 7 pleasant rooms, good hall way, modern conveniences. Call on or address Mrs. B. Morrill, North Scituate Beach. 45 tf

TO LET—Furnished or unfurnished room. Apply at 579 Washington street, Newton. 45 tf

TO LET—Two houses with stables, and five rooms without stables to rent in Newton Centre. W. Thorpe, Newton Centre. 45

TO LET—June 1st, a tenement of seven rooms on Washington street, Newton. Apply to H. C. Daniels. 31 tf

Lost & Found.

LOST—Monday last, a St. Bernard pup, white and black, and on black strap collar, no name. A suitable reward will be paid if returned to owner. J. F. Parks, Washington street, opp. Houghton's corner, West Newton. 51 1t

FOUND—A handsome St. Bernard dog, Enquire at 37 Elmwood street, Newton. 51 1t

FOUND—September 14th, on Washington street, Newtonville, a pocket book. Owner can have by proving property and paying for this notice. Mrs. A. Sidney Bryant, corner of Washington street and Brooks' avenue, Newtonville. 51 1t

MISCELLANEOUS.

ASSOCIATED CHARITIES.—The office hours of the Secretary of the Associated Charities are from 9 to 10 every week day, and from 7.30 to 8.30 Saturday evenings. The Provident Committee will be at the office to distribute clothing Tuesday forenoon and Saturday evening. R. Marlin, Secretary, Office, Newtonville square

YOUR WALKS

Should be laid with

Granitic Stone.

Best materials and skilled labor.

Best of references.

Asphalt Floors.

W. A. MURFELDT,

192 DEVONSHIRE ST., BOSTON.

NEWTONVILLE.

—Miller pianos, Farley, Newton.
—Mr. George Wallace and family have returned from the seashore.
—There will be a meeting of the school board next Wednesday evening.
—Mr. J. W. Fenno and family returned this week from Point Allerton.

—Mr. Fred S. Sherman has gone to Europe on a business trip.
—Miss Mary Bosworth of Boston is visiting friends here this week.

—Mrs. Parks and Mr. J. M. Brooks are at York Harbor, Me., for a short stay.
—Mr. E. A. Richardson went to New York this week on a business trip.

—Master Harry Roberts entered Mitchell's military school at Billerica this week.
—Mr. Philip Carter and family have returned from Marblehead Neck.

—Mrs. A. H. Soden and family have returned from Fort Point, Stockton, Me.
—Mrs. C. A. Shedd and family and Miss Beecher have returned.

—Mr. J. M. Stickey and family departed this week on a Raymond excursion among the mountains.
—Mr. F. A. Delabarre of Boston has taken Mr. Simeon Lewis' house on Newtonville avenue for the winter.

—Miss Annie Payson Call and Mrs. R. M. Pulsifer are expected home from Europe tomorrow.
—Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Potter were the guests this week of Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Whiting, Grove Hill.

—Mrs. W. H. Powers and family of Cabot street have returned from Ft. Allerton, Md.
—Miss Hoogs has accepted a position as teacher in the Birmingham, (Pa.) Seminary.

—Mr. and Mrs. Simeon Lewis have rented their house here for the winter and will pass that season in Boston.
—Miss Gifford has again taken charge of the telegraph office in the station, having been transferred from Marion, Ohio.

—Miss Alice Richardson of Austin street has returned from Mt. Vernon, N. H.
—Mr. J. H. Page and family of Washington park returned this week from Fort Point, Stockton, Me.

—Miss Lillian Bosworth, who has been visiting here, has returned to Portland, Me.
—Patrolman Bosworth starts next week for Portland, Me. During his absence Officer Clay will be on duty.

—The Misses Cunningham of Washington street have returned from Jefferson, Me.
—Mrs. B. F. Day, formerly of Austin street, has removed to her new home in Glasgow, Va.

—Mr. Charles Johnson of Washington street is passing a week in Spencer and Leicester.
—Miss M. E. Woodman has returned from her summer vacation to her home on Walnut street.

—Mr. J. D. Hunt and family have moved to New York City. Their household goods in their Grove Hill residence will be sold at auction next week.
—Mr. F. H. Potter and family have moved from Providence and taken the house they formerly occupied here on Trowbridge avenue.

—The Co-operative Bank will move into its new offices in the new block early next month. The rooms are now being fitted up.
—Miss Theresa Cram of Lowell street gave a very pretty birthday party to about thirty of her little friends last Saturday afternoon.

—Rev. Jacob E. Warren of Abington will preach in the New church, Highland avenue, Sunday morning. All are welcome.
—Oct. 28th will be the twentieth anniversary of the Goddard Literary Union. As that day falls on Sunday, the members are planning a reception for Saturday evening the 28th.

—The New Swedenborgian church is now about completed in construction and furnishings. The electric lighting plant was installed this week and the remaining memorial windows placed in position.
—They are going to organize a young men's Republican club here and retire some of the old timers to oblivion. That's the talk, but how much there's in it does not appear at this time.

—The new Central Congregational church edifice is progressing rapidly. The roof is on and partly slated and the building will be ready for occupancy, according to the present outlook, ere snow flies.
—Mr. R. F. Grant has gone to Europe. He left on the American liner Paris last Thursday from New York. He will be abroad two months and will make a tour of England, Scotland, Ireland and France.

—Miss Maybell P. Davis, formerly of this place and at one time a teacher in the High school, was married at Davis Park, Providence, R. I. last Saturday. Following the ceremony, the couple departed on an extended wedding tour.

—There are letters in the postoffice for Henry Harrington, Mrs. Sarah J. Haywood, Blattie Moore, Mary Reddy, Nellie Thomly, Pingrey Webster, Mrs. Walter R. Webster, the Misses Webster and Maggie Wilson.

—Patrolman N. F. Bosworth went away on a two week's vacation Wednesday. He had worked 380 successive days without losing an hour and certainly needed and is deserving of a rest from the active duties of his position.

—Four Newtonville gentlemen were lost in the dense fog on Sudbury river the other night and obliged to abandon their boat. They got to shore all right and struck a good natured farmer to drive them home. Each one of the quartet promised faithfully not to divulge a word about the experience. The question is, who split?

—The gate at the Walnut street crossing is out of order. One of the chains gave way. It is the first time in eight months that an accident of this character has occurred. That's a pretty fair record when one takes into consideration the number of times the gates are lowered and hoisted in that period of time. There are 140 trains daily.

—E. C. Gardner & Co. opened their new hardware store at the last Saturday evening and the staff of clerks were kept busy attending to the wants of patrons. It is probably the best equipped store of its class in the suburbs of Boston. The stock is new and comprises everything in the line of hardware, paints and wallpapers and the fixtures and fittings are very neat and attractive.

—Mr. Henry Ross and Mr. Will Ross arrived home Sunday from Philadelphia where they had been attending the annual convention of the National Cemetery Superintendents' Association. Superintendent Ross says that they had a delightful trip and received many social attentions. The cemetery superintendents were welcomed by the mayor of the city. A visit was made to Walt Whitman's tomb in Harley cemetery, Camden, and to Dr. Kane's tomb at Laurie Hill. The party went through the Public Lot and named it Jerome Park. He proposes to lay it out for building lots, and nine lots are already sold.

—The purchase price of the tract is stated at $12,000.
—Mr. C. F. Tuttle and family, formerly of Hunter street, have moved to Chicago.
—Mr. J. F. Saunders, driver of Chemical A, is enjoying a two weeks' vacation.
—Mr. C. F. Eddy has returned from a few days' visit at Middleboro.

—Mr. Harry L. Ayer and family have returned from Magnolia.
—Mr. T. J. Lyons is enjoying a two week's stay in Newark, N. J.
—Mr. Cornelius Burns is seriously ill at his home on Waltham street.

—Mr. G. A. Gates is occupying Mr. George Lowe's residence on Sterling place.
—City Marshal Richardson is away on his vacation. He left here Tuesday for Oulu, where he enjoys a short stay.
—Mr. Garrett and family of Boston are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Olin Ellis, Waltham street, and will pass the winter here.

—Mr. Walter Cleveland of Shaw street, who had been spending the summer at the Adirondack Mountains, has returned.
—Mr. Emory Haynes of Framingham passed away this week, aged 94 years, 3 months. His son George resides here. Five children survive him.

—Patrolman Purcell received a handsome present this week from a resident of the "hill," an attractively bound volume of "Newton Illustrated."
—Miss Flossie Henderson is recovering from the effects of a fall received several days ago and will soon be able to enter her class at the High school.

—Miss Josephine Ghant, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Ghant of Curry street, has returned to Birmingham, Alabama, where she will resume the duties of school teacher.
—Rev. Francis Tiffany of Cambridge occupied the pulpit in the Unitarian church last Sunday. He was greeted cordially by his former parishioners at the close of the services.

—Mrs. Charles Jennison has received a check for $2000 from the Knights of Honor, representing the amount of insurance carried by her husband in that order. He was a member of Garden City Lodge, this city, for sixteen years.
—Rev. Julian C. Jaynes and family arrived home from the Temple in New York last Sunday. Rev. Mr. Jaynes filled the pulpit of one of the leading Unitarian churches in Chicago. He will board here with his family this winter at the home of Dr. and Mrs. E. E. Crockett.

—Mrs. Richard Anders will forward, if desired, the contents of the January Street birthday memorial boxes which go toward the fund for the Kansas Campaign. The money will be sent to Harriet Taylor Upton, treasurer of the National American Women's Suffrage Association.
—The first regular meeting of the W. C. T. U. will be held in Concord street hall, Tuesday, Sept. 25, at 3 o'clock. As we enter upon another season of work it is hoped all who are interested in the cause of temperance will make an effort to be present.

—The juvenile department of Loyalty Lodge, "Garden City Temple," held a social Thursday evening of last week. The children of the temple and their friends had a very enjoyable evening. The Massachusetts Institute of Juvenile Temples met in Good Temple hall Saturday afternoon and evening, Sept. 29. The public are invited in the evening.
—Next Sunday at the Baptist church will be a special day, opening up the fall work. It is to be a rally day and every department of the work will be given special attention. The service in the morning will be varied from the usual exercises. The Sunday school will have all its forces out and some of the old members who have moved away will be present. In the evening the Young People have arranged a meeting and invited the societies of other churches in Newton and vicinity.

—The funeral of Mr. Theodore Nickerson took place at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon. The services, at the family residence on Temple street, were attended by hundreds of the friends and relatives of the deceased. The opening prayer was by Rev. Alvah Hovey, D. D., president of the Newton Baptist Theological Seminary, and remarks followed by Rev. Joseph L. Hovey, of that institution. The scripture reading and concluding remarks were by Rev. Richard Montague, D. D., pastor of the First Baptist church, Newton Centre, of which Mr. Nickerson was a member. The music consisted of three selections by the George Parker male quartet of Boston. The floral display was very elaborate and included many beautiful set pieces. The pallbearers were Hon. Alden Speare of Newton Centre, Hon. Thomas Weston, Dr. L. R. Stone, Andrew S. March, E. W. Converse, John B. Goodrich of Newton, E. T. Colburn of Newton Centre and George D. Davis of West Newton. The remains were taken to the Newton cemetery, followed by a procession of nearly 100 carriages.

—Toward dusk Sunday, a young man staggered into police headquarters and fell exhausted into a chair. He could hardly speak a word, but extended some papers which he held in his hand to Patrolman Purcell, who was in charge, that proved to be testimonials of good character. Finally, making a supreme effort, the young man said that his name was Joseph Lang and that his home was in Brattleboro, Vt. "I think," he added, "that I am going to die; there is a suffocating pain over my heart. Dr. F. E. Crockett was summoned and succeeded in partially relieving the man. He said that it was a case of complete physical exhaustion from lack of nourishment. It was learned that the poor fellow had eaten nothing for three days. He had been tramping from town to town seeking employment, but had only been able to secure an odd job doing chores. At home, he has a wife and three children dependent upon him. The man was tenderly cared for by Officer Purcell and sent by him to the Cottage Hospital in the police ambulance. He was almost at death's door, but good nursing and a supply of food brought him through and yesterday he left the institution. He seemed to be a deserving fellow, willing to work, but unluckily not meeting with success in securing employment.

—The quiet town of Raymond, N. H., was the scene of a beautiful wedding ceremony in their pretty country church, Tuesday, Sept. 18th, at high noon, when Miss Mabel P. Clark, oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gilman Tucker of New York, and formerly of West Newton, was married to Dr. John H. Huddleston of the same place. Rev. Mr. Crockett of New York, assisted by Rev. Mr. Thompson, pastor of the church, officiating. The church was very tastefully decorated with evergreen, ferns, autumn leaves and hydrangeas. The bride wore a broad, white, silk dress, with a train, with garniture of duchess lace and pearl ornaments, and carried white tea roses. The bride of honor, Miss Mary Tucker, sister of the bride, was given away by an embroidered white silk muslin and carried white sweet peas and asters. The bridesmaids were the Misses Edith and Lillian Sampson of Germantown, Pa. Miss Edith Child of Jamestown, R. I., and Miss Clara Burgess of Newtonville. They were attired in white muslin and carried sweet peas and wild asters. The best man was Mr. Ryder of Philadelphia, and the ushers Mr. George Burgess of Newtonville, Mr. Dwight of Boston, Mr. Weed of Plattsburg, Pa., Mr. Gunnison, Boston. The familiar strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march and Lohengrin were accepted by Rev. Mr. Savory of Manchester on the new organ, which was set in place for the occasion. After the ceremony the guests repaired to the "Browsing" on the hill, where the Public Lot and named it Jerome Park. He proposes to lay it out for building lots, and nine lots are already sold.

4

LINES OF WEAR CUT.

Outing Shirts reduced from $1.50 to .50
Ladies' Waists " " 2.75 to 1.00
Ladies' Waists " " 3.00 to 1.50
Men's Neck Wear " " .50 to .25

RAY 509 Wash. St., cor. West.
641 " " Bejiston.
BOSTON.

navy yard. The convention meets next year in Richmond, Va.

—Edward Page, Jr., formerly of this place, is now located in Harrisburg, Penn., having completed his work in Boston.

—Mr. Edward Stanton George is named for the common council and his many friends are urging him to accept a nomination.

—Mr. B. F. Doherty of the recent firm of Doherty & Co. will resume his musical studies under one of the leading professors of the day.

—Rev. Mr. Hamilton has returned from his vacation prolonged by his illness. He will occupy the pulpit of the Methodist church next Sunday both morning and evening.

—The Woman's Guild will hold a reception at the residence of Mrs. George W. Kimball on Walnut avenue, Oct. 9, the first regular meeting of the guild will be held on Oct. 23. Brief papers will be prepared on "Summer Outings."

—Mr. C. A. Paine has bought the furniture business and trade formerly owned by Doherty & Co. of Tremont block. Mr. Paine will take possession at once and will be happy to see old customers as well as new ones at his new place of business.

—The open air sacred concert, which was to have been given by the Crescent Band at Morton Park, Bullough's Pond, on Sunday afternoon last at 3.30 o'clock, and which was postponed on account of the weather, will be given next Sunday, 23rd inst., at the same hour. A fine program will be rendered.

—G. H. Loomis, manager of the Newtonville Real Estate and Insurance Exchange has published from the GRAPHIC office a wide awake little booklet of sixteen pages, which house and land owners as well as tenants will find interesting reading for leisure moments. Mr. Loomis has the requisite enterprise and ability to capture a good share of the real estate business of the Garden City and all will wish him success.

—Mr. J. B. Willis will conduct a Bible class for adults in a systematic study of the "Life of Christ," at the Methodist Episcopal church during the coming months. The class meets in the main auditorium directly at the close of the morning services each Sunday at 12 m. Mr. Willis is peculiarly fitted for this work both from study and wide observation during his travels in the Orient. The class is open to all who desire this rare privilege of study. Mr. Willis will follow his own methods, which are fresh and unique.

—The Rev. Mr. Priest, at the Universalist church last Sunday, took these words as a text: "Be strong and courageous, be not afraid, nor dismayed for the Lord is with him; With him, is an arm of flesh; but with us, is the Lord, our God, to help us, and to fight our battles." To show that the words were not mere platitudes, he had there been occasions, when all seemed to be lost, and there was no way but that of defeat staring before us, but all had come out well. There are some who fear that the Roman Catholics are the ruling sect in this country, but should it be so it will only come because they are right and we are wrong. If our cause is the correct one we shall surely win in the end for the right thing will come and God will bless his children. Many are worried over the labor problem and were afraid that the strike at Chicago was the beginning of a great conflict that would rend the country from end to end. At Chicago the labor cause was lost from beginning because the strikers allowed the destruction of property, and instead of being on the side of law and order, were with the breakers of the law and so lost the sympathy of the world. Look over the history of the past centuries and note how the days of constant warfare have given way to those of peace. See how the dictators and the actions of those ruling now in high places from the course of conduct in the days of the Roman Empire. In closing the preacher quoted from Lowell these words:

"Cardinal seems the great Avenger! History's pages but record,
One ceaseless grapple in the darkness, twist old systems and the Word!
Truth forever on the scaffold, Wrong forever on the throne,
Yet that scaffold sways the future, and behind the dim unknown,
Standeth God within the shadow, keeping watch above his own."

WEST NEWTON
—Pianos, rented and tuned, Farley Newton
—Mr. Pierrepont Wise and family returned this week from Osterville.

—Mr. C. W. Leatherbee and family have returned from Falmouth.
—Mr. J. W. Stanley and family have returned from a week's stay at Marblehead.

—Mr. George A. Frost and family have returned from Osterville.
—Mr. Edward Sanger and family of New Ipswich, N. H., have been spending a few days with relatives here.

—Mr. Chandler Seaver, Jr., is expected home soon from Poland Springs, Me. He will bring a collection of fine views with him, depicting the scenic attractions of that favored locality.

—Misses Sarah and Lucy Allen have arrived home from Europe. They were met by Mr. N. T. Allen in New York harbor upon the arrival of the steamer Augusta Victoria. Mr. Allen was a passenger on Mr. Morrill's steam yacht, "Vamoose."

—Mrs. Charles Willard Carter, a former resident, gave an orange tea at her home on Alcott street, Allston, last week in honor of the return of Mrs. Prime, (wife of Rev. Augustus Prime of Brighton), who has been passing the summer in Vermont.

—Mr. T. E. Clark has purchased from Wilbur D. Cook an area of 300,000 square feet of land on Cherry street and named it Jerome Park. He proposes to lay it out for building lots, and nine lots are already sold.

There was a large circle of acquaintances from abroad, including Philadelphia, New York, Boston and vicinity.

—Mr. W. H. French of Henshaw court is confined to the house by illness.

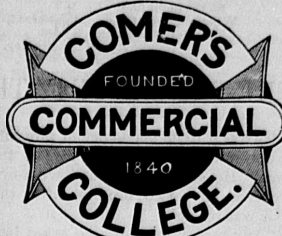

—Mr. and Mrs. Moses Quimby and Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Pettigrew and family, returned from North Sandwich this week.

—Mr. George Duane is here from the West on a visit to his parents on River street.

—Mr. Wyman of Winthrop street has returned from Maine. In a few days he will go to New York for a short season.

—Mrs. H. A. Gould died this morning at her residence on Otis street, after a long illness. She had been in poor health for some time. Deceased was 47 years of age. A husband and daughter survive her. The funeral takes place Sunday from the house at 1.30 o'clock.

Education & Employment

Reopens September 4th.

A thorough and practical course of study in

BUSINESS AND SHORTHAND,
Preparing young people to earn their own living. Individual instruction; positions for pupils; experienced teachers. Our record of

54 YEARS AND 29,000 PUPILS
Speaks for itself. Prospectus free by mail or at office.

COMER'S COMMERCIAL COLLEGE,
666 Washington St., cor. Beach,
BOSTON, MASS.

Fall Opening

Thursday and Friday,
September 27th, 28th,

we shall exhibit a choice assortment of

French Hats, Bonnets and Millinery Novelties,

to which we cordially invite the Ladies of Newton.

J. W. MACURDY,
133 Moody St., Waltham, Mass.

"Pillsbury's Best
Is The Best."

SEE

That your barrel of flour is branded like this:

*and you will be sure
you have the BEST
FLOUR MADE.*

Sold by all Grocers.
HENRY W. CROWELL, Agent,
NEWTON

BEVERLY BROS.
BAKERS.

Having recently put a cart on the road, are prepared to serve customers living in Newtonville West Newton, Newton Centre and the Highlands

354 Centre St., Newton.

MISS MARGUERITE W. ABBOTT,
Former Teacher of French at the Newton High School, will take private pupils in

FRENCH.
Classes in French literature, grammar or conversation. Private tutoring for College or High School Work. Address

WEST NEWTON, MASS.

MISS LOUISE E. TROWBRIDGE,
Pupil of Prof. Janus W. Hill, Wellesley College.

Pianist and Teacher of Piano Forte Playing
Reference, J. Elliot Trowbridge, Organist and Composer.
Fall term begins October 1st, 1894. 50 ct
WISWALL ST. WEST NEWTON.

MINER ROBINSON
ELECTRICAL ENGINEER.

12 Pearl St., Room 27, Boston. Order Office, #21 Centre St., Newton.

The fitting of private residences for the Electric Light and a specialty.

Boston, 3311. TELEPHONES—W. Newton, *234.

NEWTON *255-2.

Announcement

Having secured the services of a first class man to assist me, I wish to state to the public that I am now prepared to fill all orders to

CUSTOM BOOTS AND SHOES
JAMES B. BEECHER,
Cherry Street, West Newton.

ESTABLISHED 1869.

SIMPSON BROTHERS,
CONTRACTORS FOR

Concrete Walks and Driveways
Asphalt Floors, and Artificial Stone walks.

We have been awarded the Sidewalk Contract for the City of Newton for 1894, and are ready to receive orders or give estimates for work in private grounds.

P. O. Address, Newton, or Boston Office, Room 58,
Telephone 1155 Boston. 166 Devonshire St.

REFERS TO 20 YEARS WORK IN NEWTON.

VIOLIN INSTRUCTION.

Fall Term Begins October 1st.

L. EDWIN CHASE,
43 Carleton St., Newton, Mass.

MISS ALICE O. CUTLER,
(Pupil of Carl Baermann.)

TEACHER OF
PIANO FORTE AND HARMONY.
Grove Street, Auburndale.

LOUIS C. STANTON,
(Pupil of W. H. Sherwood.)

Lessons in the Art of Playing the Piano.
Harmony and Musical Analysis taught in Classes.

26 Bacon Street, Newton.
Corner of Washington Street.

MISS ELLA MAE HOLT,
Teacher of Piano,

CHESLEY PL., - NEWTONVILLE.

MISS ROSE CUNNINGHAM,
TEACHER OF

PIANOFORTE PLAYING AND HARMONY.
Address 10 Beach Street, Newtonville.

FOUND
.....AT....

HUDSON'S PHARMACY.

...A CURE FOR...
Coughs and Colds.

OVER 200 BOTTLES OF
PECTORAL

SYRUP
have been sold during the past month. It has a

Home Reputation
due entirely to its

-----MERITS-----
Prepared only by

Arthur Hudson,
Pharmacist and Chemist.

JAMES PAXTON,
Confectioner

and Caterer.

Ices, Creams, Frozen Pudding,
Roman Punch, Fine Cakes,
Candies, Salads, Oysters, Craquettes, Etc.

ALL OUR OWN MANUFACTURE.

Weddings
and

Receptions
SERVED IN SUPERIOR STYLE.

ELIOT BLOCK, NEWTON.

BICYCLES

MISS MARGUERITE W. ABBOTT,
Former Teacher of French at the Newton High School, will take private pupils in

FRENCH.
Classes in French literature, grammar or conversation. Private tutoring for College or High School Work. Address

WEST NEWTON, MASS.

MISS LOUISE E. TROWBRIDGE,
Pupil of Prof. Janus W. Hill, Wellesley College.

Pianist and Teacher of Piano Forte Playing
Reference, J. Elliot Trowbridge, Organist and Composer.
Fall term begins October 1st, 1894. 50 ct
WISWALL ST. WEST NEWTON.

WE CAN'T BE BEAT.
How is this for an assortment of wheels? Agents for the Rambler, Union, Raleigh, Warwick, Relay, Eagle, Puritan, Lovell, Waverly, Crawford. Call and see the League Club. Safety. We allow more in trade for your old wheel than any other dealer. The best fitted repair shop in Boston. Call for catalogue.

RAZOUX & HANDY
444 TREMONT STREET, BOSTON.

HOWARD R. MASON,
Optician.

Spectacles and Eye-Glasses Repaired.
Optician's Prescriptions Filled.

390 CENTRE ST., NEWTON.

WITH
THEO. L. MASON, Jeweler.

There was once

A man
Who always tried
To save money
By buying cheap

goods;
He died in
The Poorhouse.

The Best is
The Cheapest.

We Keep that Kind

Central
Dry Goods
Co.,

Largest establishment between Boston
& Worcester.

107 to 115
Moody St.
Waltham.

West Newton English and Classical School.

THE FORTY SECOND YEAR
of this Family Day School for Boys and Girls begins

Wednesday, Sept. 19, '94.

Prepares for College, Scientific School, Business and a useful life. Attention to character building. Send for Catalogue or call Tues

SWEET PEAS.

Sweet peas of many colors, pink and blue,
And dusky purple mellowing to a hue
Of brown veined crimson when I look at you,
I think my eyes have borrowed of your dew.

Because I knew you long ago, mayhap
Your white face looking from a purple cap,
And your fine bonnet with a moiré flap,
And loved you as you lay upon my lap.

Because I like the dear old fashioned traits,
Your stately carriage and your gracious ways;
Because my heart can never cease to praise
The tender beauty of the bygone days.

Because you smell of gardens long ago,
With old world lilies standing in a row,
And daisies with their gaudy furbelows,
Is this the reason why I love you so?

Because—because, oh, blossoms, you have read
My secret heart, you seem to bow your head
For pity and pity of the dead,
Because perchance I leave a name unsaid.

—Frank Leslie's Monthly.

SNAKE IN THE GRASS.

I detest Celia.

We were so happy till she came to stay with Jack's people and told me I was spoiling him. Of course it was no business of hers if I were—she admitted that—but she was so fond of me that she felt she must speak, being older and more experienced than I, and implore me to remember that it wasn't only my lover I was spoiling, but my future husband, and if I let him have his own way in everything now I should never be able to have mine by and by when we were married.

So Jack and I quarreled at the Hornes' dance last night.

I hardly know what it was about in the first instance, but it grew and grew until it seemed to me there was nothing we weren't quarreling about, and Jack was soon terribly in earnest. Though we had been engaged for three weeks, I'd no idea he had it in him to be so angry. And of course I lost my head and got angry, too—really angry—and said horrid things, and—and—I told him that our engagement was broken off, and there must be an end of everything between us, and—and—Jack took me at my word. I never thought of his doing that.

"As you please," he said, speaking quietly all of a sudden. We were in the conservatory, and the dance music in the drawing room must have drowned the sound of our voices half a dozen yards away. "You wish our engagement to end, Maud? So be it. Your letters shall be returned to you tomorrow, and I will at once leave you free to resume your flirtation with Frank Horne."

"But—Jack!"

His face was set and white. He never even looked at me. The music ceased. Celia and several other dancers strolled into the conservatory, and he left me.

Yes, he went away and danced with other girls, and he never spoke one word to me or came near me again the whole evening.

Hark! Some one is crossing the hall. Surely Jane won't be so foolish as to show any one in here now!

In another moment "Mr. Dayton" is announced, and Jack himself stands before me.

"Jack!" I started to my feet, and all his treasured documents fall rustling to the floor, but I never think of them. Who thinks of love letters in the presence of the writer? Jack is here, my Jack, and—

But is he indeed my Jack?

The first glance at his face recalls me to myself and reminds me that he is no longer my Jack, or Jack at all to me. I told him I wished our engagement to end, and he remembered it evidently, though I for one brief moment have forgotten. Oh, Jack—Jack!

He waits till the servant has left the room, then takes a small packet from the breast pocket of his coat and turns to me.

"This must be my apology for disturbing you," he says very formally. "I thought I had better bring it myself, in case of accident."

"For me?" I speak vaguely and without offering to take it. I want to gain time.

"Yes—your letters. I have no right to them now."

"How—how beautifully you have packed them!"

He turns away, with an impatient gesture, and lays them on the table.

"I need not detain you any longer, now my errand is done," he says quietly.

"But—there is something else. Oh, you forgot!" as he looks at me questioningly. "You have returned my letters promptly enough (how can I thank you for such promptness?), but you forget your own. As you say, I have no right to them now."

"You wish me to take them? Very well!"

But I do not wish him to take them. Anything but that. I want to postpone the moment of parting. That is all.

"Will you be good enough to fetch them?"

"They are here on the floor. Will you be good enough to help me pick them up?"

He does so without a word. Together we stoop and collect them. Together we lay them on the table. Together for the last time!

I bring paper and string and proceed to pack them up, while he watches me in silence.

"I fear this will not be such a neat parcel as yours," I say, speaking as steadily as I can and bending over the table to hide my troubled face. "You know I'm never good at this sort of thing."

"I know," shortly.

"I can't do it!" And a great tear plashes on the packet. "I'm sorry, but—"

"Don't bother about it!" And he lays his hand on mine suddenly. "No need for such a fuss. Give them to me as they are."

"What are you going to do with them?" as he takes them from my trembling hands.

"Put them in the fire!" And he turns to do so.

"No, no, no!" I cry, springing forward and laying a detaining hand on his arm. "Oh, don't, Jack!"

"Why not?" pausing. "You don't want them, and I'm sure I don't."

"I—do. Please give them back to me."

"What for?"

"To keep! To remind me!"

"Of my folly?"

"Of my own. I!"

"Your folly is over and done with. Our engagement is broken off," he says moodily. "Better forget it ever existed."

"I cannot do that," with an irrepressible little sob. "I am waiting for those letters."

"Take them, then." And he throws them down on the table. "Keep them to compare with Horne's if you like. I don't care."

"How can you insult me so? What right have you to think me so mean, so heartless?" I cry indignantly. "And you cared for me once, or pretended to."

"I did care, I care now, though I know I'm only a fool for my pains," bitterly. "Heartless, do you say? How can I help thinking you heartless after your conduct last night?"

"My conduct? And what of yours? If I danced with Frank, and, yes, flirted with him a little, and you were flirting all the time with Celia and Mollie, and, oh, there wasn't a girl in the room that you didn't flirt with! You know there wasn't."

"Yes, and you should know that there is safety in numbers," he retorts, fixing his dark eyes on mine reproachfully. "But you, Maud, you flirted with Frank all the time, and no one but Frank—a very different thing."

"And what was I to do when you deserted me? Sit still and look miserable? Thanks, no. Really, you are unreasonable."

"You forget that I did not desert you, as you call it, till after you gave me to understand that I wasn't wanted. You told me to go, and I went."

"You did—on the instant."

"And you blame me for that now? Did you not mean me to take you at your word?"

"Not like that," slowly. "You went—oh, yes—as if you were glad to go. I dare say you were, but you needn't have betrayed your feelings quite so plainly."

"I haven't the smallest intention of betraying my feelings for your gratification," he says, with some warmth. "You have treated me shamefully, but I see little use in discussing it now. I don't want to reproach you for jilting me. You've done it, and that's enough."

"Jilting you! Oh, Jack!"

"Call it what you please," and he turns away wearily. "We won't quarrel about that. Celia was right, I see."

"Celia?"

"Yes. She said I would only make matters worse if I saw you. I didn't believe her, but—"

"Celia tried to stop your coming?"

"If you like to put it in that way, yes," with a look of surprise. "But I thought I ought to bring those letters myself, so I came."

"Celia seems to have been unwarrantably busy with my affairs," I say coldly. "I don't know, of course, what she may or may not have told you, but this I do know—that I have never trusted her, and that I trust her less than ever now."

"You are ungrateful surely. She tried to spare you this interview."

"Had it not been for her it would never have been necessary. But go to her, since you'd rather take her word than mine," passionately. "Go to her and tell her that she has succeeded, thanks to my folly and yours!"

I break off, unable to speak for the rising sobs that choke my utterances, and turn away abruptly to the window.

"Succeeded? Celia?" he repeats me to himself than to me. "Maud, what is the meaning of all this? Is it possible that Celia misunderstood?"

"She misunderstood nothing," I speak in a dull, expressionless way and without turning round. "She is far too clever for that. It is you who misunderstood and I."

"What have I misunderstood? Oh, if you won't tell me, I must go to Celia and—"

"Yes, go to her. What are you staying here for?"

"Nothing now." And he walks to the door. In another instant he will be gone.

Can I let him go like this? No, a thousand times no.

"Wait!" And I turn impulsively.

"You—you have forgotten something."

"Have I? And what?"

"Your ring. I have no right to it now, as you say."

"I never said so, but"—he checks himself—"give it to me, then."

"Come and take it."

"No, dear, I don't want it. If it is to come off at all, you must take it."

"It seems almost a pity, doesn't it?" I say softly, and my voice is scarcely as steady as it might be. He makes no reply, but passes his arm around my waist, and his hold on my hand tightens.

"I've got used to it, you see, and I should miss it. May I keep it, Jack?"

"On one condition."

"And that is?"

"That you keep me too."

"Oh, Jack, how gladly!"

He is my Jack once more, and I tell him all, my head on his shoulder.

Our quarrel is over, and we both detest Celia. She can never come between us any more.—Gentlewoman.

A Barber's Record.

A novel shaving record has been established by a Hungarian barber. He made a bet of 100 florins that he would on a railway journey of 29 minutes from Pestiyan to Neustadt shave 15 men without cutting them. The bet was more than won, for he actually shaved three more men than the stipulated number.—London News.

From Different Standpoints.

He—Well, I'll say good night.

She—Good morning.—New York Sun.

A MERRY HEART.

Cleat day or cloudy day,
Summer heat or cold,
A happy heart keeps holiday,
A merry heart is bold.

Though the wind of fortune blow
Out of wintry skies,
Face it smiling as you go—
A merry heart is wise.

By and by the sun will shine,
Day must follow night;
Darkest hour is the sign
Of returning light.

God is in his heaven still,
Though the world denies,
And cheery courage waits on will—
A merry heart is wise.

Over rugged things we climb
To our best estate;
We shall stumble many a time,
But we conquer fate.

And we choose the better part
So that evil flies,
When we keep the dauntless heart,
The merry heart that's wise.

—Mary Bradley.

THE THREAD OF FATE.

He was a little man—one of sarcastic speech might have called him a toy man. He strolled into a down town broker's office two minutes after the door was opened.

"Any money for me?" he asked languidly of the head clerk.

"No, but we shall want a little if we are to carry yesterday's purchases for you any longer, sir."

The clerk handed out a slip. The little man took it, glanced at it and then, putting the paper down, drew out his checkbook.

"The stock is bound to rise before the day is over," he asked as he pushed the check through the clerk's wicket.

"Can't say, sir."

"But what do you think?"

"I don't think, sir. It's one of the rules of the house that none but the partners may give advice or information to the customers."

"Either partner about?"

"Not just at present, sir."

"Please have me notified as soon as it touches the figure I mentioned. I will sell out promptly when it reaches the right figure. I need the money by this afternoon."

"Mr. Wheaton has your instructions, sir, and he will follow them faithfully."

The little man sauntered out, entered a nearby cafe that was famous among Wall street men, ordered a champagne cocktail and a light breakfast and leisurely disposed of it. Then he lighted a cigar and smoked it reflectively for awhile.

"Bless me, it's 10:30 already!" he murmured, coming to himself and pulling out his watch. "I must get back to the broker. Dare say he's sold my little investment for me. In that case I'll have the money all right before noon."

The same clerk was still at the little window.

"Well?" asked the little man.

"More margins," said the clerk.

"That stock is going down."

"Why, yes, indeed!" murmured the plunger. "This is really a heavier margin than I paid an hour or two ago."

But he took out his checkbook. There was not the sign of a cloud on his face as he wrote the figures—$3,000.

"Here you are," he said, passing in the check. "I wish you'd ask Mr. Wheaton if he can't hurry up the deal—I believe he called it that—for this affair is getting decidedly expensive. A few more such drafts upon me will exhaust me."

The clerk paid little attention to this remark. He was accustomed to such phrases. They were a part of his daily life.

The little man went out again. On the sidewalk he paused, looking irresolutely about him.

"Wonder what I can do to kill time?" he thought. "People who spend all their time around Wall street must find it terribly hard to kill time day in and day out. It's kind of monotonous to pass all the time in that cafe, but I don't see any way out of it. I'm very sure that I couldn't become a habitué of Wall street. I should die of ennui. However, I haven't time to go up town. I must be on hand to receive the money that this investment is going to bring me."

So he wandered back to the cafe. It was too hot to eat, and besides he wasn't hungry. He ordered a small bottle and tried to drink it, but met with only indifferent success.

Yet he managed to put in an hour at the cafe. Then he rose and went back to the office.

As he entered his eye brightened and he hastened his step, for he saw Mr. Wheaton in his private office.

"Well, what news?" he asked.

"Have you sold out for me?"

"The clerk has something for you," Wheaton replied.

"Not another assessment, I hope?"

"I'm sorry to say it is." The little man walked rather hurriedly out to the clerk's desk, drawing out his checkbook as he went.

He merely glanced at the slip and then wrote out the check, but there was a cloud on his face.

"I hope the tide'll turn soon," he said. "I've only got $3,100 left, and then—"

"And then?" the clerk repeated.

"Well, perhaps you don't know what it means to me."

The clerk didn't even take the trouble to ask. Hard hearted? Well, brokers' clerks don't attempt to shoulder the troubles of the world.

"When things get to this pitch," murmured the little man to himself, "I suppose it's the proper thing to watch the stock ticker. I'll be blessed, though, if I know how to do it."

He confided his difficulty to the clerk, who obligingly explained to the neophyte what the seemingly cabalistic characters on the tape were really intended to show.

"I think I understand now," said the little man. "If you don't mind, I'll stay right here beside it."

"The tape is for the convenience of our customers," replied the clerk and went back to his absorbing task over the books.

For the next hour the little man stood by the ticker reading the occasional quotations of his stock.

"It's going down gradually," he murmured. "There'll be another assessment soon. Why can't the wretched stock go up?"

Even while he was propounding this conundrum to himself the clerk approached with another of those fateful slips.

"Nine hundred? Certainly," responded the little man, and the checkbook came out once more.

There was a look of decided annoyance on his face as he returned to the instrument that was slowly, relentlessly grinding out the serial story of fortunes won and lost.

Dr. Darcy, a friend of Wheaton's, was in the office with the broker.

"I've been studying that little fellow out there," said the medical man. "He is a good illustration of the crying evils of your line of business."

The broker smiled carelessly, then yawned as if either the heat of the day or the turn of the conversation rendered him sleepy.

"The little fellow hasn't dropped all of his pile yet," he remarked. "He's pretty near the bottom, though—of his pile, I mean—and he's on a losing stock too."

"Then, why not warn him in time?" queried the doctor.

"What would be the use?" counter queried the broker. "It wouldn't do any good, and it's no business of mine, anyway."

"Wheaton, surely you are not utterly heartless!" cried the doctor. He was an enthusiastic man when he got started on some pet idea. "I repeat, why not warn this young man in time? I tell you, Wheaton, that he has neither much mental nor bodily stamina, and if you permit him to be ruined he is likely to go insane—perhaps commit some violent crime—for which you, Wheaton, who permitted him to go to his ruin, would be responsible in the eye of heaven, even if not in the minds of men. Remedy your terrible work, I say, or you may have to answer to your own conscience for a crime that I would not have on mine."

Wheaton smiled again and repeated his query, "What would be the use of it?"

"Then I will go to him myself," exclaimed the man of medicine. "I will warn him before it is too late."

"And get yourself kicked, perhaps, for meddling in another man's affairs."

"I shall speak to him, anyway, and at once."

"Darcy, you will do nothing of the sort. You are always welcome in my office, but you must not feel called upon to interfere."

Dr. Darcy arose and began to pace up and down the little private office, keeping his sympathetic gaze riveted all the time upon the hapless speculator.

Finally he exclaimed:

"There's the poor little chap signing another check."

"I dare say," replied the imperturbable broker. "His stock has been falling down stairs all day long, and I am confident that tomorrow it will go down another flight of stairs."

Dr. Darcy gazed contemptuously at the cold hearted broker who would knowingly permit such an idiotic squandering of a fortune.

At last the closing came. The little man took a look at the last quotation.

Then he bounded into the private office, shouting:

"Wheaton, it almost closed me out. But it has stopped going down for today, and I've got $300 left."

"And sense enough into the bargain to let it alone and keep hold of your balance, I hope," roared Dr. Darcy. "That stock is one of the biggest swindles in the market."

Wheaton smiled. He had been filling out a document, which he now signed and handed to the little man.

"Thanks," said the latter, pocketing the paper, with a look of supreme satisfaction. "It's a nice little profit—enough to keep me in Europe for a year or more."

With these words he was gone. Dr. Darcy turned upon the broker and demanded:

"Wheaton, what the deuce does that little snip mean? Here he has been squandering money on margins all day long, and now he says that the profits will keep him in Europe for a year."

"I means," replied the broker, "that this little fellow belongs to one of the wealthiest families in New York. He and another very rich young fellow made a bet last night as to whether 1,000 shares of that stock would eat up more than $15,000 in margins today. Each put up half of the money to be used and besides that a wager of $50,000 a side. Our young friend who has just left won by a balance of $300. So, you see, it was a very lucky investment for him."

The doctor looked as if he didn't feel well. At last he blurted out:

"Wheaton, you made a fool of me in the most approved fashion. Of course you'll dine with me tonight, and we'll wipe out this score in the best wine I can buy."—New York Journal.

The Human Voice.

One's surprise at the fact that no two persons' voices are perfectly alike ceases when one is informed by an authority on the subject that, though there are only nine perfect tones in the human voice, there are the astounding number of 17,592,186,044,415 different sounds. Of these, 14 direct muscles produce 16,853, and 30 indirect muscles produce 173,741,823, while all in co-operation produce the total given above.

Good Advice.

Mrs. Dimpleton—I would like hotel life, but I am so lonesome all day while my husband is at the office.

Mrs. Cheltenham—Why don't you keep house? Then you can spend your spare time in thinking what you will have for breakfast.—New York Sun.

Neuralgia.

Of the worst kind troubled me for years. A friend whom it had cured recommended Hood's

Mrs. P. C. Pillsbury
Webster, N. H.

Sarsaparilla, and I can truly say I am much better. I have not had a headache for some time

Hood's Sarsaparilla Cures
and am better in every way, in fact, I feel like a new person. Mrs. P. C. PILLSBURY.

Hood's Pills cure nausea, and biliousness

Millinery

JUVENE

Just returned from New York with a full line of

High Class

Millinery.

Which we are now ready to show.
Open evenings on Saturday only.

NEWTON FREE LIBRARY.

LIST OF NEW BOOKS.

- Alden, Raymond M. A World of Little People. 102.692
- A description of ant life, the ants being the characters of the story; with information about other insects.
- Bangs, John Kendrick. The Water Ghost and others. 64.1
- Stories treating of supernatural apparitions, etc.
- Coman, Katharine, and Kendall, Elizabeth. The Growth of the English Nation. 72.355
- One of the volumes of the Chautauquus L. and S. C. studies for 1894-5. "Such a study must concern itself, primarily, with social, economic and political conditions, since national achievement is the outcome of national character—the resultant of all the forces operating upon a people."
- Crockett, S. R. Mad Sir Uchtried of the Hills. 61.386
- Denness, Paul. The Elements of Metaphysics; a Guide for Lectures and Private Study. 102.693
- Dodge, Melvin Gilbert, and Burke, D. W., eds. The Clark Prize Book. 54.900
- Containing an account of the foundation and history of the Clark prize in Hamilton College, N. Y., the successful orations, and a complete list of Subjects and Competitors.
- DuMaurier, George. Tribby. 63.957
- Fiske, John. History of the United States for Schools with Copious Analysis, Suggestive Questions, and Directions for Teachers, by F. A. Hill. 72.356
- Contains several valuable appendices, one giving the origin of the names of the states and territories, with mention of books on the history of the states; another indicating novels, poems and songs relating to American history; another on the calendar and reckoning of dates.
- Frishie, Levi. A Collection of the Miscellaneous Writings of Professor Frishie; with Notices of his Life and Character by Andrews Norton. 57.328
- Mr. Frishie was Professor of Latin and of Moral Philosophy at Harvard University from 1811 until his death in 1822.
- Gould, Robert Freke, and others. The History of Freemasonry, its Antiquities, Symbols, Constitutions, Customs, etc., derived from Official Sources throughout the World. 4 vols. 86.153
- The range of this work extends to matters of interest relating either to ancient or modern Freemasonry.
- Munroe, Kirk. The Fur-Seal's Tooth; a Story of Alaskan Adventure. 65.24
- Operas. [A Collection of Operas in English, French, German and Italian.] 6 vols. 52.567
- A miscellaneous collection of all operas in the foreign languages with English translations.
- Thompson, Richard W. The Footprints of the Jesuits. 73.272
- The author, ex-secretary of the navy, thinks the doctrine taught by the Jesuits that the state must be reunited with the church as a religious doctrine necessary to salvation, is against the best good of any nation.
- Wallace, E. R. Descriptive Guide to the Adirondacks, Saratoga, Lakes George and Champlain, Adirondack Champlain, Massena Springs and Trenton Falls. 33.449
- Walton, Alice. The Cult of Asclepius. (Cornell Studies in Classical Philology.) 56.371
- Miss Walton's aim is "to give in narrative form the results obtained by a careful comparison of material from the different localities, and to show what material is used. The arrangement is topical, and so far as possible chronological." Preface.
- E. P. THURSTON, Librarian.
- Sept. 19, 1894.

BOSTON AMUSEMENTS.

BOWDOIN SQUARE THEATRE—J. K. Emmer, "Our Fritz," with his new songs as sweet as the old ones; graceful dances, pretty children, and a new play, "Fritz in a Mad House," is coming next week to the Bowdoin Square Theatre. The play has had an enormously successful run of three months in New York. It is a charming picture of every day life, and interest is kept alive with fun by the pranks and mistakes of the good-natured, blundering, scapegrace Fritz, in his efforts to make everybody happy. It is a pretty story well acted by a company of artists, among whom are the following well known players: Miss Emily Lytton, Miss Germaine, Miss Florence Foster, Miss Ware, Messrs. Geo. W. Middleton, David Rivers, Francis Kingston, Hudson Liston, and Harry Coffin. The Wednesday and Saturday matinees will be excellent times for the ladies and children to enjoy this charming play. Elaborate preparations are being made at the Bowdoin Square Theatre for the coming production of Sutton Vane's latest success, "The Cotton King." Jack Mason will have the title role.

HOLLIS STREET THEATRE—Miss Ada Rehan, under the management of Mr. Augustin Daly, will commence a two weeks' engagement at the Hollis Street Theatre on Monday, September 24. During the first week of her engagement she will be seen as Viola in "The Last Word" on Monday and Tuesday evenings and at the Wednesday matinee; as Lady Teazle in "School for Scandal" on Wednesday evening, and as Viola in Twelfth Night on Thursday, Friday, Saturday evenings and at the Saturday matinee while her repertoire for the second and last week of her stay Miss Rehan will appear as Annis in "Love on Crutches" Monday and Tuesday evenings and at the Wednesday matinee; as Rosalind in "As You Like It" on Wednesday and Thursday evenings; and as Katherine in "Taming of the Shrew" on Friday and Saturday evenings and at the Saturday matinee. The company which Mr. Augustin Daly has selected to surround Miss Rehan is of unusual excellence and includes such meritorious players as Mr. George Clarke, John Craig, Charles Whelan, William Owen, Sidney Herbert, Lloyd Daubigny, Miss Sybil Carlyle, Miss Lily Post, Miss Evangeline Irving, Miss Ida Molesworth and Mrs. Thomas Barry.

BOSTON THEATRE—Great and appreciative audiences have, during the past week, testified to the drawing power of the famous "Old Homestead," and the attendance this week is fully up to the mark in point of numbers and enthusiasm. The fine lessons taught by the simple and useful life of Uncle Joshua, the poetry of the rural settings and the quaintness of humor displayed at every point cannot fail to leave their impress on the minds of every beholder. Realism, such as is found in this beautiful play, is the height of art, and it is here and there slightly strained, who can stop to pick flaws in the face of the great human quality of the work and the acting? Mr. Thompson seems to gain in power at each engagement in this city, and the taste of the laugh is extracted with equal facility. "Cy" Prime and the rest of his friends—rural and urban—are sure of their nightly rounds of applause. "Standing Room Only" is now a familiar sign at the entrance of the Boston, and from all appearances, it will continue to be for some time to come. The "Songs Illustrated," which made so conspicuous a success Sunday evening, will be repeated with all their wealth of scenery and fine music next Sunday evening. The performance will begin at 8 sharp, and conclude at 9.45, thus enabling all to get home at a reasonable hour.

COLUMBIA THEATRE—The entire company that will be known as Lottie Collins Troubadours, and which will travel this summer under the management of S. P. Cooney and Henry B. Harris, has been completed, and will of course be headed by the famous "Ta-ra-ra" Lottie. Miss Collins will make her debut in comic opera during her tour, and an operetta named "The Devilbird" has been specially written for her that will undoubtedly gain her as much fame as did her eccentric song. The first part of the entertainment of the Troubadours will be given up to refined vaudeville and European novelties. The list of artists is a remarkably strong one, and includes such well known people as the famous musical comedians, Wood and Sheppard, Ward and Curran, the brothers Meers, who do wonderful things on a high wire; Miss Anna Wilmuth, character vocalist; Dan and Lenhart, sketch artists; Marion, Hayes and Marion, assisted by Misses Jerome, Winship and Bishop, in a novel dancing specialty. The Lottie Collins Troubadours will open their season at the Columbia, September 24.

GRAND OPERA HOUSE—"The Galley Slave" considered the strongest of the many plays written by the late Bartley Campbell will be presented at the Grand Opera House for a week's engagement commencing Monday evening, Sept. 24th. The usual evening performances and matinees Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday will be given. New and special scenery and appropriate costumes will be seen and a company of great individual and collective merit have been engaged. The more prominent members of the company are Miss Edie Darling, Miss Ludwick Young, Miss Harriette Sheldon, Miss Lolo Morrissey, Miss May Stewart and Marion Leffingwell, Carroll Daly, W. W. Allen, Joseph Wheelock, C. W. Goodrich and Ralph Haydem together with a number of supernumeraries. Next week Richard Golden and his clever troupe of comedians, "Old Jed Prouty" will play their farewell Boston engagement.

NEW LYCEUM THEATRE—Nothing in the line of amusement in Boston ever attracted as much attention as the new Lyceum Theatre, under its new management and new policy. Beginning Monday afternoon Sam Devere will introduce his own original company to the Boston public. The musical blacksmiths, the original Quaker City quartet, will give the unique singing comedy, "Allie Hayden, the wondrous contralto, will be an interesting feature. The Donovans, James and Fanny, will present a novel Irish act, which is sure to make a hit. The eccentric talking comedians, Evans and Vidock, Rowe and Rentz, Lillie Weston, the famed instrumental soloist, and Joe Hayden and Miss Queen Hetherington, descriptive vocalists, will delight all visitors. Donovan's roaring comedy, "Pat's Misfortunes," will be presented by the entire company.

BOOKS AND MAGAZINES.

OUTLAW AND LAWMAKER.

Mrs. Campbell-Praed's latest novel has to do with Australian life and deals with sensations of every kind, the hero and heroine passing through all sorts of exciting adventures, and the heroine takes advantage of any respite by looking out for possible lovers and engaging in all sorts of love affairs. In spite of the "blood and thunder" characteristics it is decidedly above the average of cheap paper novels. D. Appleton & Co., 50c.

THE MANXMAN.

Mr. Hall Caine's last novel seems to be receiving its English success in America. D. Appleton & Co., the publishers, have been obliged to make special efforts to keep up with the demand, the first large edition having been exhausted within a week after publication. It is a very strong novel, well written and of absorbing interest, the author's only fault being that he is too fond of details, and takes up nearly 500 pages in giving the history of the daily life of his three principal characters for a period covering only a few months. Nothing is left to the imagination in the latter part of the book, but the story is so fascinating that most readers will follow it to the end. Manx customs, traditions and manners are described in the very realistic way characteristic of Mr. Caine's former books, and in Peter Quilliam he has drawn one of the most unflinching characters in fiction. When he finds that his friend has been unfaithful, and his wife has left him, he not only does not seek revenge as smaller men might have done, but he sacrifices himself completely in order to secure their happiness. In Phillip Christian the author presents a powerful picture of a man distracted between love, honor and ambition, the struggle between his higher and lower natures, and his final triumph. The Manxman is certainly a great novel and confirms Mr. Hall Caine's claim to being one of the first novelists of the day.

GEORGE MANDEVILLE'S HUSBAND.

C. E. Raymond presents in this story an amusing picture of the other side of the "woman question," the object evidently being to present the picture as the husband sees it. George Mandeville is a woman who writes of woman's influence, besides producing any number of novels, a woman thoroughly selfish in character, of a coarse nature, while her husband is an unfortunate artist whose finer nature is overmatched, and he is forced to give up his career for the sake of hers. The pictures of her Sunday receptions are very amusing, where all the guests have done something for "the cause of woman," and all worship at the shrine of the rather too solid hostess, George Mandeville is a very clever caricature of the literary woman, and the life of the husband and daughter, with their finer sensibilities, is made pathetic in the extreme. D. Appleton & Co., 50c.

A DAUGHTER OF MUSIC.

is one of those disagreeable novels so popular nowadays, which compel the reader's attention in spite of their uncomfortable nature. G. Colmore describes his heroine as brought to a knowledge of herself, or perhaps we should say, of a certain side of her nature, through music, and after a brief period of infatuation she suddenly recovers her moral poise and her after life becomes a long atonement. Her husband conceals her errors from the world, but treats her with perpetual scorn, and the curse which he invokes upon her and her child finally falls upon all alike. It is a very powerful book of the class to which The Heavenly Twins, Yellow Aster, The Superfluous Woman and others belong. D. Appleton & Co., 50c.

Widening Washington Street.

Auburndale, Sept. 16, 1894.

To the Editor of the Graphic:—Your "Hasty Action" article was timely. Washington street, considering its important position, geographically the main street of our city, running its whole length, has never been treated with the same consideration as other streets. Its condition has always been an eyesore to me since I came to reside here over forty years ago. Years ago I urged our selectmen, before Valentine street was built, to attend first to Washington street, but in vain. I spoke also with different superintendents to make it an inviting street. It is scraped after rains and then new dirt or mud is put on again instead of crushed stone.

If we had spent on it and what belonged to such a thoroughfare, in proportion to what was laid out for Valentine, High, Elm, Waltham and Woodbine streets, which were of no absolute necessity, we would now have the finest main street in the city, perhaps in the state, but we never had an alderman who resided on any section of it, who would have represented it in the city's council and urged its rights as those above.

Now that it is really meant that this stepchild of the city should be thought of let it be well cared for and become a wide thoroughfare to be proud of; it ought to be at least from 100 to 125 feet wide; it needs this width much more than the new wide street ridiculously called boulevard, as it will always have a much more numerous frequency than the latter. But it is not enough to have a wide street, but it ought to be made a real good one, the best, which would require, to build as it ought to be done, a large outlay or cost, but at the end would be cheaper than the way we have been building them till now.

When I went to my native place five years ago, I found the street or road, which was built over sixty years ago, on which I had, as a boy of about 10 or 11 years to cut some stones as a punishment for taking some of the curbstones from the heaps on the side of the road and throwing them, boylings, into the middle of the road, and I had also to pick them up again and put them back on the heap, the guard would not let me go until I had done it,) just as perfect and smooth as then.

The width of wheel tires should also be looked after, they are of great importance in the taking care of streets.

I hope our city government will have the moral courage, now that they had hearings, to take the responsibility to go on with the work, without delay, to the best of their honest conviction in the interest of the city at large, and shut their ears against the "no hurries" and other such talk.

I hope they will also act promptly about the grade crossings, these hearings cannot go on forever, some time or other they must decide for themselves, and as you say, the sooner the better, financially as well as otherwise. There ought to be a way found to come to an agreement with the B. & A. R.

Yours truly,

S. R. URBINO.

NEWTON LOWER FALLS.

—Mr. W. R. Dimond has had a new shed added to his barn.

—Mr. Wm. Ware has his engine at work at the Bacon farm, Newton Highlands, cutting corn for the silo.

—Mr. Riley, superintendent of Bishop paper mills, concluded his services with the concern last Saturday.

—Mrs. Hurd, a former resident of this place, is here on a visit from Maine as a guest of Mrs. Sanderson and other friends.

—Mr. Sumner Shattuck has returned after spending a season of pleasure with friends in Vermont much improved in health for which benefit the trip was taken.

—Miss McDonnell, head matron at the Newton Hospital, for building a home needed vacation at Baltimore, Md., her home. Miss McCluen is acting as matron during her absence.

—Mr. C. H. Spring is removing the wood out from the Heekle estate. The syndicate who recently purchased the estate are getting it in shape for building purposes. The estate comprises some handsome building sites.

—The two cases of diphtheria in the McMeekin family, one of which resulted fatally, caused quite a little talk here. The parents have the sympathy of many in their affliction. But the contagious character of the disease made fumigation of their premises necessary and the fact that the family were forced to vacate their home for a short time caused an unwarranted criticism on the board of health.

NONANTUM.

—Fred Collock has received an honorable discharge from Hose 4.

—The new assistant foreman for Hose 8 will be John Murray.

—Mrs. F. M. Ferris of Bridge street is at Providence, R. I.

—Mr. James Mockford is visiting his parents at Rottingdean, Sussex, England.

—Miss Emma Henry has returned from the Cape.

—Mr. Reuben Forknall of Chapel street is now a full fledged life insurance agent.

—Nonantum is well represented in the different Republican conventions this year, Irving Fletcher, all being delegates.

—The Newtons were defeated by the Boston last Saturday in a cricket match by fifty runs. They play the Merrimacs of Lawrence tomorrow on Morse field.

—Mr. James Seagrove is to give up his grocery store and go back to the pharmaceutical business again. He will work for William Russell of Watertown.

—Miss Maud Murray was married to Daniel Sullivan Tuesday evening by Rev. Fr. Gilfeather at the parochial residence.

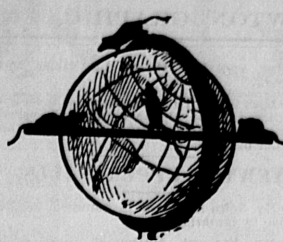

—A new concrete sidewalk is being laid on Pleasant street.

—A drain and common sewer is being put through land owned here by the Nonantum Worsted Company.

Nothing Strange.

Intelligent people, who realize the important part the blood holds in keeping the body in a normal condition, find nothing strange in the number of diseases Hood's Sarsaparilla is able to cure. So many troubles result from impure blood, the best way to treat them is through the blood. Hood's Sarsaparilla vitalizes the blood.

Hood's Pills are the best after-dinner pills, assist digestion, prevent constipation.

ALL OVER THE GLOBE.

—Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are known. Pills of American manufacture easily lead. Why? Because they're smaller; the vegetable extracts are concentrated. There are many liver pills, yet there must be a reason why Dr. Pierce's Pellets give the best satisfaction. Probably because they're sugar-coated, small as grains of mustard seed, therefore, easily swallowed. Most of all—they act in a natural way, and are effective in result. Then, too, after they're taken they can't be felt—so different from the old-fashioned pills, with their gripping and violence. For indigestion, pain in stomach, costiveness and habitual constipation, as well as sick and bilious headaches, these "Pellets" bring such a lasting cure, that they can be guaranteed. Your money is returned, if they do not give satisfaction.

To every sufferer from Catarrh, no matter how bad the case or of how long standing, the proprietors of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy say this: "If we can't cure it, perfectly and permanently, we'll pay you $500 in cash." Sold by all druggists.

BRACKETT'S MARKET COMPANY.

Established 1851. incorporated 1892.
Telephone No. 16-3.

The Rest
Meats, Poultry, Game,
Cream, Butter, Eggs,
Fruits and Vegetables
AT THE LOWEST PRICES.

This Market intends to fill all orders as if the purchaser was present. Goods which are found to be as represented may be returned.

7 & 8 COLE'S BLOCK,
Washington near Centre Street,
NEWTON, MASS.

Ranges, Furnaces,
Water Heaters,
Steam Boilers,

AT FACTORY STORE OF

Walker & Pratt Mfg. Co.,

GALEN STREET, WATERTOWN, MASS.
Telephone No. 30, Newton.

Furnaces, Ranges Cleaned and Repaired

MYLES J. JOYCE,
Ornamental and Landscape
GARDENER.

Grading, Sodding, Pruning and Gardening of Every Description.

Taking Care of Private Lawns and Gardens a Specialty.

Carpets Taken Up, Cleaned, and Put Down in the Best Manner.

ORDERS PROMPTLY ATTENDED TO.
P. O. Box 42, Newton, Mass.

Newton National Bank,
NEWTON, MASS.

BUSINESS HOURS:
From 9 A. M. to 12 M., and from 2 to 4 P. M.
On Saturdays, from 9 A. M. to 12 P. M.
JOSEPH N. BACON, President
B. FRANKLIN BACON, Cashier.

M&D COAL W. A. Folsom & Co.
17 Union St., Boston, Mass.
Best Made RANGES

A. E. Whitehouse & Co.,
174 LINCOLN ST., BOSTON.
Near Albany Depot. Cars pass the door

Pain-Killer

Always Has Cured

Summer Complaints

—It Always Will.

It's as certain to cure Cramps, Colic, Cholera Morbus,

Dysentery, Diarrhoea, and all such troubles, as the sun is to shine. Such ills go as quickly as they come when this good old remedy is used. It is well to remember that serious sickness can often be prevented by taking a teaspoonful of Pain-Killer in warm water or milk. Always keep it by you. Sold everywhere. The quantity has been doubled, but the price remains the same.

—Prepared only by—
PERRY DAVIS & SON, Providence, R. I.

Tailors.

C. S. Decker
Custom Tailor.
326 Centre Street, Newton, Mass.

J. R. SIMMONS & CO.,
—Custom Tailors.—
Repairing, Cleaning and Dyeing a Specialty.
Middl Suits for Sale.
2 Carver Street, Boston, Mass.
1 Dorset m Boylston.

Livery Stables.

DANIEL'S
Nonantum Stables.
HENRY C. DANIELS, Proprietor.

Patrons will find at these Stables the best of Horses and Carriages for hire. Landaus and Hackes, with good horses and experienced drivers, for Pleasure Service and Funerals. Safe and reliable horses for ladies to drive.

BOARDING
Superior accommodations for Boarding Horses. Clean and comfortable stalls; careful and prompt attention.
Telephone 271-3.

GEO. W. BUSH,
Livery, Hack & Boarding STABLE.

Particular attention paid to Boarding Horses. Hacks at depot or the conveyance of passengers to any part of the city. Horses and carriages to let for business or pleasure.

ELMWOOD STREET, NEWTON.
Telephone Connection.

Livery, Hack, Established 1861.
Parges, City of New- & Boat Sleigh, ton, Garden City. Snow Bird.

S. F. CATE,
W. Newton. Boarding Stable.

J. HENRY BACON,
Dry Goods and Notions,
LADIES' AND GENTS' FURNISHING GOODS.
Oil - and - Straw - Carpets.
TRUNKS, BAGS, ETC.

279, 281 Washington St., Newton.

HANDSOME
LAMP SHADES,
Made of English Crepe Paper, a size, style or color.

$3.00 Each.

Lamps and Fittings
Choice and Cheap.

Lamp Shade Supplies
At Lowest Prices.

Buy of us, the manufacturers, and save money.

A. E. Whitehouse & Co.,
174 LINCOLN ST., BOSTON.
Near Albany Depot. Cars pass the door

C. MILLER,
IMPORTER OF
French - Millinery.
165 TREMONT STREET,
Boston.

Any one
—CAN—Pull Teeth.

But skill and patience can save them. Crown and bridge work can fill those gaps.

DR. G. P. WIKSELL,
The Pelham, Boston, Mass.

T. F. GLENNAN,
Carriage Trimming
and Harness Making.
BLANKETS, ROBES, WHIPS, ETC.
Washington St., - Newton.

Teachers.

POSSE GYMNASIUM.
A thorough normal school of gymnastics. Classes for men and women; for children. Medals for Method, Host in 1892, Catalog 1893.

BARON NILS POSSE, B.Sc. M.G.,
23 Irvington St., Back Bay, Boston.

VIOLIN...
TEACHER AND SOLOIST.
Miss Marian Ogden commences teaching Monday, September 17th. Terms moderate. Special attention given to children and beginners. Ensemble practice given as soon as sufficiently advanced. Small orchestra furnished for concerts, receptions, musicals, etc. Address 24 Newton Street, Faneuil, 50 3m.

MISS C. E. MARSH,
Pianoforte Teacher,
Will resume lessons October 1st, 1894.
RESIDENCE ALPINE ST., WEST NEWTON.

S. RAHAME NOBBS,
Graduate N. E. Conservatory of Music, resumes teaching on the 15th of September. Terms, Box 255, Newtonville. 50 2c

Private Preparation for College and the Institute of Technology. Mr. W. N. Kays will receive for private instruction in the studies requisite for admittance to College and the Institute of Technology, pupils of either sex, singly or in classes of 5 each. Mr. Kays has had a long and very successful experience in this profession and will furnish references if application is made to No. 158 Dartmouth Street, Boston, Mass.

FREDRIC A. METCALF,
(Of the faculty of The Emerson College of Oratory) Private or class instruction in the studies requisite for admittance to College and the Institute of Technology, pupils of either sex, singly or in classes of 5 each. Mr. Kays has had a long and very successful experience in this profession and will furnish references if application is made to No. 158 Dartmouth Street, Boston, Mass.

ELOCUTION, VOICE & PHYSICAL CULTURE
PUBLIC RECITALS.
BOSTON: Emerson College of Oratory, Cor. Tremont and Berkeley Streets.
RESIDENCE: Webster Park, West Newton.

MRS. CARLYLE PETERSILEA,
The Pianoforte.
62 BOYLSTON STREET, - BOSTON, MASS.

MISS GRACE G. DAVIS,
Teacher of Singing.
Residence, 64 St. James Ave., Boston.

MISS EMMA DEXTER ELLIS,
Pianoforte and Harmony.
Hoffman House, Boston.
At Newton Centre on Tuesdays and Fridays.

HARRY BROOKS DAY,
Piano Forte, Organ, Harmony, COUN- TERPOINT AND COMPOSITION.
Hotel Hunnewell, - Newton, Mass.

Dressmakers.
MISS FRAZIER,
FIRST CLASS DRESSMAKER.
House formerly occupied by Mrs. Doane.
DAVIS STREET, WEST NEWTON.
P. O. Box 412. 43

S. T. TAYLOR SYSTEM--
Dresscutting.
Thorough instruction given; first class dress-making; cutting and basting a specialty. The E. A. R. skirt-chart, $2.50.
MADAM IRVING,
74 Boylston St., Boston, Mass.

DRESSES . .
Made from Six to Ten Dollars.
Bargains cut for Seventy-Five Cents. Work Warranted. Apply at once. DRESSMAKER, 398 Centre Street.

NEWTON.
DRESSMAKING
Evening and Street Costumes in Latest Designs.
Moderate Prices.
S. A. MERRITT, 33 PARSONS STREET, NEWTONVILLE.
Waltham & Newton electric cars pass the street.

MRS. T. E. GAMMONS,
Dressmaker.
Evening and Street Costumes in Latest Designs. Moderate Prices.
CHESTNUT STREET, - W. NEWTON.
Between Washington St. and Depot. 5-17

MISS ALICE D. JONES,
Dress and Cloak Making.
Methodist Building, Waltham.

WALTER THORPE, Newton Centre,
Agent of the GRAPHIC, and receives subscriptions and makes collections for it. He also makes terms for advertising, handles all other kinds of printing. Also, Real Estate to sell and to rent, and insurance against fire in the best English and American companies.

NEWTON CENTRE.

—Ivers & Pond pianos, Farley, Newton.
—John Forsyth is in Nova Scotia.
—William Burns has returned from Europe.
—Capt. Joseph E. Cousens is entertaining his brother.
—Mr. Arthur W. Washburn spent a few days at his home in Halifax this week.
—Mr. Henry N. Clarke and family have re-opened their home on Gibbs street.
—Mr. Bertrand E. Taylor and family of Beacon street have returned home.
—Mrs. S. L. Pratt of Chase street is visiting friends in Easton.
—Mr. Jones and family of Dorchester have taken a house on Parker street.
—Mrs. Eugene W. Pratt of Willow street is visiting friends in Easton.
—Mr. Lowell and family of Ridge avenue have taken a house in Boston for the winter.
—Mr. E. N. Sanderson and family of Norwood avenue have returned from New York.

—Mrs. Jane E. Porter and family have returned from Station street to New York where Miss Porter is attending school.
—Mrs. A. W. Snow, Pleasant street, has removed from Orleans and Martha's Vineyard.
—Mr. H. S. Langdon and family of Lake avenue have returned from Camp Bemis, Me.
—Mr. P. H. Butler and family of Roxbury have taken Mr. Hunter's house on Crystal street.
—Mrs. George Capron and family have moved into the house formerly occupied by Mrs. Porter, Station street.

—Mr. Oliver J. Hall and family have moved into Mr. Farnham's house, Beacon street.
—Mrs. C. S. Blake, who has been occupying Mr. Brooks' house, Lake avenue, has returned to Boston for the winter season.
—Mr. Walter C. Brooks and family have returned from their summer home at Pocasset to their Lake avenue residence.
—Rev. Theodore J. Holmes will preach in the Congregational church, Sunday,
Sept. 23, morning and evening.

—Rev. William I. Haven of Brookline has an interesting article upon Dr. James Strong in the Zion's Herald of this week.
—Mrs. Dr. Blake and family of Laurel street left on Monday for Germany where they expect to remain for about two years.
—Mrs. H. E. Deal and children have returned from a visit of several weeks at New Glasgow, N. S.

—Mr. G. F. D. Paine and family, who have been occupying Mr. Patisfer's house on Beacon street, returned Wednesday to their Boston home for the winter.
—Rev. and Mrs. Manuel C. Marin, formerly of this place, residing at Barcelona, Spain, have an addition to their family in the birth of a daughter.

—A poem composed by Rev. Dr. Smith was sung Monday at the dedication exercises attending the laying of the corner stone of the New Tremont Temple.
—Mr. William H. Pulsifer and family have returned to their Beacon street home after a delightful season spent at their summer retreat at Nonquit, Buzzard's Bay.

—The subject for the Christian Endeavor meeting at the First church Sunday evening is, "Which of Christ's teachings seems to you most wonderful." Mark 1, 22; Isa.
9, 6. All are invited.

—The Parker street residents are quite elated this week of electric street lights and it is even said that so great was the improvement that some sleepless nights have been passed.

—There are letters at the post office for Annie Chisholm, care Mrs. J. Howley,
William E. Clarke, Hugh McGrady, John
Ryan, Mrs. Sarah H. Sanderson, E. A.
Watson, Ward street.

—At the Unitarian society Sept. 23, services at 10.30. Sermon, "The Word of the Spirit to the churches." Sunday school at 12. Classes for all ages. New lessons on the life of Jesus. A cordial welcome to all.

—An adjourned meeting of those interested in social entertainment will be held at the parlors of the Unitarian church, Friday, Sept. 28, at 7.30. A society will be provided to carry on this work. A general invitation is cordially extended.

—Messrs. C. C. Patten and F. O. Swallow have returned from their trip to Nova Scotia, having traveled over 1,350 miles but 120 miles being by water, including trips along the south coast from Yarmouth to Halifax and through the Basin of Minas and Gulf of Fundy, from Hautport to St. John.

—Rev. Samuel F. Smith, D. D., author of "My Country 'tis of Thee," was married sixty years ago Sunday. The anniversary was quietly passed, the doctor and Mrs.
Smith not wishing to have any special observance of the occasion. Congratulatory letters and gifts were sent, among them a letter and poem from Horatio King, which is given in full elsewhere.

—Old acquaintances must take a parting look at the big willow tree on Centre street on line of the boulevard for it will soon be a thing of the past. The tree is almost a curiosity. Seldom is a willow seen of such immense proportions, in girth and diameter of trunk and spread of branches. But the tree stands in the march of progress and what is worse, it is false hearted and it is doomed, so good-bye to the big old tree!

—The artistic arrangement of the flower pots in one of the windows of C. O. Tucker & Co. is receiving a good deal of admiration from those who have noticed it. Although an exhibit of such prosaic material, there is an entire absence of stiffness or of any set design in arrangement, and then to add to the effect, a handsome blooming salvia plant occupies the centre and a begonia and a few other varieties are arranged a little in the background, with a bunch of cat-o-nine-tails. It is a window of which Mr. George Livermore may well be proud.

—The funeral of Mr. John H. Sanborn took place at 1.30 o'clock Sunday afternoon from his late home on Chase street. There was a very large attendance of relatives and friends and business associates of the deceased, the large house being taxed to its utmost capacity. The services were very impressive. The opening prayer and scripture reading by Rev. Richard Montague,
D. D., pastor of the First Baptist church, was followed by appropriate remarks by Rev. Dr. Furber, pastor emeritus of the First Congregational church, and by Rev.
Edward Brailsford of New York, who was formerly Mr. Sanborn's pastor at the Baptist church. During the service two favorite hymns with the deceased, "Jesus Lover of My Soul," and "Rock of Ages" were beautifully rendered by the mixed quartet from the Baptist church. There was a simple but very effective display of flowers. The remains were taken to the Newton cemetery for interment, where services at the grave were conducted by Dr. Alvah Hovey. The officiating bearers were brothers of Mr. Sanborn, as follows:
Rev. Russell H. Conwell of Philadelphia,
George O. Sanborn of New York, Edwin

L. Sanborn of Boston and Charles F. Sanborn of Maplewood, Me.

—At the Baptist church Sunday the pastor, Dr. Montague, will preach morning and evening.

—Tutoring done at very reasonable rates.
J. W. Thorne at Mrs. Barker's, 32 Pelham
street.

—Mr. Burke, of the firm of Burke &
Beliss, will occupy the rear house on the
Dr. Bodge estate.

—Some good gravel on the sidewalk on the north side of Pelham street, near Centre street, would be an improvement.

—Aban, Trowbridge & Co. have customers wanting to buy and hire houses at Newton Centre and Newton Highlands. Send them descriptions of yours at once.

—An unrented house on Parker street, belonging to Mrs. L. C. Wade, was occupied over night recently. There is a regular congregation of young fellows in this vicinity nightly to the annoyance of residents living there.

—Mr. George F. Wales of this place, who has been out in Colorado for two years now, has lost none of his old time interest in tennis. He used to be one of the champion players at Amherst and has just added to his past laurels by capturing Colorado state championship in doubles.
Wales and Gamble of Detroit played for the Boulder State University against representatives from the Denver University and won after some brilliant playing.

—The golden wedding anniversary of
Mr. and Mrs. Daniel F. Kidder of Hemen-way street was observed in a very pleasant manner on Tuesday Sept. 18th. It took the form of a reception between the hours of four and eight o'clock. The decorations were simple but effective, flowering plants being tastefully arranged about the rooms, the chandeliers entwined with vines and the mantels banked with golden rods. The guests were received in a front room by
Mr. and Mrs. D. T. Kidder, assisted by Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Harding, and during the hours of the reception the rooms were thronged with guests from Boston, Somerville, Brookline, Cambridge, Charlestown and the Newtons. The gifts were numerous and valuable, including a purse of gold dollars and also a magnificent basket of roses from Mrs. George H.
Rogers and Mrs. Johnson of Gloucester.

—Mr. Kidder was born in Charlestown (now Somerville), June 7, 1819, and for 30 years was wharfman at Rowe's wharf, Boston, retiring from active business some years ago. Mrs. Kidder is only two years younger and is a native of Princeton, a daughter of Mrs. Camilla Maynard. They were married in Bethel, Sullivan Co., New York, Sept. 18, 1844, by Rev. William B. Reeve a brother-in-law of Mrs. Kidder. After their marriage they lived in Cambridge for nineteen years and for the past thirteen years have been residents of this village.

Their children are Mr. D. T. Kidder, Jr., and Mrs. D. B. Harding, this city; Mr. R.
Kidder and W. M. Kidder of Boston, all of whom were present at the anniversary.
Mrs. Mary Lovett of Wollaston Heights, who was one of the witnesses at their wedding fifty years ago, was also present, with her husband. Among others who attended were Hon. John C. Tenny, Arthur
Kidder, Miss Mary Kidder, Mrs. Allen,
Miss Tuttle, Rev. Dr. Furber, D. J. L.
Kidder, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Rand,
Mrs. Swain, Mr. and Mrs. George S. Rice of this place. Mr. and Mrs. Kidder celebrated their silver anniversary in 1869.
An interesting coincidence in the fact that Mr. and Mrs. Horace Cousens, who reside next to Mr. and Mrs. Kidder, celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary
only one and one half years ago and Dr.
Furber, one of the guests, also celebrated his 50th anniversary about four years ago.

NEWTON HIGHLANDS.

—Old shoes made new in one day at Barrows.
—Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Penney of Bowdoin street, are enjoying a trip to the mountains.

—Mr. Ryder of Floral avenue has arrived home.

—Mrs. W. E. Parker and child have gone to the mountains.

—Mrs. A. H. Greenwood has been quite ill for several days, but is now improving.

—Mr. G. F. Higgins has sold one of his houses on Circuit avenue near Eliot station.
—Services at St. Paul's next Sunday at 9.45, 10.45 and 7. The rector will officiate.

—Mr. McAdams now occupies his fine new house just completed on Centre street and Boylston road.

—The next meeting of the Chautauqua
Circle, will be on Monday, at the home of Mrs. Bryant.
—Mrs. H. B. Ewing and son, Charles H.
Ewing have returned from a two weeks stay at Berkeley.

—The inside finishing of the Methodist church edifice is now being pushed forward and the grounds are being graded.

—The Monday club will hold their annual business meeting, Sept. 24th, at 2.30 p. m., at the residence of Mrs. Gath.
—Mr. G. D. Atkins and family, who have occupied their cottage at Eastbury during the summer, have now returned.

—Mr. J. M. Knight and family, who have spent the summer at Heron Island, on the Maine coast, are at home again.

—Mr. H. C. Robinson, who has been very ill with pneumonia, is now said to be improving.

—Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Silsby are at home again after an absence of many weeks.

—We hear that Mr. P. S. Brickett has leased the house on Hyde street, belonging to Mrs. Pottle, and will soon commence housekeeping.

—Mr. C. M. Seander, who has occupied the house on Floral avenue, belonging to Mrs. J. F. C. Hyde, for the past year, has removed to Needham.

—The Congregational Sewing Circle held its first fall meeting at the chapel on Wednesday for the purpose of officers and planning for the work of the year. The officers chosen were president, Mrs. S. C. Cobb; vice president, Mrs. J. E. Hill; sec., Mrs.
J. F. C. Hyde; treas., Mrs. D. W. Eagles;
directresses, Mrs. H. B. Ewing, Mrs. L.
Gath, Mrs. Silsby, Mrs. Moulton, Mrs.
McIntire. Nine barrels of clothing, books, etc., were sent off last year, where they would do the most good. The work this year will be for the wives of home missionaries.

—Mr. John H. Smith, agent of Adams Express Co., who has been confined to his home by severe illness for several weeks, is now much better.

—Last Tuesday after the regular meeting of the Boys' Club the members were entertained by Mr. James F. Burns of Newton-ville, the well-known club swinger. Mr.
Burns won the admiration of the boys not only by the dexterity with which he used the clubs but also by his splendid physique.

—The Republican caucus for the election of delegates to the various conventions was announced on the calls, was held in Stevens hall on Tuesday evening, and was well attended by voters from the Upper Falls.
The list of delegates elected may be found in another column. Mr. S. W. Jones resigned his place on the ward and city committee, and Mr. C. S. Luitwieler was elected.

—Miss Grace Vaughan Hall has been appointed director of the vocal and physical culture department in the South Boston
School of Arts.

NEWTON UPPER FALLS.

—Mr. John A. Gould is confined to the house by malaria.

—Mr. Richard McDonald is ill with malaria.

—Miss Jennie Hill is recovering from a malaria attack.

—Rev. H. S. Davis and family of Boylston street have removed to Rutland, Vt.

—Mr. Winter and family of Needham have moved into a house on Summer street.

—Mr. Eugene Fanning has returned from a business trip to New York State.

—Fruit thieves have begun to make their appearance.

—Mr. Dwyer has opened a new shop opposite St. Mary's church.

—W. H. Kerrigan is driving a fast pace purchased this week.

—Messrs. Smith and Ford have secured positions with the Waltham foot ball team.

—William Holland from England is the new clerk at John Procter's.

—Ex-Alderman Geo. Pettie is confined to the house with malaria.

—Prof. Wm. M. Pettie of Ann Arbor,
Michigan, is visiting his brother, ex-Alderman
George Pettie.

—The masons expect to commence on the brick work of the new shop at the Pettie Machine Works, next Monday.

—Miss Kittie Leary, daughter of Postmaster Leary of Waltham, is the guest of her aunt, Miss Nellie Rooney.

—Ernest Young expects to join the Boston Association football team as goal tender, negotiations now pending.

—Miss Abbie Barrows, clerk for William Coburn, is spending her vacation in Connecticut.

—Mr. Amos L. Hale is making extensive alterations and improvements in his residence on Oak street.

—Mrs. William Washington, who has been quite seriously ill with rheumatism, was taken to the Newton Hospital this week.

—Mr. John Warren of Connecticut is visiting friends in town. He was formerly a well known resident of this vicinity.

—Mr. Fartherley, who has been occupying the Knapp house, has taken the silk mill boarding house and will conduct the same for the silk mill help.

—Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Johnson of High street are enjoying a two weeks' carriage drive through the western part of the state. They will visit friends at Worcester, Holyoke and Springfield.

—Agent John Smith of the Adams Express Co. has been very seriously ill from the effects of a strain caused by lifting.
He submitted to an operation the first of the week and is much improved.

—Mr. Frank T. Albrecht, who has been conducting the repair shop at Scamp's square has taken the shop owned by Mr.
John Thomason and is conducting that in addition to his former place of business.

—One box of sardines, one pound of soda crackers, one pint of peanuts and one-half dozen bananas went up the river on a day's boating trip recently with three well known citizens. The citizens came back alone.

—Mr. Frank Procter has severed his connection with the market conducted by John Procter and started in business for himself this week, driving a butcher cart.
Frank is very popular and the best wishes of many friends go with him.

WABAN.

—Mrs. Fisk, a former resident of Waban, sails from New York, by the French line,
for Paris, to finish her musical studies.

—Miss Gertrude Smith returned from a visit at Lancaster, and leaves again this week for New York.

—Mr. Levi Flint has rented his house on Windsor road to Mr. Willis, who has been occupying the Robinson house during the summer months.

—Mr. C. V. Campbell has bought a tract of land on Neholm road, adjoining the house lot, and will erect a stable, during the winter.

—Mrs. E. A. Phelps has been spending a few days in Cambridge, attending her mother, Mrs. Dow, who has been seriously ill.

While in Chicago, Mr. Charles L. Kahler, a prominent shoe merchant of Des Moines, Iowa, had quite a serious temper of it. He took such a severe cold that he could hardly talk or navigate, but the prompt use of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy cured him of his cold so quickly that others at the hotel who had bad colds followed his example and half a dozen persons originated from the best cough drug store. They were profuse in their thanks to Mr. Kahler for telling them how to cure a bad cold so quickly.
For sale by A. Hudson, Newton; E. W.
Keyes, Abundant; B. B. Buck, Newton
Centre; E. F. Partridge, Newtonville; B.
Billings, Newton Upper Falls.

"The Paradise of Tips," as we are told by a writer in The Kleine Zeitung, is Carlsbad. His estimate is that not less than a million marks must be paid during the season in the questionable shape of "voluntary" gifts or gratuities to waiters and others, which do not appear in any bill. Everybody who does any service in Carlsbad looks for his or her "trinkgeld" before you depart. The waiter gets upon an average from 6 to 10 florins (12 shillings to £1). The maid who serves you with water at the Brunnen expects and mostly receives 3 florins, the postman gets a florin, and there are various other male and female benefactors to whom you pay what you please.

A Valuable Play Toy.
Miss Olive Schreiner recently told the following story: She and her brothers and sisters had as one of their play-things a bright stone that they called the candle stone. It was about the size of a walnut and would flash in a bright and singular way when held to the light. Not until she had quite grown up and the candle stone had been lost for years did any of them realize that it was a diamond of doubtless immense value. The Kimberley mines were in the unknown future, but this stone had perhaps been washed down by some torrent or brought by other chance from that region.

San Diego is the oldest city in California, and the ruins of the mission of 1769 are still preserved.
If you do not want gray hairs, use Hall's Verdant Scallion Hair Renewer.

TRAGEDIES ON TOMBSTONES.
English Churchyards and Their Deeply
Graven Accusations of Murder.

In the churchyards of Britain several tombstones exist with the accusations of murder deeply engraved upon them.
A stone over the grave of three children in Merrington (Durham) churchyard bears the following inscription:

Sleeping we were slain,
And here we sleep till we must rise again.

In Sandridge churchyard, Surrey, on the tombstone of a custom house officer who was shot in an encounter with smugglers is the following:

Thou shalt do no murder, nor shalt thou steal
Are the commands Jehovah did reveal.
But thou, O wretch, without fear or dread
Of thy tremendous Maker, shot me dead.

On a stone in Cadoxton churchyard, Glamorganshire, is inscribed the most fearful accusation of murder to be found on any tomb in Great Britain:

"TO RECORD MURDER.

"This stone was erected over the body of Margaret Williams, aged 26, living in service in this parish, who was found dead with marks of violence upon her in a ditch on a marsh below this churchyard on the morning of Sunday, the 14th July, 1822.

"Although the savage murderer escaped for a season the detection of man, yet God hath set his mark upon him either for time or eternity, and the cry of blood will assuredly pursue him to certain and terrible but righteous judgment."

A tombstone stood in Dulverton churchyard a few years ago on which was inscribed:

Poisoned by the doctor, neglected by the nurse,
The brother robbed the widow, which made the matter worse.

An accusation of murder appears on the tomb of Edwin, the Irish comedian, who was buried in St. Werburgh's churchyard, Dublin, and also on tombs to be found in Acton churchyard, Gloucestershire; Hoo, near Rochester; Little Stukeley, and Mytton, near Clitheroe, Lancashire.—London Tit-Bits.

Butter and Flour.

A barrel of Pride of Newton Flour
and a tub of our best Butter makes a good successful combination and one that we guarantee to suit.

C. O. Tucker & Co.,

Newton, Newton Centre.

Telephone Connection.

AT AUCTION!

By McFarlane, Phillips & Co., Auctioneers and Appraisers, 14 Milk St., Boston.

Tuesday, Sept. 25, '94,

at 10.30 A. M., the entire contents of Private Residence and Stable of Mr. J. D. Hunt on Grove

Consisting of: Elegant Herich Upright Pianoforte Mahogany Case, Hamilton Vocalion Organ in fine order, Oak and White Enamel Chamber Sets, W. E. Iron Beds, W. E. Bureaus, Commodes, Tables, Hair Mattresses, W. W. Springs, Bedding, Oak Shaving Stands, Hook Cases, China
Chests, Music Cabinets, Oak Sideboard, Extension
Table and Dining Chairs, Morris Chairs in Leather and Corduroy, Rattan Chairs and Kockers, Oil Paintings, Rugs, Fine Velvet, Brussels and Tapestry Carpets, Elegant Japanese
Vases and Kiosks, Tea Sets and other novelties,
Austrian and French Bric-a-Brac, etc., Refrigerator,
Crockery, Kitchen Utensils, etc.

Also the contents of Greenhouse.

The goods are all in fine condition and will positively be sold as the owner is about to remove to New York.

On exhibition Monday.

CLEARING OUT SALE!

Horse Blankets and Whips at Half Price.

Near the Boston Depot.

R. KETZ HARDWARE STORE,
99 KNEELAND STREET, BOSTON.

PIANOS and all Musical Instruments

can be more advantageously bought, better selections, lower prices and larger varieties from which to select, by one who is not connected with a one maker, but selects from all. Call or write circulars to "An Expert Professional Buyer"
Pianos and all Musical Instruments, 1, H. ODE L.
10 Tremont Street, Boston. Hours 9 to 5.

WALL STREET OPERATIONS

can be successfully carried on by following our

Daily Market Letter and Pamphlet on Speculation.
Mailed free on application. Highest references.

WEINMAN & CO.,
41 Broadway, New York, N. Y.
44 131

WILLIAM E. DOYLE,
43 Tremont St., Boston.
Conservatories: 1509 Cambridge Street,
Cambridge, Mass.

FLORIST.

Birthplace of Franklin, Opposite Old South Church.

Walter C. Brooks & Co.

Importing Tailors.

15 Milk Street, Boston, Mass.

W. C. BROOKS, Residence, N. Centre.

Fine Woolens at Moderate Prices.

PEARMAN & BROOKS Members of.....
Boston Stock Exchange.

Stock and Bond Brokers.

Orders by Mail Promptly Executed. Good Bonds and Mortgages on hand
Correspondence Solicited. for immediate delivery.

Stock Exchange Building, 53 State St., Boston.

SUMNER B. PEARMAN. L. LORING BROOKS.

Beautiful Melodies for Violin and Piano

Twenty-five Cents!!!

WALTZ-Kathleen O'Connor.
"Daisy Bell."
"Tabasco."
"The Little Maid in Pink."
"Won't You Be My Sweetheart?"

All Popular and Perfect Gems.
Price 25 cts. each, or the five Pieces for $1.00!!

JEAN WHITE, Publisher.
326 Washington Street, Boston, Mass. 32 26

NEW HAY AND GRAIN STORE
At Newton Centre.
Hay and All Kinds of Grain, Gluten, Cotton-Seed, Etc.

BURKE & BELESS,
Old Post Office

THE NEWTON GRAPHIC.

VOL. XXII.—NO. 52.

NEWTON, MASS., FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 28, 1894.

TERMS—$2.00 A YEAR.

THE First National Bank of W. Newton.

J. H. NICKERSON, President. A. E. MITCHELL, Vice-President.
EDWARD P. HATCH, Cashier.

CAPITAL $100,000.

SURPLUS $10,000.

We offer every facility to our depositors for the transaction of their business, consistent with safe banking methods, welcome small depositors, and furnish check books free to all.

SAFE DEPOSIT BOXES TO RENT FOR $5 PER ANNUM.

North Packing & Provision Co.

Were Given the Only Awards to New England Packers.

MEDALS AND DIPLOMAS

—AT—
WORLD'S FAIR, CHICAGO.

Highest Award for Pure Leaf Lard, Hams, Bacon, Dry Satted and Pickled Meats, Barrel Pork, Pure Lard, Sausages.

TRADE MARK.

—TRY THEM—
NORTH STAR BRAND

TRADE MARK.

Pure Leaf Lard, Hams, Breakfast Bacon, Star Sausage.

—SURE TO PLEASE YOU—

TAKE NO OTHER.

Seashore, Yachting, Camping and Vacation
Requirements.

Choicest Table Wines and Unadulterated Liquors.

CHAS. L. RICHARDSON & CO.,
Staple and Fancy Groceries,
166 LINCOLN STREET, - BOSTON, MASS.

—CIGARS—

Butter is very low
just at present.

Wholesale and Retail.

HURCHILL AND BEAN
Tailors
503 Washington Street,
BOSTON.
FINE DRESS SUITS A SPECIALTY.

CALL UP CENTRAL

AND THEY WILL CONNECT YOU WITH 273-3.

ASHLEY & DOANE.

GARDEN CITY MARKET.

MILLINERY OPENING.

Wednesday, Thursday and Friday,

October 3, 4 and 5, 1894.

Ladies of the Newtons are cordially invited to inspect the new styles in trimmed hats, bonnets and millinery novelties.

MRS. E. A. SMITH,

202 Moody Street, Opposite Walnut Street,
Waltham.

WALTHAM
Employment Bureau,
Main St., opp. Post Office.

ROOM THREE. - UP STAIRS.

JOHN B. SHEERN,

Over L. Riley & Co., Dry Goods Store.

First class domestic help furnished at short notice.

Refrigerators

—AND—

Baby Carriages

—AT—

Bent's Furniture Rooms,

64 Main St., Waterdown.

L. H. CRANITCH,
House, Sign, and Ornamental
PAINTER.

Paper Hangings in great variety and work promptly done.

Walnut St., - Newtonville.
2nd door from Central Block.

BERKELEY - SCHOOL,

Boylston, cor. Berkeley St., Boston.

Co-educational. Certificate of the school received at Smith, Wiley, Etc. Special students fitted for Institute, Harvard and Boston University, Law and Medical schools, etc. Catalogues mailed. 51 TAYLOR, DENNETT & HAGER.

ATWOOD'S MARKET.
HEADQUARTERS FOR

Fine Fruit,

Vegetables,

The Choicest

Fish and Meats.

Mr. Atwood's long experience gives him unusual facilities for securing the best things in the market.

371 CENTRE ST., NEWTON.

Telephone 122-2.

COPLEY SQ. SCHOOL.

Katherine Frances Barnard, Principal.

MUSIC, LANGUAGES, ELOCUTION AND ART.

Applications for admission may be made from 10 A. M. to 3 P. M. Fall term begins October 1st. Prospects mailed upon request. 51 3M

Pierce Building, Copley Sp., Boston.

Members of the Master Builders' Association, 166 Devonshire Street.

(Established 1836.) (Incorporated 1894.) (Connected by Telephone.)

JOHN FARQUHAR'S SONS,

INCORPORATED.

Roofers, Metal Workers,

State, Copper, Tin, Tile, and Composition Roofing. Galvanized

Iron Work. Dealers in all

Roofing Materials.

20 and 22 East Street, Boston.

Special attention given to Repairs of all kinds of Roofing.

Samuel Farquhar, Pres.; David Farquhar, Secy and Treas.; Joseph Farquhar, Supt.; Rollin Farquhar, Frank C. Farquhar, Directors.

NEWTON.

—Pianos, Farley, 433 Washington St., N.

—Mrs. Wiley Edmonds of Centre street has returned from Portland.

—Miss Myra J. Stone has gone to Southport, Conn., for the winter.

—Mr. Harry L. Mason of Hubbard's drug store is ill with malarial fever.

—Miss Alice Bassett of Elmwood street has returned from Princeton, N. H.

—Mr. Howard B. Coffin has been in Saratoga this week attending the Unitarian convention.

—Miss Minnie L. Coldridge of Nonantum street entered Wellesley as a special student this week.

—Capt. and Mrs. Vail returned Sunday from their wedding tour and will reside on Maple Circle.

—Ex-Mayor Hibbard and family return this week from their summer home at Penzance.

—Mr. A. L. Howard of the Howard Ice Co. has gone to the Mts. for a rest of several weeks.

—Mr. A. Lawrence Edmonds of Centre street returned this week from a pleasure trip to New Hampshire.

—Mr. F. G. Davis and family of Pembroke street returned this week from their summer home at Hull.

—Mrs. F. J. Locke of Maple avenue returned this week from North Brookfield where she has been visiting friends.

—Miss Robbins of the Juvenile is in New York attending the millinery openings and selecting goods for the fall trade.

—The theme of (Rev. Mr. Bronson's sermon at the Methodist church on Sunday morning will be "The face of Jesus Christ."

—Clifton Mason is attending the Horticultural school in Waltham, which is said to be the best school in the country for training practical watchmakers.

—The exhibition of embroidery at Hotel Hunnewell on Tuesday attracted a large number of ladies, and many new and beautiful designs were shown, and a large number sold.

—The Newton Camera Club is contemplating an exhibition of the work of amateurs with the camera in which other clubs will be invited to participate. The exhibition will probably be held in November.

—Miss Burton, being an experienced dressmaker, is prepared to resume work at the homes of her patrons (morning meals not included). Address Miss Annie Burton, 98 Pembroke street, Boston.

—The Ladies' Missionary meeting of Grace church held their annual meeting at 2:30 p. m. Thursday. At 3:30 they receive the officers of neighboring branches of the Woman's Auxiliary and of the general society.

—Mrs. Elizabeth Gowdy Baker is soon to reopen her studio for the winter and as she can give instruction in not only a limited number of pupils, a place in her class should be secured (by mail) at once. Mrs. Baker has painted several portraits, in the west, this summer.

—Music in Grace church Sunday night: Processional, "O twas a joyful sound," Wood Magnificat, "Nunc Dimittis," Wood Anthem, "The Lord is my Shepherd," Wareing Recessional, "Flight the good light," Wood All seats free.

—Several horses and colts belonging to W. B. Whitier were sold at Assigne's sale at Daniels' stables, yesterday afternoon, E. C. Scates being the auctioneer. A brown mare 7 years old brought $80, a 3-year-old colt $50, a 2-year-old $30, and a yearling $10. The others sold at about the same rate.

—Miss Caroline A. Wolf, formerly leading soprano of the Brookline Methodist church, has been engaged as the soprano of the Eliot church quartet, which consists of Mrs. Mills of Boston, contralto, W. H. Dunham, professor of voice at the New England Conservatory of Music, tenor; Mr. Ireland of Boston, basso.

—Music in Eliot church Sunday evening: Organ Prelude, Gounod Anthem, "My soul truly waiteth still," Gounod Anthem, "O Lord correct me," Handel Quartet, "Fugate," Handel Anthem, "From St. Cecilia Mass," Gounod Organ postlude, Widor

—Hon. Gorham D. Gilman, who has just returned from a trip to the Hawaiian Islands, had a very interesting interview in Tuesday's Boston Herald on the results of his observations. He has been appointed consul general for New England of the new republic.

—The proposed new boulevard which has created so much talk will only be 70 feet wide from Church to Elmwood street, and the plan now is to get the extra land by taking the sidewalk off from in front of Farlow Park. Mr. Howland says there is very little opposition and that instead of being very expensive, the new avenue would not cost over $50,000.

—A Neighborhood Missionary meeting will be held in Grace church next Thursday evening. Seats will be free to all. The following will be the addresses: Dr. Abbott, on "Missions in the West," Mr. Brown, on "Missions in the East," Mr. Ferguson, on "Medical Missions," Dr. Dowling, on "The World for Christ." The ability of the speakers and the topics on which they speak promise an unusually interesting occasion.

—Dept. Commander Wilfred A. Wetherbee and family have removed from this city, and will reside at 633 Tremont street, Boston. Mr. Wetherbee's household effects here were disposed of this week. Wherever he goes, Newton people will always continue their interest in Mr. Wetherbee and he will always retain pleasant memories of his native place, and in a way be identified with its history past and future.

—The church congress is to meet in Boston, Nov. 13th and 14th in Trinity church and Music Hall. The preliminary program has just been issued. There will be seven different topics and over forty appointed speakers. Some Newton people are actively identified with the congress. Dr. Shinn is chairman of the general committee, Marcus Morton, Esq., is secretary of the committee on hospitality. Mr. H. B. Day is a member of the committee on music, Mr. G. S. Bullens on the finance committee and Hon. John A. Fenn on the committee on hospitality.

—The attempt of W. D. Peck and F. G. Phelps of the Garden City Wheelmen, to make a run of 200 miles in 24 hours on Sunday was most successful. They started from Newton at 2 a. m., and the route was to Providence and return for the first century. Mr. Peck's rear tire troubled him badly, and being unable to secure another wheel, he dropped out at the end of the 100 mile run. On their return to Newton from Providence, Mr. Phelps was joined by Capt. Stanley of the Wheelmen who accompanied him in the second century run to Newburyport and return. When one and one-half miles beyond Lynn, Mr. Phelps punctured his rear tire, occasioning a delay. In coming back they rode against a strong head wind which tried the strength and endurance of both severely. They arrived in Newton at 12:30 o'clock, Mr. Phelps making the 200 miles in 22 1/2 hours, including delays.

—W. G. Tripp and family have returned from Cottage City.

—Mr. F. W. Ferguson of Newtonville avenue has removed to Allston.

—Mrs. L. L. Grant of Nonantum street has returned from Nantasket.

—Mrs. H. G. Vaughan returned this week from an extended European tour.

—Mr. H. McLane and family have returned from Hull.

—Mr. and Mrs. George F. Meacham have returned from Rutland.

—Col. A. M. Ferris and family and Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Ferris have returned from Woods Hill.

—A. W. Farr, of the GRAPHIC Staff is enjoying a week's vacation at his home in Lunenburg, Vt.

—J. Henry Bacon has just received all the latest Butterick patterns for fall and winter.

—The latest number of Delineator just received at J. Henry Bacon's.

—Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Harris of Newtonville avenue, have returned from North Woodstock, N. H.

—Miss M. L. Snyder has given up her position in Thayer's store and returned to her home in Lower Bedford, Quebec.

—Col. U. A. Woodbury, governor-elect of Vermont, is the guest of his daughter, Mrs. J. Walter May, Jewett street.

—Dr. S. F. Chase of Newtonville has removed his dental office to the new brick block, corner of Walnut and Washington streets.

—Mrs. E. C. Bigelow has returned from Moskauke, Brezzy Point, N. H. The residence of Mr. and Mrs. Bigelow on Jefferson street has undergone alterations and improvements during the past few weeks.

—Mrs. Susan Nutting of Washington street observed her 75th birthday Monday evening and entertained quite a company of friends. Four generations were represented in the gathering. The hostess is yet bright and active. She was the recipient of several useful and valuable presents.

—The Immanuel Baptist church will begin its Sunday evening meetings hereafter, or rather notice, at 7 p. m., and the Young People's meeting at 6:30 will be discontinued. The young people will have special charge of the meeting at 7 for the first half hour. A fifteen minute praise service will follow and a short general service, sometimes with ten minute sermon, will close the evening. A cordial invitation is given to the public to attend these meetings.

—Aban, Trowbridge & Co. have sold the handsome new house, 21 Fairview street, Huntington Hill, just completed by Mr. Trowbridge, to Mr. Bradford L. Crocker, Jr. of this city, who has already taken possession. They have sold also the fine building on the N. E. corner of Washington and Fairview streets, 12,144 feet to Mr. Mitchell Wing of Church street. Also the fine building lot N. E. corner Washington and Burton streets to a Boston gentleman, who will build a residence for himself in the spring. They have rented the Galland house, No. 4 Church street to Mr. E. C. Appleton of Haverhill, also the Brackett house, 18 Baldwin street, to Mr. F. H. Pierce of Boston.

—Mr. Edward F. Barnes has negotiated a sale of the estate of O. F. Clark, comprising a new house and 7100 sq. ft. of land situated on south side of Turner street to George Robinson of West Newton, who will immediately occupy the same; also a lot of land containing 18,500 sq. ft. owned by A. M. Small situated on the west side of Chapel street to a purchaser, who will at once build a handsome double dwelling house on the same. Has also made a lease of the house and stable of Mr. Chas. J. Brown on south side of Nonantum street to M. C. Greaver of Boston, and the estate of A. S. Arens, No. 37 Cambridge street to Mrs. Mary A. Dane of Watertown.

—An exciting runaway took place Sunday on North Main street. A well known local jeweler, who is so deformed as to be unable to get about except by the help of crutches, was driving a spirited horse when the animal became frightened and ran. Mr. Newton made heroic efforts to regain control of the animal, but was unsuccessful, and in turning the sharp corner into Centre street the carriage struck a telephone pole and overturned, throwing Mr. Newton out upon the concrete sidewalk. His escape from serious injury was remarkable under the circumstances, and, except for a severe shaking up and a few bruises, he is all right.

—David S. Herrick was ordained to the ministry in the Eliot church, Tuesday, Rev. D. S. Furber of Newton Centre presided. The churches of the Suffolk west conference represented were: First church, Newton; Mr. Vernon, and Union churches, Boston; and the evangelical churches of the Newtons and Brookline. The public exercises of ordination took place in the evening, when Rev. Daniel S. Furber, the pastor emeritus of the First Congregational church of Newton Centre, acted as moderator. The invocation was offered by Rev. Calvin Cutler of Auburndale, the right hand of fellowship by Rev. Dr. Gutterston of West Newton. Remarks were made by Dr. Lansing and Dr. Martin of St. Louis. Mr. Herrick has recently been approved as a missionary to India by the American board and will start at once on his new mission.

—Passengers bound for the Hub Sunday were delayed for awhile on account of an accident on the Boston & Albany railroad, a short distance above the depot here. A down freight was throwing some cars across the tracks, from a spur into a freight yard, when one of the box cars slipped from the truck and fell directly across tracks 2 and 3, completely blocking them. The New York train, due in Boston about 10 o'clock, was delayed nearly an hour. Some of the accommodation trains, outward bound, were sent back as far as Brighton and switched to No. 1 track, enabling them to get through with only a short delay. The inward bound through trains were sent back to Riverside, and switched to No. 4 track, which was clear. The accident happened at 9:55 o'clock, and the wrecking train arrived upon the scene about 11 o'clock, and about an hour later. The cause of the mishap was a broken journal. The tracks were cleared shortly before midnight.

—The "at home" given by Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Beason, born Miss Lord, at the residence of the bride's parents, Thursday afternoon and evening, called out Newton smart set. The gowns worn were beautiful and the house was tastefully decorated with potted plants, roses and palms. Mr. and Mrs. Beason received in the parlor and were assisted by Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Lord. In the banquet room, these young ladies assisted and poured: Miss Elms, Miss Davis, Miss Gertrude Davis, Miss Holmes, Miss Lovett, Miss Allen of Boston, Miss Smith of Boston and Miss Lila Smith of Boston with Miss Nelson of Worcester and Miss Edmonds of Portland. The bride's aids were Mr. John A. Lord, brother of the bride, Mr. Robert W. Lord, Mr. Albert Lord, Mr. William Ellison, Mr. Lambert Whitney, Mr. Daniel Dewey, Jr.,

Mr. Raymond Brackett and Dr. Fred W. Webber, Mrs. James Beason of Albany, Mr. and Mrs. Will Beason of Nashua, Mr. and Mrs. Holbrook and Miss Mary Campbell of Nashua were among the guests. The presents were very beautiful, representing many gifts in cut-glass, silver, pictures and so forth. The tables in the dining room were decorated in pink and white. The evening was very enjoyable and the guests were extremely tasteful in effect. Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Beason leave for New York, their future home, tomorrow.

—The summer gayeties of Wood's Hall were delightfully brought to a close with a most enjoyable entertainment given by Mrs. E. H. Cutler of Franklin street, to her numerous friends. The summer residence of Mr. and Mrs. Cutler is admirably adapted for entertaining, and the guests were unanimous in praise of the house, of the exquisite floral decorations and of the musical treat offered them, followed by the delectable of suppers, with an informal dance after, ending with a very spirited Virginia reel. Miss Emma Thursty gratified all by the delightful rendering of her songs. Miss Davis of New York contributed some instrumental music; Mr. Tom Karl sang ballads in his own delightful way, and the hosts won the hearts of her hearers in her charming supplement to the musical program. The beautiful floral decorations, mostly of wild flowers, gracefully banded and massed on mantels and in fireplaces, and tastefully arranged everywhere, were directed by Mr. Louis K. Harlow, the artist, who, with Mrs. Harlow, was a guest in the house.

—Coles Hall, which some years ago used to be the popular resort for successful dancing classes, is again to come into notice this year in this direction. Miss E. A. Burke of Boston, formerly well known here as a very popular teacher of dancing, having secured control of it, for the purpose of reintroducing herself to parents of this city, who may desire for their children thorough instruction in this graceful art. Miss Burke graduated from Dr. Dio Lewis' Gymnasium in 1885, and she has since then been a student of the gymnastics of Dr. Sargent of Harvard University. Prof. Roberts of Boston Y. M. C. A. Gymnasium, McLaren of London, Checkley of New York, etc. In dancing she has had the advantage of training under D'Albert of London, Dodworth of New York, Madame Gravier of Paris and others. Of her last acquisition, vocal gymnastics from Leclercq, the famous brain and nerve specialist in Paris and London, we shall speak in another article. For her dancing classes, to which she will confine herself strictly for the present, she has already secured a number of subscribers, and the young families in the city, and will be at the hall, Saturday afternoon, Oct. 6th, from 2 to 6 p. m. to make arrangements for the formation of her class, which will start one week following, Oct. 13th. See card in another column.

—Mr. L. L. Tower's family met with quite a serious accident, last Saturday evening, while driving in Cambridge. In the carriage were the Misses Tower, Mrs. Stevens, Mr. Trowbridge, and the coachman. The ladies had been out making calls, and were to cross the electric tracks until two cars had passed, when thinking the tracks clear, and hearing no bell the coachman started up when they reached the further track, they saw a car approaching at the rate of 15 miles an hour, as it seemed, and whipping up the horses the driver succeeded in getting the horses and the body of the carriage off the track, but the car struck one of the hind wheels and demolished it. The horses did not stop, and the ladies, who had all been stunned by the sudden shock and the electricity, were rescued. Mrs. Stevens was found to be seriously cut about the head, and so prostrated that the doctors give very little hope of her recovery. The Misses Tower were more fortunate, however, and escaped serious injury, but Miss Edith received some severe bruises. The car was going so rapidly that the motor-man was unable to stop it, although he had applied the brakes, and the occupants of the carriage say that they heard no bell until the car was close upon them. Had the driver not succeeded in so manœuvring the carriage off the track, the results would have been too fearful to contemplate. With so many electric cars as run over the main streets of Cambridge, at such high rates of speed, it is only by the utmost care and good luck that a carriage can cross the tracks.

SCHOOL BOARD PROCEEDINGS.

ANNUAL REPORT PRESENTED BY SUPERINTENDENT ALDRICH—FINANCE COMMITTEE'S ESTIMATE OF EXPENSES FOR 1895—DESIGNATION OF COLIN S. OBER—ROUTINE BUSINESS TRANSACTED.

Chairman Hollis presided at the meeting of the school board Wednesday evening. It was an important session, inasmuch as the annual report of the superintendent of schools was submitted, reviewing the work and outlining numerous plans in the way of improvement. The sub-committee on finance and accounts submitted, too, its estimate of the sum required for school expenses of 1895 and various matters of vital interest to parents of pupils were considered and acted upon. Details of the proceedings follow:

The resignation of Louise W. Clelland, assistant in the Eliot school, was read and accepted, and Etta W. Shattuck appointed to fill the vacancy, her salary to be at the rate of $820 per annum.

The resignation of Ellen S. Baker, head assistant in the Mason school, was received and accepted. Miss Mildred L. Hunter was appointed to the vacancy, her compensation to be at the rate of $720 per annum.

Miss Fannielle Curtis resigned as head kindergarten teacher and the vacancy was filled by the appointment of Miss Clara Mingin and the latter's salary fixed at $1000 per annum. Miss Mingin, Superintendent Aldrich stated, was a teacher of experience whose services could not be procured for any less amount. The success of the kindergarten department, he thought, depended on the securing of a competent chief instructor.

Mr. Ward made some inquiries relative to Miss Mingin's experience and the method adopted to furnish instruction of teachers and substitutes. In reply Superintendent Aldrich explained that the former incumbent of the position, Miss Curtis, had the services of an assistant, enabling her to look after the other schools where kindergarten classes had been established. It had been the custom of Miss Curtis to give instruction to the teachers at meetings held weekly. Miss Mingin, he said, would follow the same general plan.

Mr. H. M. Chase was appointed principal of the Nonantum evening school with a compensation of $3 per night; Charlotte M. Bray, assistant, at $2 per night; Sarah Dooney, Mabel Langley, M. Ethelyn Stearns and Fannie Stowell, assistants, at $1.50 per night.

Mr. E. F. Stevens was appointed principal drawing teacher of the Clifton evening school at a compensation of $5 per night; Miss Martha Dix, assistant, at $3 per night.

The annual report of Superintendent Aldrich was presented and accepted. In it he treated, particularly, four topics—nature study, kindergarten instruction, introduction of the study of Latin and Algebra in the upper grammar grades and departmental instruction.

The introduction of nature study in the lower grades, he said, was a formidable undertaking. A great deal, he added, had been done by the teachers in laboratory work in order to prepare them to impart instruction to pupils. Altogether, there is reason for satisfaction in the results of a year's labor in this special study. The intrinsic value and necessity of the instruction should impel us to carry on the department until the desired measure of success is attained.

Of kindergartens, he said, eight have already been established. The total number of pupils is 254 and the average attendance 166. The average cost per pupil enrolled is $21.40. It is to be hoped that the efforts to establish kindergartens will continue until finally every pupil in our schools can begin work there. A competent and experienced teacher to carry on the work is most essential.

Latin, as an elective study in the three upper grammar grades, was next touched upon. It will, Superintendent Aldrich said, increase the departmental work. Three teachers of the grammar schools were selected to give instruction in this department. They had previously studied Latin and received besides, special instructions from Principal Goodwin and Miss Davis of the High school staff. The Latin classes were organized when school opened last year. The total number of pupils then in the three upper grammar grades was 778. Of these, 266 took up the study of Latin. The percentage of the total number of students was in grade 7, 73; grade 8, 68; grade 9, 70. It is, perhaps, too soon to speak of the results of the first year, but it may be stated that the progress, so far, is very encouraging.

Algebra was taught to all the pupils of the grammar schools in grade 9 beginning in December last. It seems wise to enter upon that study now that Latin has been taken up.

Re-tive to departmental instruction, the superintendent said that it was a question whether that or class instruction was the best. It can only be determined by experimentation and to that end the masters of the grammar grades have been requested to test it for three months as far as practical in their schools and to report later what the result has been.

Much has been said about the cost of the schools of this city. It is claimed by some that they are very expensive compared with other places. It should be borne in mind that some cities and towns can afford to spend more than others for education. According to percentage of taxable property, 276 cities and towns in the state are called upon for a larger contribution than is Newton for school expenses. It will be seen, therefore, that this city is not living beyond its means in providing education. It costs more for schools here because of the large percentage of attendance to population, necessitating the employment of more masters and teachers and a greater proportion of male instructors. Newton heads the list of cities in the number of male teachers in the high school service. Are our schools worth what they cost? Can the cost of instruction be diminished without impairing their efficiency? You could reduce the number of teachers, but we need really more now in the lower grades. One of the greatest evils menacing the efficiency of school is in line of attempting to carry on instruction with a staff of teachers unduly small. It is necessary, too, that we provide good teachers. If we pay smaller salaries, we cannot expect to retain the services of competent instructors. There is no excuse for this means in carrying on the schools, but it must be remembered that cheap schools are correspondingly inferior.

In conclusion, Superintendent Aldrich said that the work in the various grades during the past year, all things considered, had progressed very satisfactorily.

Routine business followed the superintendent's report. An order was adopted authorizing the use as text books in the High school of Blouet's French composition and Warman's French grammar.

An order was adopted appropriating $11,161 for departmental expenses for September.

An order was adopted requesting the city council to appropriate an additional sum of $750 for incidental expenses of the school department.

Mr. Brackett for the committee on finance and accounts presented the estimate of school expenditures for 1895 and offered an order, which was passed unanimously requesting the city council to appropriate $148,651 for that purpose.

Mr. C. S. Ober gave notice of his intent to move an amendment at the next meeting of that part of section 4, Chap. 4, rules and regulations, relative to salaries of teachers and substitutes. He then read his resignation as a member of the board, to take effect at the close of the present year.

After some report of the progress of the work on the new school building at Newton Highlands, the board at 9:15 o'clock adjourned.

Free Evening Instruction.

The free classes in penmanship for young men, so successfully conducted last winter by the Young Men's Christian Association, are to be resumed next week upon the same terms; viz., any member of the association sixteen years old or over, will be admitted to the class upon payment of an entrance fee of $1, which fee will be refunded on demand at the expiration of the course of twenty lessons, provided the applicant has attended fifteen or more lessons. Application should be made at once to the Gen. Sec'y, Mr. Parker, at the association rooms, or at the same place not later than Tuesday evening, Oct. 9, at 7:30 o'clock, when the first lesson will be given.

Junior members should apply at Miss Spear's school Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, where arrangements have been made for them.

Prof. W. C. Burnham, whose proficiency as an instructor was so ably attested by last year's work, has been re-engaged.

New Employment Office.

NEWTON'S HEAVY TAX-PAYERS.

THOSE WHO PAY OVER TWO HUNDRED DOLLARS TO THE CITY.

Below is given the list of Newton's heavy tax-payers, the list including those in each ward who pay over $200. As many own property in several wards their names will be found to appear more than once among those who contribute to the cost of carrying on the city.

WARD ONE.

Albert B. Allison $266.93
 Mary A. Day 343.84
 Darius R. Emerson 344.84
 Kate T. Flanagan 346.04
 Joseph F. Flanagan 348.04
 John Morgan 348.04
 Mary D. Potter, heirs 348.04
 Herman O. and Helen L. Soule 348.04
 Estate of E. C. Soule 348.04
 Timothy and Sarah M. Stuart 348.04
 Daniel and Mason E. Stearns 348.04
 Luther Adams 348.04
 Geo. E. and John E. Alden 348.04
 George E. Allen 348.04
 Johnathan H. and Emma F. Barker 348.04
 Edward F. and Lydia J. Barnes 348.04
 William H. and Adelaide N. Blodgett 348.04
 Rev. Wolcott Perkins 348.04
 Alden A. and Ella E. Howe 348.04
 Alice Kenway 348.04
 Charles and Georgianna Lawrence 348.04
 James B. and Ellen Murphy 348.04
 Isaac D. Allen, Dev. of 348.04
 Albert Brackett and Sons 348.04
 William Brackett 348.04
 Henry B. and Harriet M. Cobb 348.04
 Samuel Edmund W. Converse 348.04
 W. Hobart and Emerson L. G. Emerson 348.04
 Samuel F. Fawcett 348.04
 Charles B. and M. Louise Fillebrown 348.04
 John Fluke 348.04
 Ira B. Franklin 348.04
 Alice H. Gallagher 348.04
 Rev. John B. and Caroline F. Gould 348.04
 Chester H. and Clara A. Graves 348.04
 Dr. J. F. and Harriet M. Frieble 348.04
 Samuel and Margaret F. Hano 348.04
 Alice F. and Mary F. Jones 348.04
 Charles B. Lancaster 348.04
 John T. and Ida J. Lodge 348.04
 George C. Lord, Dev. of 348.04
 Newton National Bank 348.04
 Newton and Watertown Gas Light Co. 348.04
 Charles O. and Agnes A. Riley 348.04
 Mary G. Pearson 348.04
 Margaret J. and Caroline S. Pinkham 348.04
 James and Joseph B. Pinkham 348.04
 G. Fred and Simpson Bros. 348.04
 W. B. and Georgianna C. Whittier 348.04
 Arthur E. Truesdell, Adm. Est. George 348.04
 Leonard 348.04
 Henry F. Ross 348.04
 Edward Sawyer 348.04
 Gaston A. Sherer 348.04
 John Souther 348.04
 Chas. A. and Mary A. Stone 348.04
 David A. and Helen L. Tower 348.04
 Dr. Jas. and Martha F. Utley 348.04
 Henry W. and Lydia D. Wellington 348.04
 Charles Whittier 348.04
 Herbert A. Wilder 348.04

NON-RESIDENTS.

Boston & Albany R. Co. 348.04
 Granville Fuller, Dev. of 348.04
 Eliza A. Holmes 348.04
 Channing Lilly 348.04
 East, Caroline B. Adams 348.04
 Charles H. Webb 348.04
 Nonantum Worsted Co. 348.04
 Robert W. Lord 348.04
 Isaac S. Parsons, trustee 348.04
 John C. Rochester and James F. Boyden 348.04
 Gardner W. Spencer 348.04

WARD TWO.

Oren F. Clark and Mary A. Rumery 348.04
 Mary A. Rumery 348.04
 Estate of Charles Strout & Sons 348.04
 Jennie E. Cook 348.04
 Arba F. and Dev. of Daniel Harrington 348.04
 James O. and Mary E. Judkins 348.04
 Geo. W. and Clara B. Morse 348.04
 James B. and Ellen Murphy 348.04
 Austin R. and Louise S. Mitchell 348.04
 Austin T. and Emmeline C. Sylvester 348.04
 Curtis and Maria L. Abbott 348.04
 Charles E. and Caroline A. Adams 348.04
 John F. and M. Madora Anchors 348.04
 Joseph and Mary J. Byers 348.04
 Prescott C. and Joseph A. Brigham 348.04
 Henry A. and Lucy E. Chadwick 348.04
 William O'Brien 348.04
 Theodore M. Clark 348.04
 Mrs. Laura B. Crain 348.04
 Alonzo P. Curtis 348.04
 Chas. and Sarah Curtis 348.04
 Francis A. and Martha J. Dawson 348.04
 Elizabeth S. French 348.04
 William F. Hawley 348.04
 Daniel C. Heath 348.04
 Lydia Higgins 348.04
 William and Julia A. Hollings 348.04
 William S. Higgins and Theodore C. Nickerson 348.04
 Dr. Otis E. Hunt 348.04
 Charles S. Keene 348.04
 Mrs. Ellen P. Kimball 348.04
 Mrs. Matilda J. Kimball 348.04
 Dev. of William McAdams 348.04
 Newton Real Estate Association 348.04
 Mrs. Amanda A. Parks 348.04
 Charles S. Pulsifer 348.04
 Mrs. Winifred Pulsifer 348.04
 James L. and Cora E. Richards 348.04
 Charles T. Rollins 348.04
 Charles T. Rollins 348.04
 Clara S. Pulsifer 348.04
 Ella W. Redpath 348.04
 George W. and Thirza B. Sands 348.04
 George W. Morse 348.04
 E. C. and Street Railway Co. 348.04
 Geo. W. Morse, John W. Weeks and 348.04
 Johnathan A. Lane 348.04
 Newton Club Corp. 348.04
 Horace B. and Henrietta M. Parker 348.04
 Henry F. and George E. Rose 348.04
 Austin G. and Rebecca B. Sherman 348.04
 James H. and Maria C. Sherman 348.04
 David S. and Elizabeth J. Simpson 348.04
 Arthur H. and Mary E. Soden 348.04
 Joseph B. Swallow 348.04
 Fator and Stephen Thacher 348.04
 Francis A. and W. H. Thacher 348.04
 Frank J. Wetherbee 348.04
 Edmund T. Whittier 348.04
 Rev. John Worcester 348.04
 A. C. Judkins and J. F. Lathrop 348.04

NON-RESIDENTS.

Atina Mills 348.04
 Johnathan W. Bemis 348.04
 Nonantum Worsted Co. 348.04
 Silver Lake Co. 348.04
 John Oscar Teale 348.04
 John J. Williams 348.04
 Annie M. Alkison 348.04
 B. & A. R. R. Co. 348.04
 Charles Harrington, et al. 348.04
 Lavania Shaw 348.04

WARD THREE-PRECINCT 1.

Charles E. Billings estate 348.04
 E. Carpenter 348.04
 George Cook 348.04
 West Newton Land Co. 348.04
 Mary J. Davis 348.04
 C. F. Eddy 348.04
 C. F. Eddy & Co. 348.04
 Georgianna W. Eddy 348.04
 J. B. Farlow estate 348.04
 J. M. Fiske (assignee) 348.04
 Louisa Fleming, et al., executors 348.04
 Edwin Fleming estate 348.04
 First National Bank 348.04
 A. G. Gane 348.04
 A. W. Gilmore 348.04
 Mrs. Alice D. Hall 348.04
 Mary H. and George T. Hill 348.04
 H. F. Houghton estate 348.04
 H. H. Hunt 348.04
 G. H. Ingham 348.04
 S. B. Kilburn 348.04
 Margaret C. and Thomas F. Mague 348.04
 J. H. Nickerson 348.04
 A. B. Potter 348.04
 Benjamin F. and Elizabeth M. Shattuck 348.04
 J. Upham Smith 348.04
 Frederick L. and Lizzie St. George Thayer 348.04
 Edward Upham 348.04
 C. M. Whittelsey 348.04

NON-RESIDENTS.

Horace Brackett heirs 348.04
 Gilbert Maynard 348.04

PRECINCT 2.

Edward A. Adams 348.04
 J. T. Allen 348.04
 N. P. Allen 348.04
 E. P. Allen trustee 348.04
 Harry L. and Mary E. Ayer 348.04
 Josiah E. and Isabella Bacon 348.04
 Henry A. Barker 348.04
 William G. and Mary H. G. Bell 348.04
 H. P. and Mary A. Bellows 348.04
 George E. Blaney and Frederick R. Custer 348.04
 George F. and Nina J. Bullard 348.04
 W. M. and Lillie P. Bullard 348.04
 W. M. Bush 348.04
 J. Richard and Carrie G. Carter 348.04
 J. W. Carter 348.04
 Stephen F. Cate 348.04
 F. D. and Eliza F. Childs 348.04
 Julius L. and Sarah S. Clarke 348.04
 Frederic R. and Mary E. Cutter 348.04

J. L. and Sarah A. Damon 348.04
 H. B. and Julia S. Day 348.04
 W. B. and Fannie K. Downe 348.04
 John P. Eager 348.04
 John J. Eddy 348.04
 George H. Ellis 348.04
 Fred L. and Laura B. Felton 348.04
 Luther H. and Sarah P. Felton 348.04
 Theodore A. and M. Louise Fien 348.04
 George and Almira Frost 348.04
 Harriet M. Freeman 348.04
 Elizabeth T. Eldridge 348.04
 George and Almira Frost 348.04
 George A. and Louisa O. R. Frost 348.04
 George T. and Anna A. Garrison 348.04
 Clarence H. and Henrietta E. Hayes 348.04
 Mrs. L. H. Houghton 348.04
 H. G. Houghton 348.04
 B. E. and Helen M. Howard 348.04
 S. H. and Mary A. Howard 348.04
 C. F. Howland 348.04
 F. E. and Mary S. Hunter 348.04
 Martha A. Kendall 348.04
 Henry F. and Florence H. King 348.04
 W. F. Lawrence 348.04
 Charles W. and Harriet G. Leatherbee 348.04
 W. H. and Mary J. Leatherbee 348.04
 Edward E. and Mary L. C. Leland 348.04
 C. W. and Carrie L. Leonard 348.04
 Lucy E. Leonard 348.04
 G. L. and Caroline L. Lovett 348.04
 Arthur H. and Eliza W. Luke 348.04
 W. H. and Mary 348.04
 Lawrence and Helen I. Mayo 348.04
 John Mead, (administrator) 348.04
 J. C. and Clara L. Melvin 348.04
 Albert Metcalf 348.04
 Newton Street Railway Co. 348.04
 Newton and Watertown Gas Light Co. 348.04
 Theodore Nickerson estate 348.04
 N. T. and Harriet G. Paine 348.04
 W. H. and Isabel C. Pettigrew 348.04
 W. F. Plimpton and L. O. Pratt 348.04
 W. P. and Clarissa E. Plimpton 348.04
 C. C. Pond 348.04
 Lucius C. Pratt 348.04
 Mary E. Putnam 348.04
 S. W. Reynolds 348.04
 Samuel and Annie F. Ritchie 348.04
 Charles Robinson heirs 348.04
 G. F. Staples 348.04
 W. H. Stewart heirs 348.04
 James P. Tolman 348.04
 Edwin B. Towne 348.04
 F. M. and L. Mina G. Train 348.04
 Emma R. Travelli 348.04
 Mrs. Mercy Vinal 348.04
 George A. and Maria E. Wadsworth 348.04
 George A. Warren 348.04
 J. W. Weeks 348.04
 G. P. Whitmore 348.04
 Luella E. Wilson heirs 348.04
 E. W. Wood 348.04
 Mariah F. and Mary E. Wood 348.04
 F. W. and Lottie G. Wyman 348.04

NON-RESIDENTS.

J. G. Butler 348.04
 Lucy H. Valentine 348.04
 J. C. Holman 348.04

WARD FOUR-PRECINCT 1.

George M. Adams 348.04
 Elizabeth A. L. Atkinson 348.04
 Joseph N. Bacon 348.04
 C. C. Burr 348.04
 Philip A. Butler 348.04
 Charles P. Eliza A. and H. M. Darling heirs 348.04
 L. C. Carter and Arthur L. Soden 348.04
 Francis E. and Harriet E. Clark 348.04
 F. W. and Mary E. Clark 348.04
 George P. Davis, trustee for Mary J. Strong 348.04
 George R. and Olive G. Eager 348.04
 Rufus Estabrook heirs 348.04
 Arthur C. and Helen J. Farley 348.04
 George M. and Sarah W. Fiske 348.04
 Edward E. and Elizabeth B. Hardy 348.04
 George D. and Carrie B. Harvey 348.04
 E. B. Haskell 348.04
 Celia W. Haskell 348.04
 Anthony Haskell estate 348.04
 C. H. Johnson 348.04
 Frederick Johnson 348.04
 Mrs. C. A. Kingman 348.04
 George B. Knapp 348.04
 Lasell Seminary Corporation 348.04
 Joseph Lee 348.04
 Margaret C. and W. H. Mague 348.04
 Harry W. Mason 348.04
 Edward S. and Olive S. Miller 348.04
 Nathan Mesman 348.04
 Newton Boat Club Corporation 348.04
 Newton and Watertown Gas Light Co. 348.04
 Rev. F. N. and H. B. Judkins 348.04
 H. A. and Martha L. Pemberton 348.04
 Edward L. Pickard 348.04
 Annie E. Plummer 348.04
 Helen M. and Mary A. Priest 348.04
 Clara S. Pulsifer, George R. Pulsifer and F. E. 348.04
 Whiting, executors 348.04
 Maria Ann and Robert estate 348.04
 Charles E. Ranlett 348.04
 Marion E. and William Saville 348.04
 Henry and Lucy E. Chadwick 348.04
 Edward Strong 348.04
 Charles A. Sweet heirs 348.04
 Charles E. and Mary P. Sweet 348.04
 Mrs. Sarah L. Tournee 348.04
 Henry R. and Maria H. Turner 348.04
 Amy E. and Fred E. Whiting 348.04
 Emma Thorndike 348.04
 Albert and Margaret Van Wagener 348.04

NON-RESIDENTS.

J. Don Cameron 348.04
 A. B. Darling 348.04
 N. T. Greenwood and G. A. Tappley 348.04
 Alfred Hemenway 348.04
 W. L. Joy 348.04
 W. H. Moore 348.04
 L. P. Ober 348.04
 Samuel Shaw, et al., trustees 348.04

PRECINCT 2.

W. S. and F. Cordingly 348.04
 C. F. Crehore & Son 348.04
 C. F. Crehore, et al. 348.04
 Rebecca R. Rice 348.04

NON-RESIDENTS.

George C. Crehore heirs 348.04
 Arnold A. Rand, et al. 348.04

WARD FIVE-PRECINCT 1.

J. N. Raco 348.04
 Henry Billings estate 348.04
 Benjamin Dickerman 348.04
 W. R. and Mary A. P. Dresser 348.04
 Samuel F. and Harriet F. Tel. Co. 348.04
 Mrs. Alice A. Gould 348.04
 Alice A. Gould and Harry W. Mason (Collins estate) 348.04
 Francis Jones 348.04
 Mrs. Elizabeth Marcy 348.04
 Mrs. Elizabeth A. Pierce 348.04
 George Potter 348.04
 Pettie Machine Works 348.04
 R. T. Sullivan 348.04
 Levi C. W. estate 348.04
 Mrs. Margaret Wade 348.04
 Frank J. Wetherell 348.04

NON-RESIDENTS.

Charles C. Barton, Jr. 348.04
 E. J. Hickey, et al., trustees 348.04
 Stephen Jennings 348.04
 George J. Marsh 348.04
 Charles J. Page and Fred H. Henshaw, dev. 348.04
 William Kyle & Co. 348.04

PRECINCT 2.

Harriet K. and Almon Blood 348.04
 Margaret A. Bradford 348.04
 Louis K. Brigham 348.04
 George S. Bryant 348.04
 Charles H. Burr 348.04
 William Chaffield 348.04
 Mrs. Ann M. Cobb 348.04
 Amasa Crafts 348.04
 Emmeline H. Crane 348.04
 Moses G. Crane 348.04
 Benjamin Dickerman 348.04
 S. M. Duncklee 348.04
 Hannah B. Edmunds 348.04
 David S. Earnham 348.04
 Ellen K. Fisher ex. 348.04
 Charles H. Gault 348.04
 Ivory Harmon 348.04
 Harriet E. Holmes 348.04
 Henry H. Jones 348.04
 Seward W. Jones 348.04
 Susan M. Johnson and Lucy L. Peabody 348.04
 Lillian K. McKenzie 348.04
 Sarah E. Mick 348.04
 Ella M. Newhall 348.04
 Chas. J. Page 348.04
 James M. Peavear dev 348.04
 Sarah B. Putney dev 348.04
 Joseph R. Seaver 348.04
 John W. Smith 348.04
 John W. and Mary J. Sweet 348.04
 Edmund H. Tarbell 348.04
 Phoebe G. Wales 348.04
 Thomas Weston 348.04
 S. D. and Anna G. Whittemore 348.04

NON-RESIDENTS.

W. S. Appleton 348.04
 Henry J. Bigelow dev 348.04
 Dana Estes 348.04
 Edgar W. Foster 348.04
 George A. Nickerson 348.04
 Herbert J. Patterson 348.04
 Edmund G. Pond 348.04
 Elizabeth W. Watson 348.04

Frederick H. and Carrie M. Butts 348.04
 Catherine T. and heirs, Geo. Capron 348.04
 Wm. Claffin 348.04
 E. T. Colburn 348.04
 Gardner Colby estate 348.04
 E. W. and Julia A. and Ellen M. Cobb 348.04
 Clara S. Cobb 348.04
 Horace and Beulah Cousins 348.04
 Chas. S. Davis 348.04
 A. H. and Edw. Edmonds 348.04
 G. H. and L. Jennie Ellis 348.04
 Herbert Dunneque 348.04
 E. H. and Henrietta Dennison 348.04
 Frank Edmonds 348.04
 E. H. Fennessy est. 348.04
 J. C. Farrar 348.04
 E. and Francis E. Fitz 348.04
 Samuel D. Garey est. 348.04
 E. C. and Helen L. Fitch 348.04
 S. E. and Mary A. Gilbert 348.04
 W. H. Golding 348.04
 Stephen Green 348.04
 Mrs. Mary T. Goddard 348.04
 J. G. Gunderson est. 348.04
 A. L. Lawrence 348.04
 Alvin and Augusta Hovey 348.04
 C. H. and A. F. Ireland 348.04
 Harvey James 348.04
 N. N. and Louisa James 348.04
 B. W. Kingsbury est. 348.04
 A. M. and Mary E. Kistler 348.04
 D. T. Kidder, Jr. 348.04
 F. H. and Chas. P. Harbach est. 348.04
 Thos. and Clara L. 348.04
 H. I. Ordway 348.04
 Mrs. Jennie E. Pierce 348.04
 Mrs. Lucy E. Prescott 348.04
 G. S. and Rose B. Rice 348.04
 G. F. Richardson 348.04
 A. L. and Sarah J. Rand 348.04
 J. H. Sawyer 348.04
 Rev. S. F. Smith 348.04
 G. E. Wales 348.04
 Miss Mary Shannon 348.04
 Alden Spere 348.04
 E. A. Ward 348.04
 W. E. and Annie S. Webster 348.04
 S. T. and Alice W. Work 348.04
 J. T. and Laura E. Wilkins 348.04
 W. H. Young heirs 348.04
 A. C. and Mary F. Walworth 348.04
 G. K. and John Ward 348.04
 D. H. and L. Mina G. Andrews 348.04
 J. A. Baldwin 348.04
 W. M. Bartholemew 348.04
 A. and Sarah E. Bigelow 348.04
 H. M. and Mary A. Burr 348.04
 Dwight Chester 348.04
 D. B. and Susan Claffin 348.04
 W. R. and Jennie Dupree 348.04
 G. P. Davis, trustee 348.04
 E. E. Eaton 348.04
 H. H. and Henrietta Read 348.04
 M. O. Rice 348.04
 A. H. Rolfe 348.04
 H. B. and J. L. Linchman 348.04
 Geo. and Mary F. Linder 348.04
 Hannah W. and Mary H. Loring 348.04
 E. H. and Lelia S. Mason 348.04
 A. Francis Morse 348.04
 G. W. Morse, et al. 348.04
 H. W. Mason 348.04
 Sarah W. Mason 348.04
 Wm. Morton 348.04
 W. H. and Florence T. Leatherbee 348.04
 Newton Park Land Co. 348.04
 Newton Park Associates 348.04
 H. Howard Nichols 348.04
 G. H. Chase 348.04
 H. J. Clark 348.04
 Vm. Evers 348.04
 Melan and Annis Bray 348.04
 Chas. and Sarah H. Everett 348.04
 D. S. and Mary G. Farnham 348.04
 E. M. and Sarah H. Fowle 348.04
 James Gammon 348.04
 Francis and L. Forbes 348.04
 N. and Louis Goddard 348.04
 J. C. Harshorn est. 348.04
 Morris and Flora Gray 348.04
 E. H. and Harriett F. Haskell 348.04
 J. D. and Elizabeth Greene 348.04
 G. F. Hayward 348.04
 S. M. and G. E. Jackson 348.04
 F. J. Hyde 348.04
 O. J. Kimball 348.04
 Daniel and Phebe O. Hayward 348.04
 S. V. A. and Francis Hunter 348.04
 Isaac Kingsbury est. 348.04
 Caroline H. Lee 348.04
 A. F. and Florence T. Leatherbee 348.04
 G. A. and Florence M. Locke 348.04
 C. C. Lee 348.04
 J. W. and J. C. Parker 348.04
 Henry and Florence Paul 348.04
 Luther Paul 348.04
 John Lewis 348.04
 Joseph R. Leeson 348.04
 J. E. Paine 348.04
 R. M. and J. C. Rogers 348.04
 R. M. Saltonstall 348.04
 Leaven T. Saltonstall 348.04
 M. S. Shaw 348.04
 D. D. Slade 348.04
 Hannah J. Stearns 348.04
 Martha Stone est. 348.04
 John Stearns 348.04
 G. F. Stone 348.04
 E. and Mary L. Sylvester 348.04
 B. E. and Helen C. Taylor 348.04
 A. G. Weeks, Jr. 348.04
 D. A. and A. B. White 348.04
 John and Joseph Woodman, dev. of 348.04
 W. M. Tenney 348.04
 W. and heirs of Rose L. West 348.04
 A. A. Whitman 348.04
 D. F. and Francis J. Young 348.04
 C. S. and Helen M. Young 348.04

NON-RESIDENTS.

Francis A. Brooks 348.04
 S. M. Field 348.04
 W. R. Littlefield 348.04
 Jeannette B. Hill 348.04
 Howard Phelps 348.04

Undertakers.

George H. Gregg, Undertaker

Telephone - - CONNECTIONS.

Funeral and Undertaker.

Coffins, Caskets, Robes,

and every modern requisite for the proper performance of the business constantly on hand.

Orders by telephone promptly attended to.

GEO. W. BUSH,

Elmwood Street, - Newton.

S. L. PRATT,

FUNERAL AND FURNISHING UNDERTAKER

Newton Centre, Mass.

First-class Appointments and Competent assistants. To accommodate the people of Upper

Newton and Watertown, a branch of of Fanning Printing Co., which will immediately be forwarded to me by telephone.

Also shall continue in the Black, Library and Reading Room. Business at my old stand corner of Beacon and Station Streets.

S. F. CATE

Furnishing - Undertaker.

WASHINGTON ST., WEST NEWTON.

Photographers.

GEORGE S. BRAZER,

(SUCCESSOR TO ODIN FRITZ).

PHOTOGRAPHER

Also Portraits in Oil, Water Color and Pastel.

358 CENTRE STREET, NEWTON, MASS.

Chandler & Spayer

Portrait and Landscape Photographers

West Newton, Mass.

C. A. HARRINGTON

LUMBER,

Lime, Cement, Plaster, &

Crafts St., Newtonville, Mass.

Telephone 5248 Newton

THE NEWTON GRAPHIC

PUBLISHED EVERY FRIDAY

285 WASHINGTON ST., NEWTON,
MASS.

Entered as second class matter.

Subscription for year, $2.00
Single Copies, 5 cents
By mail free of Postage.All money sent at sender's risk. All checks, drafts and money orders should
be made payable toEDWARD D. BALDWIN,
Editor and Publisher.

TELEPHONE NO. 335-3.

THE GRAPHIC is printed and mailed Friday afternoons, and is for sale at all News
Stands in the Newtons, and at the Boston &
Albany News Room, Boston Depot.ALL communications must be accompanied with the name of the writer, and
unpublished communications cannot be returned by mail unless stamps are enclosed.

NEW SCHOOLHOUSES.

The ideas of the school board in regard to new school houses rather appall the average taxpayer, they are of such magnificent, not to say extravagant, proportions. A case in point is furnished in the Peirce school, West Newton, when the demand has been made for an $85,000 school building.

If this were all it would not be so bad, but when so many new buildings are being asked for the tax-payers may well ask where this thing is going to stop.
There is a strong demand for the building of another section of the High school building, to replace the old part of the present structure; there is a loud call for another expensive schoolhouse in Newtonville to replace the Adams building. Some of the board also favor a new building for the Bigelow school in Newton, and it would not surprise anyone to hear a loud call from Newton Centre for a new building for the Mason school. Here are five new buildings being called for, counting the High school addition as one, and if West Newton should get an $85,000 building none of the other wards would be satisfied with less, and the total expense would mount up to nearly half a million dollars.

Fortunately the new building schemes have to pass the city council, so there is some hope that they will receive a careful and business like consideration, and that the city will not be involved in debt without any regard to its ability to pay, or to the necessities of the case. Newton needs many other things quite as urgently as it needs new school buildings, but it does seem sometimes that the school board would not be satisfied if they had the whole tax levy turned over to their use.

It is certainly mysterious why the mere election to the school board should inspire careful business men with extravagant ideas, but men who in the city council have been noted for their advocacy of a wise, prudent and economical policy in city expenditures seem to lose their belief in that policy when they become members of the school board, or at least their remonstrances are not made public.

The schools are of course very important and we all wish the Newton schools to rank with the best in the state, but many doubt that in order to do this it is necessary to spend more than every other city in the state. It is no particular credit to achieve good results with a lavish use of money, but the credit would be to see how Newton's schools could be made the best, with the least expenditure. None of the neighboring cities, not even Boston, spends as much per pupil as Newton, and yet it is not claimed that Newton pupils, who apply for admission to college, stand proportionately higher than the pupils from other cities.

In the case of the West Newton school the city council wisely passed an order to have the question looked up, whether a $50,000 school building would not answer every purpose, be well and honestly built, with the same number of rooms, and with every necessary convenience for school purposes. The taxpayers generally will endorse such a opping off of extravagant ideas.

A NEW BOULEVARD SCHEME.

The new boulevard scheme that is being agitated does not seem to strike the property owners, who will be affected, very favorably, and there will evidently be great opposition to it, if the matter ever comes up for a hearing. It is to have a boulevard run from the Central Boulevard down Adams avenue to Sargent street, across the land of Charles F.
Rogers to Hyde avenue, through Mr.
Baerman's land and the vacant land back of it, and coming out through Mr.
Walter White's land on to Franklin street. Then the plan is to widen Eldridge street to 80 feet to Elmwood, and from there across the house lots to Washington street near the railroad crossing. This is in a general way the plan, and those whose buildings are affected say it has been conceived with a magnificent disregard of the damages that will be inflicted. The demand for it is said to come from those owning land beyond Sargent street, who wish a route for a street railway. The old plan for a street railway on Waverley avenue, and a widening of the street, seems to have been given up, on account of the opposition of property owners at the lower end of the avenue, but the damage by that would be slight when compared with this new scheme. As for more street railways in Newton, it is very doubtful if more locations will be granted, unless the street railway people want to pay for the widening. Here is Washington street which must be widened at a cost of several hundred thousand dollars, chiefly on account of the street railway tracks, and Walnut street will soon have to be attended to.

One argument for the building of these two roads was that they would build up vacant land between the villages, but in the case of the older road, there have been no such results and no new buildings have sprung up between Newton and West Newton. The roads are a great convenience, but so far they have not been of so much help in developing property, as to encourage any more street railway locations to be granted with that end in view.

THE Newtonville & Watertown Street Railway Company think they have been very unfairly treated by the West End
Company, as they say that the West End Company agreed to build to the bridge on North Beacon street, at the Watertown line, and under that agreement they went ahead and laid their tracks at a good deal of expense. But the West End have not built a road to connect with them, and the Newtonville company claim that they have made no honest effort to get a franchise. It is for this reason that the Newton company is endeavoring to get a franchise on the streets leading to the business part of Boston, but of course they meet with opposition from the West End people, and in such a fight the West End has the advantage that a big corporation always has over a small one. It is rather doubtful whether any foreign company could get anything from the Boston board of aldermen in opposition to the West End Company.

ONE reason for immediate action on the widening of Washington street which has not been made as prominent as it ought to have been is that at present the abutments can do nothing with their property. They can not build on vacant land or make repairs on present buildings, as there is no knowing where the street lines will be. No one wants to lease property on the street in such uncertainty, or to make improvements, and in justice to the abutments some decision ought to be reached early this fall, so that residents on the street can know where they are. The uncertainty has now lasted several years, and the condition of property along the street is a witness to the injurious effects of such delay.

THE Senatorial Convention for this district meets in Watertown tomorrow afternoon, and Mr. Oliver Shaw of Watertown will be nominated, according to present indications.

It is said that even the lawyers can't straighten out the complication of the 1894 amendments to the caucus laws.

Lasell Notes.

Lasell Seminary opened on the 20th, with an attendance of 150, the total number enrolled being 100. Miss Packard, for several years teacher at Lasell, Miss Sherman and Miss Manning were present, both of the class of '93, and lent effective aid in bringing the order out of the confusion that usually attends the first day of a new school year.
This year the school contains representatives from twenty-four states, Canada, the District of Columbia and the West Indies.

Miss Packard and Miss Roth take a vacation this year, their respective places being filled by Mrs. J. Olin Curtis of Auburndale, and Frau von der Kall. The school has lost in Mrs. Latimer, who died in July, an able and beloved teacher. The English department, which she conducted, is now in the hands of Miss Witherbee.

Mr. Shepherd, the efficient Superintendent of Lasell for some years past, expects to sail soon for Europe, accompanied by his daughter, Miss Bessie Shepherd, and a party of tourists. They will join Mrs.
Shepherd in Oxford, and thence go to Germany, where they will remain several months. During Mr. Shepherd's absence
Mr. C. C. Butler of Boston, will take his place as superintendent.

On Saturday evening the returned pupils of last year gave an informal reception to the new girls. After the presentation in the parlors all went to the gymnasium where the strangers were soon as much at home as the old girls themselves, and with music and conversation the evening hours sped all too quickly. Refreshments were served at 8.45, and about half an hour later the merry company dispersed, well pleased with their evening's entertainment.

On Monday, Mr. Bragdon took a party of sixty or more to Nantasket beach. They returned in time for six o'clock dinner, and deighted with the trip.

Memorial services for Mrs. Anna Latimer were held in the chapel on Tuesday evening.
Mrs. Latimer was a teacher at the seminary for two years previous to her death, which occurred in July last. Addresses were delivered by Rev. C. W.
Steele of Lasell, Prof. Olin Curtis of Boston University, and Mr. Bragdon. Misses Allen, Conlin and Kessinger, assisted by
Mr. Davis, sang several beautiful hymns.
It was a simple and impressive service.

Millinery Opening.

Mrs. A. E. Smith will have her annual millinery opening on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, Oct. 3rd, 4th and 5th at her store, 202 Moody street, Waltham.
The ladies of Newton are cordially invited to inspect the new styles in trimmed hats and bonnets, and the millinery novelties.

Walter M. Eddy has removed his art embroidery rooms to 144 A Tremont street
Boston.

H. N. Baker has two houses for sale or rent. See adv.

Education & Employment

Reopens September 4th.

A thorough and practical course of study in

BUSINESS AND SHORTHAND,

Preparing young people to earn their own living.

Individual instruction; positions for pupils; experienced teachers. Our record of

54 YEARS AND 29,000 PUPILS

Speaks for itself. Prospectus free by mail or at office.

COMER'S COMMERCIAL COLLEGE,

686 Washington St., cor. Beach,

BOSTON, MASS.

Furs and Cloaks.

Our stock of Rich Furs and Cloaks comprising the very choicest novelties, is now ready for inspection.

The assortment of Seal Jackets and Capes, Black Persian, Moire Persian,
Russian Sable, Ermine, Marten and all fashionable furs cannot be excelled.

In our Cloak Department will be seen the latest designs from abroad and the leading manufacturers of this country in Evening Wraps, Velvet Cloaks, and Cloth Garments, plain, trimmed, and fur lined.

A Ladies' Tailoring Department, conducted by Mr. E. C. LEONARD is opened, where the finest fabrics will be shown.

International
Fur Company
39-45 Summer St.,
Adjoining C. F. Hovey & Co. BOSTON.

Fall
Opening
Thursday
and Friday,
September 27th, 28th,

we shall exhibit a choice assortment ofFrench Hats, Bonnets and Millinery Novelties,

to which we cordially invite the Ladies of Newton.

J. W. MACURDY,
133 Moody St., Waltham, Mass.

MISS GRACE C. STANFORD

will re-open the

KINDERGARTEN

Monday, October 1, 1894,

in the house formerly occupied by Dr. Bodge.

Centre street, Opp. Mason School,
NEWTON CENTRE.

Y. M. C. A. Jottings.

All young men will find a welcome at 277
Washington street, the home of the Young Men's Christian Association between the hours of 2 and 9 p. m.

General Secretary P. F. Parker will give an illustrated talk to the boys of Newton next Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Every member of the Junior department should be present.

There will be a song and praise service in
Y. M. C. A. hall Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Good singing and speaking. All men are cordially invited.

NONANTUM.

Last Friday evening a pair of gold spectacles were presented to Mrs. R.
Hutton of Morse street by a number of her friends.

Mr. W. Robertshaw has moved to California street.

One of our gardeners plucked strawberries in his garden this week.

Mushroom-spawn is very plentiful this year around Nonantum.

The Shelley company have given up business.

The members of Hose 8 are around with collections for a billiard table.

Highest of all in Leavening Power.—Latest U. S. Gov't Report

Royal Baking Powder
ABSOLUTELY PURE

Real Estate,
Mortgages,
InsuranceSpecial Attention paid to Sale and Leasing of Estates in the above villages.

Representatives of All the Leading Insurance Companies.

—OFFICES—

J. C. FULLER, Newtonville. J. FRENCH & SON, 226 Washington St., Boston.

T. P. DeWolf

Fine Candies.

407 Centre Street, - - - Newton, Mass.

Mrs. Elizabeth Gowdy Baker

Will open her studio shortly Mail inquiries as to

Portraits or Lessons on Art,

To MRS. ELIZABETH GOWDY BAKER,

Newton, - Mass.

MR. CUTLER'S
Preparatory School,Newton, near station. Both sexes. Eighth year begins

SEPTEMBER 10th, 1894.

Tuition $150. Number limited. EDWARD H.
CUTLER, Newton, Mass. 41 tfWALTER M. EDDY, Art

Embroideries,

formerly of 24 Temple Place, Boston, has removed to larger and newly furnished rooms at

144 A Tremont Street. 62 tf

TWO GOOD HOUSES,
For Sale, or Rent,
ON EASY TERMS.

AUBURNDALE

Small, modern, comfortable house, near station, sewer connection, open fireplace, electric gas lighting, laundry, screens, double windows, shades and other conveniences; a decided bargain for anyone wishing a comfortable home at small expense.

WINTHROP

Furnished house, with modern conveniences, to rent for winter or for the year at a low figure. Sewer connection, electric lights, set tubs, open fireplace, screens, furnace, etc.

HENRY N. BAKER, Owner.

30 Kilby St., - - - Boston.

NOTICE.

Why pay for your

MEATS

where you can buy of us and save

ONE PROFIT.

We keep constantly in stock all kinds of

BEEF, PORK, LAMB,

MUTTON, VEAL

and POULTRY;

all of the best quality. Family trade a specialty.

We also deliver orders of $2.00 free of charge to all parts of Newton.

J. S. NEWCOMB & CO.,

No. 4, Basement Quincy Market,

BOSTON, MASS.

52 3m

CAN BE USED FOR COOKING IN OUR RANGES AS CHEAP AS COAL.

W. A. FOLSOM & CO.,

17 Union St., Boston.

WARD & CO.,

Carriage Painting and Repairing

IN ALL ITS BRANCHES.

Best Work at Lowest Prices.

Repairing of Fine Carriages a Specialty

Cor. Elm and Washington Sts., Near City Hall

WEST NEWTON

YOUR

WALKS

Should be laid with

Granitic Stone.

Best materials and skilled labor.

Best of references.

Asphalt Floors.

W. A. MURTFELDT,

192 DEVONSHIRE ST., BOSTON.

Newton.

Newtonville.

West Newton.

Auburndale.

BUSINESS NOTICES

RATES—50 cents first insertion for not exceeding 5 lines, and 25 cents each time
thereafter, in advance.

Wants.

WANTED—A smart young man with a wheel and well acquainted with the Newtons, for Real Estate Solicitor. A good opportunity to learn the business. Address Box 341, Newtonville. 52 1f

WANTED—In Newton Centre, by gentleman and wife, rooms and board; private family preferred. Address stating terms B. R. A.
Transcript office, Boston. 52 1f

WANTED—An experienced English coachman wants a situation. Best of references. Address Coachman, Graphic Office, 52 1f

WANTED—A competent laundress wants a situation in a private family. Address
Laundress, box 283, Newtonville. 52 2f

LADY having experience in general office work would like position as book-keeper and cashier. Address Z, Graphic office. 52 1f

LADY—Educated in Paris, Germany and London (diploma) desires a position as morning governess to teach French, German,
Italian, drawing, music and English branches.
Address, "Europe," Brighton P. O. 51 2f

WANTED—Miss Linda M. Curtis, graduate of the Emerson College of Oratory, will receive pupils in Elocution and Physical Culture.
For terms address Box 568, Newtonville, Mass. 52 1f

TO LET—House of 10 rooms, all modern improvements, with fine garden, 50 Jefferson street, Newton, $450 a year. Apply to H. S.
Hibbard. 52 1f

For Sale.

HORSES FOR SALE—To close an estate,
a pair of handsome black improved horses, absolutely safe. Also cow three years old, good milk, only $40. May be seen at Colby place, Centre street. 51 1f

To Let.

TO LET—For the winter in Newton Centre, a large modern house, furnished at almost any price to the right party. W. Thorpe, Newton Centre. 52 2f

TO LET—Double house, corner of Nevada street and Church street, sewer connection and modern conveniences. Call at No. 6
Nevada street for keys. Mrs. James H. Wright.
52 2f

TO LET—Rooms to rent, furnished or unfurnished, near station, P. O. Box 212, Newton
Centre. 52 2f

TO LET—Furnished or unfurnished, in Newton Centre, a very desirable house of nine rooms in best location, view on corner of main street. Modern furniture, almost new.
Price very low to go. Apply to W. A. FOLSOM
& F. EDMANDS, 178 Devonshire street, Room
208, Boston. 52 2f

TO RENT—At Auburndale, furnished or unfurnished, a very desirable house with modern conveniences. Address box 221 Auburndale.
52 2f

TO LET—A small single house in Newton Centre, 4 rooms, city water. Also modern house of 9 rooms, with large stable, 1-1/2 mile from Newton Centre station, price $30 per month, or will sell at a bargain. W. Thorpe, Newton
Centre. 51 2f

TO LET—Two nice square rooms with or without board, with modern improvements, within four minutes of depot. Apply at Graphic Office. 51 2f

TO LET—At Newtonville, suite of rooms with all modern conveniences for housekeeping.
Apply at the premises, 2 Clifton place, or 5 Tremont street, Boston. Curtis Abbott. 51 2f

TO LET—A tenement of five rooms to a small family, in best location, corner of Crafts and California streets, rent nine dollars and a half per month. Apply to T. F. Frohisher, Newtonville, Mass. 50 2f

TO LET—House of seven rooms, and bath, furnished, nice tubs, cement cellar, etc. Rent $21 a month. Apply to T. J. Harriet, Newton.
50 1f

TO LET—Small house No. 21 Bennington St.,
Newton, at low rent. Apply to Bruce R.
Ware, 200 A Devonshire St., Boston. 49 1f

TO LET ON LEASE—House No. 183 Nonantum st. set. Contains 7 pleasant rooms, good hall way, modern conveniences. Call on or address Mrs. B. Merritt, North Scituate beach. 46 1f

TO LET—Furnished or unfurnished room.
Apply at 373 Washington Street, Newton. 45 1f

TO LET—June 1st, a tenement of seven rooms
on Washington street, Newton. Apply to
H. C. Daniels. 31 1f

Lost & Found.

LOST—A large carpet between Adams street and West Newton. The finder will be rewarded by sending word to P. O. Box 71, Newtonville. 52 1f

LOST—On Saturday night in or near Farlow
Park, a pocket book with a sum of money and tickets from Newton to Newtonville, belonging to a poor girl. The finder will be rewarded by returning to Graphic Office. 52 1f

DISCERNABLES.

ASSOCIATED CHARITIES.—The office hours
of the Secretary of the Associated Charities are from 9 to 10 every week day, and from 7.30 to 8.30 Saturday evening. The Provident Committee will be at the office to distribute clothing
Tuesday forenoon and Saturday evenings. M.
R. Martin, Secretary, Office, Newtonville square

Shirts

MADE TO ORDER.

A Perfect Fit Guaranteed. Best Material.

First-Class Work.

Superior Shirts, $1.50. Best Dress Shirts, $2.00.

Will call on customers at such time and place

as will suit their convenience.

Repairing is Done Neatly and Promptly.

New Bosons, 50c.; Neckbands, 15c.; Wristbands,

15c.; Collars, 25c.; Collars, 25c.; Centre

Plays, 25c.

Badly fitting Shirts made to fit well.

E. B. BLACKWELL,

43 Thornton St., - - - Newton, Mass.

City of Newton.

Poll Tax Assessment.

For the convenience of all persons who have failed to be assessed as a resident of the City of

Newton on May 1st, 1894, and who desire to

NEWTONVILLE.

—Miller pianos, Farley, Newton.

—Mr. N. H. Hyde has recovered from quite a severe illness.

—Mrs. A. Q. Cole is the guest of Mrs. A. W. Cole, Old street.

—Mrs. Whiting of Grove Hill has returned from Pittsburg.

—Ellen Bacon of Henniker, N. H., is here visiting friends in this week.

—Mr. J. L. Beck has gone to East Gloucester for a short stay.

—Miss Grace M. Dennison returned to Wellesley College this week.

—Mr. George L. Keyes and family have returned from Point Allerton.

—Mr. John Cotton of Newtonville avenue is still confined to his room.

—Miss Mabel Macomber was visiting friends in town this week.

—Mr. William C. Whiston of Highland avenue has returned from New York.

—Marston & Tole have established a reputation for artistic outfitting.

—Miss Mabel T. Wellman resumed her studies at Wellesley College this week.

—Miss Annie Payson Call and Mrs. R. M. Pulsifer have returned from Europe.

—Mrs. Buxton and family returned from their summer trip this week.

—Mrs. Winfield S. Stocum has gone to Colorado Springs for a short stay.

—Mrs. J. W. Page of Clarendon avenue has returned from Johnson City, N. Y.

—Mr. E. E. Estes and family of Cabot street have gone to Washington to pass the winter.

—No poles on Bowers street. That was the prompt verdict of the aldermen Monday evening.

—Mr. M. W. French and family of Newtonville avenue returned from the seashore this week.

—Mr. and Mrs. Harley B. Curtis have moved into their new house on Lowell street.

—Mr. F. J. Marsh, formerly of Springfield, has taken Mr. Sidney Stone's house on Walnut place.

—Miss Salisbury of Bailey place has removed to Texas. She left for her new home last Friday.

—Congratulations for Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Ames of Mr. Vernon Terrace on the birth of a girl.

—Mr. H. D. Curtis has purchased one of Higgins & Nickerson's houses on Lowell street for occupancy.

—Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Pulsifer have returned from Europe and arrived home yesterday afternoon.

—Miss Carrie Moffit, who has been visiting Mrs. Chase French on Walnut street, has returned to her home in Hingham.

—Mrs. F. E. Macomber and family of Appleton street returned this week from their summer outing.

—Mr. Raymond Greene of the Overman Wheel Co., is spending his vacation here at the home of his father, Deacon E. W. Greene.

—Miss Gifford, the telegraph operator here, was called to her home in Chatham this week on account of the serious illness of her brother.

—Mr. Charles S. Dennison and family of Walnut street have returned from their summer place at Cataumet.

—Mr. Mark C. Taylor is building a new house on Lowell street from plans of Mr. E. N. Boyden, adjoining Mr. F. J. Wetherell's residence.

—Mrs. Emerson and family, who have been stopping at John Cotton's for several months, departed last evening for their home in San Francisco.

—Councilman Savage and Mr. E. W. Howe left this week on a hunting trip in Maine, and will be away a fortnight. They will be located near Paten.

—Dr. S. F. Chase is to have a handsome office in the new block, corner of Walnut and Washington street. He has given up his house on Walnut street and removed to Prescott street.

—Mr. Fayette Shaw and family, formerly of Medford, Wis., are moving into their former residence here on Newtonville avenue. The house has been thoroughly renovated for their occupancy.

—At the M. E. church the pastor will preach both morning and evening. Morning topic, "The Christian's Evening Topic," "The Fall of Samson." Special music. All seats free.

—Mrs. C. S. Crane and family left here yesterday for Chicago, where the marriage of Mrs. Crane's son, Arthur, occurs next Wednesday. He will wed Miss Josephine Koch, a very pretty and accomplished Western girl.

—The Universalist Y. P. S. C. E. wish to thank their many kind friends in Newtonville for their contributions of flowers for the Newton Hospital. This mission, which closes next Saturday, has been very successful, and the society hopes to continue the work next year.

—An estate situated on Harvard street, known as the Walton property, consisting of a frame house and 17,000 square feet of land, has recently been purchased for an investment by E. Goulding of Framingham. The price paid for the estate was $8000.

—Mr. J. A. Fenno, superintendent of the Boston, Revere Beach & Lynn railroad, is at present taking his vacation. He is merely having a good time without the long journeys which people generally take, and paying an occasional visit to his office. Oct. 1 he returns to duty.

—Mr. Edward Sands was brought home from New Hampshire, Wednesday evening, suffering from a broken leg. He was riding with a party of four on a horse, and was thrown from the carriage, but he received the most serious injury. He broke the same leg a year ago, four inches from the present fracture.

—The Newton Co-operative Bank will offer $10,000 for sale at their next monthly meeting, Tuesday, Oct. 2nd, besides paying $7300 for about 80 shares in the second series, retired, upon which 6 per cent. interest, compounded semi-annually, will be paid from the date of issue. Shares can be had in the 13th series by applying to the secretary, J. Cheever Fuller, Newtonville. Shares $1.00 per month each.

—The music at the Universalist church, Sunday morning, will be as follows: Soprano and alto solos, tenor and bass duet, and quartet, "I will lift mine eyes." Soprano solo and quartet, "If ye love me." Quartet, "Lord we come before thee now." O. K. Hawkes.

—A High school boy had a close call here yesterday afternoon. He jumped off the forward end of a passenger train with the idea in mind of getting on to the rear car. He slipped, however, and was thrown, fortunately, clear of the cars. He rolled over three or four times, but aside from bruises escaped serious injury. He was badly frightened and, probably, will not try the trick again in a hurry.

—Mr. and Mrs. Samuel J. Brown of Walnut street returned Oct. 1, after an absence of nearly a year. Last winter they were abroad. Mr. Brown making a special study of French and Italian architecture. After coming back from Europe, Mr. and Mrs. Brown went to Marblehead to pass the summer. They are in Boston now where they remain until their return to Newtonville.

4 LINES OF WEAR CUT.

Outing Shirts reduced from $1.50 to .50
Ladies' Waists " " 2.75 to 1.00
Ladies' Waists " " 3.00 to 1.50
Men's Neck Wear " " .50 to .25

RAY 509 Wash. St., cor. West.
641 Boylston.
BOSTON.

—The new apartment house adjoining the old Gen. Hull mansion is nearly ready for occupancy. One house has been leased already, located at the east end of the building. Mr. Lord of Boston.

—Mr. S. K. Billings has returned from a hunting and fishing trip in Maine. The bears were thick down there and accounts are given of a terrible storm, hall stones as big or nearly as a two quart measure being hurled about promiscuously.

—The new office of the Co-operative bank is to be finely fitted up. The contract for desks and bare room fixtures has been placed with the Derby, Kilmer & Pond Desk Co. Mellich, Byfield & Co. of Boston will supply the furniture for the director's room.

—A dinner, complimentary to Mr. and Mrs. Kimball and Mr. and Mrs. Holbrook of Newton Highlands, was given in the Newton Clubhouse Wednesday. It was a most delightful social affair.

—Mr. and Mrs. Walter Chauncy Shute gave a reception following their wedding tour at the residence of Mrs. Shute's father, Mr. S. S. Simpson, Newtonville avenue, Tuesday evening. It was quite a notable society event attended by a large company of prominent Newtonians. The house was beautifully decorated, an orchestra furnished music and a collation was served.

—A crested eagle in captivity is surely something out of the usual line. The majestic bird ran against an overhead wire a few nights ago in the vicinity of Edinboro street and fell to the ground unconscious. Mr. U. H. Dyer came along in the nick of time and took his prize with him. The bird is now on exhibition in a cage in his store. It's a fine specimen with handsome plumage. It measures 5 feet 3 inches from tip to tip. Many people have had an opportunity of looking upon a real live specimen of the bird of prey, but think it quite useless to undertake to make a pet of it.

—A serious accident was averted here Monday by the display of good judgment and nerve. A buggy, to which a pair of spirited horses were attached, the property of Mr. W. F. Kimball, was left standing in front of Gardner's hardware store. The coachman was attending to an errand and there was no one to look after the hitch. Mr. Kimball's little boy being the only occupant of the carriage. Of a sudden the animals bolted. The coachman succeeded in getting hold of the reins, but could do little to check their progress. Herbert Hunting came to his assistance. When the team passed near where he was standing, he jumped and grabbed the right side of the head and another hit, after being dragged about 10 feet. It was a plucky piece of work, but it was done in the interest of saving a bright and innocent child from serious hurt, or perhaps, even a worse fate.

—Mr. D. O. Dow, after 27 years service in the employ of the late O. B. Leavitt and his successor, H. W. Pierce, has accepted a position with another firm. With but one exception Mr. Dow is the oldest attaché of a business place in this ward. When he first came to Newtonville, Clinton's block had not been built or, as a matter of fact, even contemplated. Since that time there has been many changes. The old storekeepers of those early days have passed away or removed to other places; there are new hands at the wheel and new generations springing up to form a part of the newer population. Hull's corner is a mist to the residents of today, an echo of the past that revives no personal memories. Everything is fleeting in this world of ours, and even those who can recall the pictures of the place of their youth and happy boyhood, of time leave us when the seal of maturer years and the hustle for achievement beckons them on to fields, seemingly offering greater opportunities for climbing toward the desired good of success.

WEST NEWTON

—Pianos, rented and tuned, Farley Newton.

—W. Tracey will open a restaurant in Hatch's block, Monday, Oct. 3.

—Mr. Guy Shannon has returned from Portsmouth, N. H.

—Alfred Fuller of Washington street is attending a private school in Wellesley.

—Mr. C. H. Hayes and family of Highland street have returned from Hull.

—Mr. C. F. Eddy is repairing his big sales, and putting in a new coal bin in the office.

—Driver Holmes of the police patrol wagon is spending his vacation at Johnson, Vt.

—Mr. W. M. Bullivant and family returned this week from their summer outing.

—Mr. Fisher Ames' family of Temple street have returned from a month's absence.

—Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Berry of Oak avenue have returned from Kennebunk, Maine.

—Mr. James E. Florence of New York is visiting his brother, Mr. Chas. Florence, Cherry street.

—E. P. Hatch's new building, corner of Washington and Elm streets, has been named Central block.

—Mr. J. Cheever Fuller of Washington street will move into his new house on Shaw street next month.

—Mr. Thomas Lyons of Pine street, who is spending his vacation in New York, is expected home Saturday.

—The bell that did faithful service in the tower of Engine No. 2 house, has been removed to the house of Hose 8, Nonantum district.

—Miss Bertha Van Tassel of Washington street has returned from a three weeks vacation, which she enjoyed at North Scituate.

—Mr. E. H. Emery, who is visiting Mr. John Eddy, Winthrop street, will return to his home at Jacksonville, Florida, next week.

—Mr. and Mrs. Deval have returned to their home at Providence, R. I., after a visit to J. T. Cushman's on Waltham street.

—Mr. Newton F. Lucas, now clerking in a grocery store at Boston Highlands, is spending his vacation here with his parents on Webster place.

—Work on the Congregational church improvements are progressing rapidly. When completed the building will contain several memorial windows.

—200 fine chrysanthemums in pots. Nothing finer for house or conservatory. Very low if taken before Oct. 1st. F. W. Fletcher, Charles street, Auburndale.

—The Newton Ladies Home Circle will meet with Mrs. A. C. Burt at Wakefield, Wednesday, Oct. 3. Train leaves the Union station, Boston, at 1.30 p. m.

—Mr. William M. Pettigrew, who has been racing in the bicycle contests in several cities and towns through the state, has returned home with several handsome and costly prizes.

—The first sodable of the season was given by the Young People of the Baptist Sunday school Wednesday evening. The musical and literary program was much enjoyed. Refreshments were served.

—The first meeting of the English and Classical school Lyceum was held last Friday evening, when the following were elected officers: Pres. C. Oudet; vice pres., D. Clapp; treas., P. R. Knight; sec'y, E. Nelson.

—Mrs. Ellen Perrin and Miss Ethel Perrin have returned from Mohegan, Me.

—Mrs. L. A. Kimberly and family returned from their summer sojourn this week.

—Rev. J. C. Jaynes occupied the Unitarian pulpit here for the first time since the vacation period last Sunday.

—Rev. Mr. Pruden of the Second church and Rev. J. M. Dutton of the Central Congregational exchanged pulpits last Sunday.

—Dr. S. F. Chase of Newtonville has removed his dental office to the new brick block, corner of Walnut and Washington streets.

—Mr. H. H. Hunt has the contract for a fine new residence for Mr. Edward Upham, to be located corner of Webster and Cherry streets.

—Mrs. Emily Webster starts next Wednesday for California. She will pass the winter there with Mrs. Moore, a former resident of this place.

—Mr. G. A. Walton and Mr. J. T. Prince of the school of music, organized a teachers' institute at Milford today.

—Miss Alice Walton has returned to New York to resume her position as teacher of classics in Dr. Sach's school for young ladies.

—Rev. J. C. Jaynes and Messrs. J. P. Tolman and Geo. L. Lovett have returned from the Unitarian convention held at Saratoga. The latter were delegates.

—The cards are out for the wedding of Miss Mary Elizabeth Houghton and Mr. Frank E. Fuller. The ceremony occurs in the Second Congregational church, Oct. 10, and the reception will be held at the residence of the groom's father, Mr. J. C. Fuller, Shaw street, the evening of Nov. 7.

—Rev. S. H. Johnson preaches Sunday evening at 7.30 o'clock in Good Templar's Hall. It is his purpose to organize a M. E. church here. There are quite a number of colored residents here who believe in the Methodist faith, and they are anxious to secure a meeting house and pastor.

—John Elliot lodge 149, A. O. U. W., installed these officers Wednesday evening in Knights of Honor hall: A. A. L. Leavitt, financier; A. F. A. G. Libby, inside watchman; W. T. Peterson, trustee. The installing ceremonies were conducted by Mr. J. C. Fuller, Grand Master Workman Clark and suite of Waltham.

—Ladies interested in art needle work will be pleased with the exhibition and sale of hand-designed work in a great variety of material and patterns, at the Woodland Park Hotel, on Tuesday, Oct. 2nd. A choice line of commenced and finished pieces of the newest patterns in embroidery will be shown.

—Mr. Wilbur D. Cook has sold to Mr. F. E. Clark a large tract of land containing 300,000 square feet, situated on Cherry street. Mr. Clark has named the land Jerome Park, and will lay it out in building lots, several already having been sold. It is reported that the price paid for the entire tract was $12,000.

—There are letters at the postoffice for Mr. Adams, Lillian Ashley, Mrs. C. B. Browne, Miss Eliza Betome, Miss H. M. Bacon, Miss Magale McIsaac, N. Blunt, Miss M. M. Bayley, J. A. Collins, T. G. Little, M. Edgerton, Mr. A. A. Hake, Miss Laura Park Hammond, Miss Laura Huckins, Mrs. Loring, Michael Murray, Miss C. M. South and, Garfield Whittier.

—Mr. J. Eliot Trowbridge has resigned the position of organist and director of music in the Congregational church, which has held for nearly a year. Mr. Trowbridge has had an experience of more than 25 years as organist and choir director in churches located in Boston and Newton, and his reputation as such is thoroughly well established. He is also well known through the country as a composer. His plans for another church position are not yet definitely arranged.

—The rally last Sunday at the Baptist church was in every way a success. The morning service opened with singing by the choir under the leadership of Mr. E. E. Burdon, and was followed by 5 minute talks by Dea. H. A. Inman and Dea. N. C. Pike "On the early history of Church," and "On the Church" and "The Sunday School." The pastor then offered prayer. The Sunday School met immediately after the morning service. The usual exercises were omitted and 5 minute talks from Mr. E. Leland, a former superintendent, Mr. N. C. Pike, Rev. Wm. M. Lisle and the pastor. The high water mark in attendance was reached, the number present being 177. In the evening the church was crowded to its utmost capacity. The speakers were Rev. J. M. Hull of the Baptist church in Weston who spoke on "Enthusiasm." Rev. Dr. Patrick followed, emphasizing his remarks by inserting the adjective Christian before Enthusiasm. The music of the evening was given by a quartet consisting of Mr. and Mrs. Beardsley, Miss Alice Bruce and Mr. W. H. Rand. The quartet sang two selections and Mrs. Beardsley rendered a solo. The church was very prettily decorated with wild flowers, the work of committees appointed from the church, Sunday School and Young People's Society. The evening service was devoted especially to the young people and a delegation of about 40 came up from the Congregational church.

AUBURNDALE.

—Ivers & Pond pianos, Farley Newton.

—Mr. and Mrs. Blodgett returned Friday last from Hull.

—Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Talbot are in Holliston for a short stay.

—Mr. Frank Dutton has resumed his studies at Harvard University.

—Mr. George Dike entered Williams College this week.

—Mr. Ernest Ayers has entered the Institute of Technology.

—Mr. George R. Eager returned this week from Ft. Allen.

—Mr. Francis Blake and family return Monday from the Adirondacks.

—Mrs. Mason and family have rented the Norton house on Hancock street,

—Rev. T. W. Bishop was away this week on a three day's outing.

—Mr. Frank P. Bates is ill with malaria, which appears to be prevalent here.

—Mr. John Kenney, who has been ill with malaria, is now convalescing.

—Mr. Jacobus and family, recently of Grove street, have removed to Boston.

—Miss Caroline Jacobus resumed her studies at Wellesley College this week.

—Mr. C. A. Pike of Riverside is confined to the house with an attack of malaria.

—200 fine chrysanthemums in pots. Nothing finer for house or conservatory. Very low if taken before Oct. 1st. F. W. Fletcher, Charles street.

—Mrs. Phillips of Old Orchard, Me., is visiting relatives here on Auburn street.

—Mr. Harry Inman has returned from an extended southern and western trip.

—The "Neighbors" meet with Mrs. Ryder at her residence on Ash street, Oct. 3.

—Mr. C. D. Smith and family, who have been visiting here, have returned to their home in Brooklyn, N. Y.

—Mrs. J. A. Smith of Lawrence is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Thorne, Auburndale avenue.

—Mrs. Deane is in New Haven this week visiting friends. She will also pass a few days in New York.

—Mr. L. P. Ober and family leave "Islington," their summer home, next week and will reside, as usual, in Boston this winter.

—Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Patterson returned this week from a three months' wedding tour abroad.

—Mr. G. Fred Pond has recovered a valuable St. Bernard dog which he feared had been stolen.

—Miss Maude Clark of Central street returned to Wellesley College this week.

—James O'Donnell has been awarded the contract for the stone work at "Islington," Mr. L. P. Ober's summer residence.

—Mr. Joseph Graham, who has been visiting here, returned this week to his home in Maine.

—Two cars were run off the spur track at Riverside, Sunday evening, and considerably damaged. The accident occurred while the cars were switching.

—Edward Murphy, an employ of the B. & A. railroad, while switching cars at Riverside, Tuesday, sprained his ankle and will be laid up for some little time.

—Mr. Edward L. Pickard returned this week from Canada, where he went on a business trip.

—The Review Club will hold its first meeting of the season next Tuesday at the home of Mrs. S. W. Dike.

—Mrs. A. Van Wagener and daughter of Woodland road are in Holyoke for a short stay.

—The signal posts and other apparatus along the line of the B. &. A. railroad have been freshened up with a new coat of paint.

—Mr. Charles Jenkins and Mr. Arthur Standish are enjoying a two weeks' hunting trip in Maine.

—Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Markham have returned from a ten days' trip to Washington, Baltimore and other places of interest.

—Misses Ella and Mary Smith, Miss Julia Cole and Mr. Waldo Cole have gone to the White Mountains.

—Dr. H. L. Clarke has opened an office in Wellesley Hills. He is now associated in practice with Dr. M. H. Clarke of Auburndale.

—Prof. Spring of Williams College preached in the Congregational church last Sunday.

—Mr. H. W. Parker commences his work as musical professor at Yale College this week. He will, however, retain the position of organist of Trinity church, Boston.

—There have been a number of arrivals from abroad during the week. Miss Alice Ranlett returned from England, Mrs. G. F. Hall from Paris, and Mr. and Mrs. Patterson (nee Adams).

—Miss Lena Emerson, who has been the guest of Mrs. M. E. Beardsley, Crescent street, is going to Waterville, Me., for a three weeks' stay. She will return here and pass the winter with Mrs. Beardsley.

—Mr. E. H. Harlow of Conitit has been here this week visiting his son, Ernest, who is recovering from typhoid fever at the Cottage Hospital. Ex-officio W. O. Harlow, his brother, has also been here this week.

—There are letters at the post office for I. W. Currier, Miss Juliette Carter, Miss Lucy Currier, Mrs. W. J. Cutter, Miss May Candley, Miss J. A. Croll, Miss Mary E. Henry and Mrs. L. A. Johnson.

—Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Wheelock, who have been entertaining Mr. and Mrs. Louis Firth of Bangor are in New York this week, where they went following the departure of their guests. Mr. Firth, alluded to, is of the great iron and steel firm of Firth & Son, Sheffield.

—A lot of land situated on Phillips street, owned by Wm. J. Coughlin, has been sold to Gilbert Firth of Boston. There are about 4000 square feet of land in the lot. The price paid was $400. The new owner will build upon the property.

—Ladies interested in art needle work will be pleased with the exhibition and sale of hand-designed work in a great variety of material and patterns, at the Woodland Park Hotel, on Tuesday, Oct. 2nd. A choice line of commenced and finished pieces of the newest patterns in embroidery will be shown.

—Last evening, at the sociable in the Methodist church, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Shepherd were informally entertained and many friends bid them bon voyage. Mr. Shepherd has leave of absence from Lasell Seminary for a year. He takes a party to Europe for an extended winter tour, leaving the Cunard wharf, East Boston, and sailing on the Pavonia tomorrow for Liverpool. Points to be visited are Berlin, where a three months stay is contemplated, Munich, Amsterdam, Dresden, Nuremberg, Lucern, Interlaken, Geneva and Paris.

—There was a delightful gathering at the house of Rev. Dr. Cutterson, formerly of Auburndale, in Winchester, Wednesday afternoon, when Rev. Henry Herlick was married to Miss Root of Providence. The rooms were tastefully adorned with autumn leaves and flowers, and the meeting of many missionaries and their friends was greatly enjoyed. There were a number of guests from Auburndale, among them Rev. and Mrs. Cutler, and Mrs. Walker. Rev. and Mrs. Herlick will soon leave for India.

—A new route has been suggested for the Auburndale section of the central boulevard. It is proposed to enter Auburn street more to the east and continue on that thoroughfare over the bridge through the business centre of the ward, and thence to the river park. The original plan was to continue the boulevard from its present intersection with Washington street to Auburn at the junction of Rowe; thence following Rowe street about 1000 feet and continuing west to the park skirting the Charles. The objection to the route is its crookedness. The new plan carries the wide avenue to the river in nearly a straight line. It interferes with few houses and it is claimed, therefore will reduce the cost considerably.

J. S. Newcomb & Co. of 4 Quincy Market, Boston, will deliver orders of $2 or over free to any part of Newton. See adv.

MINER ROBINSON ELECTRICAL ENGINEER.

12 Pearl St., Room 27, Boston. Order Office, 421 Centre St., Newton
The fitting of private residences for the Electric Light a specialty.
Boston, 3311. —TELEPHONES— W. Newton, *234.
NEWTON *255-2.

Announcement CUSTOM BOOTS AND SHOES

At short notice; also REPAIRING in the same prompt manner as heretofore. Thanking the public for their liberal patronage in the past and hoping by strict attention to business to merit a continuance of the same, I remain yours respectfully,
JAMES B. BEECHER,
Cherry Street, West Newton.

ESTABLISHED 1869.
SIMPSON BROTHERS,
CONTRACTORS FOR
Concrete Walks and Driveways
Asphalt Floors, and Artificial Stone walks.
We have been awarded the Sidewalk Contract for the City of Newton for 1894, and are ready to receive orders or give estimates for work in private grounds.
P. O. Address, Newton, or Boston Office, Room 58, Telephone 1155 Boston.
166 Devonshire St.
REFERS TO 20 YEARS WORK IN NEWTON.

Fish and Provisions.
Newton City Market
Fresh and Salt
Meats.
Poultry and Game.
Fish and Oysters.
Butter, Cheese, Eggs, Canned Goods, Fruit, Vegetables.
Wellington Howes, Proprietor
BUNTING'S FISH MARKET
Cole's Block, Newton.
Established 1877. Tel. Connections.
FISH, OYSTERS,
Fruit and Vegetables of All Kinds.
FOUND
AT...
HUDSON'S PHARMACY.
...A CURE FOR...
Coughs and Colds.
OVER 200 BOTTLES OF
PECTORAL SYRUP
have been sold during the past month. It has a Home Reputation
due entirely to its
—MERITS—
PREPARED ONLY BY Arthur Hudson,
Pharmacist and Chemist.
JAMES PAXTON,
Confectioner and Caterer.
Ices, Creams, Frozen Pudding, Roman Punch, Fine Cakes, Candies, Salads, Oysters, Crisquettes, Etc.
ALL OUR OWN MANUFACTURE.
Weddings and Receptions
SERVED IN SUPERIOR STYLE.
ELIOT BLOCK, NEWTON.
BICYCLES
WE CAN'T BE BEAT.
How is this for an assortment of wheels? Agents for the Rambler, Union, Raleigh, Warwick, Relay, Eagle, Puritan, Lovell, Waverly, Crawford. Call and see the League Chainless Safety. We allow more in trade for your old wheel than any other dealer. The best fitted repair shop in Boston. Call for catalogue.
RAZOUX & HANDY
444 TREMONT STREET, BOSTON.

Is Your Sole on Earth?
We have shoes for everybody as wear resisting as can be produced at as low prices as an honest firm can sell them.
The Central
Moody and Crescent Sts. Waltham.

West Newton English and Classical School.
THE FORTY SECOND YEAR
of this Family Day School for Boys and Girls begins
Wednesday, Sept. 19, '94.
Prepares for College, Scientific School, Business and a useful life. Attention to character building. Send for Catalogue or call Tuesdays at ALLEN BROTHERS, West Newton.
GARDEN CITY BAND.
The Garden City Brass Band is open to engagements for parades, banquets, societies, concerts, picnics, lawn parties and all occasions where an excellent band with a full complement of musicians is needed. All communications for engagements may be made to Joseph T. Hall, Newton Upper Falls, or P. H. Callahan, Newton Lower Falls. 38 6m

FRED A. HUBBARD,
Pharmacist
P. O. Block, NEWTON.
SUNDAY CLOSING HOURS:
From 10.30 A. M. to 12 M.: 2 P. M. to 4 P. M.
J. A. BUSHEE
Painter and Decorator.
Graining, Glazing, Paper Hanging, Whitening, Tinting and Whitewashing.
216 WASHINGTON STREET, NEWTON.

HOWARD R. MASON, Optician.
Spectacles and Eye-Glasses Repaired.
Opticist's Prescriptions Filled.
390 CENTRE ST., NEWTON.
—WITH—
THEO. L. MASON, Jeweler

ICEBERGS.

They come again, those monsters of the sea. The north wind's brood, the children of the cold. Long lapped and cradled in white winter's fold. As worlds are cradled in eternity. Lulled by the storm, the arctic's euphony. Launched in hoarse thunder from a mountain mole. Upon the sea the viking sailed of old. They come, the fleet of death, in spring set free. Strange as the product of some other sphere. The huge imaginings the frost has wrought. Out of the land of the white bear emerge. Seeking the sunlight, from creation's verge. Southward they wander, silent as thought. And in the gulf stream drown and disappear. —W. P. Foster in Century.

A HYPNOTIC CRIME.

It happened in this way. We of the Capital Comedy company, having one summer a month's vacation, decided to fill it in with a "stock season," worked on the joint stock system at Beachington. We extended the commonwealth principle from the stage to the home and took a furnished house, wherein we all resided with more comfort and at less expense than is possible in seaside lodgings. We fellows had a smoking billiard room for our amusement, the girls had a boudoir for their gossip, and the married ladies kindly looked after the consumable properties and the proprieties. And very good company we voted ourselves.

My sister Vere and her husband, Edmond Hatherleigh, were in the "crowd," and their special favorite was a young Spanish girl, who had taken to the boards—the Senorita Alicia Velasquez. She was my special favorite, too, but I mustn't anticipate.

Being seriously in love with the fair Spaniard—who was dark, by the by—my jealous eyes noted all things affecting her in any way, and it seemed to me that my brother-in-law admired her just a little too much. He was most polite and attentive to his wife, but every now and again I caught him looking at Alicia with more admiration in his impressive eyes than was good for him or for the object of it either.

One evening after the performance at the theater, the ladies having retired for the night, we gentlemen adjourned to the smoking room for weeds and whisky. There the desultory talk somehow veered round to hypnotism and such phenomena, whereon most of us, being ignorant of the subject, expatiated with force and volubility.

Hatherleigh, however, who had been a medico before he became a mummer, spoke about it as one having authority, and we were all astonished, though I was by no means convinced by the arguments he advanced and the evidence he adduced in support of the theory of hypnotic suggestion, especially in its relation to crime.

"But do you mean to say," said I incredulously, "that if you suggest a crime to a hypnotized subject he will commit it?"

"Certainly," Hatherleigh replied. "When in practice, I hypnotized several patients and by suggestion relieved many of them of diseases which had hitherto been considered incurable."

"So you have frequently said," I returned, "but for my part I doubt if there is any such thing as hypnotism at all. You may possibly obtain influence over weak-minded persons and by working on their credulous imaginations effect cures of nervous disorders, but—well, I should like to see the man who could hypnotize me!"

"Would you?" Hatherleigh inquired, with a smile that was half a sneer. "What do you say to allowing me to make the experiment?"

"Oh, I'm game, if you're willing!" I retorted rather warmly.

"Very well," said my relative coolly. "When shall we begin?"

"Now," I answered boldly.

"Thanks," said Hatherleigh, with another sarcastic smile. "Now, gentlemen—turning to the others—"may I ask you to leave us alone for a few minutes?"

For answer the fellows went solemnly out of the room, adjuring me to bear up and promising me a really handsome funeral should the experiment prove fatal. As for me, I now felt pretty much as a man feels when he's going to have a tooth out. "Now, Sir Doubtful," said my brother-in-law, "just throw away your cigar and look me full in the face."

I did so. Looking up into the man's face, I began to realize that it was a serious matter for him, and that it might be serious for me also. For a moment I felt inclined to withdraw, for Hatherleigh looked as though he really did possess the power he claimed, but obstinacy and pride overcame fear, and I said carelessly, "Go on with your hypnotizing."

"I have already commenced," he replied, fixing his eyes on mine.

I had expected him to make passes with his hands and perform all that sort of mummerly, but he sat quite still, looking me quietly in the face. For a time I fearfully returned his gaze, but suddenly all my surroundings seemed to fade away, and I saw nothing but a pair of fiery eyes which seemed to burn into my soul. I tried to shut my own eyes to the sight, but in vain. Those terrible eyes grew larger and larger until they seemed to fill the limits of space, and then I awoke to find Hatherleigh regarding me with an anxious but satisfied look. The other fellows had returned, and they began asking me all sorts of questions. But I had nothing to tell. I had no unpleasant feeling. I seemed to have been dozing—that was all. The clock, too, showed that the experiment had lasted but a few minutes. "Well," I asked Hatherleigh, "how have you succeeded?"

"Beyond my most sanguine expectations," he replied, with deep meaning in his tone. "How do you feel?"

"Oh, pretty well," I answered. "I don't want to hurt your feelings, Edmond, but I don't feel hypnotized a bit!"

"No? Well, we shall see," he said quietly, shrugging his shoulders. He looked fatigued, and staggered as he crossed the room.

"Aren't you well?" I asked.

"Quite well, thanks," he replied, "but these experiments weaken me for a time—it is nothing. Good night!"

So saying, he sank into a chair, and we left him to finish his cigar by the fireside while we wended our ways to bed, all wondering how he would convince me that I was hypnotized.

I intended to turn in at once; but, to my dismay, I could not do so. I tried to undress, but I was by some strange force impelled to open my trunk and take from it a curious old hunting knife I once frequently used as a "property." I never use it now. I exerted all the will power I possessed and endeavored to replace the weapon, for a sense of impending danger was upon me, but my will seemed paralyzed, and I carefully drew the knife from its sheath, feeling its keen edge with my thumb.

By the same mysterious influence I was next forced to remove my slippers and creep stealthily to my sister's bedroom. A hundred times I tried to resist my steps, but still the awful force impelled me forward until I silently entered Vere's chamber. Closing the door noiselessly behind me, I advanced on tiptoe to the bedside. The room was in semidarkness, but the light of the shaded lamp on the dressing table showed me that my sister was sleeping peacefully, though there were traces of recent tears upon her pale face.

Every detail of the room is stamped upon my memory, and I remember noticing that the fingers of the tiny clock on the mantelshelf pointed to 10 minutes to 2.

"Good heavens," I thought, "why am I here? What dreadful influence is it that deprives me of my will?"

Then in a flash I knew that my purpose was murder—to murder my own sister!

"Why does she not awake?" I thought in my agony. "Why does not her husband save her from this death and me from this crime?"

Her husband! That was the solution of the mystery. He had hypnotized me after all, and I was the agent of his will. But why was I to kill his wife, my darling sister Vere?

Then I remembered the words he had whispered to me during my brief hypnotic sleep.

"You doubted my power," he said or rather hissed. "Fool! But greater fool to think to win Alicia. She is for me—do you hear—for me. Your puling, white faced sister must be removed, and you shall do it. Yes, you shall kill her and suffer for the crime, leaving me free for love—and Alicia."

All was plain to me. I knew that I was compelled to shed my innocent sister's blood. All this I knew, yet had no power to stay my own murderous hand. Think of my position, and imagine, if you can, the mental agony I endured.

Advancing closer to the bedside and carefully drawing back the coverlet, I raised the knife to strike. Then the little clock on the mantelshelf chimed 2.

I had regained my will. With a cry of infinite relief I flung the knife from me and rushed out of the room. Hatherleigh was still seated beside the fire when I burst, breathless, into the smoking room.

I called him by name. But he returned no answer. He was dead.

No doubt my brother-in-law had died at 2 o'clock precisely, his death being due to the intense excitement consequent upon the strain he had, by hypnotizing me, put upon himself. If so, the reason of my sudden recovery of will power is plain enough, for with his death his influence over me will naturally cease. Anyhow I am more than thankful that something between heaven and earth, until then undreamed of in my philosophy, saved me from committing a crime of which my moral innocence would have availed me little in a court of justice.

What became of the Senorita Alicia? Oh, she is now my wife.—London Tit-Bits.

A Bad Use For the Doctor.

Bobbs always was a quick witted chap. Only one other possession of his was as nimble as that wit of his, and that was his money. He was always broke and always reckless withal. He took a cab once, being a bit unsteady, to convey him from the club to the dwelling, the latter some distance. The cool night air blowing through the open windows sobered him enough to permit of his realizing that he had no money to pay the cabman's fare.

Just at that moment the driver made that very usual inquiry:

"What address do you say, sir?"

"And Bobbs said promptly, "Dr. So-and-so," such a street and number, the same being round the corner from his own abode. The house reached, Bobbs dashed up the steps, rang the bell furiously, implored the doctor to go at once with his instruments to such a house, the lady being in a dying condition from an accident.

A cab was at the door, and would the doctor take the cab? The doctor would. Bobbs huddled him in, gave the driver an address and then started off to telegraph to the lady's brother. Of course Bobbs went home around the corner, and of course the cabman searched in vain for the number, and of course the doctor—well, what could he do?—London Tit-Bits.

Public Spirited Women.

Cincinnati has many public spirited women. They made possible the Art museum, with its magnificent building, which crowns one of the hillsides. A woman started the famous Bookwood pottery. Women did the exquisite carving on the front of the Music hall organ, and their latest undertaking is a permanent orchestra. With that, Cincinnati will stand on the same plane as New York, Boston and Chicago. The Orchestra association is incorporated, and its projectors are full of enthusiasm. The 15 directors are ladies, with an advisory board of gentlemen.

CLEOPATRA'S NEEDLE.

Getting the Obelisk Aboard Ship a Pretty Piece of Engineering.

"One of the pleasantest recollections I have to look back on," said Adam Johnson, "is the fact that I was one of the party that helped to run up the American colors over Cleopatra's needle when it was being taken down to be carried to New York. Our vessel was out in the Mediterranean with a roving commission, and we were at Alexandria at the time the obelisk was being moved. The big stone had been presented by the Egyptian government to this country, but the people were wild about having it moved. We had to place a guard around the men who were working on the shaft, and even then there was almost a riot."

"But that was one of the prettiest pieces of engineering work I have ever seen. The engineers who were moving our shaft had a couple of big wooden cases built that fitted around the needle like the pieces of wood around the lead in a pencil. There were a couple of projectiles on each side of the casings just on the center of gravity in the shaft, like the trunnions on a cannon. Under these they put lifting jacks and just picked that immense stone off its pedestal, swung it around horizontal and then lowered it as gently as could be on a long sliding way, with cannon balls under it for rollers. They had a square hole cut in the stern of the steamship and slid it into the hull through that and replaced the sheathing outside."

"Under the shaft in the inside of the pedestal there were a lot of bronze toads and ornaments and the Lord knows what not that the Masons claimed were placed there by some of their progenitors eons ago. I don't know anything about that, though, and you can leave it or take it, as you choose."

"The British were not half so slick with the obelisk they carried over to England. They cased it up in a big sheet iron arrangement like a boiler, riveted it in and floated the whole thing off through a trench dug in the sand down to the water. Then they rigged jury sails on it and towed it over to England, but they lost three or four men off it before they got it in port and had all sorts of a time generally."

"A couple of years afterward I saw the British obelisk set up on the east bank of the Thames, and when I came home the first thing I went to see was ours in Central park."—Washington Post.

ACID FOR MAKING SUGAR.

A Curious Process Which Has Met With Some Success In France.

A very novel method of making sugar has been patented in France by M. Pellegrini. Sugar is chemically a compound of carbon, oxygen and hydrogen in such proportions that if carbonic acid, water and certain kinds of illuminating gas could be persuaded to unite in the proper quantities the composition of sugar would be exactly imitated. Hitherto no one has been able to make sugar by mixing water with two kinds of gas, but M. Pellegrini claims to have succeeded. The apparatus he uses consists of a large block of pumice stone, cleansed by soaking first in sulphuric acid and then in water, which is set in an iron box plated with nickel inside. The length of the box is three times that of the pumice stone block, which is tightly fitted in the middle, and pipes are arranged to convey the ingredients to the empty ends of the box, as required. Two of them enter from the sides and serve to bring carbonic acid and hydrocarbon gas, while another pipe from above branches so as to reach both empty portions of the box and conveys steam. All the pipes are fitted with valve and pressure gauges.

Another pipe at the bottom of the box serves as an outlet. At first this pipe is closed, as is also the steam pipe from above, and carbonic acid is forced into one end of the box, while ethylene gas is forced into the other under equal pressure and in equal volumes. A few minutes later the steam valve above is opened and the steam forced in under the same pressure. So the supply of each must be kept constant. At the end of half an hour the supply of gas is shut off, the outlet pipe is opened, and one of the chambers is found to be filled with sirup containing 25 per cent of sugar.

The sirup is drawn off for refining, and as soon as the apparatus is cool it is ready for a fresh charge. The ethylene gas can be obtained by roasting rosin or grease, but M. Pellegrini's patent covers other hydrocarbons, such as petroleum products. The explanation is that the three gases are condensed in the pores of the pumice stone and there unite.—American Architect.

To bring butter take a pound of granulated sugar, a tablespoonful of salt-peter and 3 gallons of brine strong enough to bear an egg. Boil the brine and strain when cool. The butter should be wrapped in cloth before placing in the brine.

Send 2c. stamp for our Premium Catalogue.

THE J. B. WILLIAMS CO., Glastonbury, Conn.

Makers of Williams' Famous Shaving Soap.

STATE ELECTION

Nov. 6, 1894.

City of Newton.

REGISTRATION OF VOTERS.

1894.

Notice is hereby given that the Registrars of Voters commencing Monday, September 24, 1894, to and including Wednesday, October 17, 1894, will hold sessions for the registration of voters and to correct and revise the Ward Lists at the City Clerk's office, City Hall, daily as follows: 8:30 A. M. to 12 o'clock M.; 2 o'clock to 5 P. M.; except Saturdays, when the hours are from 8:30 o'clock A. M. to 12 o'clock M.; also from 7:30 to 9 o'clock in the evening upon the following dates and at the places herein named:

Newton Lower Falls—Freeman Hall, Saturday, September 29.

Nonantum—Athenaeum, Tuesday, October 2.

Newton Upper Falls—Old Prospect School-house, Wednesday, October 3.

Newton—Armory Hall, Saturday, October 6.

At the City Hall on Monday, October 8.

Auburndale—Auburn Hall, Wednesday, October 10.

Newtonville—Room 8, Central Block, Saturday, October 13.

Newton Highlands—Stevens Hall, Monday, October 15.

Newton Centre—Associates' Hall, Pleasant street, Tuesday, October 16, from 7:30 to 9 o'clock.

Also at City Hall on Wednesday, October 17, from 12 o'clock M. to 10 o'clock P. M., which is the last session preceding the Election, November 6, and thereafter the Registrars will not, before the Election, add any names to the Registers, except the names of voters examined as to their qualifications, since the preceding thirtieth day of April.

Every person whose name is not on the Voting List as posted, must in order to be registered as a voter, appear in person before the Registrars of Voters on either of the days above mentioned, presenting a certificate from the assessors or tax bill or notice from the collector of taxes showing that he has been assessed for a poll tax as a resident of the city or town on the preceding first day of May.

All naturalized citizens must present their final papers when they register.

If the father of an applicant was naturalized before he (the son) became 21 years of age, the son is naturalized thereby, and must present the father's naturalization papers.

Every male citizen of 21 years of age and upwards, who has resided in the state one year, and in the city of Newton six calendar months next preceding the state election, November 6, 1894, and who shall be able to read and write, shall have the right to vote at said State election.

GEORGE E. BRIDGES, GEORGE H. ROBBINS, AMOS L. HALE, ISAAC F. KINGSBURY, Registrars of Voters, City Hall, Newton, September 13, 1894.

DEXTER SHOE CO., Inc'n. Capital, $1,000,000. BEST $1.50 SHOE IN THE WORLD. "A dollar saved is a dollar earned." This Ladies' Solid French Dongola Kid Button Boot delivered free anywhere in the U.S., on receipt of Cash, Money Order, or Postal Note for $1.50. Equals every way the boots sold in all retail stores for $2.50. We make this boot ourselves, therefore we guarantee the fit, style and wear, and if any one is not satisfied we will refund the money or send another pair. Opera "Toe or Common Sense" within 1 to 8 and half inches. Send your size; we will tell you. Illustrated Catalogue FREE.

DEXTER SHOE CO., 143 FEDERAL ST., BOSTON, MASS. Special terms to Dealers.

Quite Right. The only washing powder that has a cake of Toilet Soap in each package is Ivoryine WASHING POWDER.

Any one CAN Pull Teeth.

DR. G. P. WIKSELL, The Pelham, Boston, Mass.

T. F. GLENNAN, Carriage Trimming and Harness Making, Washington St., - Newton.

Mr. John Bailey

All Run Down

In health and strength after the grip—I was advised to take Hood's Sarsaparilla. Half a bottle gave me good sleep and seemed my nerves, my cough ceased and I gradually gained flesh. Hood's Sarsaparilla made me a well man. It hits the right spot. JOHN BAILEY, Grocer, 408 Chelmsford Street, Lowell, Mass.

Hood's Sarsaparilla Cures

Hood's Pills are purely vegetable, and do not purge, pain or gripe. Sold by all druggists.

Millinery

JUVENE

Just returned from New York with a full line of

High Class Millinery.

Which we are now ready to show.

Open evenings on Saturday only.

E. JUVENE ROBBINS

Eliot Block, Newton.

J. FRANKLIN FULLER, Jr.

Civil Engineer and Surveyor,

19 PEARL ST. BOSTON,

Rooms 24 and 25.

Surveys, Plans, and Estimates, for the Improvement, Drainage, and Development of City and Suburban Real Estate.

Residence Highland St., West Newton. Tel. 3-93-6m

1-p

PURE MILK

SUPPLIED DAILY FROM

Prospect Valley Farm

One cow's milk supplied when desired

H. COLDWELL & SON,

Waltham, Mass.

Lock Box 192.

DRESSMAKERS.

MISS FRAZIER,

FIRST CLASS DRESSMAKER.

House formerly occupied by Mrs. Doane.

DAVIS STREET, WEST NEWTON.

P. O. Box 412.

DRESSES

Made from Six to Ten Dollars. Baskets cut for Seventy-Five Cents. Work Warranted. Apply at once. DRESSMAKER, 398 Centre Street.

NEWTON.

DRESSMAKING

Evening and Street Costumes in Latest Designs.

Moderate Prices.

S. A. MERRITT, 33 PARSONS STREET, NEWTONVILLE.

Waltham & Newton electric cars pass the street.

MRS. T. E. GAMMONS,

Dressmaker.

Evening and Street Costumes in Latest Designs.

Moderate Prices.

CHESTNUT STREET, - W. NEWTON.

Between Washington St. and Depot. 5-17

MISS ALICE D. JONES,

Dress and Cloak Making.

Methodist Building, Waltham.

C. MILLER,

IMPORTER OF

French - Millinery.

165 TREMONT STREET,

Boston.

Any one CAN Pull Teeth.

But skill and patience can save them. Crown and bridge work can fill these gaps.

DR. G. P. WIKSELL,

The Pelham, Boston, Mass.

T. F. GLENNAN,

Carriage Trimming and Harness Making,

BLANKETS, ROBES, WHIPS, ETC.

Washington St., - Newton.

Lawyers.

SPRAGUE & WASHBURN,

Counsellors - at - Law

105 SUMMER STREET, BOSTON.

Chas. H. Sprague, Residence, Auburndale. O. Everett Washburn, Residence, Wellesley Hills.

JESSE C. IVY,

COUNSELLOR AT LAW,

18 Devonshire street, Room 43, Boston, Mass

Residence, Newton. 38-17

W. F. & W. S. SLOCUM

Attorney and Counsellor-at-Law.

Rooms 9 and 10 Herald Building, 297 Washington Street, Boston.

WILLIAM F. SLOCUM. WINFIELD S. SLOCUM.

Residences, Newtonville.

Winfield S. Slocum, City Solicitor of Newton.

WILLIAM F. RACON,

Attorney and Counsellor-at-Law.

113 Devonshire St., Room 43, BOSTON.

Residence, 52 Hyde Avenue, Newton.

Expressmen.

CHAMBERLAIN'S BAGGAGE EXPRESS

NEWTON.

Orders may be left at the B. & A. Baggage Room, or sent to Post Office Box 25.

HOLMES' Baggage Express.

You can always find one of Holmes' Express men at their stand, Newton Baggage Room from 6:30 A. M. to 8 P. M., where a call may be left, or leave orders at G. P. Atkins, Grocer, or by Telephone Call at Hubbard & Froeter's Apothecary.

Furniture and Piano Moving, also Crockery and Pictures carefully packed for transportation.

General Jobbing of every description promptly attended to.

Residence: 152 Adams Street, Newton, Mass. 48

PEARSON'S

Newton and Boston Express.

Boston Office: 91 Kilby St., 106 Arch St

NEWTON FREE LIBRARY.

LIST OF NEW BOOKS.

- Bimetallic League; Report of the Proceedings at the Annual Meeting, Manchester, Eng. Feb. 6, 1894. 85, 208
- With these are joined several papers favoring Bimetalism, by A. J. Warner, President of the American Bimetallic League, formerly printed in the New York Sun.
- Blew, Wm. C. A. Brighton and its Coaches; a History of the London and Brighton Road; with some Account of the Provincial Coaches that have Run from Brighton. 37, 298
- Carlyle, Thomas. Latter-Day Pamphlets. 62, 568
- Contents. The Present Time. Model Persons. Downing Street. The New Downing Street. Stump-Orator. Parliaments. Hudson's Statue. Jesuitism. Summary.
- Chanute, O. Progress in Flying Machines. 105, 474
- Consists of a series of articles which have been published within the last three years in the Railroad and Engineering Journal.
- Charles River. Report of the Joint Board consisting of the Metropolitan Park Commission and the State Board of Health upon the Improvement of Charles River, from the Waltham Line to the Charles River Bridge. 106, 422
- Coolidge, Louis Arthur, and Reynolds, Jas. Burton. The Show at Washington. 91, 798
- "A sketch of Washington life, a picture of every-day existence of the men who make laws, fame and trouble at the nation's capital." Preface.
- Dodd, Anna Bowman. Struthers; and The Comedy of the Masked Musicians. 64, 321
- Ewing, J. A. The Steam Engine and other Heat-Engines. 106, 424
- Based on the author's article on the Steam-Engine written for the Encyclopedia Britannica.
- Hillier, Wilhelm von. Hober als die Kirche; eine Erzählung aus alter Zeit. 41, 85
- Hunt, Violet. The Maiden's Progress; a Novel in Dialogue. 65, 329
- Janvier, Thomas A. In Old New York. 71, 413
- Articles that have appeared in Harper's Magazine forming a history of the settlement of New York and the various changes its streets and houses have passed through in its growth and expansion.
- McCracken, W. D. Romance Switzerland. 31, 442
- McCracken, W. D. Teutonic Switzerland. 31, 443
- These two little volumes wish to amplify and elucidate by a series of pen pictures, what mere guide-books can only indicate, and to add historical and geographical details to each place, and suggest local color and atmosphere.
- Norris, Wm. E. A Victim of Good Luck. 64, 800
- Spalding, Fred P. A Text-Book on Roads and Pavements. 103, 643
- Gives a brief discussion, from an engineering standpoint, of the principles involved in highway work, and outlines the more important systems of construction, devoting considerable attention to the location and construction of country roads.
- Spoford, Harriet Prescott. A Scarlet Poppy, and other Stories. 64, 3
- Spohr, Louis. Autobiography; trans. from the German. 95, 508
- Stephens, Henry Morse. Europe, 1789-1815. Vol. 7 of 72, 346
- In this seventh volume of Periods of European History Mr. Stephens dwells especially on the Belgian Revolution of 1798, the reorganization of Prussia in 1806-12, the Congress of Vienna, the influence of the French Revolution on Europe, and Napoleon's career as a great reformer rather than as a good conqueror.
- E. P. THURSTON, Librarian.
- Sept. 26, 1894.

BOOKS AND MAGAZINES.

Harper's Magazine for October contains the following special features: "Lahore and the Punjab," (A Journey in British India. Fifteen illustrations.) By Edwin Lord Weeks. "A Day of the Pinocchio Club," (First of a Series of Stories of East-India New York.) By Julius Ralph. "The Streets of Paris," (With Eight Pictures by C. D. Gibson.) By Richard Harding Davis. "Iberville and the Mississippi," (New Light on a Great Explorer.) By Grace King. "Golf in the Old Country," (Fifteen illustrations.) By Caspar W. Whitney. "Complete Short Story Series," By Julius Ralph. Mrs. B. F. Mayhew, Owen Wister, and Thomas Nelson Page. Charles Dudley Warner's novel "The Golden House" grows in interest as the story moves to its close in the November Number. It also contains the conclusion of Brander Matthews's charming two-part tale of Narragansett Pier, called "The Royal Marine," and "The Old Gentleman of the Black Stock," one of Thomas Nelson Page's best and most sympathetic pieces of fiction.

N. A. A. Foot Ball Team.

The call issued for candidates for the first and second elevens, brought out a large number of promising players last Saturday, for the first practice. As the weather was very warm no hard playing was done. The outlook for a better team than last year, is very promising, and tomorrow afternoon there will be a short practice game between two elevens made up from the candidates. At the Suburban League meeting last Friday evening, Dorchester and the Rindge Club of Cambridge were admitted to membership, so that this year the following teams will struggle for the championship. Hyde Park, the winners last year, West Roxbury A. A., Lynn, Rindge, Dorchester and Newton A. A. The schedule of games has not been drawn up yet but Newton will have her share of home games, which promise to be very interesting.

There is more Catarrh in this section the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address, F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists, 75c.

During the hot weather impurities in the blood may seriously annoy you. Expel them by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, the great blood purifier.

BOSTON AMUSEMENTS.

HOLLIS STREET THEATRE—The second and last week of Miss Ada Rohan's engagement at the Hollis will begin Oct. 1, and promises to be even more brilliant and successful than the previous week, when she attracted a series of large and fashionable audiences. The repertoire for the week of October 1 has been arranged as follows: "Love on Crutches" with Miss Rehan as Annie, on Monday and Tuesday evenings and the Wednesday matinee; "As You Like It" with Miss Rehan as Rosalind, on Wednesday and Thursday evenings; "Taming of the Shrew," with Miss Rehan as Katherine, on Friday and Saturday evenings and the Saturday matinee. The following members of Mr. Augustin Daly's company will accompany Miss Rehan; Mr. George Clarke, John Craig, Charles Wheelwright, William Owen, Sidney Herbert, Lloyd Daubigny, Miss Sybil Carlyle, Miss Lily Post, Miss Evangeline Irving, Miss Ida Moleworth and Mrs. Thomas Barry.

COLUMBIA THEATRE—"On the Mississippi" the latest and most elaborate dramatic effort of William Haworth, and one of the productions of Thomas H. Davis, tells a thrilling story of adventure in Tennessee and New Orleans. The Klux Klan figures prominently in the play, as does also a mardigras carnival and a floating theatre on the river, that gives the piece its euphonious title. The action, which involves many stirring incidents and a great deal of incidental comedy, begins at a picturesque spot on the mountains of Tennessee, moves then to certain famous localities in New Orleans, goes from there to a lonely swamp, next to a primitive Southern county jail and finally to a Tennessee mountain homestead. The presentation requires the use of an extraordinary amount of picturesque scenery, and Mr. Davis has made "On the Mississippi" one of the most pretentious of his scenic productions. Of course the large cast of characters includes a lot of darkeys, and their singing, dancing and playing form specialties entirely suitable to the play.

THE NEW LYCEUM THEATRE—A genuine treat in the vaudeville line is promised at the new Lyceum Theatre next week. The program will be varied and replete with novelty. In refined Irish comedy Shea and Earle will make merry every moment they are upon the stage. Henry Hannay, the great German impersonator, will furnish an amusing entertainment. Miss Laura Bennett will appear in musical selections, and Kenyon, the famous equilibrist, will introduce his very interesting and skillful exhibition. A leading feature of the performance will be the singing of Miss Carrie Tutin, the famous soloist and Boston's great favorite. The celebrated California Quartet, the Davenport brothers, acrobats and tumblers, and Lawrence and Harrington, sketch artists, are on the program. Another feature of the bill that will interest many will be the appearance of Miss Dorothy Denning, the beautiful dancer, who at the Tremont Theatre last season created a great sensation and became a great favorite.

BOWDOIN SQUARE THEATRE—The next attraction at the Bowdoin Square Theatre is "The New South," a play written by Mr. Jos. R. Grismer and Mr. Clay H. Greene for the starring tour of Mr. Grismer and his beautiful wife known in stage-land as Miss Phoebe Davies. "The New South" is not a war play, as its name might suggest. It is, however, a southern play and pronounced by everyone a true picture of the South as it really is, all of the affairs with which it deals being portrayed truthfully and correctly. Jack Mason is going to play in "The Cotton King." Manager Brady succeeded in persuading Boston's favorite juvenile man to abandon his starring tour and to once more enter the melodramatic field. Mason is to receive an enormous salary, and the part is said to be especially suited to him. If the management of "The Cotton King" continue engaging high class people, it is probable that the cast will be the greatest and most expensive ever seen in Boston.

GRAND OPERA HOUSE—Messrs. Mansfield and Magee announce that they have arranged with Mr. Chas. MacGenehey for the presentation, as their next attraction, of the brilliant young American actor and perennial Boston favorite, Mr. Richard Golden, in that most popular of his many creations, "Old Joe Plouty." What lends particular interest to Mr. Golden's forthcoming engagement is the fact that the visit is to be the last one that will be made in Boston until after his tour of Europe, which is not expected to terminate before the year 1900. The company engaged to support Mr. Golden in this, his farewell tour, embraces such well known favorites as C. Blanchard, H. H. Forsman, Henry Hilton, Wm. J. Gross, Frank R. Jackson, Geo. S. Cates, Chas. Carter, F. C. Wells, Alfred Faite, Katherine Kittlemen, Marjorie Strathmore, Annie Phillips, Mrs. F. C. Wells, and little Lucille Leath. The scenery is new and elaborate and every accessory calculated to bring success has been provided.

Small Attendance in Newton.

The Newton Democratic caucuses last Friday evening were very quiet, and the attendance was comparatively small. The results in the various wards were as follows:

Ward 1. State, R. J. Morrissy, J. E. Bristol, E. O. Childs; congressional, D. A. Murray, R. J. Morrissy, B. R. Ware; councillor, Charles McAlister, E. O. Childs, T. J. Hartnett.

Ward 2. State, P. C. Bridgman, T. E. Bridges, O. S. Clark, G. R. Pulsifer; councillor, L. V. Cranitch, J. Cashman, G. B. Cook, Louis Watson; congressional, E. P. Hatch, Hayes Lougee, H. P. Dearborn, William Call.

Ward 3. State, P. A. McVicker, H. P. Knight, F. W. Fletcher; congressional, P. A. McVicker, B. Early, F. H. Clapp; councillor, Edward Anderson, C. B. Milham, H. E. Kenney.

Ward 4. State, B. S. Ford, J. E. Connor, W. H. McOwen; congressional, W. H. McOwen, J. E. Connor, B. S. Ford; councillor, W. H. McOwen, T. B. Durant, E. Bigley.

Ward 5. State, George Linder, D. F. Flanagan, W. H. Woodman; congressional, A. J. Caswell, R. M. Siltonstall, E. Linclach, councillor, D. H. McWalter, F. A. Walker, D. J. Linclach.

Ward 7. State, J. C. Ivy, W. F. Follett; congressional, F. H. Howes, J. S. Camp; councillor, A. C. Mudge, J. C. Farrell.

No caucus was held in Ward Three owing to the small attendance.

A Good Appetite Always accompanies good health, and an absence of appetite is an indication of something wrong. The universal testimony given by those who have used Hood's Sarsaparilla, as to its merits in restoring the appetite, and as a purifier of the blood, constitutes the strongest recommendation that can be urged for any medicine.

Hood's Pills cure all liver ills, biliousness, jaundice, indigestion, sick headache, etc.

Wants to Enter Boston.

The Boston board of aldermen gave a hearing on the petition of the Newtonville & Watertown Street Railway Co. Tuesday, for locations on North Beacon street, Brighton avenue, and Commonwealth avenue.

There was a deal of interest manifested in the hearing by residents along the route of the proposed road. The petitioning company was represented by counsel, G. W. Morse and S. L. Powers. President Horace B. Parker of the Newtonville and Watertown was also on hand. Representative John E. Abbott of Watertown appeared for the Young Man's Livery and the Board of Trade of Watertown, in favor of the petition.

The West End was present in remonstrance through Counsel Hyde and Vice-President Cummings. L. S. Dabney appeared for certain abutments on Beacon street.

Mr. George W. Morse opened for the petitioners, and claimed that the West End had broken their contract to build to the Watertown line, to connect with his road.

Mr. John B. Goodrich, President Horace B. Parker and Representative Abbott of Watertown spoke in favor of the petition.

T. Sinclair of North Beacon street and L. S. Dabney, abutments, spoke in remonstrance.

Vice-President Cummings of the West End insisted that the West End would build the road, and he and Mr. Morse had a lively tilt over certain statements.

Counsel S. L. Powers closed for the petitioners, and the hearing closed.

Irving W. Larimore, physical director of Y. M. C. A., Des Moines, Iowa, says he can conscientiously recommend Chamberlain's Pain Balm to athletes, gymnasts, bicyclists, foot ball players and the profession in general for bruises, sprains and dislocations; also for soreness and stiffness of the muscles. When applied before the parts become swollen it will effect a cure in one half the time usually required. For sale by A. Hudson, Newton; E. W. Keyes, Auburndale; B. B. Buck, Newton Centre; E. F. Partridge, Newtonville; B. Billings, Newton Upper Falls.

Newton Club Tennis.

Playing in the tennis tournament for members and their sons of the Newton club was resumed last Saturday afternoon. Here is the present standing:

SENIOR CLASS—THIRD ROUND.

Ayer beat Perkins, 6-1, 6-4.

Chase beat Keller, 13-11, 8-6.

Loring beat Ayer, 6-4, 6-2, 10-8.

Hollings beat Felton, 3-6, 9-7, 6-2.

Felton beat Heckman, 2-6, 6-1, 7-5.

Chase beat Copeland, default.

Mason beat Butler, 10-8, 6-2.

Coppins beat Hollings, 6-0, 4-6, 6-4.

FOURTH ROUND.

Ayer beat Chase, by default.

Hollings beat Loring, 6-1, 6-1.

Felton beat Chase, 6-4, 6-2, 6-4.

Wilson beat Coppins, 6-4, 3-6, 6-3.

CONSOLATIONS.

Anders beat Copeland, by default.

Felton beat Hollings, 6-3, 6-4.

Perkins beat Heckman, by default.

Butler beat Keller, by default.

SEMI FINALS.

Anders beat Felton, 6-2, 6-4.

JUNIOR CLASS—FOURTH ROUND.

Anders beat Chase, 7-5, 6-3.

Whitmore beat Hollings, 6-3, 6-4.

Hollis beat Kimball, 6-0, 6-0.

Wise beat Loring, 1-6, 6-3, 6-4.

CONSOLATIONS.

Walworth beat Keller, 6-3, 6-4.

Cutler beat Lowell, by default.

Hackett beat Holmes, 6-2, 6-3.

Johnson beat Nickerson by default.

SEMI FINALS.

Johnson beat Hackett, 6-2, 6-2.

BOYS' CLASS—THIRD ROUND.

Leonard beat Cook by default.

Whitmore beat Hunt, 6-0, 6-1.

FOURTH ROUND.

Leonard beat Fuller, by default.

Brewer beat Follett, 6-4, 10-8.

Johns beat Johnson, 6-2, 6-1.

Whitmore beat Shaw, by default.

CONSOLATIONS.

Hunt beat Follett, 6-3, 7-5.

Johnson beat Carter, 6-0, 6-0.

BOYS' SEMI-FINALS.

Leonard beat Brewer, 6-0, 6-0.

Whitmore beat Jones, 6-0, 6-0.

FINALS.

Leonard beat Brewer, 6-0, 6-0.

Facts Worth Knowing.

In all diseases of the nasal mucous membrane the remedy used must be non-irritating. Nothing satisfactory can be accomplished with douches, snuffs, powders or astringents, because they are irritating, do not thoroughly reach the affected surfaces and should be abandoned as worse than failures. A multitude of persons who had for years borne all the worry and pain that Catarrh can inflict, testify to the radical and permanent cures wrought by Ely's Cream Balm. Your druggist has it.

Hired Help.

"I have got a new cook," said Mr. Subbubs, "but she acknowledges that she only knows how to cook ham and eggs and make a cup of coffee." "Oh, that doesn't matter," answered his wife. "She will be gone before it is time for her to cook dinner, anyway."—Indianapolis Journal.

A. M. Bailey, a well known citizen of Eugene, Oregon, says his wife has for years been troubled with chronic diarrhoea and used many remedies with little relief until she tried Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, which has cured her sound and well. Give it a trial and you will be surprised at the prompt relief it affords. 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by A. Hudson, Newton; E. W. Keyes, Auburndale; B. B. Buck, Newton Centre; E. F. Partridge, Newtonville; B. Billings, Newton Upper Falls.

WABAN.

—Miss Willis has returned to Wellesley College.

—Mr. Arthur B. Harlow has returned to Waban and is staying with Mrs. J. H. Robinson until the return of his parents.

—Miss Ethel Woodbury has entered Dana Hall this year.

—Mr. Levi Flint and family will be at Mrs. E. S. Phelps until they go to town for the winter.

—The Benevolent Society held the first meeting of the season at Mrs. W. H. Gould's residence on Beacon street, last Wednesday.

—Mr. Oscar S. Seaver is a member of the Freeman class at Harvard this year.

—Miss Fannie McGee has returned from Coleraine, Mass., where she has been spending the summer.

A LONG STRING

of diseases follows a "run-down" system when liver is in and the disorder.

the active blood in Look out for "breakers" ahead" by putting the liver and blood in a healthy condition. You've only to turn to the right remedy to make yourself secure from disease. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery prevents as well as cures. Take it, as you ought, when you feel the first symptoms (languor, loss of appetite, dullness, depression) and you'll save yourself from something serious.

In recovering from "La Grippe," or in convalescence from pneumonia, fevers, or to build up needed flesh and strength it is indicated.

It's a blood-purifier that has stood the test of time. For a quarter of a century the "Discovery" has numbered its cures by the thousands. The manufacturers prove their faith in it by guaranteeing it for all disorders arising from bad blood; in Scrofula, Eczema, Tetter, Salt-rheum, Erysipelas, Boils, Carbuncles, and every kindred ailment.

If you receive no benefit you'll get your money back. What offer could be fairer?

It cures Catarrh in the Head—perfectly and permanently—Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy.

BRACKETT'S MARKET COMPANY.

Established 1851. Incorporated 1892.

Telephone No. 16-3.

The Rest

Meats, Poultry, Game,

Cream, Butter, Eggs,

Fruits and Vegetables

AT THE LOWEST PRICES.

This Market intends to fill all orders as if the purchaser was present. Goods which are found to be as represented may be returned.

7 & 8 COLE'S BLOCK,

Washington near Centre Street.

NEWTON, MASS.

Ranges, Furnaces,

Water Heaters,

Steam Boilers,

AT FACTORY STORE OF

Walker & Pratt Mfg. Co.,

BALEN STREET, WATERTOWN, MASS.

Telephone No. 30, Newton.

Furnaces, Ranges Cleaned and Repaired

MYLES J. JOYCE,

Ornamental and Landscape

GARDENER.

Grading, Sodding, Pruning and Gardening of Every Description.

Taking Care of Private Lawns and Gardens A Specialty.

Carpets Taken Up, Cleaned, and Put Down in the Best Manner.

ORDERS PROMPTLY ATTENDED TO.

P. O. Box 42, Newton, Mass.

Newton National Bank,

NEWTON, MASS.

BUSINESS HOURS:

From 9 A. M. to 12 M., and from 2 to 4 P. M.

On Saturdays, from 9 A. M. to 2 P. M.

JOSEPH N. BACON, President

B. FRANKLIN BACON, Cashier.

W. A. Folsom & Co.

Best Made RANGES

W. A. Folsom & Co.

Union St., Boston.

W. A. Folsom & Co.

W. A. Folsom & Co.

W. A. Folsom & Co.

W. A. Folsom & Co.

W. A. Folsom & Co.

W. A. Folsom & Co.

W. A. Folsom & Co.

W. A. Folsom & Co.

W. A. Folsom & Co.

W. A. Folsom & Co.

W. A. Folsom & Co.

W. A. Folsom & Co.

W. A. Folsom & Co.

W. A. Folsom & Co.

W. A. Folsom & Co.

W. A. Folsom & Co.

W. A. Folsom & Co.

W. A. Folsom & Co.

W. A. Folsom & Co.

W. A. Folsom & Co.

W. A. Folsom & Co.

W. A. Folsom & Co.

W. A. Folsom & Co.

W. A. Folsom & Co.

W. A. Folsom & Co.

W. A. Folsom & Co.

Tailors.

C. S. Decker

Custom Tailor.

326 Centre Street, Newton, Mass.

J. R. SIMMONS & CO.,

—Custom Tailors.—

Repairing, Cleaning and Dyeing a Specialty.

2 Carver Street, Boston, Mass.

1 Door from Boylston.

Livery Stables.

DANIEL'S

Nonantum Stables.

HENRY C. DANIELS, Proprietor.

Patrons will find at these Stables the best of Horses and Carriages for hire.

Landaus and Hacks, with good horses and experienced drivers, for Pleasure Service and Funerals. Safe and reliable horses for ladies to drive.

—BOARDING—

Superior accommodations for Boarding Horses.

Clean and comfortable stalls; careful and prompt attention.

Telephone 271-3.

GEO. W. BUSH,

Livery, Hack & Boarding

STABLE.

Particular attention paid to Boarding Horses.

Hacks at depot or the conveyance of passengers to any part of the city. Horses and carriages to let for business or pleasure.

ELMWOOD STREET, NEWTON.

Telephone Connection.

Livery, Hack,

Barges, City of Newton, Garden City.

S. F. GATE,

W. Newton.

Boarding Stable.

Established 61.

Boat Sleigh, Snow Bird.

TRUNKS, BAGS, ETC.

279, 281 Washington St., Newton.

J. HENRY BACON,

Dry Goods and Notions,

LADIES' AND GENTS' FURNISHING GOODS.

WALTER THORPE, Newton Centre, Agent of the GRAPHIC and receives subscriptions and makes collections for the same. Also makes terms for advertising, hand-bills and all other kinds of printing. Also, Real Estate to sell and to rent, and insurance against fire in the best English and American companies.

NEWTON CENTRE.

—Ivers & Pond pianos, Farley, Newton.
—Mr. Henry Tatro has removed to West Newton.
—Miss Jessie Horan has returned from Falmouth.
—Mr. W. C. Brooks and family have returned from Pocomsett.
—Mr. A. W. Snow is building an addition to his stable on Pleasant street.
—Mr. Walter Clafin returned from New Hampshire this week.
—Mrs. H. W. Bevin of Bridge avenue is in New York for a short stay.
—Mr. Mellen Bray has started another new dwelling house on Albany avenue.
—Mrs. Charles A. Clark is in Fall River with her father, who is in poor health.
—Mr. John Green is recovering from the effects of a serious surgical operation.
—Mr. T. J. Asbell has leased one of Mr. John H. Sanborn's houses on Maple park.
—Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Giddard of Glenwood avenue have returned from New York.
—Mr. Whipple and family of Newell street returned from the seashore this week.
—Mr. William Bliss has removed from White's block to Dr. Smith's house on Centre street.
—Miss Stanfield will continue her kindergarten school in Mrs. Bodge's house on Centre street.
—Mrs. Stephen Greene of Centre street left here this week for a brief sojourn in New Hampshire.
—Mr. Charles Severns, who has been residing here on Gibbs street, has removed from this place.
—Mrs. Alfred Trowbridge, who has been visiting Mrs. Bodge, has returned to her home in St. Louis.
—Mr. George N. B. Sherman of this place opens a new hardware store in Newton Highlands next week.
—Mrs. J. H. Bodge is about to return to her former residence on Centre street and will have good rooms to let.
—Mrs. Robie, who has been the guest of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Gardiner, has returned to her home in Auburndale.
—There are letters at the post office for Miss Bessie Burroughs, Dudley Hornbrook and Mrs. Belle Davis.
—Mrs. G. H. Green and family, who have been occupying a house on Norwood avenue, have returned to Boston.
—Mr. George E. Hesse of Richardson's market is enjoying a two weeks' vacation with his family in New Hampshire.
—Miss Sadie Thompson, who has been visiting friends on Bowen street, has returned to her home in Dorchester.
—Miss Grace Dyer has accepted a position as teacher in one of the leading educational institutions of South Carolina.
—Mr. G. H. Bean, who has been occupying Mr. Turner's house, Norwood avenue, has removed with his family to Boston.
—The Hale Union meeting will be held Sunday, Sept. 30, at 7:30 p. m. in the Sunday school room of the Unitarian church.
—Deal's depot carriage appeared this week in its new dress of paint and varnish, attractive almost as upon the occasion of its first debut.
—Mr. Fred T. Wood has returned from Bar Harbor having completed his duties at Hotel Lou-Burg. He entered Williams College this week.
—A picnic at Wellesley Wednesday proved an attraction for quite a number from this place, who give reports of an enjoyable outing.
—The sympathy of the community is extended to Dr. and Mrs. Loring in the death of their baby last Friday. The little one succumbed to brain troubles.
—Miss Annie Read, who has been spending her vacation in Nova Scotia, returned this week and is stopping with Mrs. Richard Farnell, Parker street.
—Bowling is booming here and the alleys in Bray's block are liberally patronized. In the regulation game, the top score to date is 191 while 91 is the record so far at candle pins.
—Cards are out for the wedding of Mr. Wesley Ellsworth Hinckley and Miss Mary Alice Coveney. The ceremony takes place in the Church of the Sacred Heart at 8 a. m., Oct. 10.
—Mr. Henry Smith, a veteran Grand Army man, who saw considerable service in the late unpleasantness, is here visiting relatives and friends. He is an inmate of the Soldiers' Home at Togus, Me.
—Unitarian Society, Sunday, Sept. 30, service at 10:30. Mr. McDaniel will speak on the topic "Work and results of the National Conference, Sunday school at 12. Classes for all ages. All are heartily welcomed at these services.
—Miss Bessie Boyle, who has been enjoying three months' travel through New York and the middle states, taking in Niagara Falls and other popular resorts, returned home this week. She is staying with her sister, Mrs. Webb, Warren street.
—The Emerson Class will meet for organization and to receive new members Tuesday, Oct. 2, at 7:30, in the parlors of the Unitarian church. A cordial invitation is extended to all interested in the study of the great writers of our time.
—Several cases resembling scarlet fever stirred up considerable apprehension among Thompsonville residents this week. An investigation showed that the reports of the nature of the disease had no foundation in fact. There is considerable sickness there among children, but there are no cases of a very serious character.
—A meeting was held in the parlors of the Unitarian church on Wednesday evening, Sept. 19, to organize a society for social work. A plan was outlined and methods proposed. The organization will be completed on Friday evening, Sept. 28 at 7:30. All persons interested in dramatic, musical and literary work are cordially invited.
—Miss Ellen S. Baker, head assistant teacher of the Mason school, has resigned. The death of her sister compelled her to sever her connection with the Newton schools. She was a very popular and successful teacher and the loss of her services is generally regretted. Miss Mildred L. Hunter has been appointed to the vacancy.
—To build and equip the proposed building and provide grounds for the N. A. A., $100,000 will be required. Of that amount more than one-half has been raised, and the balance, it is thought, will soon be forthcoming. Another location will probably be selected in order to secure convenient grounds and to secure the support of those interested in other wards. The enterprise deserves encouragement, and when carried out will give a great impetus to amateur sports in this vicinity.
—Rev. Mr. Noyes, the new minister of the Congregational church, will occupy the pulpit next Sunday. Rev. Theodore Holmes, the former pastor, preached to large congregations here morning and evening last Sunday. It was the first time he has occupied the pulpit since accepting the call to Hopkinton. He has been here on a visit, accompanied by Mrs. Holmes. They have been stopping at the home of Dr. Boynton.
—Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Bishop are to have their "at homes" on Wednesdays, the third and tenth of October.
—Mr. Alfred M. Russell is again singing at the Episcopal church, Natick, after a month's vacation.
—Mr. Walter Stiles of Parker street is ill with a mild case of diphtheria.
—Ham cured by T. I. Reed's new process cheaper and better, for sale by Wm. E. Armstrong.
—Mr. F. H. Seudder and family have returned from their sea shore vacation.
—Mr. George E. Huse and family are on their farm in New Hampshire for a few weeks.
—Mr. James Fennessey has taken Mr. Huse's provision route during the latter's absence on his New Hampshire farm.
—Dr. S. F. Chase of Newtonville has removed his dental office to the new brick block, corner of Walnut and Washington street.
—The horse and carriage owned by Mr. Nelson of Waban, stolen from the Congregational church sheds a few weeks ago, has been recovered by the Newton police.
—Mr. Edward L. Lemon, for several years connected with the Boston Herald and GRAPHIC staffs, and well known in newspaper circles, represents the GRAPHIC here and will, hereafter, cover the local news field.
—At the Baptist church Dr. Montague will begin on Sunday morning a series of six discourses on "Heaven." The following topics will be considered on successive Sundays: 1st, "What is Heaven?" 2nd, "Recognition in Heaven?" 3rd, "The Inauguration of Heaven?" 4th, "Is Heaven for All?" 5th, "The Way to Heaven." In the evening at 7 will be given a special sermon before the Young People's Union.
—The matter of connection by the electric road between the village of Newton Centre and the boulevard is just now exciting considerable interest. The railroad having asked for a location on Centre street from the boulevard to the square. We understand that the executive committee of the Improvement Society, which in a certain way endeavors to look after the interests of the village, have considered this matter somewhat. In relation to this route, and also the proposed route through Grant avenue, and also through Irving street the committee have taken steps to secure plans of the different locations with a view of presenting them to the citizens at a general meeting to be called for the purpose, in order to ascertain to the wishes of the majority of the people. It is hoped that no action will be taken by the city government in the matter until this can be done.
—Turf events at Mystic are always a great attraction. What wonder, then, that the races there this week proved so alluring that a party of local business men hustled off to the famous track this week and enjoyed a glimpse of some of the celebrated trotters? They went in style, a couple of Pratt's landaus being utilized for their convenience and comfort. Mr. Eugene E. Pratt held the ribbons for the management of one carriage, comprising besides himself, Dr. Barton, Mr. J. A. McGinnis, Mr. W. E. Armstrong and Mr. Herbert Farrar. The gentlemen in the companion vehicle were Messrs. S. L. Pratt, L. I. Stevens and A. W. Snow and John Cole. A fine drive, the pleasure derived from exciting scenes on the track and the incidental social enjoyment filled out a very interesting and agreeable day's program.

NEWTON HIGHLANDS.

—Mr. and Mrs. Levi have returned home.
—Mrs. Barry has been quite ill for several days.
—Miss Stone has returned from her summer vacation.
—Mr. W. S. Richards is spending a few days in Maine.
—Officer Mariner is spending his vacation of two weeks in Maine.
—Boylston road, which runs from Centre to Boylston street, is now being graded.
—The Chautauqua Circle will meet next Monday at Mrs. Chas. Peter Clark's.
—Services at St. Paul's next Sunday at 9:45, 10:45 and 7. Sunday school at 12:10.
—The Boy's Club will meet next Tuesday at 7 p. m. in the vestry of St. Paul's church.
—Mr. Kirk now occupies the house on Clark street formerly occupied by Mr. J. M. Beck.
—Miss Rand has been confined to the house by illness for the past two or three weeks.
—Mr. L. A. Ross has bought a lot of land adjoining his residence and will erect a stable on the rear portion.
—The new Methodist Episcopal church is almost completed, and in a week or two will be ready for dedication.
—Mr. A. L. Greenwood and family, who have been spending the summer at South Walpole, have now returned.
—The prospect is that the public kindergarten in this place will not open until after the Christmas vacation.
—Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Silsby will go to Colorado to spend the winter, and will leave here about Nov. 1st.
—Miss M. L. Brackett, who has been the guest of her sister, Mrs. E. H. Greenwood, has gone to Brooklyn, N. Y.
—The Grand Instructor, Grand Master and Deputy will visit Highland Rebeah Lodge, Wednesday evening, Oct. 17.
—Mrs. M. E. Baird and children of Hartford street are spending a few weeks at her father's home, Mr. J. Harvey.
—Mr. J. C. McIntire and family have returned from Mechanics Falls, Me., where they have been at their summer home.
—Mr. Peter Willgoose is now in charge of the music at St. Paul's church. Mr. Willgoose is a musician of wide experience.
—Mrs. Lilla Viles-Wyman of Boston will open a class for instruction in dancing at Lincoln Hall, Friday afternoon, Oct. 5th at 4 o'clock.
—Mr. C. B. Brown visited his mother, who resides in Lexington, one day this week, it being her ninety-third birthday anniversary.
—Miss Thompson will open her kindergarten Oct. 1st, in the house of Mr. E. H. Baird in the corner of Lincoln and Chester streets.
—The committee on entertainments for Highland Rebeah Lodge for the coming season will hold a butterfly party in Stevens Hall, Oct. 15.
—The Highlands Fishing Club went by barge to Sawin's Grove on Tuesday. As no reporters were present we are not able to give any account of the day's festivities.
—Mr. G. N. B. Sherman will open tomorrow a hardware store on Lincoln street. Repairing of all kinds and bicycles to let. See his advertisement in next week's GRAPHIC.
—Mr. Edward W. Kent, who has been the guest of the Pennell family for two or three weeks, has gone to Portland, Me., for a few days, and will return here before leaving for his home at Colorado Springs, Col. Mr. Kent is a brother of Mrs. Pennell.
—Dr. S. F. Chase of Newtonville has removed his dental office to the new brick block, corner of Walnut and Washington streets.

—The Ladies' Society of the M. E. church met on Wednesday afternoon. Officers were elected for the year as follows: Pres., Mrs. Robinson; Vice-Pres., Mrs. Thorpe; Sec., Mrs. E. J. Hyde; Treas., Mrs. Durgin; Directresses, Mrs. Brackett, Mrs. Stevens, Mrs. Whitgat; Entertainment Committee, Miss Wetherbee, Miss Stevens, Mrs. Ryder, Mrs. Clark.

—At the annual meeting of the Monday Club, the officers elected are as follows: President, Mrs. S. C. Cobb; vice-presidents, Mrs. Nickerson, Mrs. Strong; recording secretary, Mrs. Pratt; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Stone; treasurer, Mrs. Gott; executive committee, Mrs. Brown, Mrs. Holmes, Miss Cushing, Mrs. Pindar. The next meeting of the club will be with Mrs. E. Moulton.

—One of the social features of the season will be the series of entertainments arranged by the Highland Club, and it is the intention to make these entertainments, which will be held at intervals during the winter, the central social events. They will be furnished largely by the young people of the village, assisted by some outside talent. During the winter the club will also give several receptions and dances. The committee on entertainment consists of John F. Heckman, C. F. Kellogg and C. S. Luitweller.

NEWTON UPPER FALLS.

—Charles Chambers has gone to work in the silk mill.
—Mr. Stephen Morgan has returned from his outing in Maine.
—Miss Grace Winters has accepted a position in Waltham.
—Mr. James A. Cahill is entertaining friends from New Hampshire.
—Miss Minnie Dailey has left the employ of the Newton Rubber Works.
—Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Smith are enjoying a sojourn in the White Mountains.
—Miss Cusick has the sympathy of numerous friends in the loss of his crack trotter.
—Frank Proctor put a new butcher cart on his route this week. It is well made and quite attractive in appearance.
—Mr. George A. Billings has accepted a position in the tool department of the Pettie Machine Works.
—Mr. William Dyson is driving one of the finest turnouts in this vicinity. He has not only a clever stepper, but a stunning carriage.
—William J. Burnette is enjoying a vacation for the first time in 18 years. He has run a milk route for that long period and has been on his way every day, rain or shine. This winter he proposes to enjoy a deserved rest.
—Ernest Ingraham was arrested here Monday night charged with the larceny of a horse and buggy, the property of Mr. Nelson of Waban. He was arraigned in court Tuesday morning and held for trial, bonds in the sum of $400 being required.
—Night carousals and knock downs still continue to be an unpleasant Saturday night and early Sunday feature here. It seems too bad that such things must be. Can no way be devised to, at least, decrease such disturbances? The attempt is certainly worth making.

—One great and imperative need for new buildings at the plant of the Pettie Machine Works is the necessity for more solid floors for the heavy machinery now used and set up there. Some of the modern operating lathes and similar machines are of immense weight and require a most substantial support. The Pettie Company has built up a big reputation in its special line of manufactures and means, to keep right along at the head of the procession, it has been one of Newton's very important industries and the new buildings and improvements will increase the facilities for turning out a larger product and, consequently, in giving employment to a larger number of persons.

NEWTON LOWER FALLS.

—The Finley Paper Co. shut down Saturday owing to quietness in the trade.
—Frank Donlon, one of Mr. J. A. Early's clerks, returned from a week's vacation, Monday, spent at Arlington.
—The N. & W. Gas Co. are continuing the work of putting in new gas mains through Glen road to Wellesley Farms.
—Mr. Connor is the new superintendent at Bishop's paper mill, and the natural query among all seems to be, "Who will be his successor?"
—Ed. Murphy, day brakeman on the branch, severely sprained his ankle, Tuesday, while at his work, which will cause an absence from his duties for awhile.
—The steam roller and a force of city laborers are at work improving Washington street hill this week. The work when done will make a very noticeable appearance and add greatly to comfort of riding parties.
—The frequent and sad cases of death in the family of Mr. Thomas Cunningham is a reason for much sympathy from the community. All died have succumbed to consumption and lived but a short time after the disease became noticeable. The funeral of a son about 15 years of age, whose death occurred at the hospital Sunday, at 10 o'clock, was a sad and a child's death is expected at any time from the same sickness. It is an extreme sad case of affliction to an industrious and respected citizen for whom all deeply sympathize.

"Pillsbury's Best Is The Best."

SEE
That your barrel of flour is branded like this:

and you will be sure you have the BEST FLOUR MADE.

Sold by all Grocers.
HENRY W. CROWELL, Agent,
NEWTON

Cereals, etc.

Oatmeal, Medium	Per lb.	$0.04
" Fine	"	"
" Rolled	"	"
Cracked Wheat	Per 100 lb.	$4.12
Arlington Wheat Meal	"	.03
Franklin Entire Wheat	"	.04
Graham	"	.03
Granulated Corn Meal	"	.03
Fancy Bolted Yellow Meal	Per 100 lb.	$2.12
White Corn Meal	"	.03
Rye Meal	"	.03
Quaker Rolled Oats	Pkg.	oz.
Rolls Avenue	$0.10	1.15
Hornby's H. O.	"	1.15
Wheat Germ Meal	"	1.15
Pettie's Breakfast Food	"	1.15
Rolls Wheat	"	1.15
Farinose	"	1.15
Wheatena	"	1.15
Cornaline	"	1.15
Hecker's Farina	"	1.15
Hominy	"	1.15
Robinson's Patent Groats	"	1.15
" Barley	"	1.15
Pearl Barley	Per lb.	0.05
Pearl Tapioca, 5 lbs. 25	"	0.05
Flake	"	0.05
Pearl Sago	"	0.05
Head Rice	"	0.05
Good Rice	"	0.05
Ground Rice	"	0.05
Sea Moss Farina	Per Pk.	0.20

C. O. Tucker & Co.,
Newton, Newton Centre.

Telephone Connection.

School
Dancing
AND Department,
Cole's Hall, Newton.

Miss E. A. BURKE of Boston Instructor.
Beginners and advanced dancers can make arrangements for entering a class for either grade. For terms, etc., call at the hall, Saturday, October 6, from 2 to 6 P. M. Private classes can be accommodated by application as above. Address all communications by letter to Hotel Pelham, Room 311, Boston.

Democratic

Caucuses.
Pursuant to the call of the Democratic State Committee, the Democrats of Newton are requested to meet in Caucuses on Tuesday, Oct. 9, 1894.
AT 7.30 P. M.

In their respective Wards as follows:—
Ward 1, Armory Hall.
Ward 2, Room 6, Central Block.
Ward 3, City Hall.
Ward 4, Auburn Hall.
Ward 5, Old Prospect School House.
Ward 6, Associates' Small Hall.
Ward 7, Eliot Lower Hall.
For the purpose of choosing delegates to both Senatorial and County Conventions, also for the purpose of choosing Delegates to a Representative Convention for the choice of two candidates for the General Court, which Convention is hereby called to meet at City Hall on Friday, October 12, 1894, at 8 o'clock P. M.

The Respective Wards are entitled to delegates to each of these Conventions as follows:—
Ward 1, 3 delegates; Ward 2, 4 delegates;
Ward 3, 4 delegates; Ward 4, 3 delegates;
Ward 5, 3 delegates; Ward 6, 3 delegates;
Ward 7, 2 delegates. In addition to the above these Caucuses are called for the purpose of choosing in each Ward five members of a Ward Committee to hold office for one year from the first day of January next or until their successors shall have been organized.
The Caucuses are to be held in accordance with the provisions of the Election Act of 1883, and are to be called to order as follows:—Ward 1, by William F. Grace; Ward 2, by George M. Cranitch; Ward 3, by G. M. Cox; Ward 4, by P. A. McVicar; Ward 5, by James E. Connors; Ward 6, by George Linder; Ward 7 by H. C. Camp.
By order of the Democratic Ward and City Committee.
FRANK H. HOWES, President.
H. C. CAMP, Secretary.

CLEARING OUT SALE!

Horse Blankets and Whips at Half Price.
Near the Boston Depot.
R. KETZ HARDWARE STORE,
99 KNEELAND STREET, BOSTON.

PIANOS and all Musical Instruments

can be more advantageously bought, better selections, lower prices and larger varieties from which to select, by one who is not connected with a one maker, but selects from all. Call or write circulars to "An Expert Professional Buyer" Pianos and all Musical Instruments, L. H. ODE, L. 65 Tremont Street, Boston. Hours 9 to 5.

WALL STREET OPERATIONS

can be successfully carried on by following our Daily Market Letter and Pamphlet on Speculation. Mailed free on application. Highest references.
WEINMAN & CO.,
41 Broadway, New York, N. Y.
MISS A. W. STILES,
PRIVATE INSTRUCTION.
HISTORY, LITERATURE, ETC.
"The Pelham," 74 Boylston St., Boston.

WILLIAM E. DOYLE,
43 Tremont St., Boston.
Conservatories: 1509 Cambridge Street, Cambridge, Mass.

FLORIST.

Birthplace of Franklin, Opposite Old South Church.

Walter C. Brooks & Co.

Importing Tailors.

15 Milk Street, - Boston, Mass.

W. C. BROOKS, Residence, N. Centre.

Home Tailor
149 A. Tremont St., Boston.
Fine Woolens at Moderate Prices.

PEARMAN & BROOKS
Stock and Bond Brokers.
Orders by Mail Promptly Executed. Good Bonds and Mortgages on hand for immediate delivery.
Correspondence Solicited.
Stock Exchange Building, 53 State St., Boston.
SUMNER B. PEARMAN. L. LORING BROOKS.

Beautiful Melodies for Violin and Piano
Twenty-five Cents!!!
WALTZ—Kathleen O'Connor.
Daisy Bell.
Tabasco.
The Little Maid in Pink.
Won't You Be My Sweetheart?
[All Popular and Perfect Gems.]
Price 25 cts. each, or the five Pieces for $1.00!!
JEAN WHITE, Publisher.
226 Washington Street, Boston, Mass. 32 266

Carpets
.....Cleaned.
Having opened an agency at
Paine's Upholstery Rooms,
COLE'S BLOCK,
—am prepared to fill all orders for the—
Taking Up, Cleaning and Relaying of Carpets,
at short notice and in the best manner.
PETER S. WHITE,
Newton.

DR. ETTA JEWETT,
Magnetic : : Physician,
37 BOYLSTON ST., Room 6, BOSTON.

BICYCLES

Renting and Repairing.

Agent for Singer's, Spaulding's, Credenda's, Crawford's, and all the Leading Bicycles. Wheels sold on Easy Terms and old wheels taken in exchange. Repairing of all kinds by skilled workmen in the best equipped repair shop in any of the Newtons.

E. E. BROWN,
Bray's New Block, Newton Centre.
Directly opposite the Depot.

Wood! Wood!
100 cords hard wood for sale, suitable for fire logs.
W. H. HYDE, Box 182, NEWTON CENTRE.

MISS BARTLESON,
Pupil of Mr. John Orth.
Teacher of Piano and Harmony,
TROWBRIDGE STREET,
Newton Centre, - Mass.
WOOD FOR SALE
—AT THE—
WEBER
The Newton Highlands Baker, leaves Hot Rolls at Knapp's, Stevens' and Tucker's Newton Centre Stores at 4 o'clock P. M.
EVERY DAY.

NEW HAY AND GRAIN STORE
At Newton Centre.
Hay and All Kinds of Grain, Gluten, Cotton Seed, Etc.
BURKE & BELESS,
Old Post Office Building, - Pleasant Street, 49 1/2

Before Purchasing a Wheel
—CALL AT—
BARBER BROS., 415 Centre St.,
Newton Agents, and see the 1894 New Mail.

NEW SHOE STORE
In Bray's New Block, Newton Centre. Old friends and new please call for bargains. Shoes for all and Furnishing Goods for gentlemen. A special line for Misses and Children.
GEO. H. LOOMER.

Jars and Jelly Tumblers.
New Invoice.

W. O. KNA PP & CO.,
White's Block, Newton Centre.

WOOD FOR SALE
—AT THE—
WEBER
The Newton Highlands Baker, leaves Hot Rolls at Knapp's, Stevens' and Tucker's Newton Centre Stores at 4 o'clock P. M.
EVERY DAY.